Shamus Award to join Rosemont Stud roster

Cox Plate winner becomes only Group 1-winning son of Snitzel to stand in Victoria

Shamus Award

ROSEMONT STUD

By Lewis Lesbirel

Just days after announcing the return of red-hot sire Starspangledbanner (Choisir), the stallion ranks at Rosemont Stud received a further boost yesterday with the news that Shamus Award (Snitzel) will stand at the Victorian operation for the forthcoming breeding season.

The son of Snitzel (Redoute's Choice), who spent his first five seasons at Widden Stud in New South Wales, arrived at his new home on Saturday and will stand for an unchanged fee of $11,000 (inc GST).

Rosemont principal Anthony Mithen has already tasted success with the stallion having bred and maintained co-ownership of his son Mr Quickie, who was propelled to the head of the market for next month's South Australian Derby (Gr 1, 2500m) following his impressive victory in the VOBIS Gold Heath Stakes (2000m) at Caulfield on Saturday.

"He's a real emerging talent in the stallion ranks, given that his profile as a racehorse presents as a Classic horse," Mithen told ANZ Bloodstock News yesterday.

"That is coming to fruition now, his oldest crop being three and looking like they're Guineas, Derby and Oaks style of horses.

White Robe Lodge enjoy another memorable South Island Sale

Lot 57 Per Incanto - Cherry Creek filly NZB

Southern vendor White Robe Lodge enjoyed another red-letter day at the NZB South Island Sale yesterday, selling a daughter of Per Incanto (Street Cry) for the auction-topping price of NZ$72,500.

The Mosgiel-based operation ended the day as leading vendor for the third year in succession on both aggregate and average metrics, while their resident stallion Ghibellines (Shamardal), whose first crop of juveniles has yielded two winners and the stakes-placed Ranger from just seven runners to date, emerged as the sale's leading sire.

Catalogued as Lot 57, the sale-topping filly is a half-sister to Group 3 winner Coulee (Gallant Guru) out of the stakes-winning mare Cherry Creek (Monashee Mountain), while the winning bid came courtesy of local horseman Graeme Anderason who ended the day as the second leading buyer.

"We're very lucky to have him at a time when he is just about to pop his head through the glass ceiling and be more than just a bread-and-butter stallion. I think he can be a serious breedshaper for the future."

In addition to Mr Quickie, Mithen believes there to be a number of Shamus Award's sons and daughters on a steep upward curve, including the fellow SA Derby-bound Classic Weiwei - the sire's only stakes winner to date.

"Mr Quickie is a horse that we are very proud of having bred him and still retain ownership in him," Mithen said.

"He's going to start favourite for a Classic race, the time-honoured Australian Derby, in a couple of weeks time and we think he's a weight-for-age horse in the making next year as a four-year-old.

"He's not on his own either, that's the exciting thing. The horse of Tony McEvoy's that will start the Derby as well, Classic Weiwei, he's a very talented horse.

"Havana Heat has been running in stakes races and looks to have the hoof on the till and then we saw a two-year-old (Ethical Solution) on debut run fourth in a Group 3 on Saturday, showing that even as late two-year-olds they can be super competitive in Group class racing.

"Also, Danny O'Brien told me today that Sovereign Award, his seven length maiden winner yesterday at Geelong, is definitely a Group class horse for next season."

Shamus Award

ROSEMONT STUD

With his prowess as a stallion gathering momentum, Mithen is confident Shamus Award represents great value at $11,000 and is "expecting a busy few days on the phone" in light of yesterday's announcement.

"Dundeel has gone to $66,000 and Fiorente to $27,500, yet you can go to a Cox Plate-winning, Guineas-winning son of Snitzel - the only Group 1-winning son of Snitzel to stand in Victoria - for $11,000. There's no doubt he is great value," he said.

"There are so many prospects out there for him while his winners to runners ratio is at 48 per cent, which is better than Dundeel and Fiorente and is a real feather in his cap.

Two Royal Ascot prospects, from his first three 2YO runners!

MONARCH OF EGYPT was an impressive three-length winner on debut at Naas over 1000m for Aidan O'Brien and is now favourite for the Group 2 Coventry Stakes at Royal Ascot

"He's a lovely straightforward, honest horse who has lots of speed and had been showing us plenty on the gallops at home. We'll probably give him one more run before Royal Ascot."

MAVEN scored easily on debut at Aqueduct over 900m for Wesley Ward

"He's had outstanding works over the Polytrack at Turfway which translates to turf. We'll run him in the [G2, 1000m] Norfolk at Royal Ascot [June 20] and, hopefully, we can put American Pharoah on the big scale as a sire."

<< Continued from page 2 "Although he hasn't quite had the stakes horses yet, certainly compared to Dundee, I'm sure they'll come - any form expert will tell you that a few of those horses that I mentioned and others will be stakes class in the next six months."

The news comes only five days after the stud announced the return of Starspangledbanner to Australian shores, with the son of Choisir (Danhill Dancer) set to join up with Shamus Award, Starcraft (Soviet Star) and Nostradamus (Medaglia d'Oro) in August.

"We have been very patient in our pursuit of stallions - it is a high risk game and we wanted to be pretty selective to ensure that the stallions we did bring in would suit the Victorian market and most importantly, would introduce some value for the breeders," Mithen said of Rosemont's four-strong roster for 2019.

"As breeders ourselves we know that the economics at present are tough - there are a lot of high service fees and a lot of stallions with risky credentials and things can turn south pretty quickly when a decision turns out to be wrong.

"But we think we are presenting four stallions at affordable prices where you know what you get and they can provide a return.

He continued. "Starspangledbanner has proven he can throw a top-liner, his stock are popular in the sales ring and at $22,000 (inc GST) he is a no brainer; at $11,000 (inc GST) Shamus Award is the first Cox Plate winner to stand in Victoria since Rubiton.

"Starcraft is available for the final season on the "Toss The Boss" deal where you can breed a foal for free - bearing in mind he had yearling colts make $150,000 at the Gold Coast and $180,000 at Easter; and Nostradamus is a young sire in his fourth season who has it all in front of him - his first year yearlings sold to $125,000 and we'll make him available this season on some terrific deals."

"It is a great line up and one that we hope allows us to fulfil our strategy of returning some value to the breeders. We can't wait for the season to begin."

Iconoclasm to target Stradbroke as Rosemont eye Group 1 win

With his focus returning to the track, Mithen also provided an update on talented colt Iconoclasm (Toorak Toff), who resumed from a lengthy spell with a tenacious victory in the lucrative VOBIS Gold (1200m) at Caulfield on Saturday.

The Listed-winning four-year-old will now have his sights raised ahead of his principal winter target - the Stradbroke Handicap (Gr 1, 1400m) - with both the The Goodwood (Gr 1, 1200m) and the Kingsford-Smith Cup (registered as the BTC Cup)(Gr 1, 1300m) also looming as potential lead-up races.

"He was terrific on Saturday and we know he's a high-class horse," Mithen said.

"I think we'll probably just keep him to 1200 and 1400 metres this preparation and see how we go. We stretched him out over a trip last prep and it didn't quite work for us.

"The feedback from Danny [O'Brien] at the time was that maybe a mile is as far as he wants, so we'll treat him as a real sprinter-miler this time in and that looks to have paid dividends nice and early.

"The Stradbroke will be his main aim. It might well be that his best path to get there will be one run, in three weeks time, in the Goodwood - or he could go to Brisbane earlier and run in a traditional lead-up, the Kingsford-Smith. We're just contemplating that at the moment.

"The Goodwood shapes as a nice option but I'll leave that to Danny and his wise men."

After failing to make the frame in Group 1 contests over 1600 metres and 1800 metres in the spring, Mithen feels the drop back in trip could see the son of Toorak Toff (Show A Heart) land that elusive elite level victory.

He said: "We've been patient to a level - maybe we made the wrong call thinking he was going to be more of a 2000 metre horse, setting him accordingly and taking him to those Group 1 races in the spring

"At 1400 metres or even 1200 metres I think he can strike at the highest level. He's such a strong horse and he can race in all conditions.

"He tends to make his own luck and even when he gets bad luck he can overcome it. I reckon that's always the mark of a good horse.

"This horse has really dug deep and got himself off the canvas out of some sticky spots. He's been able to win races for us, then we've all looked sideways at each other and thought he shouldn't really have been able to do that."

In addition to his exploits on the racecourse, Mithen was also quick to compliment the looks of Iconoclasm - a horse whom Rosemont bred and retained ownership of.

"He's beautifully put together and is a stunning animal," he said. "He always has been, we don't normally keep colts but we fell in love with him from the time he was a weanling and just kept on growing out.

"He's a real showstopper in his paddock - everyone who ventured into a paddock of weanlings or yearlings when he was that age pointed him out straight away and said 'what's that one?'

"He is out of a gun Encosta De Lago mare and has a lot of Encosta about him, who was able to produce such beautiful, pretty horses be they male or female."

Sunlight heads to the paddock

Three-time Group 1 winner Sunlight (Zoustar) will bypass the TAB Classic (registered as Robert Sangster Stakes) (Gr 1, 1200m) and instead head to the paddock with Tony McEvoy saying she would be prepared for The Everest (1200m) in October. McEvoy was not happy with Sunlight after she trialed at Gawler last Friday. "She didn't bounce out of that trial," McEvoy said. "She trialed OK but not up to her standard so I watched her on Saturday and Sunday and she showed me she's a little bit flat. So I'm going to give her a spell, give her a good break and aim her at The Everest."

Couldn't Refuse to run at the Gold Coast

Desleigh Forster hopes to continue her good start to the winter carnival with promising two-year-old Couldn't Refuse (Rothesay) when he lines up in the Ken Russell Memorial (Gr 3, 1200m) at the Gold Coast on Saturday. Couldn't Refuse won a trial in good fashion earlier this month and first-up was a fast-finishing second over 1000 metres at Eagle Farm after being bumped at the start. "I had Couldn't Refuse in the Dalrello Stakes on Saturday but I didn't accept because I felt the 1000 metres of that race would be too short," Forster said. "My bloke is looking for more ground and the Ken Russell at 1200 metres suits him better."

Jungle Edge seeking Wangoom redemption

Jungle Edge (Dubawi) is back again for another crack at the Wangoom Handicap (Listed, 1200m) at Warrnambool tomorrow, and trainer Mick Bell is hoping things go a bit more to plan than the last time he contested the feature. In the 2017 edition of the race the sprinter started as the $3.40 favourite but there was controversy pre-race with the gelding cutting himself in a barrier incident. He was subsequently inspected by a vet and passed fit to start after he broke through the barriers prior to the jump of the Listed feature, eventually finishing fifth. "We're definitely looking for a bit of redemption in this week's Wangoom," Bell told Racing.com. "It's well known our guy likes the rain and it sounds like we might get a bit that afternoon too so really looking forward to it."

Mystic Journey back in work

Adam Trinder has reported star mare Mystic Journey (Needs Further) has returned to his stable in great health and will now start a preparation that will be aimed towards the Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m). "She is in the paddock outside, straight outside the homestead, we see her from the lounge room window, we see her from the bedroom window," Trinder told Racing.com. "She has let down really well in a short period of time, she has just had six weeks off and filled out, really blossomed through her barrel and so forth, she didn't go out dented because we only gave her four runs. She is probably ready to come back in and do something, just the last fortnight I've noticed she is a little bored and a little agitated. She is a filly that does like an assignment and her job, I wanted to give her the full six weeks before the depths of winter come about, timing looks to have worked perfectly."

Returning Menari to gallop at Warwick Farm

Menari's (Snitzel) stud career was put on hold after he managed to get only 20 of 70 mares in foal in his first season at Newgate Farm in the Hunter Valley and he is now back with his original trainer Gerald Ryan, who is keen to see how the Group 2-winning five-year-old copes in a gallop at Warwick Farm tomorrow. "He's terrific and has worked really well, and his attitude is good," Ryan said. "We'll see how he goes. If he does race this preparation it will be in the At Sea Handicap at Randwick on the 25th of May and we'll take it from there."

Merchant Navy half-brother wins trial

The Team Hawkes-trained Tungsten Bay (All Too Hard), who is a half-brother to dual Group 1 winner Merchant Navy (Fastnet Rock), made a good impression on his first public outing, with an easy trial victory at Hawkesbury. He jumped well under Jay Ford, before smoothly gliding the lead to win the 760 metre heat by a comfortable three-quarter lengths. Merchant Navy's brother was purchased by Aquis Farm for $2.3 million at the Inglis Australian Easter Yearling Sale when offered by Segenhoe Stud and it will head into training with Merchant Navy's trainer Ciaron Maher, who now trains in partnership with David Eustace.

Stratosphere to stand at Grenville

Stratosphere - a stakes-placed son of Snitzel (Redoute's Choice) - will join the Grenville Stud roster, where he will stand for a fee of $4,400 (inc GST). A $925,000 yearling purchase, the Peter and Paul Snowden-trained Stratosphere was runner-up in the Canonbury Stakes (Gr 3, 1100m) last year at his only race start before a tendon injury curtailed his racing career. "I am delighted to have secured Stratosphere to stand at Grenville," Grenville Stud's Graeme McCulloch told Racing.com. "He is the best-looking son of Snitzel, had blistering two-year-old speed and comes from a brilliant family." Stratosphere will join Zululand (Fastnet Rock) and Mawingo (Tertullian), who will stand for fees of $5,500 (inc GST) and $4,400 (inc GST) respectively.

Anderson / Heathcote partnership starts

The new training partnership of Robert Heathcote and Chris Anderson will kick off with six acceptors at Eagle Farm on Saturday. The multiple Group 1 and five-time premiership winning trainer Heathcote and Anderson, who is regarded as a rising star of Brisbane racing, have spent the past six weeks putting the finishing touches to the partnership to be known as Anderson Heathcote Racing. They will eventually have about 100 horses on their books at Eagle Farm. "It is an exciting time for us both and we are looking forward to plenty of success in the coming weeks," Anderson said.

Carrison suspended on cobalt charges

Darryl Carrison has been suspended for eight months and fined $1,500 after one of his horses returned an elevated cobalt reading from a pre-race blood sample. The Carrison-trained Burnro (Lonhro) was randomly tested before running in a Benchmark 80 handicap (1390m) at Port

Lincoln on February 1. TRSA stewards laid four charges against Carrison that pertained to presenting Burnro to the races with a prohibited substance, possession of two products not registered in accordance with Commonwealth and State legislation, as well as failing to maintain accurate medication records. Stewards noted it was Carrison's third offence under prohibited substance rules. His eight-month suspension will end on December 26.

Hackett still in induced coma

Michael Hackett remains in an induced coma in Sydney's Liverpool Hospital after a fall at the Tomingley Cup picnic meeting. However there was some more positive last night with Picnic Association president Craig Tyack reporting that the doctors briefly let Hackett out of his induced coma and that he was responsive and moving his body. The NSW JA reported Ricky Blewitt, who was taken to Westmead Hospital, has stable in-displaced thoracic spine fractures requiring rest for six weeks. He also has a scapula fracture that will be treated with a sling and a rib fracture that requires rest and conservative management. Michael Gray will undergo an MRI and if it is clear he will soon be discharged from Dubbo Hospital. He has a fractured clavicle which Racing NSW's Dr David Duckworth will operate on tomorrow. He also has a wrist fracture that will be treated in a splint and a thoracic spine fracture that requires rest.

Injured Vic jockeys released from hospital

Two jockeys recently injured in Victorian race falls have been released from hospital to recuperate at home. However jumps jockey Braidon Small and flat jockey John Keating will be on the sidelines for sometime as they recover from their injuries. Small underwent head surgery following a fall in a hurdle race at Pakenham on April 14. He initially returned home to Warrnambool but later that night was taken to Melbourne's Alfred Hospital to undergo surgery. Keating suffered stable fractures to his T4 and T7 vertebrae as well as a high neck fracture following a fall after winning a race at Wangaratta last Wednesday. A Victorian Jockeys' Association statement said Keating did not require surgery but would be in a back and neck brace for six weeks while Small's head injury needed long-term rest.

New Zealand

Coleman booked on Whiskey Neat

Michael Coleman is looking forward to partnering Group 3 winner Whiskey Neat (Denman) in the Waikato Equine Veterinary Centre 2YO Stakes (Listed, 1100m) at Te Rapa on Saturday. "I rode him for the first time at the Te Teko trials on Friday and he trialled up really well," Coleman said. "He looks pretty smart and he should be a good ride." The Tony Pike-trained gelding has not been seen since his seventh place finish in the Karaka Million 2YO (RL, 1200m) at Ellerslie on January 26, having won the Eclipse Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) on his previous start.

Interest in Speedy Meady

Stephen Marsh has said owner Russell Mead has a big decision to make regarding Speedy Meady (Swiss Ace) following the three-year-old's dead-heat victory in the Cambridge Breeders Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) at Te Rapa last Saturday, with the trainer revealing overseas interest in the gelding has sky-rocketed. "There was one Hong Kong buyer showing interest in him prior to the race and now there have been two new enquiries," Ralph said. "It'll be up to the owner what he wants to do and I'll be talking it over with him when he gets in touch or I may have to wait until he gets home. One of the options if he decides not to sell is to take him to Brisbane, like a lot of the others, but I'm not sure about that. If he keeps him, it might be best to back off him and give him a spell."

Eight for Rulership

Japanese stallion Rulership (King Kamehameha) was provided with his eighth stakes winner yesterday courtesy of Mer De Glace's (4 c ex Glacier Blue by Sunday Silence) victory in the Niigata Daishoten (Gr 3, 2000m). Trained by Hisashi Shimizu and ridden by Australian jockey Damian Lane, the colt beat Mikki Swallow (Tosen Homareboshi) by three quarters of a length, with Rochefort (King Kamehameha) a nose further back in third. Rulership currently stands at Shadai Stallion Station in Japan for a fee of JPY4,000,000.

Al Hilalee RACING POST

Newmarket maiden and a Listed race at Deauville last summer, landed back in Britain on Sunday. "We put him away after his win at Deauville [in August] as he's a big unit and we felt he had done enough as a two-year-old," Appleby said. "We've always felt he was going to be a potential Derby horse, and the 2,000 Guineas is one of the best Derby trials. He's not going to look out of place in an open renewal and I'm confident he can run a big race."

Five wildcards added to Guineas sale

A trio of breeze up two-year-olds and two horses in training have been added as wildcards to this week's Tattersalls Guineas Breeze Up & Horses in Training Sale. The two horses in training both hail from Irish-based trainer Michael O'Callaghan, with Bodhicitta (Showcasing), a filly from the family of dual-Group 1 winner La Collina (Strategic Prince), joining stablemate and impressive maiden winner Geneticist (Footstepsinthesand) as late additions to the sale, which takes place on Thursday May 2 and Friday May 3. The ultra-consistent Mocito Rojo (5 h Mutadda - Blushing Royale by Orientate) continued his recent run of good form with a comfortable success in the Steve Sexton Mile (Gr 3, 8f) at Lone Star Park on Sunday. The Shane Wilson-trained entire beat King Abner (Hansen) by two lengths, with Title Ready (More Than Ready) a further three quarters of a length adrift in third. LITTLE AVONDALE

Southern vendor White Robe Lodge enjoyed another red-letter day at the NZB South Island Sale yesterday, selling a daughter of Per Incanto (Street Cry) for the auction-topping price of NZ$72,500.

The Mosgiel-based operation ended the day as leading vendor for the third year in succession on both aggregate and average metrics, while their resident stallion Ghibellines (Shamardal), whose first crop of juveniles has yielded two winners and the stakes-placed Ranger from just seven runners to date, emerged as the sale's leading sire.

Catalogued as Lot 57, the sale-topping filly is a half-sister to Group 3 winner Coulee (Gallant Guru) out of the stakes-winning mare Cherry Creek (Monashee Mountain), while the winning bid came courtesy of local horseman Graeme Anderson who ended the day as the second leading buyer.

"I was really pleased to obtain such a quality filly from the south. I thought she was a strong filly who could make an early going two-year-old or Thousand Guineas type of horse," Anderson said.

"The ownership will be shared with a few other local owners and friends so we'll be looking forward to having a bit of fun with her."

The filly has been nominated for the Karaka Million Series and was among seven yearlings sold by White Robe Lodge during yesterday's auction, helping to accumulate an aggregate of NZ$220,500 at an average price of NZ$31,500.

"The Sale was good, it was good to see a lot of agents here and we were happy with how we sold," White Robe principal Brian Anderton ONZM said.

"I have some great clients down here and we need to lead by example in supporting the South Island Sale."

Another prominent name on the buyer's sheet was that of bloodstock agent John Foote, whose previous visits to the South Island Sale have yielded the stakes-winning pair Civil Disobedience (Raise The Flag) and Parthesia (Raise The Flag).

Foote secured four yearlings for a total of NZ$136,000, with a well-related son of Makfi (Dubawi) emerging as the most expensive of the quartet at NZ$60,000.

Catalogued as Lot 23 and consigned by Mentally Stable, the colt is out of the multiple stakes winner and Group 1-placed mare Ombre Rose (O'Reilly), making him a half-brother to the stakes-placed trio Court Order (Pins), Rosa Carolina (Savabeel) and Room For Excuse (No Excuse Needed).

"John has been an amazing supporter of the Sale for many years and has shown his hand once again," said NZB managing director Andrew Seabrook.

"Although numbers were low for the Sale, it remains well supported by buyers and we look forward to increasing numbers for next year's edition."

Elsewhere, Te Akau Racing principal David Ellis was the third leading buyer by aggregate and secured three yearlings for a total spend of NZ$75,000, while dual-code buyer David Butt stretched to NZ$55,000 to secure Lot 18 - a colt by Windsor Park Stud's first-season sire Mongolian Khan (Holy Roman Emperor) - who is set to be syndicated and raced.

With a reduced catalogue of 61 lots, figures largely remained positive with the average and clearance rate up on the 2018 statistics.

A total of 42 lots sold for an aggregate of NZ$665,650 while the average rose to NZ$15,849, up from NZ$13,869 at last year's sale. The clearance rate also improved significantly to 75 per cent (up from 61 per cent), with the median suffering a slight fall from NZ$10,000 to NZ$9,000 this year.

All yearlings purchased at the South Island Sale are eligible to be nominated for the Karaka Million Series, with two NZ$1 million

Jagged Edge - what a lovely surprise

Leigh Lord thought she had done pretty well picking up the Rubiton mare, Weekend Surprise, for just $10,000 at the 2014 Inglis Great Southern Sale.

Sure, the mare was getting on a bit – rising 17 – but she had been a multiple winner at two, produced seven winners from seven to race – including Melbourne Group winner, Dan Baroness – and was in foal to Real Saga, whose fee at the time was $18,150.

Weekend Surprise's first foal for Lord would be snapped up by First Light Racing for $25,000, but while the mare missed to Real Saga the following spring, she produced a Better Than Ready colt in 2016.

Ultimately consigning the Better Than Ready youngster to the 2018 Inglis Sydney Classic Yearling Sale under the Eureka Stud banner, that colt was knocked down to Darby Racing and De Burgh Equine for $46,000.

On Saturday, the now 2YO – racing as Jagged Edge – made it two wins from as many starts by capturing the Listed TAB Dalrello Stakes over 1000m at Eagle Farm and is clearly a horse with a promising future.

Trained by Stuart Kendrick, Jagged Edge jumped one of the widest from his barrier and, after working hard to hit the lead at the 100m, held on grimly for a narrow victory. Gutsy.

"I was very excited watching the race ... that's my first stakes winner in 25 years," a delighted Lord points out. "I mainly have cattle on our farm near Dalby, but I'm a keen racehorse breeder too with around six or seven foals annually.

Jagged Edge

TRACKSIDE PHOTOGRAPHY

"I purchased a share in Better Than Ready and ended up with three foals from that first crop: Jagged Edge, Hezhome (a multiple winner and Rockhampton 2YO Classic runnerup) and one that's unraced, but is a very nice type."

Lord then decided to send Weekend Surprise to Spirit of Boom for that stallion's third season at stud, subsequently producing a colt.

Good decision too: in between the colt arriving on terra firma and being despatched to the 2019 Gold Coast March Magic Millions Yearling Sale, Spirit of Boom was living right up to his name with 18 first crop winners (five of them stakes winners), a championship belt and a fee increase from $11,000 to $55,000.

Not surprisingly, Lord's colt was knocked down to James Harron Bloodstock last month for $220,000 – topping the sale ... and that was prior to Jagged Edge making his debut.

"She (Weekend Surprise) wasn't covered last season, but produced a ripper, albeit late colt by Spirit of Boom," Lord adds. "One of the first people to text me after Jagged Edge's win was our vet, David Pascoe, and I sent him back a message saying that hopefully we can get one more foal out of the old gall!"

THE POWER OF PASSION

Attracting the world to Australia.

As for Queensland's stallion ranks, lightning really has struck twice with Better Than Ready doing his best to follow in Spirit of Boom's hoofsteps, already producing 16 winners this season, with Jagged Edge the third success for the sire at stakes level.

A well-bred son of More Than Ready, Better Than Ready won the Falvelon, Mick Dittman and Keith Noud in Brisbane and the Brian Crowley in Sydney – all at Listed level – along with a third behind Your Song in the Group One BTC Cup: pulling up stumps with eight wins and three placings from 16 starts, plus nearly $500,000 in stakes.

Now standing at the Kruger family's Lyndhurst Stud, Better Than Ready was purchased by Queensland breeder, Richard Foster as the curtain was coming down on the entire's racing career.

"(Bloodstock agent) Julian Blaxland knew I was looking for a stallion and approached me about Better Than Ready," Foster recalls. "Quite a few studs were interested but they wanted to purchase the stallion outright, while a number of his owners wanted to keep a share in the horse.

"I was happy enough with that ... the more the merrier. I have Yarramalong Park, a 160 acre property that's around an hour's drive from Brisbane, but it's not set up to stand stallions.

"I spoke to the Krugers and they were very interested, so, we went down together to have a look at the horse and the rest, as they say, is history."

Standing initially at a fee of $9,900, Better Than Ready has covered 647 mares in four seasons, with a high of 236 in 2018.

"We'll be capping the book at 160 this season," Foster points out. "When we

Better Than Ready

announced recently that his fee would be $33,000 in 2019 we got 40 bookings in 24 hours. He's almost full and, I'm pleased to say, a lot of those mares are coming up from the Hunter Valley!"

HOOFNOTE: Jagged Edge became the first of two stakes winners for Darby Racing – in the space of 30 minutes – with the increasingly familiar white and navy blue silks also carried to victory by Irithea in the Group Three Killahy Equine Hawkesbury Crown over 1300m.

The 5YO mare – a $90,000 purchase from the 2015 Magic Millions Yearling Sale – has currently won seven races (along with four stakes placings) and $528,890 in stakes.

Jagged Edge and Irithea continue the great run for Darby Racing which has also sourced 2019 Group Two Silver Slipper Stakes winner,

Big Alloy dazzling in Derby Trial

By Harry Troy

@anz_news

Big Alloy (Foxwedge) produced a dazzling last to first performance to win the Macau Derby Trial (Listed, 1500m) on the turf at the Taipa on Saturday.

Prepared by Alan Tam and ridden by Luis Corrales, Big Alloy powered home late down to outside to win going away to beat Luen On Dance Kid (Snitzel) by a length, with the favourite Eclair Lightning (Darci Brahma) finishing another length and three quarters adrift in third.

It was win number six in the enclave for Big Alloy, who was a $42,000 purchase at the 2016 Inglis Ready-to-Race Sale.

Big Alloy has been a model of consistency right from day one with his record now reading 19 runs for six wins, four seconds and five thirds and after Saturday, with his prize-money now nudging towards the HK$1.5 million mark.

Unlike his sire Foxwedge (Fastnet Rock) who was a gun sprinter, Big Alloy is the total opposite and possesses no early dash whatsoever. The four-year-old fell out of the gates on Saturday and was even given a crack with the whip by Corrales to stay in touch in last place. But it was at the last 600 metres Big Alloy really got rolling, coming around the outside and was on the back of Luen On Dance Kid rounding the corner; then once in the straight he let down magnificently to storm home wide to win handsomely.

Corrales was full of praise for the gelding after the win: "I thought the 1500 metres might have been a bit short for him against those horses, but they went very hard in the race and that suited me fine. We were a long way off them but he has a great finish and I was able to bring him out wide for a good clear run."

The Derby (Listed, 2000m) has always been Alan Tam's long range mission, with the trainer knowing what it takes to win the coveted event having won the race three times.

Tam won the race in 2002 with Royal Treasure (Royal Academy) under Frankie Dettori in what was his first year as a trainer.

Big Alloy

MJC

He followed that up the next year with Analyst (Darci Brahma). The trainer did not win the race again until 2012, when Elderly Paradise (Danewin) destroyed his opponents to land the lucrative prize.

Big Alloy does not possess the same star quality as the above mentioned Derby victors, however his never say die attitude, and the fact that he is already proven at the Derby distance, with three wins already to his credit, will ensure that he will prove a worthy foe come Derby day.

The hard luck story of the race was no doubt the Peter Leyshan-trained Éclair Lightning who was drawn to get the run of the race off a good speed from gate two; however he ended up being shuffled back to third last at one stage, then failed to find clear running in the straight.

After being under a hold for most of the last 250 metres, the big gelding did an amazing job when he found an opening late to run third.

Joe Lau's Sacred Capital (O'Reilly) is a clear cut favourite for the Derby following his easy victories in the Spring Trophy (Listed, 1500m) and the MJC 30th Anniversary Cup (1500m) where he beat Éclair Lightning, who struck trouble in the run. Lau opted not run Sacred Capital in Saturday's Derby Trial, with the trainer earmarking the Macau Guineas (Listed, 1500m) on May 25 as the next assignment for the gelding.

It will be a great contest should the two clash in the Guineas. Whilst Sacred Capital will be the most favored, Éclair Lightning appears to be getting better with every run.

On the same card, Japanese rider Shogo Nakano produced a superb ride to win on the KC Chong-trained Wonder Holy (Holy Roman Emperor) in the Class 2 & 3 over 1800 metres.

Wonder Holy was one of only two leaders in the nine horse field, the other being Bring Me Glory (Street Cry), who blew his chances by leaping in the sir at the start. Nakano took full advantage of the soft lead and rated gelding to perfection on the lead. With no real pressure applied in the run Nakano was able to sit as quiet as a mouse until the top of the straight, and only really got to work the last two hundred metres to dart away for a nice win.

The seven-year-old beat Bring Me Glory who ran on well from the back under Luis Corrales for a length and a quarter second, with Roaring Star (Flying Spur) close up in third.

The HK$1.6 favourite Sportsmanship (Shocking) ended up with a nightmare run under Ruan Maia; after beginning well, the gelding was posted three and four deep the trip overracing, and did a fine job to run as close as he did in sixth only beaten one and a half lengths.

Following the running of race three the heavens erupted and Macau for the second weekend straight was lashed by a severe tropical storms and lightning. The remaining races on the card were abandoned and will be added to next Friday night's race card.
