Hannah Mathiesen “still in shock” after Away Game’s Classic win

How a college volleyball injury led to Magic Millions-winning ownership for 22-year-old American

Away Game

BY GEORGIE DENNIS | @ANZ_NEWS

Twelve months ago, Hannah Mathiesen headed to her first Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale working as an owner communications manager for Ciaron Maher and David Eustace and made a last minute decision to buy a horse for her family.

Little did she know she would be back the following year as a Magic Millions 2YO Classic (RL, 1200m) winning owner.

The Maher and Eustace-trained Away Game (Snitzel), Mathiesen’s first ever Magic Millions yearling purchase, was bought in conjunction with bloodstock agent Kerri Radcliffe at the Gold Coast sale last year after the pair decided to band together to try and pick up a horse to get some Americans involved in.

“When I was working for Ciaron (Maher), I had been making a list on the side for a horse that we could get some Americans in on, my dad included,” Mathiesen told ANZ Bloodstock News.

MORNING BRIEFING

Long Leaf to stand at Rangeview Stud

Karaka Million 3YO Classic (RL, 1600m) winner Long Leaf (Fastnet Rock), is expected to stand at Rangeview Stud in 2020 after he was reportedly bought by a group of WA breeders. A winner of four of his 20 starts, Long Leaf was a NZ$750,000 NZB Premier Yearling Sale graduate in 2017 after being purchased by BBA Ireland from the Curraghmore draft. He is out of the winning mare Frustrating (Stravinsky) making him a brother to Sacredvista, a winner in New Zealand and Feelings, who broke her maiden at Cranbourne on Friday. Rangeview were dealt a blow last year when their leading stallion Demerit (Lonhro), the sire of Gimcrack Stakes (Gr 3, 1100m) winner Agent Pippa, had to be put down after sustaining a fractured tibia.

"Kerri Radcliffe had some American clients too so we decided to try and team up with everyone and buy a well-bred filly for the group.

"We ended up comparing lists, her (Radcliffe), me and Ciaron, and coming up with a few fillies that we all liked, then ended up buying her (Away Game) and it worked out."

On picking out Away Game from the hundreds of yearlings she had looked at during sale inspections Mathiesen said: "She had everything that we were looking for really.

"She had the pedigree, she is a full to a stakes horse and she is by Snitzel who is a leading sire down there.

"She had the pedigree, she is a full to a stakes horse and she is by Snitzel who is a leading sire down there.

"Physically, she had a huge walk, was a great mover and had a big hip and shoulder and she just was one of the standouts for us."

As well as picking up $1.6 million in prize-money, Mathiesen and the rest of Away

Game's connections also landed the $500,000 ladies bonus which is given to the first four horses home in the 2YO Classic that are owned by an all-female syndicate.

"Right away we had heard about the bonus and decided to syndicate with just females instead," Mathiesen said.

"We got our neighbour's wife involved because we've partnered with our neighbour before and got my mum involved, my grandma and a few of my other relatives so we figured it's better to do it that way and try and go for the bonus."

Originally from the US, Mathiesen came over to Australia to further her knowledge of horse racing.

Her interest and love of the industry began with a volleyball injury.

Mathiesen was recruited to play volleyball at California Polytechnic State University but ended up getting injured and decided to join the college's Thoroughbred Enterprise program, which is where her passion for horses developed into a career.

When she graduated from college, Mathiesen approached SF Bloodstock's Tom Ryan for some advice on the best way of getting the most experience in the industry she could.

"He (Ryan) said 'absolutely you should go to Australia, the industry is just thriving and I think you'll learn the most there' so he ended up putting me in touch with Ciaron (Maher) and thought it would be a good fit," Mathiesen said.

“I’m young and Ciaron’s known for having a young up-and-coming type team so Ciaron gave me a shot. I flew down there a few months later.”

Picking out horses in a sale is no easy task, and bloodstock agents will tell you it has taken them years to master it but at 22 years old, Mathiesen has already picked out a Magic Millions 2YO Classic winner, a feat that hundreds swarm to the Gold Coast to do each January.

It was at her second job in racing, where she worked for Kim Lloyd, that Mathiesen credits her ability to spot a nice type of horse.

“I worked for Kim Lloyd, he ran a sales company out in California, and I’d help do the yearling inspections to decide which yearlings made it into the sale,” Mathiesen said.

“I think that helped me a lot because you’re looking at a wide range of horses and then seeing what’s successful in the sale and then eventually on the race track.

“Then I’d worked for Kerri Radcliffe and a handful of other agents so I think all of that combined (is where I learnt to pick out horses).”

Just 48 hours after Away Game’s win at the Gold Coast, Mathiesen was back on deck at the Keeneland January Horses Of All Ages Sale in Kentucky on behalf of her pinhooking syndicate Oakmont Horse Club.

Oakmont Horse Club was founded by Mathiesen and fellow American Colt Pike, who approached her at the Fasig-Tipton Gulfstream Sale in March last year with the idea.

“Colt Pike, who had worked at Arrowfield Stud in the past, approached me and asked if I had any interest in buying weanlings with him at the sales in Australia,” Mathiesen recalled.

“I’d done a bit of pinhooking in the US before but hadn’t really considered Australia. We ended up getting a small group together and bought five or six (weanlings) down there and it ended up going better than we expected.

“We just continued that in the US and put together a partnership for the November sale last year and so far so good.

“The goal is to keep doing the pinhooking and then put together some racing syndicates in Australia and the US.”

So far the pair have sold a Fast Anna

(Medaglia d’Oro) colt for US$140,000 at the Fasig-Tipton July Sale, which they purchased for US$37,000, and turned a US$80,000 Shakin It Up (Midnight Lute) colt into a US$200,000 pinhook at the Fasig-Tipton Gulfstream Sale the following year.

Just hours after Away Game’s win in the 2YO Classic on Saturday, Mathiesen’s Oakmont Horse Club sold a Fastnet Rock (Danehill) colt for $400,000 to Hawkes Racing at the Magic Millions Gold Coast yearling sale, after purchasing him from Aquis Farm at the Magic Millions National Weanling Sale for $300,000.

An avid fan of the Australian bloodstock market, Mathiesen said her and Pike will continue to buy and sell down under.

“Yes, definitely (we’re going to continue to buy and race in Australia),” she said.

“We’ve obviously had some success in Australia so we’ll keep doing that. We’re selling a few pinhooks there this year and then we might try and pick up a filly or two at the Easter Sale.”

Despite Away Game ticking all the early two-year-old type boxes as a yearling, Mathiesen never thought “in a million years” that her and her family would be Magic Millions 2YO Classic-winning owners with their very first Gold Coast yearling purchase and she admits she is still coming to terms with it.

“I don’t think (the win has sunk in yet), no,” Mathiesen added.

“I’m still a bit in shock from the whole thing. The whole day was just crazy.

“Then flying back right away with no chance for it to really hit me, but hopefully this week I’ll be able to go through all the replays and articles. It was pretty crazy.

“My mum and dad and grandparents were there (at the Gold Coast), my sister had to stay home, but it was special to have them all out there. It made it a really good day for us.”

Dame Giselle could miss Millennium date

Dame Giselle

SPORTPIX

Co-trainer Paul Snowden has warned that Inglis Millenium (RL, 1200m) favourite Dame Giselle (I Am Invincible), one of a trio of Inglis Easter graduates who dominate early betting for the $2 million race, is not certain to take her chance in next month's two-year-old feature and is likely to head towards the Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) instead. The filly was yesterday installed as the $6 market leader by TAB bookmakers but would-be backers have been advised to hold their bets. "I wouldn't rule it out completely but it's not on our radar," Snowden told Racing NSW. "You won't see her step out in a trial for maybe three weeks but she's been in the stable and she could trial tomorrow (if we wanted)." Stablemate of Dame Giselle and Inglis Nursery (RL, 1000m) winner Wild Ruler (Snitzel), sits on the second line of the betting for the Inglis Race Day contest on February 8, along with the Ciaron Maher and David Eustace-trained Cellsabeel (Hinchinbrook).

Tendon injury sidelines Samadoubt

Bjorn Baker has revealed that Group 1 winner Samadoubt (Not A Single Doubt) is set for a lengthy spell after suffering a tendon injury. The six-year-old, who beat Happy Clapper (Teofilo) to win the Winx Stakes (Registered as Warwick Stakes) (Gr 1, 1400m) at Randwick last year, had been scheduled to run in a barrier trial yesterday ahead of an autumn campaign. "It's unfortunate that Group 1 winning Samadoubt has picked up an injury. He has been fit, strong & ultra consistent for five seasons and unfortunately like any elite athlete, sometimes injuries happen. He'll head out for an extended break & return when 100%," Baker said on Twitter. "The injury Samadoubt has suffered is a strained tendon. He will be treated intensively over the next few weeks followed by a long period of rest and rehabilitation. Tendon injuries are rare in our stable and it's dispiriting to have happened to such a wonderful horse."

Dalasan to kick-off at Caulfield

Autumn options remain open for star Adelaide colt Dalasan (Dalakhani) with races in Melbourne and Sydney under consideration. Following a gallop with the Chris Bieg-trained Blue Diamond Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) placegetter Free Of Debt (Unencumbered) at Morphettville yesterday, co-trainer Leon Macdonald said the only firm plan was to race at Caulfield on February 1. "I think he would be suited by Sydney because he has a habit of laying in so racing in the opposite direction could help that," Macdonald said. "The Randwick Guineas is a week after the Australian Guineas in Melbourne so he can't do both. But the Randwick race might be a bit easier than the Australian Guineas with Alligator Blood and Super Seth going there. We will work it out after his first start." Macdonald and his training partner Andrew Gluyas are pleased with Dalasan's progress and he will have another jump-out next week.

Hanseatic tops Freedman juvenile contingent

Anthony Freedman believes his best chance of claiming back-to-back wins in next month's Blue Diamond Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) looks like coming in the shape of the Godolphin-owned Hanseatic (Street Boss). The colt sits on the third line of the betting for next month's Caulfield Group 1 having run out an easy winner on debut in the Merson Cooper Stakes (Listed, 1000m) at Sandown in November. Freedman, who won the Blue Diamond with Lyre (Lonhro) last year said: "At this stage it's probably still Hanseatic. He was impressive when he won and he's had a good spell since then. He's back in work and he's nearly ready to run so at this stage he's the most likely. He'll be nominated for Saturday week (Blue Diamond Preview), whether we run or not I'll make that call closer to the race," he told Racing.com. "If he doesn't run there he'll definitely run in the second one (Prelude) and then onto the Blue Diamond."

Muntaseera on target for Diamond

The Blue Diamond Stakes remains the target for the Ciaron Maher and David Eustace-trained Muntaseera (I Am Invincible) after the filly flashed home to finish second in a 900 metre barrier trial yesterday at Rosehill. "I've spoken to the boss and he was very happy with her," Eustace said. "He said she had a decent blow. She's right on track. Her target is the Diamond and she may well have a run in Sydney and then come down for the race. That's the most likely scenario at the moment. We should have a few runners - Rathlin will go there, so will Tanker and Ideas Man at this stage."

Tanker impressive ahead of Diamond assault

Adding to Maher and Eustace's Blue Diamond assault will be the impressive Debutant Stakes (Listed, 1000m) winner Tanker (Pride Of Dubai) who trialled impressively at Sandown yesterday. "He was really, really good this morning," Eustace told Racing.com. "We've just been working without blinkers up until this point. Blinkers go on and he's really pinged the lids and was good and straight and strong and through the line. Mark (Zahra) was really impressed by the feel he's got. He's right on track. His condition is great and the plan is to go one run into the Diamond. He'll run in the 1100 metre race (Blue Diamond Prelude) two weeks before and then into the Diamond."

Currie: Game has Slipper credentials

Luke Currie believes Away Game (Snitzel) is capable of following up her Magic Millions 2YO Classic (RL, 1200m) win in the Golden Slipper Stakes. "The way she put them away was brilliant and I always felt like I was going to win in the run," Currie told Racing.com. "Only decent horses can show that run of foot, especially against the better ones, so there's no reason why she couldn't run well in a Diamond or a Slipper. It makes sense to stay up there and head towards the Slipper. She's improved off both her first-up run and her second-up run so there's no reason why she couldn't do it again and she doesn't need to be improving much to be a winning hope in a Golden Slipper."

Kensington option for Royal

Last start Christmas Stakes (Listed, 1200m) winner All Too Royal (All Too Hard) is likely to take his chance in Saturday's Kensington Stakes (Listed, 1000m) with a small field expected for the Flemington feature. The five-year-old is one of seven nominations for the straight-track sprint and co-trainer David Eustace admits he and training partner Ciaran Maher are favouring running. "I think he will go there," Eustace said yesterday. "He worked well this morning. There doesn't appear to be many suitable options around which makes it tricky. He's going very well, that was a career-best performance for him first-up, and we couldn't be happier with him."

Pride still to make Napster call

Joe Pride will leave it late before deciding whether Napster (Proisir) joins his team at Rosehill on Saturday or takes up an alternative engagement the day before. "Napster is also in at Canterbury on Friday night over 1250 metres so I will just see how the fields stack up," Pride said. "I hope we get rain and I hope the places that need it most get it. I don't think any of us will mind racing on a wet track and I think my horses will handle it although we haven't seen it for so long." Stablemate Royal Witness (Star Witness) is on target to take his chance in Saturday's Benchmark 88 sprint. "This will be his first go over 1100 metres since I've had him," Pride added. "I've kept him to short-course races so he is going up in grade and distance which he has to do if he is to proceed through the grades. It looks like being a hot field so we will see if he is up to it."

Two for Bull Point

A smart debut victory for the Rod Northam-trained Very Sharp (2 f ex Shamtastic by Shamardal) at Scone yesterday provided Kingstar Farm's sire Bull Point (Fastnet Rock) with his second winner. Sent off favourite in an all-aged maiden, Very Sharp took the 900 metre sprint by a short half head. She is the fourth winner from four foals to race from winning mare Shamtastic (Shamardal). A $12,000 Inglis Scone purchase from the Hillside Farm draft for R and R Racing, Very Sharp is eligible for the Inglis Scone Challenge (1100m), a race Northam has won five times.

Kolding sixth in Rosehill trial

Kolding (Ocean Park) remains in the mix for the All-Star Mile (1600m) at Caulfield on March 14 following a trial at Rosehill yesterday. The Epsom Handicap (Gr 1, 1600m) and Golden Eagle (1500m) winner finished sixth behind three-year-old colt Standout (Exceed And Excel) in the 900 metre heat having been given an easy time by James McDonald. The four-year-old is one of eight possible starters for Chris Waller in the All-Star Mile with the likes of Funstar (Adelaide), Kubrick (Shooting To Win) and Mister Sea Wolf (Amadeus Wolf) all nominated for the $5 million race.

Caulfield meeting in doubt

Officials are waiting until 7am this morning before deciding whether today's midweek city twilight meeting at Caulfield and another fixture at Yarra Valley will go ahead. Caulfield is scheduled to host an eight-race twilight meeting with the first race at 3.40pm, while the eight-race Yarra Valley card has a 1pm start. Yesterday's meeting at Werribee was called off because of smoke haze and hazardous air quality resulting from the bushfires in NSW and Victoria.

Stud and Stable Staff Awards Australia voting begins

Nominations are now open for the Stud and Stable Staff Awards (SSSA), which offers recognition to backroom staff in the Australian thoroughbred racing and breeding industry.

The Stud and Stable Staff Awards, an initiative of Thoroughbred Breeders Australia and Racing Australia and supported by Godolphin, are judged in seven categories: Dedication to Racing; Dedication to Breeding; Leadership; Horsemanship; Administrative and Ancillary services; Thoroughbred Care and Welfare, and a Newcomers Award. The awards offer total prize-money in excess of $100,000 spread over the individual categories plus an overall Thoroughbred Excellence Award. Nominations will close at midnight on March 13, and can be completed online via the Stud and Stable Staff Awards website at www.studandstablestaffawards.com.au. The awards will be presented at the Gold Coast on May 27.

ATO extends racehorse review

The Australian Taxation Office will extend its review of a data matching audit which includes thoroughbred racehorse as 'lifestyle assets' for a further five years. Having originally taken into account information from the years 2014 and 2015, the study will now continue until the end of the 2020 financial year. A total of 31 insurers will share information with the ATO, who anticipate obtaining records for more than 350,000 policies per year.

NEW ZEALAND

Catalyst first, Shark second in Matamata trial

Catalyst

TRISH DUNELL

New Zealand 2000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) winner Catalyst (Darci Brahma) impressed when taking out a barrier trial at Matamata yesterday, getting the better of Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m) placegetter Te Akau Shark (Rip Van Winkle) by two lengths. "I am very happy," trainer Clayton Chipperfield said. "We took the hood off and he put himself right there and to finish off the way he did with his ears pricked was very encouraging." The Jamie Richards-trained Te Akau Shark will begin his preparation in next month's BCD Sprint (Gr 1, 1400m) before heading to Sydney, where he is expected to contest the Queen Elizabeth Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) in April. "He lobbed three back the fence and came up in behind them with no pressure," Richards said. "It wasn't about chasing Catalyst or having a race today, it was just about building fitness and doing the right thing by the horse. We are pleased with how he is coming to hand."

Per Incanto steps up for Little Avondale

With their stallion Per Incanto (Street Cry) flying high at present, Little Avondale Stud are eyeing the possibility of a bumper week at the upcoming National Yearling Sales at Karaka.

Per Incanto has sired a total of 182 winners from 297 runners, with 14 individual stakes winners including Shadows Cast, Santa Monica and Dal Cielo at elite level. "He has eight individual stakes performers already this season. He had the Group 1 winners Santa Monica and Shadows Cast last year, and he's just kicked on from there," Little Avondale's Sam Williams said. Per Incanto has 14 yearlings in the catalogue for Book 1 of the NZB Karaka Yearling Sale, and Little Avondale will themselves offer 10 of those. "This year is easily Little Avondale's biggest draft, and it's the best line-up of Per Incanto yearlings we've ever taken to Karaka," Williams added.

Proud record to uphold at Highden Park

Libby and Sam Bleakley's Highden Park are hoping to add to their impressive roll of honour with their draft of yearlings at Karaka. Their sale graduates include two-time Hong Kong Horse of the Year Beauty Generation (Road To Rock) and Hong Kong Derby (Listed, 2000m) winner Ping Hai Star (Nom De Jeu) as well as a host of other stakes performers. "For a farm that's still pretty young, we've had some great results," Libby Bleakley said. "We keep adding to our stream of stakes horses as well, which is fantastic." While Highden Park will present two yearlings in Book 1, Bleakley was keen to emphasise the quality of their seven-strong draft in Book 2. "If you look at what's happened on the Gold Coast this week, an Iffraaj topped the Book 2 sale," she said. "There are some horses that could qualify for Book 1, but are better being held back for Book 2."

Boys Get Paid to add to Karaka atmosphere

There could be plenty of noise around the Karaka sale ring on January 28 when the Boys Get Paid Syndicate's first foray into selling thoroughbreds reaches its zenith as colt they own in partnership with Little Avondale goes under the hammer. LA's Sam Williams is delighted with the progress of the Savabeel (Zabeel) colt, who is out of the mare Drappier (Pins) and catalogued as Lot 557. "He's been one of the big improvers in our Book 1 draft. He's got a great pedigree and pleasingly he's developed into a really attractive colt, light on his feet with many of the attributes of the good Savabeels," he said. "I bought into his mother Drappier because I loved the family, it's one of Waikato's (Studs) best." The colt's second dam Gio has left three stakes winners and her full-sister Escada is the dam of the dual Group 1 winners Vision And Power and Glamour Puss.

ASIA

Stunning out for redemption in Centenary Cup

Frankie Lor is confident Mr Stunning (Exceed And Excel) can exact revenge on Beat The Clock (Hinchinbrook) when the pair clash in the Centenary Sprint Cup (Gr 1, 1200m) at Sha Tin on Sunday. The seven-year-old was denied a hat-trick of wins in last month's Hong Kong Sprint (Gr 1, 1200m) when Beat The Clock sped to victory and Mr Stunning is out to avenge not only that defeat but also last year's Centenary Sprint Cup when his John Size-trained rival was a neck too good. "We'll see him close to his best in this race - I think he can win," Lor said. Mr Stunning's three-quarter-length defeat when fourth in the Hong Kong Sprint held plenty of merit, being only his second run back off an injury lay-off. "I've taken things step-by-step with him and he improved for each of his two runs. He had those two runs and after that he has improved so I'm happy with his form," Lor added.

Young guns to square off in Happy Valley finale

Emerging talents Highly Proactive (Coats Choice) and Snap Fit (Nadeem) are set to lock horns in the Class 3 Chater Handicap (1200m) which closes Happy Valley's nine-race card tonight. Snap Fit won his first three starts while Highly Proactive got off the mark last start at his third attempt, impressing jockey Karis Teetan. "It was a very tough win from the outside gate," Teetan said. "I think he worked all the way around until the 650-metre mark, then once he caught his breath he kicked on nicely in the straight and won a tough race. Not many horses would have done that, so I'm very pleased with that win." Highly Proactive's task won't be easy though, with the Caspar Fownes-trained Snap Fit out to thwart him under Joao Moreira. "He's a very nice horse, Caspar seems to be very confident in his ability and his potential as an individual," Moreira said.

Asmara gone

Azamour: jewel in the crown of Asmara's produce record

MARTIN LYNCH

Asmara (Lear Fan), whose daughter Azmiyna (Galileo) produced five-time Group 1 winner The Autumn Sun (Redoute's Choice), has died peacefully at the age of 27. Bred by the Aga Khan by sending his Listed-winning mare Anaza (Darshaan) to Lear Fan (Roberto), Asmara upheld her brilliant breeding in her racing career with John Oxx, taking out the Trigo Stakes (Listed, 1m 2f). The mare also passed on her talent once retired, producing eight winners from 11 live foals. Her most notable offspring was Azamour (Night Shift) who won four times at Group 1 level including the Irish Champion Stakes (Gr 1, 1m2f). Asmara produced her last foal in 2011, an unraced filly by Sea The Stars (Cape Cross) named Azama, before being retired from breeding.

First foal for Roaring Lion

The first foal from the only crop of ill-fated European champion Roaring Lion (Kitten's Joy) was born on Saturday evening. A colt out of the mare Counterweight (Azamour) arrived at Jeffrey and Pheobe Hobby's Brightwalton Stud in Berkshire. Stud manager Sean Keane said: "He's a well-made, attractive colt with plenty of athleticism. He's full of energy and is a joy to be around. The Hobbys are delighted with him." Counterweight was bred and raced by the famed Ballymacoll Stud and was bought by Brightwalton Stud for 90,000gns when the operation dispersed its stock at the Tattersalls December Breeding-Stock Sale in 2017.

Roaring Lion covered a glittering book of 133 mares at Tweenhills at a fee of £40,000 last year including a host of Group/Grade 1 winners.

Tattersalls February Sale catalogue released

The Listed-winning and Group 3-placed Sivoliere (Sea The Stars), in foal to leading stallion Kingman (Invincible Spirit), looks set to be one of the highlights of the two-day Tattersalls February Sale, for which 401 lots have been catalogued. Comprising 175 fillies in/out of training, 31 broodmares, 144 colts/geldings in/out of training, 31 yearlings and 20 two-year-olds, the catalogue features consignments from many of the world's leading owner-breeders, including Godolphin, Juddmonte Farms and Shadwell Estates, who have 45 lots catalogued between them. The catalogue for the sale, which takes place on January 30-31, can be viewed online at www.tattersalls.com

STEVE MORAN

Son of Iffraaj out to earn a spot at stud

Wyndspelle

SPORTPIX

BY STEVE MORAN | @ANZ_NEWS

Respected industry figure Jen Campin hopes to secure a suitable stallion home for her Group 1 winner Wyndspelle (Iffraaj) who seeks a second elite-level win in Saturday's Thorndon Mile (Gr 1, 1600m) at Trentham.

The catch may be that he is a six-year-old and the perception, at least in Australia which Campin sees as his most desirable location, that he may not be considered "sexy" enough.

It's not for me to say whether he would be a desirable stallion prospect or not, but the quest perhaps raises the perennial question as to what horses do indeed fit that bill?

Would you be better to stand a Group 1 winner at 1600 metres, who was Group 1 placed at two and a Guineas winner at three, and who's proven his durability and soundness - or a short course two or three-year-old winner whose "sexiness" might be defined by the pitch that - as an investor - you'll be "out of him" before his offspring hit the track?

I'll leave the answer to the stud masters (and accountants) but these early running sprinters, untried beyond 1200 metres and three years, do not fit the profile of any champion stallion in living memory in Australia - and there's a plethora of them at stud.

Pitching an older horse will always be a tougher sell and the longer term commercial viability will be determined by the deeds of his offspring.

However, Campin and fellow owners John Frew, Shirley Hanna and Neil Randles, could readily cite the remarkable I Am Invincible (Invincible Spirit), who raced until a five-year-old (albeit injury interrupted) and failed to win at Group 1 level, yet has proven a stallion sensation at Yarraman Park with a stunning 28 stakes winners last season.

"There's been a level of interest in the horse," says Australian-born but New Zealand-based bloodstock consultant Campin, "a few people waiting in the wings perhaps to see him repeat his performance in the Captain Cook (Stakes)."

Wyndspelle scored decisively in the Group 1 Captain Cook Stakes at Trentham on December 7, from Shadows Cast (Per Incanto) who edged out the son of Iffraaj in last year's Thorndon Mile and is likely to re-oppose again this weekend. That victory came three weeks before the death of his dam Western Star (High Chaparral) who succumbed to laminitis.

That was the entire's breakthrough major success after six previous Group 1 placings, including three behind champion mare Melody Belle (Commands) and one in Australia in the Cantala Stakes at Flemington.

"It is for others to judge, of course, but I believe he has the required racetrack record from being Group 1-placed in the Sistema (Diamond Stakes) at two to winning the Waikato Guineas (Gr 2) at three and training on to be a highly-consistent performer at weight-for-age level.

"I've never had a horse run so many Group 1 placings and then keep bumping into one as good as Melody Belle. He has a huge heart and always does his best. He races the way he wants to race, hunting him up early just doesn't work but he can certainly produce a withering finish. He lowers his whole body and takes off like an aeroplane," Campin said.

Wyndspelle has blossomed in the latter part of his career under the training of Johno Benner and Hollie Wynyard and responded positively to being reunited with jockey Jason Waddell in the Captain Cook Stakes.

Iffraaj

Waddell, who was on board Shadows Cast in last year's Thorndon Mile, is now "super-glued" to Wyndspelle according to Campin. Waddell has won three times on the horse including the Waikato Guineas. "Jason adores the horse and his style suits him perfectly," she said.

An international campaign, to either the Dubai Turf in March or the Champions Mile in Hong Kong in April, has been considered for Wyndspelle but in the best of racing traditions, Campin said it would be a case "of one race at a time" after Saturday's Thorndon Mile.

"He certainly has the temperament for it but there are other options at home," said the prolific and successful seller to Hong Kong.

Wyndspelle became the 10th Group 1 winner for his sire Iffraaj (Zafonic) and the fourth to have been bred in New Zealand when he won at Trentham - following Gingernuts, Jon Snow and Turn Me Loose.

Iffraaj spent the most recent southern hemisphere breeding season under the Darley banner at Haunui Farm in New Zealand and will stand the northern hemisphere season at Dalham Hall Stud in Newmarket.

Darley also has his sons Ribchester and Jungle Cat, whose wins included the Group 1 Rupert Clarke Stakes at Caulfield, standing at Kildangan Stud in Ireland; while in New Zealand, Windsor Park is standing Turn Me Loose; Clearview Park has Jon Snow and Cambridge has grand-son Almanzor (Wotton Bassett) but I'm unaware of any son of Iffraaj standing in Australia.

Wyndspelle was a $75,000 Campin purchase from the Hallmark Stud draft at the 2015 Karaka National Yearling Sale.
