No gloom from Oulaghan as Shadows prepares for Thorndon defence

Last year's winner Trentham bound while Enzo searches for Telegraph three-peat

Shadows Cast

RACE IMAGES

BY CHRIS HUMPLEBY | @ANZ_NEWS

Shadows Cast (Per Incanto) will attempt to join Sir Slick (Volksraad) as only the second horse to land multiple renewals of the Thorndon Mile (Gr 1, 1600m) when he lines up in the NZ$200,000 prize at Trentham on Saturday.

The tough and hardy Sir Slick took out this contest in 2007 and 2009 as part of a 151-start career that yielded 22 successes and while Shadows Cast will do well to match those numbers, the consistent seven-year-old continues to prove a fine flagbearer for trainer Mark Oulaghan.

An 11-time winner, Shadows Cast beat the re-opposing Wyndspelle (Iffraaj) by a long-neck 12 months ago, while he finished runner-up to that rival in the Captain Cook Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m) over track and distance in December having previously run fourth to Melody Belle (Commands) in the Tarzino Trophy (Gr 1, 1400m).

MORNING BRIEFING

First for Rock Hero

Lauriston Park-based stallion Rock Hero (Fastnet Rock) sired his first winner yesterday when Bellx (3 f ex Aythreeeighty by Scenic) broke her maiden in a 1500-metre contest at Mornington. "It was a good win by the filly and hopefully there are many more to come," Chris Bakker of Lauriston Park said. "Rock Hero serves limited numbers every year because he is not a multi-Group 1 winner, we don't stand at one of the major farms and he is not backed by massive people. He is a beautiful horse and has got a great temperament, upgrades his mares and he is going to have to do it the hard way, but that's all right." Rock Hero was the first foal out of the Group-winning mare Gallant Tess (Galileo) and was an impressive stakes-winner himself before injury ended his racing career prematurely.

The son of Per Incanto (Street Cry) ran a one-length third in the Challenge Stakes (Gr 2, 1400m) on a Slow 8 track at Awapuni last start, but Oulaghan believes conditions will prove more favourable at the weekend.

"He's been pretty consistent over the last couple of years. Condition-wise, I think he's pretty similar to what he was last year," Oulaghan told ANZ Bloodstock News.

"His form coming into the race has been good. It was a good run last start at Awapuni on a track which didn't really suit him. He's trained on pretty well since then, so I think he's not far off the mark."

The Trentham track was being described as a Dead 5 yesterday, having been a Dead 4 when Shadows Cast won the Thorndon Mile last season, and Oulaghan continued: "He'll handle that pretty good."

"It's when the track gets into a seven or an eight, which it did at Otaki and Auckland last year, it just limits him a bit. He's ok on this sort of easy track."

Shadows Cast subsequently finished sixth in the WFA Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m) at Otaki and eighth in the New Zealand Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) at Ellerslie after last year's Thorndon Mile heroics, both of which were run under testing conditions, with Wyndspelle running second in the former.

Asked if Shadows Cast can reverse the Captain Cook Stakes form with his old rival, Oulaghan said: "I think he's got the ability to do it, but it's going to depend on what gets the best run in the race. I think if we can get a good run and things pan out, we've got a pretty good winning show."

Shadows Cast was trimmed into $5.50 second favourite with the TAB having landed barrier four at yesterday's draw. He will be ridden for the first time by Craig Grylls on Saturday, with last year's winning jockey Jason Waddell partnering Wyndspelle and recent rider Lisa Allpress aboard Livin' On A Prayer (Redwood) at the foot of the weights.

Shadows Cast will arrive at Trentham following a different preparation to last season, with Oulaghan having elected to bypass a lead-up trial at Foxton, which he won last year.

"The trials were on Tuesday, but I thought the track would have been pretty hard there so I worked him at home instead," Oulaghan said.

"They did get a bit of rain on Monday night, but the course proper was open here at Awapuni so we gave him a good gallop there."

"He worked pretty well and his weight is good, so everything is pretty much on target."

Barrier four is pretty good."

A final field of 15 has been assembled for this year's Thorndon Mile, with the market headed by $4.60 favourite and Challenge Stakes runner-up Rock On Wood (Redwood), who has drawn barrier one for Leanne Elliot and her jockey-son Ryan.

Wyndspelle is the $5.50 third favourite and he will break from barrier nine, while Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman, who landed this prize in 2018 with Stolen Dance (Denman), will be represented by Mongolian Marshal (High Chaparral), who has drawn barrier 12 in the hands of Opie Bosson.

Improved Enzo primed for Telegraph hat-trick

NZTM

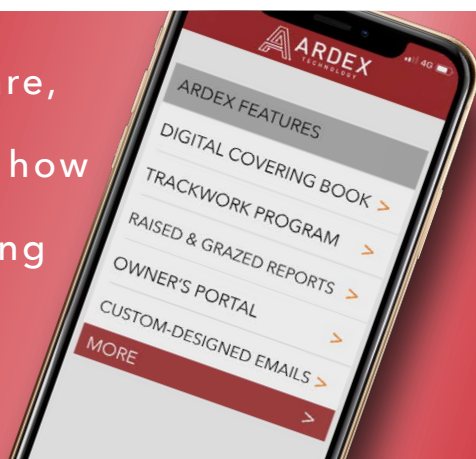

Earlier on the Trentham card, the Michael and Matthew Pitman-trained Enzo's Lad (Testa Rossa) will try to complete a hat-trick of victories in the Telegraph (Gr 1, 1200m).

The seven-year-old took out the NZ$250,000 prize by a neck in 2018, while he got up in the dying strides to win by the minimum of margins last year, a performance that vindicated the gelding's ability according to Michael Pitman.

"It's going to be a good field as per usual and hopefully he will be cherry ripe by Saturday," the co-trainer said.

“When he won it the first year I don’t think he got the credit he deserved. The second time around proved that it wasn’t a fluke. If he won it three years in a row it would be a massive effort.”

Enzo’s Lad has embarked on a globetrotting campaign since, running twice within the space of five days at Royal Ascot prior to finishing last of 14 in a Hong Kong Group 3.

He was last seen running 11th in the Hazlett Stakes (Listed, 1200m) at Wingatui on Boxing Day, but Pitman believes the son of Testa Rossa (Perugino) has recently turned a corner having taken time to get over his travels.

He said: “He’s been hanging on to a winter coat, which sounds strange given we are in the middle of summer, but when we got to England he had grown a winter coat leading into their summer, so we had to clip him.

“While he has been hanging on to his winter coat I have seen a lot of improvement in the last fortnight.”

Pitman also believes a change of approach could benefit Enzo’s Lad, electing to bring him north a week before Saturday’s assignment.

“He is up here (Trentham) at the moment,” Pitman said.

“We have done things a bit different because he is an older horse. I brought him up with the horses we raced on the first day just to do something different with him.

“We are really happy with the horse.”

Enzo’s Lad will be joined in the Telegraph by stable companion and Hazlett Stakes third Sensei (Dream Ahead), who was scuppered by a wide draw when running 14th in the contest in 2018 before placing third in the race last year.

Pitman believes both horses are best suited to quick underfoot conditions.

“Sensei is going really well, we are really happy with him, but he will also need to have a firm track,” Pitman said.

“He is a top-class horse, but the weight-for-age probably doesn’t suit him as much as it does Enzo’s Lad.”

Sam Weatherley has been booked to ride Sensei, while Michael McNab will be reunited with Enzo’s Lad. The duo have drawn barriers 11 and seven respectively.

Enzo’s Lad is a $31 outsider with the TAB to become the third horse in history to complete a Telegraph three-peat, while Sensei is much shorter in the betting at $8.50.

The market is topped by Railway Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) runner-up Winter Bride (Not A Single Doubt) ($3.30) for Gold Coast-based training duo Toby and Trent Edmonds, who are also looking for the track to dry back.

“She likes the juice out of the track a little bit so if that happened down at Wellington that would be better but she is in really good order,” Toby Edmonds said yesterday.

“She has had a good couple of weeks in between runs and galloped beautifully at Pukekohe on Tuesday. She is on her way down to Wellington today.”

AQUIS SELLING AT THE 2020 INGLIS CLASSIC YEARLING SALE

AUSTRALIA

Final Blackfriars yearlings set for sale

The final crop of yearlings from leading WA-based sire Blackfriars (Danehill) will go under the hammer at the Magic Millions Perth Yearling Sale next month. The former Scenic Lodge-based stallion, who didn't survive a fall after undergoing colic surgery, has 15 lots catalogued at the sale. "Blackfriars was a true gentleman and was loved by all," Jeremy Smith of Scenic Lodge said. "He's on track for ten WA titles this season and his current earnings ($3.71 million) are more than double the next best on the premiership table." Blackfriars' progeny are headed by six-time Group 1 winner Black Heart Bart.

Mystic Journey suffers setback

Star mare Mystic Journey (Needs Further) has suffered a setback ahead of her autumn campaign with Adam Trinder informing Victorian stewards the four-year-old has a soft tissue infection in her near fore-leg. Racing Victoria said the mare was undergoing veterinary treatment and would miss several days of track work. "The only current nomination held by Mystic Journey is for the All-Star Mile to be run on Saturday, 14 March, at Caulfield," RV said in a statement yesterday. "With voting for the All-Star Mile opening to the public tomorrow, Mr Trinder advised the stewards of the injury so that everyone is fully informed."

Mystic Journey

Australia Stakes for Microphone

James Cummings has decided to bypass Saturday's Kensington Stakes (Listed, 1000m) with Group 1-winning colt Microphone (Exceed And Excel) in favour of the Australia Stakes (Gr 2, 1200m) at Moonee Valley on Friday week. "The reality is, the scale of the handicap in the Kensington Stakes isn't what we believed it to be," Cummings told the Godolphin website. "We would be asked to give more than five kilos to some well-credentialed runners and we don't believe that is in the best interests of the horse."

Kensington test for Sartorial Splendor

John Sadler is hoping his Group 3-winning colt Sartorial Splendor (Brazen Beau) can give him a better guide on where the three-year-old is at when he takes on the older horses in the Kensington Stakes on Saturday. "It will be really interesting to see how he shapes up this time in," Sadler said. "Obviously we're hoping like mad he has taken the next step. If he has he's going to be extremely competitive. We feel he has, but we don't know he has. Saturday is a really interesting race for him. For the rating he's got (78) he doesn't come in that well at the weights and he's running in this race because there was nothing available for three-year-olds over 1000 metres. This is the race we had to throw him into but in saying that I'm happy to be running."

Freedman backing fillies

Anthony Freedman is backing Blue Diamond Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) winner Lyre (Lonhro) to return to form this autumn after an impressive jump-out at Mornington yesterday. "I'm much happier with her this preparation," Freedman told Racing.com. "She didn't look great through the spring and we couldn't really put our finger on it - she raced well without winning but I think she's back to where she was a year ago. We were happy with this her this morning, she'll have another one and then she'll line up on the eighth of February (Kevin Hayes Stakes). Freedman is also pleased with the progression of Thousand Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) placegetter Southbank (Fastnet Rock). "I'm really happy with her - she's a filly that we've got a very good opinion of," Freedman said.

Chenier trials at Mornington

Also stepping out at the Mornington jump-outs for Freedman yesterday was impressive first-start winner Chenier (Medaglia d'Oro), who is returning from an injury lay-off that saw him miss the spring carnival. "He missed the spring, he had a stress fracture behind which is now good but he's still a way off," Freedman told Racing.com. "He had a very quiet trial this morning but he's still quite big. He'll have at least one more - or more than likely two - and then we'll just ease him back into racing and see where he ends up. He's shown really good ability but you never like setbacks with these horses." VRC Derby (Gr 1, 2500m) winner Warning (Declaration of War) and Caulfield Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) placegetter Groundswell (Fastnet Rock) were two other Group 1 prospects that trialed for Freedman yesterday.

Dubai off for Avalon

Plans for a Dubai campaign for Streets Of Avalon (Magnus) have been abandoned by Shane Nichols and the gelding will now be set for summer/autumn carnival campaign closer to home after trialling impressively at Mornington yesterday. "They don't trial any better than that," Nichols told Racing.com. "We wanted him to have a good, solid trial because our options with him are the Australia Stakes on Friday week or the John Dillon Stakes, which is on the Saturday over 1400 metres. He's just really hard to place now, hence we were thinking about taking him to Dubai but that didn't eventuate. If we went on our own it was going to be a minimum of $50,000, so it was just too expensive and we needed to be there on the twenty-third (of January), which is next Thursday. So he'll stay home and run in a few of those Listed, Group 3 and Group 2 races over 1400 metres and he may run in a couple of Group 1 handicaps."

Ryan considers Honour's options

Gerald Ryan may have to delay the return of his promising two-year-old Return With Honour (Fastnet Rock) if the predicted rain hits Rosehill this weekend. "If the rain does happen to come and depending on how much there is, we have the option to run a week later," Ryan said. "There is a 1000-metre race at Randwick or the Blue Diamond Preview at Caulfield over the same distance. That still gives him two weeks to the Blue Diamond Prelude and another two weeks to the Blue Diamond itself." Return With Honour is owned by Mongolian businessman An Zhiqiang, who last week paid $1.1 million at the Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale for a Redoute's Choice (Daneshill) colt out of Gresset (Hussonet), who will also be trained by Ryan.

Le Juge to benefit from class drop

A step down in grade in the Roku Gin Handicap (1600m) at Eagle Farm on Saturday should see Chris Waller's Group 3-winning gelding Le Juge (Dansili) return to form. "He has been around in some very good races in the past few months," Waller's Queensland manager Paul Shailer said. "Not too many of these would even think about running in an Epsom. He handles Eagle Farm and 1600 metres also suits so he has a few things in his favour."

O'Shea lands Warwick Farm double

John O'Shea continued his re-establishment as an independent trainer by landing a double at Warwick Farm yesterday. Debutant Broadside Armour (Helmet) was the first of the O'Shea-trained horses to win when he was successful in the Darley Maiden (1400m), followed by All Saints' Eve (Sacred Falls) claiming victory in the Mode Handicap (1400m) at $51. "I thought the price was wrong and I said as much publicly that she would run better than her price indicated," O'Shea said of All Saints' Eve. "The progeny of Sacred Falls are lovely horses. They are very relaxed. We put the hood (blinkers) on her to get her mind on the job."

Cahill on track for return

After hurting his foot in a barrier accident and spending three months out of the saddle, Michael Cahill is hoping to get the all clear from a specialist on Monday to resume riding. "She is talking about surgery if it hasn't healed but I am confident it will be OK," Cahill said. The jockey thinks he should be ready to ride trackwork from next week before returning to race-riding by mid-February. Cahill was leading the Queensland metropolitan jockeys premiership on 19 winners before his injury.

Smoke Haze could impact Flemington

The predicted return of smoke haze on Saturday has RV officials considering their options should the programmed Flemington meeting need to be cancelled. "There could be an opportunity, if it becomes like the conditions we've experienced in the last 48 hours and doesn't allow us to race, that we could look at moving the meeting to Sunday," Racing Victoria's Paul Bloodworth told RSN927 yesterday. "But we just need to have some more formal discussions with the VRC and monitor the air conditions. The wind is the main impactor of the smoke haze at the moment and that can change quite regularly." Meetings at Werribee, Yarra Valley and Caulfield have already been lost this week due to the poor air quality.

RV adds Werribee meeting

Due to the substantial loss of meetings in Victoria this week because of smoke and forecast hazardous air quality, Racing Victoria have added an additional eight-race programme to be run at Werribee on January 21. Werribee was down to conduct barrier trials that day but they have been moved to Thursday week. RV said Wednesday's abandoned city meeting at Caulfield would not be rescheduled but a benchmark-70 race over 2100 metres was added to Wednesday's Sandown meeting.

RV pledge All-Star donation to fire relief

Australasian racing fans have an added incentive to vote for a horse in the All-Star Mile (1600m) after Racing Victoria pledged to donate $1 for every vote cast to the Victorian bushfire appeal. "Like so many people across the country and indeed the world, we have been deeply moved by the devastation caused to rural communities by the bushfires and so felt it was only right to make this pledge to assist with the huge relief effort," Racing Victoria's Greg Carpenter said. The $5 million All-Star Mile is run at Caulfield on March 14, with 10 of the 15-horse field to be determined by public vote. Voting opens today and runs until February 16.

RQ expand Battle Of The Bush

Racing Queensland has announced an expansion of its successful TAB Battle of the Bush Series with clubs Quilpie, Burrandowan, Charters Towers, Jandowae, Innisfail and Gayndah to each host a qualifying heat this year. The Emerald Jockey Club, which hosted a qualifier during the inaugural series in 2018, also returns to the schedule after a year's absence. In total, heats will be held at 16 clubs that will provide the runners for the $125,000 final at the Tatt's Tiara (Gr 1, 1400m) meeting at Eagle Farm on June 20. The Battle of the Bush commences at the Quilpie Diggers Race Club on May 2, with the final heats to be staged at Barcaldine Race Club and Gayndah Jockey Club on June 6 respectively.

RV against MRC Everest Slot

The Melbourne Racing Club last year struck a deal with the Australian Turf Club to purchase a slot in The Everest (1200m) that is reserved for the winner of the Schillaci Stakes (Gr 2, 1100m) but RV Chairman Brian Kruger yesterday said he was against that initiative. "I guess my concern, and I have expressed it directly to them as well, was I feel like the fact they bought the slot in The Everest sort of endorsed the whole New South Wales encroachment onto spring racing from a Victorian racing perspective," Kruger told RSN927. "So I understand why they did it, trying to promote the Schillaci and obviously they did okay - I think their horse ran second or third in the race. But it was just that, to be seen as an endorsement of what I felt was NSW, from a Victorian perspective, encroaching on our spring carnival it wasn't something I was personally comfortable with."

Aquantia bans could be appealed: Kruger

Kruger also yesterday told RSN927 that Racing Victoria are yet to decide on whether they will appeal the reduction of bans of those involved in the Aquanita bicarb scandal. "With Aquanita, the decision was handed down on New Year's Eve from VCAT," Kruger said. "We and other parties have until January twenty-ninth to make a decision to whether or not appeal those penalties handed down from VCAT. Once that appeal period has finished, Racing Victoria will turn its mind to whether or not to make an application to have horses disqualified as a result of it. We haven't reached a landing on it yet." Tony Vasil's three-year disqualification was reduced to 18 months while Stuart Webb's four-year ban was also reduced to 18-months but, with time served, is again eligible to apply for a trainer's licence.

NEW ZEALAND

Wrote yearlings impress ahead of Karaka

Positive feedback from bloodstock agents and trainers has left Highview Stud manager Brent Gillovic buoyed ahead of the upcoming

NZB National Yearling Sale at Karaka, with 14 yearlings by resident first season stallion Wrote (High Chaparral) set to go through the Highview draft. "They are lovely horses and I have been singing their praises since we weaned them," he said. "I think it is the first time trainers have laid their eyes on them and the comments have been extremely positive. They are beautiful horses and he is a lovely horse himself. He is very consistent in what he throws." Wrote, who won the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf (Gr 1, 8f) for Aidan O'Brien, has stood at Highview for the past three seasons, serving 82, 86 and 72 mares in his respective seasons at stud. Jennifer set for more Gold

The Shaune Ritchie-trained Jennifer Eccles (Rip Van Winkle) will try to extend her lead in the lucrative NZB Filly of the Year Series when she lines up in the Desert Gold Stakes (Gr 3, 1600m) at Trentham on Saturday. The three-year-old landed the Eight Carat Classic (Gr 2, 1600m) last start, after finishing second in the New Zealand 1,000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m). "She does have a very good turn of foot so she will make a hell of a lot of ground up in the straight," Ritchie said in relation to riding the filly cold from her outside draw in barrier 16. "A big field will make it a bit tougher, though." Looking ahead, Ritchie added: "She will almost certainly be going to Te Rapa (Fillies Classic), which is a soft 2000 metres, and then to Hastings (Lowland Stakes). We are not hell bent on it (winning the series) but obviously it is somewhat of a focus to try and get the award."

Waddell hopes to continue hot run

In other Trentham news, Jason Waddell will be out to continue his red-hot run of form when he partners market hopefuls Wyndspelle (Ifraaj) and Julius (Swiss Ace) in the Thorndon Mile (Gr 1, 1600m) and Telegraph (Gr 1, 1200m) respectively. The Cambridge jockey has enjoyed a notable run of success since Christmas Day, partnering 14 winners from 33 rides, including seven wins from 11 mounts within the last week. "It's been going great," Waddell said. "I've been riding nice horses for in-form stables and been on so many good ones. I've been trying to manage my rides and weight to ride further into the season and not burn out. I'm restricting myself to a maximum of five rides a day and I have not been riding at all the meetings."

Reggiewood impresses at Rotorua

Reggiewood (Redwood) announced himself as a live outsider for next month's New Zealand Derby (Gr 1, 2400m) when he powered three and three-quarter lengths clear of his eight rivals in the 1950-metre maiden at Rotorua yesterday. Justifying strong market support as the $1.90 favourite, the Roger James and Robert Wellwood-trained colt improved for a step up in trip having run a short-head second over 1600 metres at New Plymouth on December 27. "Roger and Robert have spent a lot of time and let him come to hand quite steadily," stable representative Zach I'Anson said. "He has only had a couple of runs and each time he has gone to the races he has improved. The further he goes the better he will get." Reggiewood is quoted as a $61 chance for the $1 million Ellerslie Classic.

INTERNATIONAL

Ruis sues over Justify drug test

Trainer Mick Ruis is suing the California Horse Racing Board alleging it intentionally failed to discharge its public duty when it hid and subsequently dismissed Justify's (Scat Daddy) positive drug test in the 2018 Santa Anita Derby (Gr 1, 9f). Ruis trained and owned Bolt d'Oro (Medaglia d'Oro), who finished second in the race. The petition, filed in Los Angeles County Superior Court on Monday, asks for a writ ordering the CHRB to set aside its decision to dismiss Justify's positive test in the Santa Anita Derby and to order the horse's disqualification with a redistribution of the US$1 million purse. Justify tested positive for scopolamine, a prohibited substance detected in his post-race urine sample. Under California rules at the time, a failed test for the substance would have required disqualification and the redistribution of prize-money. That would have resulted in Bolt d'Oro being declared the winner.

Enaya Alrabb tops brisk trade as agent Schenck goes to US$640,000 to secure her

BY RON MITCHELL & MEREDITH DAUGHERTY OF BLOODHORSE

Topping trade on Tuesday at the Keeneland January Horses of All Ages Sale was Enaya Alrabb (Uncle Mo), a four-year-old filly who ran second in the Starlet Stakes (Gr 1, 8½f) as a juvenile.

Bred in Kentucky by Tony Holmes and Dr and Mrs Walter Zent, the filly is out of the Graded -placed Lotta Rhythm (Rhythm) and is a half-sister to graded stakes-placed winner Hattaash (Strong Hope).

She was consigned by Paramount Sales, agent, and purchased by bloodstock agent James Schenck for US$640,000.

"That was on the top end but she was lovely and she didn't turn a hair," said Pat Costello of Paramount Sales, whose outfit ended the day as the leading consignor with 21 horses sold for gross receipts of US$1,858,000.

"She was a great racehorse so she deserved to bring it. We were delighted and the owners were delighted. Everybody is delighted.

"If you bring the goods you get well paid - even better paid than you thought. But if you fall below the barrier it's tough getting it done."

She was consigned as Lot 795D.

Schenck went to US$560,000 to secure the second-highest priced mare of the day, a filly named Confidently (War Front) consigned by Glen Hill Farm. Bred in Kentucky by the Playa Maya Syndicate out of Playa Maya (Arch), the filly is a half-sister to champion and popular stallion Uncle Mo (Indian Charlie). She was consigned as Lot 595.

"She brought what we thought," said Craig Bernick of Glen Hill Farm. "She's a very pretty mare and it's January so you never know [about price], but quality sells. She's a beautiful mare.

"We thought about breeding and maybe selling her in November, but when I'm buying a horse myself I like to pick out the stallion. I thought whoever bought her would breed her to the stallion they wanted. I thought it was a good place to sell her."

Glen Hill, who were making their first return to the sale as a consignor in over a decade, were also responsible for the third highest price of the day, selling Inflamed (Unusual Heat) to Shadai Farm for US$525,000.

Inflamed is the dam of Hollywood Derby (Gr 1, 9f) winner Mo Forza (Uncle Mo), who is an Eclipse Award finalist in the category of male turf horse. She was catalogued as Lot 795E.

"I'm glad to see Glen Hill Farm back in the consignment business and selling two of the top three," said Keeneland director of sales operations Geoffrey Russell. "That was a good start back in the marketplace for them."

Schenck purchased one additional mare during Monday's opening session, a US$280,000 daughter of Tapit (Pulpit) named Hot Blooded Girl.

Consigned by Hill 'n' Dale Sales Agency, the six-year-old bay was bred in Kentucky by Northwest Farms out of the stakes-winning Wild Again (Icecapade) mare Taste The Passion, who has also produced stakes winners Stopshoppingdebbie (Curlin), Shampoo (Gulch), and Smarty Deb (Smart Strike). Hot Blooded Girl was offered in foal to Curlin (Smart Strike) and she was catalogued as Lot 289.

By the close of Tuesday's session, gross receipts for Schenck's three purchases came to US$1,480,000, making him the leading buyer of the sale so far.

The second session of the sale generally saw brisk trade, posting increases in both the average and median prices.

From a total of 303 head offered, 233 were sold for total receipts of US$17,288,800. At last year's session, a total of 253 head changed hands for gross receipts of US$18,341,600. The average for 2020 was up 2.35 per cent to US$74,201 over last year's figure of US$72,496, and the median increased to US$40,000, compared to last year's US$35,000.

The 70 horses that went unsold on Tuesday represented an RNA (reserve not attained) rate of 23.1 per cent, up on last year, when 56 horses were bought back for an RNA rate of 18.1 per cent.

Russell said he was pleased that the middle market played strong all day and that the supplemental catalogue helped inject a welcome influx of capital at the close of Tuesday's session, which officially marked the end of Book 1.

He said: "I thought today's session ended very well. The supplements were ones that we thought would be popular with the buyers, and they definitely shone a light tonight.

"I thought the first book was a very solid book of horses, a typical January catalogue without a major dispersal. The quality was good, so I'm happy with that."

Russell added: "James Schenck represented some new buyers who are just getting into the game and he definitely decided to aim for quality. He certainly picked the top quality mares who were on offer yesterday and today."

Then followed: Individualist (AUS), Kinship (AUS), Avouch (AUS), Sisseck (NZ), Young Heart (AUS), Super Bon (AUS) & Private Missile (NZ), last.

Analysis: The John O'Shea-trained three-year-old gelding Broadside Armour followed recent barrier trial efforts with a smart performance in winning here on debut. He began well and after racing deep in the early stages he moved up to the outside of the leader (Super Bon) approaching the home turn. He went to the front on straightening and then fought off challengers to score, seemingly with something in hand.

ANOTHER NZ BRED WINNER

Analysis: Having her third start and her second this preparation, the John O'Shea-trained/New Zealand-bred filly All Saints' Eve looks to have a good future after breaking through with a very good win here. She settled nicely between runners in seventh place before Tom Marquand steered her through a gap on turning for home. She responded to riding to hit the front at the 100m and then went on for a good win, running the 1400m out well and looking suited to further still.

Then followed: Thermosa (AUS), Kiss My Swiss (NZ), Herzegovina (AUS), Eve's Miss (AUS), Le Dejeuner (AUS), Black Chilli (AUS), Invincible Tammy (AUS) & Designer Maid (AUS), last.

Analysis: Yitai Synergy is now the winner of two of her last three starts and she did well in winning here. Racing in blinkers for the first time, she showed good pace from her outside barrier (11) and soon went to the front. She then travelled well, got a break coming round the home turn and still held a clear advantage halfway down the straight before holding on to win in a smart time (57.11). The John O'Shea-trained filly Private Thoughts, a winner of her previous two starts, settled back in third place, one off the rails, chasing the free-running leader and was giving her some four lengths as she straightened. She then stuck to her task very well for a late closing (short-neck) second.
