With spring just around the corner, some of the biggest stables in the country are preparing to unleash a host of their most exciting prospects.

One of this weekend's feature events is The Rosebud (Listed, 1100m) at Rosehill and the Ciaron Maher and David Eustace stable will be relying on a pair of runners to provide them with their second stakes win in Sydney in as many weeks.

Having saddled I Am Me (I Am Invincible) to win the Missile Stakes (Gr 2, 1200m) last weekend, the powerhouse stable will be hoping Tiz Invincible, another daughter of Yarraman Park's champion stallion I Am Invincible (Invincible Spirit), Continued on page 2>>

Tulloch Lodge to have crack at The Rosebud

Gai Waterhouse and Adrain Bott will unleash a pair of three-year-olds in The Rosebud (Listed, 1100m) at Rosehill tomorrow, with Blue Diamond Preview (Listed, 1000m) winner The Instructor (Russian Revolution) headlining the duo. Following a trial win at Warwick Farm and another competitive showing in a Rosehill hit-out, Bott is keen to test the son of Russian Revolution's (Snitzel) Golden Rose Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m) credentials. "We were looking at a possible Melbourne campaign for him and we still could, but I was just really encouraged by the way he trialed up here. Cont. on page 6>>

<< Continued from page 1 can follow up last Saturday's triumph when she tackles The Rosebud. The filly will be joined in the race by her stablemate Griff, a colt by Widden Stud's second-season sire Trapeze Artist (Snitzel).

Despite having yet to taste victory, Tiz Invincible comes into the race with a big reputation to uphold, having shown enormous talent on both her starts as a juvenile.

Kicking off her career with a fourth-placed finish in Canberra's premier two-year-old event, the Black Opal Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) in March, the filly backed up that run with a brilliant performance to finish second in the Percy Sykes Stakes (Gr 2, 1200m) on April 8, beaten a length and three-quarters by the winner Kristilli (Hellent).

Tiz Invincible began her preparation with a quiet trial under James McDonald over 900 metres at Rosehill, before impressing last time out in an 810-metre hit-out at Warwick Farm on August 4 with McDonald once again in the saddle.

Drawn in barrier one tomorrow, McDonald will get the leg up on the three-year-old and Maher told ANZ Bloodstock News he expects the filly to give a good account of herself.

"She's the class filly in the field. I was going to start her this weekend or next and chose this race because the 1100 metres and the small field is ideal for her, it also gives her an extra week for her next start," he said.

"She'll definitely improve off the run. She's a little bit wintery, but I definitely think class will get her there. She's one of our better fillies, we've got about five I Am Invincible fillies and mares that are all quite good and are all in Sydney at the moment."

Purchased by Justin Bahen of Bahen Bloodstock, Ciaron Maher Racing and Eric Lucas for $550,000 from the Segenhoe draft at the Inglis Australian Easter Yearling Sale, Tiz Invincible hails from one of the most sought after pedigrees in the Stud Book.

Being out of the winning British-bred New Approach (Galileo) mare Amuletum, who is a daughter of 2007 Australasian Oaks (Gr 1, 2000m) winner Anamato (Redoute's Choice), making her a half-sister to Group 1 winner and now Darley stallion Anamoe (Street Boss) as well as Irish Listed winner Anamba (Shamardal).

Given her pedigree, Maher said he would expect Tiz Invincible to stay further in time and revealed he would be hopeful to set her on a campaign that could include a crack at the Thousand Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) at Caulfield on November 18.

“I think she’ll get further in trip and I would like to think she could probably get a Guineas trip, so that would be good and hopefully that could turn out to be her target,” he said.

Currently the $2.60 favourite to break her maiden in tomorrow’s Listed race, Tiz Invincible has history stacked against her, with only one filly, She’s A Fox (Fastnet Rock) in 2012, having been successful in The Rosebud since its inception in 2011.

The filly will clash with seven rivals tomorrow, including the Gai Waterhouse and Adrian Bott-trained The Instructor (Russian Revolution), who will be out to add a second stakes race to his CV having taken out the Blue Diamond Preview (C&G) (Listed, 1000m) in January and he will be joined in the race by his one-time winning stablemate Introducing (Trapeze Artist).

Among Tiz Invincible’s opponents is her stablemate Griff, who goes into the race fresh from breaking his maiden on his third start over 1200 metres at Warwick Farm on June 12. The colt then returned to the Sydney track for a 813-metre trial, producing a smooth performance to finish second, a length and a quarter adrift of unbeaten filly Taormina (Written Tycoon).

Unlike his stablemate, Griff is rated as one of the outsiders of the field, trading at double-figure odds of $21, but Maher is confident he can outrun his price and believes he could have an exciting future ahead of him.

“He was a very immature two-year-old and has really developed into a nice three-year-old,” said Maher.

“He has still got a fair bit to go because he’s quite scopey, but he’ll definitely run better than his price. He is quite raw and I think he has quite a lot in front of him.”

“It wouldn’t surprise me if he also ended up on a path towards the Guineas. He’ll definitely outrun his odds on the weekend and could be one for the future.”

Bought by Kavanagh Racing Stables for $80,000 when consigned by Widden Stud at the Inglis Premier Yearling Sale in 2022, the three-year-old is out of the winning Sebring (More Than Ready) mare Chateau Griffon, who also finished third in the Blue Diamond Preview (F) (Gr 3, 1000m).

The pair, who are amongst the stallion's ten overall winners, will be aiming to provide the son of Snitzel (Redoute's Choice) with his first stakes winner.

As the season kicks into top gear, one inmate the Maher and Eustace team will no longer be able to call upon is one of the stars of last season season, dual Group 1 winner Coolangatta (Written Tycoon) following Wednesday's announcement that the filly had run her last race after being privately purchased by Coolmore Stud in what is believed to be a record-breaking deal.

Having produced a sparkling maiden trial, Coolangatta won the Gimcrack Stakes (Gr 3, 1000m) on her first start as a juvenile, a performance which saw her installed as the Magic Millions 2YO Classic (RL, 1200m) favourite.

She won the $2 million race on the Gold Coast two starts later, having landed the B J McLachlan Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) in between, before rounding out her campaign with a third in the Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m).

At three, Coolangatta completed the A J Moir Stakes (Gr 1, 1000m) and Black Caviar Lightning Stakes (Gr 1, 1000m) double either side of a spell, prompting a campaign aimed at the Royal Ascot meeting and the King's Stand Stakes (Gr 1, 5f), in which she tired late after racing keenly to finish unplaced.

Maher reflected on the filly's wonderful career yesterday, describing the daughter of Written Tycoon's (Iglesia) feats on a racecourse as 'rare'.

"I tried to think of another three-year-old that has beaten the older horses at weight-for-age twice, I can't think of that many if any. Fillies like her are rare," he said.

"She won the Gimcrack, the first two-year-old stakes race of the season in an unbelievable time and then obviously the Magic Millions, then placed in the Slipper. Then to do what she did as a three-year-old was amazing. She took the owners on an unbelievable ride for two years.

"To finish at Ascot was great, she didn't get the result, but the owners had a great time and maybe that was a catalyst for the sale to Coolmore, because she was there under their nose, so it all fell into place. She may or may not have had more in front of her, we'll never know, but she'd done enough anyway."

Tulloch Lodge to have crack at The Rosebud

Gai Waterhouse and Adrain Bott will unleash a pair of three-year-olds in The Rosebud (Listed, 1100m) at Rosehill tomorrow, with Blue Diamond Preview (Listed, 1000m) winner The Instructor (Russian Revolution) headlining the duo. Following a trial win at Warwick Farm and another competitive showing in a Rosehill hit-out, Bott is keen to test the son of Russian Revolution's (Snitzel) Golden Rose Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m) credentials. "We were looking at a possible Melbourne campaign for him and we still could, but I was just really encouraged by the way he trialled up here, so I wanted to keep him up here," Bott said. "I thought the Rosebud would be a nice target and that will help us determine his campaign, whether he can stay on track for the Golden Rose. He's been pretty professional, pretty straightforward, very immediate from the outset." Introducing (Trapeze Artist) also resumes in the Listed event and, following a winning debut at Warwick Farm in February, he finished fourth in the Pago Pago Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) and fifth in the Kindergarten Stakes (Gr 3, 1100m). "He showed good ability last preparation, but it may have all come a bit too soon," Bott said. "Now he seems a lot more mature mentally and physically so if he can take his work to the races and put it all together, he's certainly not outclassed there."

Classy Pericles to line up at Rosehill

Pericles

SPORTPIX

Group 2-winning four-year-old Pericles (Street Boss) will head to Rosehill tomorrow as he gears up for his spring campaign in a 1400-metre handicap. The gelding finished a narrow second in the Rosehill Guineas (Gr 1, 2000m) last season and capped off that preparation when finishing runner-up in the Frank Packer Stakes (Gr 3, 2000m) at Randwick on April 15. "He's come back in great order and they've been happy with him at home," said James McDonald, who will ride the gelding this weekend. "They gave me a big push before the trial that he'd come back well. He was unlucky not to be a Group 1 winner, I don't know how he didn't win the Rosehill Guineas. We've found out his ideal trip is going to be a mile to 2000 metres maximum and I'm sure James will have some good targets for him later in the campaign."

Sargent hopeful with Perfect Thought

Despite the race being used as a starting point for the spring, trainer John Sargent is still hoping that Perfect Thought (So You Think) can be competitive in tomorrow's 1400-metre handicap at Rosehill. The Group 3-winning four-year-old is one of a number of spring hopefuls returning in this weekend's contest and is bidding to build on a restricted two-start autumn campaign which culminated in him finishing runner-up in the Queensland Guineas (Gr 2, 1600m) on April 29. "You'd like to see him winning or being right there because he's going to find a lot of harder horses after this to race against," Sargent told Racing NSW. "He's done enough work, he maps very nicely from the draw and I'd expect him to go very well first-up."

Good horses do and hopefully he can show that he is a good horse. I put him aside after I found out he was back to his best in the Queensland Guineas. He seems fit, his last trial was good. He's obviously not screwed right down but he's fit enough to be hard to beat from the draw on a good track."

Optimism with Chorlton Lane

Having left co-trainer Ciaron Maher and jockey Jason Collett a touch bemused when only fourth last time out at Rosehill, after making a winning debut for the yard on his first in Australia, UK import Chorlton Lane (Mehmas) will bid to bounce back at the Sydney track tomorrow. Fitted with a tongue-tie and back at the barrier trials, the four-year-old gelding caught the eye when cruising into third at Warwick Farm on August 4 and will tackle a 1400-metre handicap this weekend. "I was a bit baffled by that [second] run and he's a quiet horse anyway, but I just thought he was a fraction [too] quiet," Maher, who trains in partnership with David Eustace, said. "I noted [Wednesday] morning he was nice and bouncy, although he's still very relaxed, so maybe he was just a fraction off."

Alexiou predicts bright future with Call Di

Co-trainer Sterling Alexiou is hopeful that Call Di (Frankel) can pick up a valuable stakes win this spring and she will begin that quest when she contests a 1400-metre handicap at Rosehill first-up tomorrow. The four-year-old mare already has placings in the Angus Armanasco Stakes (Gr 2, 1400m) and Reginald Allen Stakes (Listed, 1400m) and Alexiou, who co-trains with Gerald Ryan, feels she can move through the grades this campaign. "She's still only a 72 so options for her are limited at the moment but we'd like to think we can pick off a couple of benchmark races early in her preparation," he told Racing NSW. "Then we can start to aim our sights a bit higher with her. She seems to have come back well. She spelled well, they did a good job with her at Strawberry Hills. She has put on good condition. We're happy with her trial the other day in a good quality trial. You'd like to think she'd be in with some sort of hope [tomorrow]."

Moonee Valley return for Title Fighter

Title Fighter (Lean Mean Machine) will bid to double his unbeaten record to two when he returns to Moonee Valley tomorrow in a 1000-metre handicap. The gelded son of Lean Mean Machine (Zoustar) scored by a half-length over the same course and distance last month and trainer Clayton Douglas is hoping for a repeat performance this weekend. "It will probably be a little bit different with the rail back in the true [position], but he had shown good ability before that though and we thought he would be hard to beat," Douglas said. "He looks like he has come on a bit in the coat, but he goes up a lot in weight from his last run, but I still think he will run a good race. We'll keep things simple at this stage we'll just take each run as it comes this campaign. We missed an earlier prep with him, so we'll be guided by him as to whether he has another one or two runs after this. But he'll be a more developed horse in six months' time, so he might be better off in the autumn."

Lindsay Park to debut import

Lindsay Park are set to learn much more about their Irish import Sissoko (Australia) when he makes his debut in a 2040-metre handicap at Moonee Valley. The five-year-old had three starts in Ireland when trained by Donnacha O'Brien, winning one and also finished runner-up effort in the 2021 edition of Futurity Stakes (Gr 1, 1m) on his final start for the stable. Initially purchased to race in Hong Kong, the entire failed to settle in the Asian environment and has now moved to trainers Ben, Will and JD Hayes. "He was purchased by a very good client of ours, Edmund Lee who has raced good horses here like Redkirk Warrior and Harlem," Ben Hayes said. "He was bought to go to Hong Kong, but Hong Kong's environment didn't suit him, so he was brought back to us. He's had a few trials and jump-outs and looks a staying type of horse, so we'll kick him off over 2000 metres on Saturday. He will probably need the run as he hasn't raced for a long time, but he looks to have some nice ability and I think you'll see the best of him when he gets out over further."

Master Of Chant to have second Aus start

Having made a good impression when scoring by a length on his Australian debut at Sale last month, UK import Master Of Chant (Gregorian) will bid to follow up that performance when he takes his chance in a 1600-metre handicap at Moonee Valley tomorrow. The Trent Busuttin and Natalie Young-trained four-year-old gelding scored under Blake Shinn in Benchmark 64 grade and makes the move up to Benchmark 70 level this weekend. "He won a 64 and he's jumping to a 70 in town, which is never easy," Busuttin said. "And it looks a competitive 70 looking at it, but I think he's better than a 64. He did things wrong, and Blake [Shinn, jockey] said he could go to town at his next start and be competitive. He's gone on with it on the track and most of them [imports] improve from their first run to their second and their third and hopefully he's no different."

Phanta ready to fizz in Belmont Newmarket

The Chris and Michael Gangemi-trained Phanta (Gingerbread Man) will bid to make it back-to-back stakes wins this weekend when he lines up in tomorrow's Belmont Newmarket (Listed, 1200m). Having finished a narrow runner-up in Ascot's Scenic Blast Stakes (Listed, 1200m) in January, the six-year-old returned to action with a victory in the HG Bolton Sprint (Listed, 1200m) at Belmont and now aims to make it a double over the course and distance. "We've put a lot of work into his feet and it's full steam ahead to Saturday," Gangemi said. "We know with this horse if his feet are right he is going to be competitive at stakes level. We've worked out a formula that works and hopefully that backs up again this week. We're very, very happy with him and confident he will be competitive again."

Jolly has faith in Calypso Reign

The David Jolly-trained Calypso Reign (Barbados) will be aiming to join his illustrious stablemate Behemoth (All Too Hard) as a dual winner of the race now named in his honour, the Behemoth Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m), an event formerly known as the Spring Stakes, which takes place at Morphettville tomorrow. The seven-year-old has not been sighted since his last-placed finish in the Matrice Stakes (Listed, 1200m) in March and Jolly said it had always been the plan to tackle the Group 3 first-up, given his record when fresh. "He's had a jump out and two trials," Jolly said. "We had the option of running a couple of weeks ago but he's so dynamic first-up at 1200 metres at Morphettville. His trial was satisfactory. He's never a horse who trials well. He enjoys soft ground so a bit of rain won't hurt."

Steparty has first jumpout of campaign

Steparty's (Artie Schiller) Caulfield Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) preparation stepped up yesterday morning as he took in his first jump-out of this campaign at Horsham. Ridden by Dean Yendall, the unbeaten colt extended in stylish fashion over the 850-metre trip and pleased his trainer Paul Preusker. "That was his first piece of fast work, it was just about putting the gloves back on and knocking the rust off," Preusker told Racing.com. "We never opened the windpipes. He has been super, I loved this morning he got there and switched on as he's been quite laid back. I'll cart him away and get some travelling underneath him for a gallop and another trial."

Kah to ride Zaaki in trial

Zaaki

SPORTPIX

Jamie Kah will make a quick visit to Rosehill today to ride star galloper Zaaki (Leroideosanimaux) in a key trial session. Kah has answered the call from Annabel Neasham to make the trip to Sydney with the eight-year-old's regular jockey James McDonald committed to ride Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) winner Shinzo (Snitzel) in the same 900-metre heat. Kah, who is working her way back towards race riding following a serious fall at Flemington in March, has ridden Zaaki in seven of his starts, including for his 2022 All-Star Mile (1600m) and Mackinnon Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) victories. "James is on Shinzo in the trial so I thought, 'who else do we get?'" Neasham said. "Jamie knows him just as well. She's obviously just getting back to the trials now and getting back in the saddle and she was keen. James and Jamie are really the only two riders that have ridden him and it's good to get feedback from those people that know him."

Pivot City blitzes rivals at Bendigo

Pivot City, a colt by Not A Single Doubt (Redoute's Choice), produced a sparkling debut at Bendigo yesterday as he scorched five lengths clear of his rivals in a 1000-metre maiden event. Ridden by Ethan Brown for trainers Mick Price and Michael Kent Jnr, the three-year-old went clear inside the final 200 metres to beat Forever More (Starspangledbanner) with a further head back to the third-placed Shadowen (Brazen Beau) in a bunched finish for the minor placings. A $975,000 purchase for the James Harron Bloodstock Colt Partnership out of Amarina Farm at last year's Inglis Australian Easter Yearling Sale, Pivot City is a half-brother to dual Group winner Contessa Vanessa (Bullbars).

Moravia breaks the ice at Newcastle

The Michael Freedman-trained Moravia (Snitzel) was another three-year-old to make a taking debut yesterday as he landed the opener at Newcastle, a 900-metre maiden event. Sent off the $2.25 favourite under Tyler Schiller, the colt moved up stylishly on the outside of his rivals with just over 200 metres to run and quickly drew away to beat Perfect Proposal (Russian Revolution) by two lengths with a further two and a quarter lengths back to Impulsivity (Russian Revolution) in third place. An $800,00 purchase for Mick Wallace and the Freedman Brothers from the Edinburgh Park Stud draft at last year's Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale, Moravia is the first foal out of the dual Listed winner Our Crown Mistress (Star Witness).

Berkshire Shadow joins Maher and Eustace

The 2021 Coventry Stakes (Gr 2, 6f) winner Berkshire Shadow (Dark Angel) will continue his career in Australia after he was purchased by Australian Bloodstock and will head into training with Ciaron Maher and David Eustace. A winner of four of his 15 starts for trainer Andrew Balding, the four-year-old will arrive in Australia in mid-September and will touch down with New Energy (New Bay), another high-profile acquisition for the syndicators. "Very rarely do the calibre of these horses come here and that's why we are a little bit excited," Australian Bloodstock's Luke Murrell told Racing.com. "To be able to get two in a season, you obviously still need all the luck in the world, but they are really really hard to find anywhere in the world. He [Berkshire Shadow] is still a borderline Group 1 horse over there. That's why we are hoping he can come here and be that dominant Group 1 weight-for-age horse." The pair are both likely to be aimed at the new $5 million King Charles III Stakes (1600m) at Randwick on October 14.

Bella to kick off in Carlyon

Bella Nipotina

SPORTPIX

Meanwhile, Ciaron Maher and David Eustace's Group 1-winning filly Bella Nipotina (Pride Of Dubai) is likely to kick off her preparation in the Carlyon Stakes (Listed, 1000m) at her favourite track, Moonee Valley, on August 26. A winner of last season's Manikato Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) at The Valley, Bella Nipotina showed she could be a force to be reckoned with again this season, impressing her jockey Ethan Brown and Eustace when she galloped at the Melbourne track on Tuesday. "She worked nicely, very sharp," Eustace told Racing.com. "She worked with Generation and they both worked well. Mark [Zahra] and Ethan [Brown] were happy with both of them. They'll trial again Monday and kick off over 1000 metres either at The Valley or at Caulfield. I would say Bella Nipotina would run first-up here (in the Listed Carlyon Stakes), she has a great record here and she loves it here so she'll almost certainly kick off here at The Valley."

Hong Kong jockeys to ride at Geelong

Hong Kong-based riders Luke Currie and Luke Ferraris will be in action at Geelong today as part of their working holidays in Victoria. It will be Currie's first time riding on his home soil since winning the All-Star Mile triumph aboard Mr Brightside (Bullbars) in March, while Ferraris will be making his Australian riding debut. "I've always wanted to ride in Australia and I'm just very grateful to have the opportunity here," Ferraris told Racing.com. "The first part of the off-season, I had a bit of a relaxing holiday but as the new season approaches, I thought it would be a good way to get the weight down, get the fitness up. JD [Hayes] planted the seed in my head a couple of months ago and I thought it would be a great experience to come out here and see what they do. I started my apprenticeship [in South Africa] when I was about 15 and started racing not long after that. I notched up a couple of Group 1s there and I was very fortunate to get the contract out from Hong Kong after a successful season, I think it was five Group 1s in that season."

King to ride in World All-Star Jockeys Series

Rachel King has confirmed she will take part in this year's World All-Star Jockeys Series in Japan on August 26 and 27. The Group 1-winning rider will join 14 riders, including Christophe Lemaire, Joao Moreira and Yutaka Take in the two-day series. "I'm very excited to be heading to Japan to be involved in this great series," King tweeted. Two Australian jockeys have triumphed in the series, with Craig Williams winning the 2007 edition, while Zac Purton was victorious in 2012.

Contenders revealed for Victorian Racehorse of the Year

Racing Victoria (RV) announced yesterday the five contenders for the 2022-23 Victorian Racehorse of the Year Award which will be presented tomorrow night at the Victorian Racing Awards in Melbourne. Those in the running for the award are multiple Group 1 winner Alligator Blood (All Too Hard), multiple Group 1 winner Anamoe (Street Boss), winner of last season's Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m), Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) winner Gold Trip (Outstrip), Coolmore Stud Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) winner In Secret (I Am Invincible), and All-Star Mile champion Mr Brightside. The Victorian Racehorse of the Year Award is given to the horse that excelled above all others on Victorian tracks in the 2022-23 season with votes cast by members of the racing media, race callers, and the chief handicapper.

Woodsford hoping for redemption at Riccarton

Louie Louie

RACE IMAGES SOUTH

It may not have been the result he wanted in last weekend's Winter Cup (Gr 3, 1600m) with Louie Louie (Zacinto), but trainer Steven Woodsford is hoping that the gelding can grab a consolation prize at Riccarton tomorrow. The eight-year-old son of Zacinto (Dansili) finished 15th in the 18-horse Group 3 field but drops back down in grade this weekend for a Rating 85 (1400m) event. "I don't generally back him up and it wasn't in our original intention to start him [on Saturday]," Woodsford said. "He only races six or seven times a year when the tracks are heavy and there isn't much left for him, so we might as well give it a go. He was fair in the Winter Cup. It probably wasn't wet enough for him. He might be better at 1400 metres than a mile. He struggled a bit at a mile and he has got a great record at 1400 metres, that might be as far as he gets."

Anela aiming to book spot for Hastings

Katrina Alexander

TRISH DUNELL

Matamata-based trainers Simon and Katrina Alexander are hoping that their four-year-old mare Anela (El Roca) can break through for a maiden success tomorrow at the seventh time of asking. The daughter of El Roca (Fastnet Rock) will bid to book her ticket to Hastings next month for the Hawke's Bay Carnival when she tackles a 1400-metre event at Te Rapa. "I was really pleased with her last start at Te Rapa. The horse that beat her that day has put some really nice races together in some good company," Katrina Alexander said. "I am looking forward to Saturday with her to see what she has learnt from that. She hasn't been an easy horse to train and she has had to learn it on the run. She has got a tonne of ability, she has just thrown a curve ball in her starts prior to that. "She is owned by Simon Tremain and he is a big sponsor of the Hawke's Bay carnival. Our focus has been to get her to that [Rating] 65 mile race on the first day of the carnival. We need to get that win under our belt."

Goss expects winning run to continue

Trainer Cliff Goss will head to Te Rapa tomorrow full of confidence that Casino Princess (Casino Prince) can follow-up her last-start first-up victory at Matamata in May. The daughter of Casino Prince (Flying Spur) will resume in a 1400-metre handicap and Goss and is upbeat about a triumphant return from the five-year-old, with the mare having won her last three outings. "She had ulcers in her belly and it took a long time to get her right and she's right now and worked well enough this [yesterday] morning and should win easily," Goss said. "I know that's a big statement, but I honestly think she'll be a bit too good for them. She has won after not racing for more than 12 months and she hasn't been out for three months, but she's easy to train and is a pretty good mare."

INTERNATIONAL

UK: Straight to Melbourne for Vauban

Trainer Willie Mullins has revealed that Vauban (Galiway) will not run again until the Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) on November 7. The gelding qualified for the race when he won the Ballyroan Stakes (Gr 3, 1m 4f) at Naas on Monday. Having only needed to be placed to gain a berth into the Flemington showpiece, the son of Galiway (Galileo) is now best-priced 5-1 favourite for the 3200-metre contest. "I think Ryan [Moore] is keen to ride him and at the moment it doesn't look like his connections will have something in it," Mullins said on Nick Luck's podcast. "I don't predict he will want another run. I'd like to go there on what we've done now. We will see what way the handicappers' reaction is, especially the Australian one. And I think it might be our job done now and just get him ready for racing in Melbourne."

UK: Rest of Tattersalls October Yearling Sale catalogue released

The catalogues for Books 2, 3 and 4 of the 2023 Tattersalls October Yearling Sale are now online. Book 2 features 819 yearlings and will begin its three-day run on October 9. Book 3 has 649 lots catalogued and will run from October 12-14, with Book 4's entry of 110 yearlings also selling on October 14. Racecourse success around the globe has provided strong advertisement for Book 2 of the Tattersalls October Yearling Sale, with Group 1-winning filly Emily Upjohn (Sea The Stars), Dubai Honour (Pride Of Dubai) and Romantic Warrior (Acclamation), who have both won Group 1s in Australia and Hong Kong respectively, all sourced at the sale. Graduates of last year's sale have also been flying the flag, with Haatem (Phoenix Of Spain), Big Evs (Blue Point) and Elite Status (Havana Grey) all winning two-year-old Group races over the last fortnight. The full catalogue for the sale can be viewed here.

IRE: River Tiber not declared for Phoenix Stakes

Ante-post favourite River Tiber (Wootton Bassett) was not one of seven declared for the Phoenix Stakes (Gr 1, 6f) at the Curragh tomorrow, with trainer Aidan O'Brien expected to send his unbeaten juvenile to France for the Prix Morny (Gr 1, 1200m) on Sunday week. O'Brien will instead be represented by Unquestionable (Wootton Bassett) and His Majesty (No Nay Never) as he bids for a record-extending 18th win in the race. Unquestionable will renew his rivalry with the Adrian Murray-trained Bucanero Fuerte (Wootton Bassett), who prevailed when they met in the Railway Stakes (Gr 2, 6f) last month. Meanwhile, owners Amo Racing will also be represented by Launch (Omaha Beach), who has yet to win in six starts. Donnacha O'Brien will have Albany Stakes (Gr 2, 6f) heroine Porta Fortuna (Caravaggio), who is set to be ridden by Oisín Murphy, while course-and-distance winner Givemethebeatboys (Bungle Inthejungle) and the Diego Dias-trained Gaenari (Inns Of Court) complete the line-up.

FR: France to introduce new whip disqualifications

France Galop has announced that disqualification for what it describes as "manifest abuse of the whip" will be introduced on September 1, a sanction triggered at nine or more strikes. Unlike in Britain and the United States, where similar regulatory changes have been made, any decision will be administered by race day stewards before the 'weighed-in' announcement, meaning punters will be paid out on the revised result and not the finishing order. The ruling body unveiled a reduction in the number of permitted strikes reduced from five to four in February, a measure which came into force on the Flat and over jumps from May 1.

Early foals with lofty goals

BY BREN O'BRIEN | @ANZ_NEWS

With the first foals of the Australasian-breeding season hitting the ground, we take a look at the performance of early foals in Australia's best races over the past decade.

When Amelia's Jewel (Siyouni) won the 2022 Northerly Stakes (Gr 1, 1800m), she was the earliest Australian-born foal to graduate to Group 1 success of the racing season.

In fact, in the past ten years of Australian racing, of subsequent Group 1 winners only 2018 Tattersall's Tiara (Gr 1, 1400m) winner Prompt Response (Beneteau) and 2021 Coolmore Classic (Gr 1, 1500m) victrix Krone (Eurozone) have been foaled earlier in the 'spring' than Amelia's Jewel was.

Conceived in France on an early southern hemisphere cover by Siyouni (Pivotal), Amelia's Jewel arrived at Segenhoe Stud for her breeders Amelia Park on August 5, 2019. Almost four years later to the day, half a world away at Haras Du Buff in France, her dam, Bumbasina (Canford Cliffs) delivered a brother to the star mare.

Amelia's Jewel

His first photos hit social media this week, an early highlight of the avalanche of foal pics from breeders across Australia and New Zealand this spring. Other early arrivals include the first foals by Coolmore's Home Affairs (I Am Invincible) and Acrobat (Fastnet Rock) and Newgate's Golden Slipper (Gr 1, 1200m) winner Stay Inside (Extreme Choice).

A sample of 1421 foals from the 2022

Australian breeding season, taken from the ten of the most prolific stallions in terms of foal-crop size, showed that 24.4 per cent were born in August, while just 0.7 per cent (ten) arrived before the horses' official birthday on August 1.

September was the busiest month of 2022 for the arrival of foals, with 33.2 per cent of the crop arriving in the first official month of spring, while 29.1 per cent were foaled in October and 12.5 per cent in November. Just six foals from the sample taken arrived in December.

WWW. STABLEFINANCIAL.COM.AU

The peak of the season was in the third week of September with 25 foals arriving on the 22nd and 24 on the 23rd.

FOALING MONTHS OF PROGENY OF TOP 10 AUSTRALIA SIRES (BY FOAL CROP) IN 2022

Month	Foal percentage
July	0.7%
August	24.3%
September	33.1%
October	29.1%
November	12.5%
December	0.4%

While those stats will vary slightly from season to season and across the entire foal crop, it is reasonable to assume that around 25 per cent of foals would be classed as early-season arrivals, foaled in either July or August.

So what does history tell us about the racetrack performance of these early foals?

Looking back at the Group 1 winners from the just completed 2022-23 season, we can see that the August foals, proportionally, underperformed. Of the 52 individual Group 1 winners in Australia bred to Southern Hemisphere time, only seven of them, or 13.5 per cent, were August foals.

FOALING MONTHS OF SH-BRED GROUP 1 WINNERS IN AUSTRALIA 2022-23

Month	G1 winners	% (SH-bred)
August	7	13.5%
September	22	42.3%
October	17	32.7%
November	6	11.5%

Amelia's Jewel is joined on the August list by fellow elite winners Snapdancer (Choisir), Imperatriz (I Am Invincible), Shinzo (Snitzel), Royal Merchant (Merchant Navy), Palaisipan (So You Think) and She's Extreme (Extreme Choice).

You'll note that six of those seven are mares or fillies, with Shinzo the only exception. Also interestingly, Shinzo is the fifth August foal in the past seven years to win Australia's top two-year-old race, the Golden Slipper.

Snapdancer

SPORTPIX

The highest proportion of Group 1 winners last season were September foals, which had 22 representatives, making up 42.3 per cent of the total. That list includes the winners of the other four two-year-old Group 1s, Militarize (Dundeel) (two wins), King Colorado (Kingman) and Little Brose (Per Incanto).

There were 17 individual Group 1 winners foaled in October, 32.7 per cent of the total, slightly above the estimated overall representation (30 per cent) of total foals born in that month. That October list includes Australia's two top sprinters of the season, Giga Kick (Scissor Kick) and I Wish I Win (Savabeel).

The November foal Group-1 alumni is smaller in number, with six individual horses, but does include the horse who will almost certainly claim honours as Australian Racehorse Of The Year, Anamoe (Street Boss).

Anamoe, a November 16 foal, was the latest born foal to win an Australian Group 1 race last season. Interestingly, the previous season there were five other Group 1 winners with foal dates later than Anamoe's.

The other change when we look at the 2021-22 results is that August foals were the most successful in that campaign. There were 17 individual Group 1 winners, or 32 per cent of those foaled to southern hemisphere-time, in this category.

In that season, there were 14 Australian Group 1 winners who were September foals (26.4 per cent), just nine in October (17 per cent), while there were 13 in November (24.5 per cent).

FOALING MONTHS OF SH-BRED GROUP 1 WINNERS IN AUSTRALIA 2021-22

Month	G1 winners	% (SH-bred)
August	17	32.1%
September	14	26.4%
October	9	17.0%
November	13	24.5%

It was this significant season-to-season variation that sent your columnist on a perhaps foolish, and certainly time-consuming task of tracing the foaling dates for every Australian Group 1 winner in the past decade, tracing back to the start of 2012-13 season.

That list takes in 509 horses, 435 of which were foaled to southern hemisphere time, and gives a more consistent sense of which month's foals have performed best on the big stage.

There is only one July foal in that collection, the already mentioned Prompt Response.

The list contains 86 August foals, or 19.8 per cent of the total. You'll recall we said that 25 per cent of foals arrive before September 1, yet over the decade-long time period, they represent just over 20 per cent of top-flight winners. In that statistic at least, they are underperforming. Mind you, the list does include August 18 foal Black Caviar (Bel Esprit), unbeaten in 25 races and 16 Group 1s.

Winx SPORTPIX

There are 162 Group 1-winning representatives of the September foal set, or 37.2 per cent of the total. That is higher than the overall September representation of total foals, which in that extensive sample in 2022 stood at 33.2 per cent. The most famous of the foals born in that month is supermare Winx (Street Cry), who was foaled on September 14.

October foals are the second most successful when it comes to Group 1-winning representatives with 119, or 27.4 per cent of the total. That is pretty close to their estimated population representation of 29 per cent.

The Group 1-winning list contains 66 November foals, or 15.2 per cent, an overperformance on their estimated representation of 12.5 per cent. This list features Nature Strip (Nicconi), second only behind Winx when it comes to prize-money earned, and who shares the same foaling date as Anamoe, albeit four years apart.

There is just one Australian Group 1 winner in the past decade who was foaled in December.

That was 2012 Winterbottom Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) victor Barakey (Key Business).

So, what is historically the most successful foaling date in Australia? Over the past decade, 10 individual Group 1 winners have been foaled on September 7. Days in September also feature on the second line of the statistics, with the 5th, 26th and 28th all responsible for nine Group 1 winners over that time period.

FOALING MONTHS OF SH-BRED GROUP 1 WINNERS IN AUSTRALIA SINCE 2012-13

July	1	0.23%
August	86	19.77%
September	162	37.24%
October	119	27.36%
November	66	15.17%
December	1	0.23%

THE JO MCKINNON COLUMN

The equestrian event will have a minimum $1 million in prize-money

ANNABEL ZEISLER

‘I am now scouting for a recruit so that I can be part of it all next year’

Finally, Racing NSW last week released its much anticipated Equimillion plans.

Equimillion is an event for off the track horses set to be staged at the Sydney International Equestrian Centre (SIEC), kicking off on September 30 and finishing on October 2.

It is being officially touted as "an equestrian event with a minimum $1 million in prize-money exclusively for retired thoroughbred racehorses across disciplines of eventing, show jumping, dressage and show horse."

But, read the fine print and conditions and it is an event strictly for horses that have been bred and raced in NSW. To be eligible, horses cannot have been bred or raced outside of the state.

Prize-money is incredible. Each class will offer a total of $30,000, which includes $15,000 [first place] down to $1,000 [fifth place].

All entrants must be current financial competitive or participant members of Equestrian Australia at the date and time of entry.

It will cost a motza to enter. The nomination fee is $600 (plus GST) and the competition entry fee is $400 (plus GST).

Entries will also be subjected to strict criteria. In the conditions laid out on the event's website www.equimillion.com.au it states:

Soundness

All horses competing at Equimillion are required to pass an arrival assessment which includes a baseline soundness assessment at the walk. Judges and officials in all the Equimillion disciplines are authorised to eliminate horses should they feel that they are not appropriately sound for the discipline they are competing in. Lamé horses may not compete and can be referred to the event vet.

Medication Control

Medication control [swabbing] of horses will occur at random at this event to protect the welfare of the horses and to ensure a level playing field for all competitors. All winners across the disciplines will be tested, random testing will be conducted on all horses. All positive results will cause disqualification.

Body Condition

Any horse that arrives at Equimillion with a below two body score of five will consult with a vet on arrival and may not be allowed to compete. Competitors could find it useful to have their vet assess their horse's body score prior to nominating the horse for the competition. Officials in all the Equimillion disciplines are authorised to eliminate horses should they feel that they are not appropriately conditioned for the competition.

I applaud those conditions that are in the best interests of the welfare of the horse.

As was to be expected, Equimillion has sparked a lot of opinion from a notoriously passionate and vocal equestrian community. The majority of views thus far have not been very supportive.

Here are just a few of the comments posted on the independent offthetrackhorses.com.au official Facebook page:

Equestrian Performance Horses: "Great concept but cost of entry is ridiculous. Way out of touch with who the owners of OTT horses are and what they are spending to get them to the point they can compete."

Grace Chantler: "So disappointing it's only for NSW horses, and frankly entry fees just aren't manageable. I'll be surprised if you get enough entries to make this viable. But it was a nice idea until these stipulations."

Su Dennis: "[I] was going to be there with bells on when the concept was first proposed BUT the entry fees are prohibitive. How many grass roots, everyday people can afford that!"

Nat Cross: "Clearly this is not in support of the OTT community as a whole. It is discouraging rather than encouraging OTT owners.....the fact that only an elite group of people were aware of the rules and regs before this announcement was made public screams 'in house event'."

Sophie Tsimbalyuk: "Most of the horses cost less than the entry fee itself."

These are all extremely valid concerns from people at the coal face as owners and riders of off the track horses that compete regularly. So far, I am struggling to find any public commentary that is wholeheartedly supportive of the concept.

For me, one thing that is a little perplexing is that entrants have only two months to prepare which means that it narrows the field even further to those that not only meet the strict criteria and to those that already have horses up and going to a standard where they will be competitive.

From my own vast experience training retired racehorses, I know first hand that it takes at least 12 months to suitably transition a horse from the track to the competition arena.

All of this considered, I do believe this event is an enormously positive initiative. Where else in the world can those of us who enjoy working with these horses stand to train them for a shot at this level of prize-money and kudos?

I agree, the nomination and entry fees are high, however the reality is that in most pursuits, the higher the stakes the higher the cost and effort is to participate.

And I think it is fair enough that given this is an event funded and run by Racing NSW that they are entitled to cast the net for entries within the confines of their own state border.

Personally, I just wish I had a paddock full of horses that tick the criteria box but unfortunately I don't. One thing for sure is I am now scouting for a recruit so that I can perhaps be part of it all next year.

I sincerely hope Equimillion is a huge success and that it sparks a whole range of spin-off events and inspires other Australian racing jurisdictions to come up with similarly lucrative concepts for off the track horses.

Most importantly, it will surely stimulate the demand for retired racehorses from NSW and instead of buying an expensive performance horse, equestrians might consider taking on a thoroughbred instead?

INGLIS

Having done a few things wrong when only third as an odds-on favourite on his debut at Canterbury last month, Les Vampires (Pierro) showed the benefit of that experience when breaking his maiden at Warwick Farm on Wednesday.

Quickly away from his wide barrier in 11, the three-year-old colt led all the way under Adam Hyeronimus and, having travelled well until the turn, grabbed a break on his rivals upon straightening before going on to beat Encap (Capitalist) by a length and a quarter.

Suspect (I Am Invincible), a $1.9 million purchase for Coolmore, finished a further three-quarters of a length behind in third place.

"It was good to see him bounce back as he has a lot of talent," said Adrian Bott, who co-trains the colt in partnership with Gai Waterhouse.

"He's doing it quite naturally and is still pretty raw as you've seen, so I think there's a lot of upside there.

"It was very pleasing how strong he was over that last 600 metres as they've run home quite sharply and he was very strong through the line and I think he's got scope to get over a bit further and still has good physical improvement in him."

Les Vampires was a $200,000 Inglis Australian Easter Yearling Sale purchase from the Coolmore draft for his trainers and Kestrel Thoroughbreds.

Out of the Group 3-winning mare Musidora (Rock Of Gibraltar), meaning he is a brother to dual Group 3 winner and Group 1-placed Tulip, while he is also a half-brother to Group 3 winner Sacred Eye (High Chaparral).

Coolmore sold another Pierro colt from Musidora at Inglis Australian Easter Yearling Sale this year for $200,000 to Curran Bloodstock, while she produced another filly by the stallion last year.
