Team McEvoy prepare to unleash exciting trio of juveniles at Flemington

By Trevor Marshallsea

Tony and Calvin McEvoy are set to make a splash when Victorian two-year-old racing begins at Flemington on Saturday, with a three-pronged assault on the Maribyrnong Trial Stakes (Listed, 1000m) heavily flavoured by the race's sponsor, Darley.

The father-son team are poised to start a colt and two fillies by Darley sires: Godolphin colt Knurl (Brazen Beau), plus One Day At A Time (Bivouac) and Sabrina (Blue Point).

Much interest this Saturday - in both Melbourne and Sydney's opening juvenile races - will centre on runners by first-season sires Home Affairs (I Am Invincible) and Stay Inside (Extreme Choice). In the Maribyrnong, Coolmore's Home Affairs is set to be represented by Mick Price and Michael Kent Jnr-trained colt Guest House, while Newgate Farm's Stay Inside has Michael Freedman's colt Incognito and Gai Waterhouse and Adrian Bott colt Our Emperor, a daughter of Listed winner Our Crown Mistress (Star Witness), among the nominations.

Morning Briefing

A total of 66 remain in Cup contention

Okita Soushi (Galileo), who finished third in last year's Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m), will not contest the race this year as he, with the likes of star mare Treasurethe Moment (Alabama Express), were not paid up for at the $10 million race's first declaration stage on Tuesday.

The Melbourne Cup hopefuls were reduced from 119 original nominations to 66, but there were no further surprises in the omissions, which also include still ill 2024 Melbourne Cup winner Knight's Choice

Knurl hails from the eighth crop of Brazen Beau (I Am Invincible) - standing at Darley's Northwood Park this year for $27,500 (inc GST). That's slightly reduced from last year, and his all-time low, but Knurl fits into the stallion's sweet spot, as a two-year-old male.

Brazen Beau has sired 13 juvenile stakes winners, compared with 12 at three and seven at four, while he has 16 male black-type victors as against 11 females.

Knurl, one of 17 horses sent to the McEvoy as part of Godolphin's transition to public trainers, isn't large in size but is big on talent, evidenced by his two impressive jump-out wins at Flemington, the latest up the straight 800 metres last Thursday, when he fought back on the inside to score by a head.

"There isn't much of him - he's 412 kilograms," Tony McEvoy told ANZ News of Knurl, the first foal of city winner Mollycoddle (Lonhro), "but his riders say he feels like a big horse when you ride him.

"He's got a lovely big action, and by gee he can really quicken. He uses his action to quicken and he's been very impressive in his jump-outs.

"He's a lovely boy, very straightforward and positive - an A-grade student. All the Godolphin horses have come to us in fantastic order, and are very well-educated."

One Day At A Time was another star for the McEvoy at Flemington's juvenile jump-outs last Thursday, leading throughout and coming away to win her 800-metre heat by three lengths.

The third foal of Adelaide Listed winner Everyday Lady (Charge Forward), the filly was a $270,000 Magic Millions Gold Coast purchase for McEvoy Mitchell Racing and Damon Gabbedy's Belmont Bloodstock, from the draft of her breeder Rosemont Stud. She's raced in the sole ownership of Wayne Mitchell's Pipeliner Bloodstock.

One Day At A Time hails from a rich family, with third dam Not On Friday (At Talaq) a Group 3 winner who was twice Group 1-placed, and who became the granddam of 2008 Horse of the Year Weekend Hussler (Hussonet).

McEvoy was a "huge fan" of Bivouac (Exceed And Excel) - now covering his fifth book at Darley Kelvinside for an unchanged $55,000 (inc GST) - in a career that yielded three Group 1s.

"To be honest, Bivouac's yearlings didn't look as fancy as a lot of others, but we kept getting told that was how Bivouac looked as a yearling himself," McEvoy said.

"So we got this filly, One Day At A Time. She's long and scopey, and she'll be even better as she gets older. I think she's a miler of the future, but surprisingly, here she is running before Christmas. We haven't pushed her to be there, she's just taken us there."

Calvin McEvoy ventured to Magic Millions Perth to purchase Sabrina for $90,000, again alongside Gabbedy's Belmont Bloodstock. The filly bears the colours of renowned West Australian breeder Peter Walsh, a known fan of Sabrina's shuttle sire Blue Point (Shamardal).

In 2020, Walsh sent his star mare Amelia's Jewel's (Siyouni) dam Bumbasina (Canford Cliffs) to Blue Point and bred Bosustow, now a Group 3-winning entire who's been twice Group 1-placed. Blue Point, who has two Australian stakes winners from 114 runners, has been rested from Darley's shuttle this year.

Like Knurl, Sabrina won both of her official

Brazen Beau

jump-outs leading up to Saturday's debut, including most impressively by two lengths over 800 metres at Flemington last Thursday.

Sabrina is the first foal of Melbourne city winner Witchfulthinking (War Chant), whose second dam was quadruple Melbourne Listed victor Street Talk (Marauding), granddam of 2015's Champion Australian three-year-old filly Delicacy (Al Maher).

Tony McEvoy said he was surprised to see Sabrina contending at this time of year, given her breeding and physical make-up.

"She's a lovely, big strong filly," he said, "but her conformation suggested she probably wouldn't be pre-Christmas.

"Plus, I find the Blue Points are very talented horses but they find it hard to reproduce that trial form early in their career, and they come better in the autumn and later. So it was on my mind all the way through that I didn't want to run this filly pre-Christmas, but she's taken it away from me. She's charged along, so it's hard to stop. She's been so good, she's towed us to the race.

"Walshy stayed in. He's a beauty. He's a good supporter of the game, and he supports his product."

Overall, the McEvoy's are as excited as they can be about their latest two-year-old draft, which also includes yet another winner from last Thursday's jump-outs in Cyclotron (Hellbent), who was among Maribyrnong Trial nominees but will be saved instead for the rich Inglis Banner (RL, 1000m) on November 8.

"I think they're a nice bunch, but until raceday, you just don't know," McEvoy said. "You go in thinking you've got nice horses, but in some years people have got nicer ones. There's been years when I've been really confident and happy with our babies, and we've gone to the races and haven't got close.

"Trials are trials, but all I know is ours were quite sharp and all were quite effective down the straight, so it gave us confidence to go to the Maribyrnong."

And while finding it hard to split his trio, McEvoy puts Knurl slightly on top.

"If I put them in a flat gallop, I reckon Knurl would beat the two fillies," he said. "But the disadvantage he's got is he's a small colt, he'll have 58 kilos and the fillies will have 56, so they've got a distinct advantage on him already."

Continued from page 5 If McEvoy had his preference, Melbourne would have separate opening two-year-old races for males and females, as will be seen again in Sydney this Saturday with the Breeders' Plate (Gr 3, 1000m) and Gimcrack Stakes (Gr 3, 1000m).

But such is the changing face of Australian two-year-old racing.

"If you've got the numbers, it's lovely to have the boys and the girls separate," he said, "but we ran out of pre-Christmas horses to keep that practice up.

"We don't have the numbers to support those races, so they've put them together, which is a bit of a shame."

Meanwhile, the McEvoy's will start exciting stayer Half Yours (St Jean) in Saturday's set weights Turnbull Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) at Flemington, having also nominated the five-year-old for Randwick's elite handicap, The Metropolitan (Gr 1, 2400m).

In another snapshot of modern Australian racing, Half Yours was one of just two Australian-bred stayers among 18 Turnbull nominations, with ten of them European imports.

On a day in which another exciting Australian-bred Revelare (So You Think) - who's already qualified for the Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) - will confront a similar tide of Europeans seeking a ticket to the great race via The Bart Cummings (Gr 3, 2500m), McEvoy said he was "proud" to have the colonial Half Yours in the Turnbull.

That doesn't mean, however, that he thinks he has a winning chance this Saturday with Half Yours, who booked his Caulfield Cup (Gr 1, 2400m) berth by winning the Naturalism Stakes (Gr 3, 2000m) at that track on September 20.

The gelding will take on a quality field headed by favourite and Horse of the Year Via Sistina (Fastnet Rock) and equal second elects Aeliana (Castelvecchio) and Sir Delius (Frankel).

"I couldn't see Half Yours beating those horses at all, but he needs another race before the Caulfield Cup," McEvoy said. "This run will tell us a lot about the horse."

A total of 66 remain in Cup contention

Okita Soushi (Galileo), who finished third in last year's Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m), will not contest the race this year as he, with the likes of star mare Treasurethe Moment (Alabama Express), were not paid up for at the $10 million race's first declaration stage on Tuesday. The Melbourne Cup hopefuls were reduced from 119 original nominations to 66, but there were no further surprises in the omissions, which also include still ill 2024 Melbourne Cup winner Knight's Choice (Extreme Choice), but it was revealed later in the afternoon that he has been ruled out of his defence of his crown. Of the 66 remaining in the race, 11 are trained overseas and all are either already in quarantine at Werribee or in quarantine in England or Ireland awaiting transport to Melbourne on or about October 14. Okita Soushi was on track early in the spring to contest the Melbourne Cup on November 4 but has only had one run and a trial so far this preparation and holds no nomination to race this weekend. Multiple Group 1 winner Treasurethe Moment, has withdrawn on the back of an interrupted campaign, although the Melbourne Cup was not among her main goals for the spring. Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m) champion Via Sistina, who is the reigning Horse of the Year, was paid-up for but is also considered unlikely to run. The second declaration stage for the Melbourne Cup is on October 14.

Knight's Choice out of Cup

Knight's Choice (Extreme Choice) will miss a chance at back-to-back Melbourne Cups, with the 2024 champion absent from Tuesday afternoon's first declarations. The Queensland-trained gelding has not raced since his first-up mid-field effort in the So You Think Stakes (1500m) at The Valley more than three weeks ago and will be sidelined following a strangles outbreak at his temporary Mt Macedon training base. Co-trainer Sheila Laxon said while the Cup is off the agenda this spring, other targets are now being considered, including January's Magic Millions carnival and next March's Auckland Cup (Gr 1, 3200m). "He's been invited to the Auckland Cup and he's a Magic Millions horse so there are a lot of good options ahead for him, although we would have dearly loved to have given the Melbourne Cup another go," Laxon said. "But he's not an old horse – he's still just six – so maybe he can be back in 12 months for the Melbourne Cup." Knight's Choice recorded a high temperature about ten days ago and, after initially improving, has fallen ill again. It is not yet confirmed whether he has strangles.

Autumn Glow draws outside in Epsom

Autumn Glow

SPORTPIX

Autumn Glow (The Autumn Sun) will make her first appearance at Group 1 level when she puts her unbeaten record on the line in the Saturday's Epsom Handicap (Gr 1, 1600m) at Randwick, but her task has been made tougher after drawing barrier 14 of 14. Kerrin McEvoy retains the ride at 54.5 kilograms, with trainer Chris Waller confirming he made a "coaches call" to book James McDonald for reigning Australian Horse of the Year Via Sistina (Fastnet Rock) in the Turnbull Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) at Flemington on the same day. Stable representative Charlie Duckworth is confident the mare will cope with the wide draw. "It always makes it harder, but she's a good horse," Duckworth said. "She's terrific. She obviously had that exhibition gallop on Saturday at the races and bounced through that. She was just literally doing too well. She's bouncing out of her skin. She's ready to explode, it's her first crack at a Group 1, but she deserves it." Autumn Glow is set to start a commanding favourite, having opened at $1.80 despite her wide gate.

Birdman set for Metropolitan

Meanwhile, Chris Waller will saddle five runners in Saturday's The Metropolitan (Gr 1, 2400m) at Randwick, with Birdman (Free Eagle) heading the market despite coming up with barrier 17 of 18, which will reduce to 16 if the emergencies do not gain a start. The four-year-old impressed last time out when taking the Kingston Town Stakes (Gr 3, 2000m), and will again be partnered by Kerrin McEvoy, who rides at 51.5 kilograms. "Running at the set weights race meant he was exempt from having a penalty, terrific job to get that win and still get in with a nice light weight," assistant trainer Charlie Duckworth said. "2400 metres will be a massive positive, just an awkward draw, Kerrin is going to need to be good."

Sir Delius ready for Turnbull task

Sir Delius (Frankel) will have his Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) credentials tested when he lines up in Saturday's Turnbull Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) at Flemington. The Gai Waterhouse and Adrian Bott-trained entire is the current favourite for the Flemington showpiece on November 4. Sir Delius is following a similar path to Waterhouse's 2013 Cup winner Fiorente (Monsun), contesting the Turnbull before the Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m) and backing up in the Melbourne Cup. Waterhouse said Sir Delius reminded her of her sole Cup hero. "In his temperament, the size of the horse and his demeanour," Waterhouse said. "He's a very handsome horse and Fiorente was a handsome horse and a very nice horse to train. I have never won a Cox Plate, so it would be a dream come true and he's a horse that could do that as he's got a wonderful turn of foot as we saw at Caulfield." Sir Delius galloped solo on the Flemington course proper on Tuesday, quickening over the final 1200 metres. "I thought he worked very well," Waterhouse said. "He was leisurely in his gallop, but very happy and I liked the way he went right through the line. After his Underwood win he looks bigger and stronger and pulled up in good condition. You like them to be at their winning weight, and he certainly looks good. The people paid a lot of money for the horse and it's nice when they deliver. He's on the right track for the Melbourne Cup which was the whole point of why we bought him."

Everest on the table for War Machine

War Machine

GRANT PETERS

Group 1 winner War Machine (Harry Angel) will be afforded the chance to audition for a spot in next month's The Everest (Gr 1, 1200m), but trainers Ben, JD and Will Hayes are yet to finalise where he will run. The five-year-old Harry Angel (Dark Angel) gelding, a last-start winner of the Stradbroke Handicap (Gr 1, 1400m) at Eagle Farm, had a slower start to the spring due to a foot abscess. "He just got a foot abscess at the wrong time, which didn't let us trial when we planned to trial, so it set us back about a week," Ben Hayes told Racing.com. "In a funny way, it's probably been a good thing. The horse has absolutely thrived, he looks a million dollars. He trialled last week and it was an eye-catching trial. He was great through the line and we feel he is right on track." War Machine is nominated for the Premiere Stakes (Gr 2, 1200m) at Randwick and the Gilgai Stakes (Gr 2, 1200m) at Flemington, with Hayes leaning towards the latter. "We have two nice options to look at now, either down the straight at Flemington, which he is most likely to head that way, or the race in Sydney," he said. "This is his audition [for The Everest] I would say," Hayes added. "Wherever he runs I am sure there will be lots of people watching and seeing how he goes, and if he were to run well, it wouldn't surprise me [if he was offered a place in The Everest]. He is a very sharp horse that we feel is in great order."

Golden Path to test Caulfield Cup credentials in Turnbull

Trainers Mick Price and Michael Kent Jnr will use Saturday's Turnbull Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) at Flemington as a trial for Golden Path (Belardo) as they weigh up a Caulfield Cup bid for the in-form gelding. "The horse is going super and arguably in career-best form. He's really come on in the coat since his good run in the Underwood, so we are delighted with him," Kent Jnr told Racing.com. "There has been much discussion amongst us trainers, Mick and I, and the ownership group. The Caulfield Cup has been spoken about, so we are going to keep the door open with a look at him in the Turnbull Stakes. He's never been to 2400 metres, so it's a punt but it's a $5 million punt and he's going to get in the race. We think that could be his chance to win a big race. We just question whether he's good enough to win a Might And Power [Caulfield Stakes]. He was good against them in the Underwood but those horses are going to improve again, like Sir Delius. We want to see him attack the line and be strong late and if he pulls up well that will give us a lot of confidence."

Bur Dubai out to prove staying credentials

The Price and Kent Jnr stable will also saddle Bur Dubai (Night Of Thunder) in the Bart Cummings (Gr 3, 2500m) at Flemington on Saturday, and connections believe the progressive stayer has the engine to make his mark in stronger company as he steps out again this spring. "We haven't had a horse like him for a while that does not blow after his gallops and when he trials," Michael Kent Jnr told Racing.com. "Seemingly, he's got a very big tank on him and he's progressing nicely. He's lightly tried in Australia. He was quite unlucky in the Archer. He was bolting for a run beside Mormona. We got severely checked and we could not get out. That horse ran second and I think he would have run top three in the Archer, but he didn't get a crack at them. He's got a very low rating (78) on where we want to get with him, but no surprise to see him run really well in a race like this. He's fourth-up now. The horse is going great and we just want to see him have every possible chance. He's got a big tank so let's use it - get out and get galloping, I quite like the horse. We've got to find out at some point at what level he sits."

On Display heads to Empire Rose

Mick Price and Michael Kent Jnr will be represented by progressive mare On Display (Fastnet Rock) in the Rose Of Kingston Stakes (Gr 3, 1400m) at Flemington on Saturday, as she heads towards her target of the Empire Rose Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m) at the course on Derby day. "Much like Bur Dubai, she's still looking for a run out of the Group 2 mares race [Let's Elope Stakes] so it's the same course and distance this Saturday and will be a similar field I'd say," Kent Jnr said. "She has to beat Lazzura again but we're really happy with her. Her coat's really come on in the three weeks and she's bouncing out of her skin. I would naturally like to draw out on her as she's got a big finish on her. So, I just want to see her have clear air and wind up. I think we'll see a very nice mare. Can't wait for the mile, but not just yet, we're just taking our time to get to the Empire Rose."

Meydaan the pick of overseas Caulfield Cup contenders

Racing Victoria's international advisor Paul Bloodworth has backed Meydaan (Frankel) as the leading international contender in this year's Caulfield Cup. The Simon and Ed Crisford-trained stayer will head to the 2400-metre feature after a third placing in a Group 3 at Kempton, where he finished just behind Hong Kong Vase (Gr 3, 2400m) winner Giavellotto (Mastercraftsman) and Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe (Gr 1, 2400m) hopeful Kalpana (Study Of Man). "His last run was in a Group 3 race, on the all-weather at Kempton," Bloodworth told The Verdict podcast. "Now, you probably wouldn't normally think that is a great lead-up for the Caulfield Cup, but in front of him was a horse called Giavellotto, who won the Hong Kong Vase last year and is now going to the Arc. Kalpana, trained by Andrew Balding, was favourite for the Arc before that run and finished second. Meydaan finished just on their tails, running third, and if you look at the run he was really taking ground off them, at the end. It was just a really impressive lead-up, I thought, for the Caulfield Cup. He's just got a sense of timing, for mine." Bloodworth noted the Crisfords' experience with Australian racing, referencing their past trips with Without A Fight (Teofilo) and West Wind Blows (Teofilo). "All I can say is what they've said to me, and that is they think he is a better horse than West Wind Blows," he said. "His form, if you look at it, has been a little patchy, but he has shown good ability on several occasions. They know him better than I would, so I can only go on what they're saying. If he is as good as West Wind Blows, then he is certainly going to be very competitive in the Caulfield Cup."

Racing NSW extends show-cause deadline for ATC

The Australian Turf Club has been granted an extension until October 24, 2025 to respond to a governance notice from Racing NSW. The extension allows the club's management and staff to devote its energy and resources to delivering Sydney racing's showpiece Spring Carnival, including Everest Day on 18 October. Australian Turf Club chairman Tim

Rourke appointed RV deputy chair

Tim Rourke

RACING VICTORIA

Tim Rourke has been unanimously appointed as the board of Racing Victoria's deputy chair.

Rourke, who was appointed to the RV board in June last year and is the chair of the RV Audit & Risk sub-committee and a member of the Racing sub-committee, replaces Sharon McCrohan at the conclusion of her term on the board.

Rourke is the current chief executive officer and executive director of CitiPower, Powercor, United Energy and Victoria Power Networks, while he also currently serves as a director on the board of Energy Networks Australia.

As well as holding various senior positions across the energy sector since 1995, Rourke is also an active thoroughbred owner and breeder enjoying success with Young Werther (Tavistock) among others.

The appointment has been confirmed by the Minister for Racing Anthony Carbinas as per the RV constitution.

Accordingly, the Minister has initiated a process through the Victorian Government's Office of Racing to fill two vacancies on the RV Board. Applications for the new directorships are open until October 19.

McCrohan, who has served the past 15 months of her eight-year tenure as deputy chair, is leaving to take up a position as a senior executive with the AFL.

RV chair Tim Eddy said: "I'm pleased to announce the appointment of Tim Rourke to deputy chair of Racing Victoria with the unanimous support of the board. Since joining the board, Tim has demonstrated a tremendous business acumen and a wonderful passion for the sport.

"He wants to see racing thrive in Victoria. In welcoming Tim's appointment, we must also farewell Sharon McCrohan, who has been an incredible servant for the RV board over the past eight years.

"Sharon's guidance on government relations and communications has been invaluable, as has her insights on our Integrity and Equine Welfare sub-committee. Sharon played an instrumental role in helping ensure the continuation of Victorian racing throughout the COVID pandemic, for which the industry is forever grateful."

Rourke said: "I am honoured to be appointed deputy chair of Racing Victoria and I look forward to working closely with Tim Eddy and the board in my new role. I love thoroughbred racing and I want to see it succeed in Victoria for future generations to enjoy.

"From the thrill of ownership, the personal reward of breeding to the excitement of race day, there is so much to love.

"As a board we have many items on our agenda and we will be tackling them with great passion and a desire to grow and ensure the commercial viability of the sport for all the people racing directly and indirectly employs, our stakeholders, clubs and the punting public."

Hale welcomed the decision by Racing NSW. "We had asked for this extension until after TAB Everest Day and we are very pleased this has been granted," Hale said. "It allows ATC further time to respond in more detail to Racing NSW's notice, which we will do with diligence and integrity. Importantly, our teams can focus on delivering a world-class racing carnival and raceday experience for our Members and customers at the peak of spring."

Magic Millions Breeze-ups get underway

The build up to the 2025 Magic Millions Gold Coast Horses in Training Sale has intensified with a swag of impressive breeze up performances over the past week. While around 70 lots are still left to breeze at the Gold Coast next Tuesday recent breeze-up sessions have unearthed a plethora of future racetrack stars. Recent performances at the Gold Coast Turf Club and Seymour Racing Club have seen many of the nation's leading horse educators put a wonderful line up of (mostly) two-year-olds through their paces. This year's Horses in Training Sale has a handful of promising and untried three-year-olds catalogued and horses on the Gold Coast had to choose to breeze on the synthetic (polytrack) or inside grass. The final breeze up session will be conducted at the Gold Coast next Tuesday (October 7) with the sale two days later (October 9) from 12pm (QLD time). "This sale has a proud record of producing high class racehorses right around the world," Magic Millions managing director Barry Bowditch said. "The 2025 catalogue is fantastic and the line up of horses is world class. We have a great line up of sires represented and I've been really impressed with the physicals we have catalogued. We look forward to the final breeze session next week and then offering the outstanding prospects at auction. Anyone thinking about attending the sale should reach out to a member of the Magic Millions team - we are sure it will be the best value buying sale of its type in Australasia in 2025." ## Matamata Cup first-up for Blue Sky At Night

Blue Sky At Night (Shamexpress), winner of last season's Waikato Cup (Gr 3, 2400m) and Avondale Cup (Gr 3, 2400m), will resume in Saturday's Team Wealleans Matamata Cup (Listed, 1600m) at Matamata. Shelley Hale is pleased with her preparation. "She had a great season last year, so it is good to have her back and ready to go again," Hale said. The eight-year-old Shamexpress mare posted a comfortable

1300-metre trial win at Cambridge on Tuesday, giving Hale confidence ahead of her first-up run over a mile. "It was a lovely trial," Hale said. "She was just out there for a pipe-opener and she seemed to do it very comfortably and happily. She is working up really nicely. She got out in the birdcage today, pricked the ears and still looks like she loves being out there, so that is the main thing." Blue Sky At Night holds a nomination for the Livamol Classic (Gr 1, 2040m) at Ellerslie next month, with Hale to decide her path based on Saturday's run. "She is a natural stayer, so we will just leave her in there at the moment," Hale said. "She is going to run on Saturday in the Matamata Cup and we will just see how she measures up there and how she comes through it. In past years, the Livamol has sometimes dropped off a little but I don't think it is going to this year. There will be plenty of other options, she can switch back and get ready for the Counties (Gr 3, 2100m) and Waikato Cups." Hale has no concerns about the mile first-up. "She had about six weeks off and she is pretty easy to get fit, so I don't think the mile first-up will prove any challenges," she said. "Being fresh she will have a bit of ping in her legs."

HK: Beauty Waves aims for repeat in National Day Cup at Sha Tin

Beauty Waves

Group 3 racing in Hong Kong continues on Wednesday at Sha Tin when eight runners - headlined by last year's winner Beauty Waves (Starspangledbanner) - face off in the National Day Cup Handicap (Gr 3, 1000m) as part of the ten-race public-holiday programme on National Day in Hong Kong. Trained by Tony Cruz and to be ridden by championship leader Zac Purton from gate two, Beauty Waves faces Invincible Sage (Thronum), Raging Blizzard (Per Incanto), Wunderbar (Rich Enuff), Fast Network (Wrote), Magic Control (Sioux Nation), Bottomuptogether (Shamus Award) and Baby Crystal (Per Incanto) in the straight course clash, only three days after My Wish's (Flying Artie) coming of age success in Sunday's Celebration Cup Handicap (Gr 3, 1400m) at Sha Tin. Cruz said: "Beauty Waves is ready for this race. He won it last year. I believe he has a great chance again to repeat that, he's all set and I have got Zac to ride him. Everything is in place."

Nine for Victor Ludorum

The Henri-Alex Pantall-trained Victor Vitae (2 c ex Dezba by Kingman) got off the mark and in doing so became the ninth individual stakes winner for Darley shuttler Victor Ludorum (Shamardal). The two-year-old colt defeated Honey Pearl (Lucky Team) by three lengths with another quarter of a length back to Possenhofen (Armor) in third. Bred by Elevage Du Luot, the colt was purchased by Janda Bloodstock for €13,000 at last year's Osarus September Yearling Sale. Victor Vitae is out of dual winner Dezba (Kingman) and hails from the same family as dual Group 1 winner Vadeni (Churchill). Victor Ludorum is standing at Kelvinside for a fee of $11,000 (inc GST).

103 for Kingman

Juddmonte Farms resident Kingman (Invincible Spirit) scored his second stakes winner in as many days and 103rd overall when the Dermot Weld-trained Purview (3 c ex Variable by Sea The Stars) landed the Navigation Stakes (Listed, 1m 2.5f) at Cork. Ridden by Colin Keane, the colt defeated Cadogan (Farhh) by a length and a quarter with Iowa City (Territories) finishing a further two lengths away in third. Bred and raced by Juddmonte, Purview is out of Listed winner Variable (Sea The Stars), herself a daughter of Group 1 scorer Proportional (Beat Hollow), making her a half-sister to Group 3 winner First Instinct (Bated Breath).

IRE: Coolmore strike for sister to Blackbeard and Charles Darwin at €1,900,000

Coolmore have enjoyed plenty of success with Blackbeard and Charles Darwin, and can now look forward to the pair's year-younger sister after bidding €1,900,000 (approx. AU$3,369,000) for the daughter of No Nay Never (Scat Daddy) shortly before lunchtime on day two of the Goffs Orby Sale. "She's a lovely filly," said MV Magnier after signing for the Glenvale Stud-consigned filly. "Blackbeard was a very good racehorse and his yearlings are selling very well, they look very promising. He's having a good sale here and apparently he has a few good ones coming up in the next couple of weeks. And of course Aidan thinks a lot of Charles Darwin, he thinks he's a very good horse. I'm not saying that he's Albert Einstein, Albert looks like he's pretty special, and Charles looks like he could be a very good horse too. To be fair to the mare, she always has a good-looker. Blackbeard is a very nice, correct horse who was very fast. Charles looks like he could be the proper job, so let's hope this filly can do something similar. She's a very valuable filly. There's a lot going on on the page too; the mare is in foal to Wootton Bassett."

Lot 280: No Nay Never ex Muirin filly

IRE: Major players clash over €675,000 half-brother to Bay City Roller

A trio of high-rolling buyers clashed over the Blue Point (Shamardal) half-brother to Bay

City Roller (New Bay) during the early stages of the Goffs Orby Sale on Monday lunchtime, with the hammer eventually falling at €675,000 (approx. AU$1,196,700). The Amo Racing team, with principal Kia Joorabchian at the centre of the huddle, were still in there pitching at the business end, as was Blandford Bloodstock's Richard Brown, a key cog in the Wathnan Racing machine. The rival camps were standing on the top tier of the auditorium, while John Stewart of Resolute Racing sat in the seats below. Despite appearing the most nonchalant of the three, it was Stewart, a first-time visitor to Goffs, who played the winning hand. "It's a really good pedigree," said Stewart. "He's a well-bred horse and we're really high on Blue Point; he rates really good on our system so this was one of the top colts we had on our list today. I'm excited to get him, and I felt like we got a good price on him as well. I'm pretty happy with that. It's a proven family and the dam is only going to improve. He'll probably end up with Francis Graffard, he trains most of our horses over here in Europe."

Coolmore's MV Magnier looking to the future after loss of super sire Wootton Bassett

By James Thomas

Coolmore's MV Magnier has opened up about the loss of the operation's superstar stallion Wootton Bassett (Iffraaj). The 17-year-old, sire of 129 black-type performers, including 16 top-flight winners, died last Tuesday after suffering from a choke that developed into an acute case of pneumonia while on shuttle duty in Australia.

"What happened to Wootton Bassett is a freak incident and was a big shame," said Magnier. "In fairness to everybody in Australia they did an incredible job to try to save him. I'll put it to you this way, if I get sick, I'll be going down there so they can look after me too."

Wootton Bassett spent just five seasons on the Coolmore roster, meaning this year's two-year-olds are only his second Irish-bred crop.

However, he had already come up with Group 1 winners such as Camille Pissarro, Henri Matisse and Whirl, while his current juvenile crop contains the likes of Albert Einstein, Hawk Mountain and Puerto Rico. These results have put him over €2.4 million (approx. AU$4,255,600) clear in the European sires' championship.

While Magnier acknowledged the magnitude of Wootton Bassett's loss, he said the camp were looking to the future full of confidence in the emerging names among the ranks.

"I don't mind saying this, I was a bit down in the mouth when it happened, but my father reminded me there's still a lot of things to be happy about," he said.

"We have the best bunch of young horses we've ever had in Coolmore; be it Auguste Rodin, City Of Troy or St Mark's Basilica who is absolutely flying – he looks like he could really turn out to be something special. Then we have the likes of Delacroix, Camille Pissarro, Henri Matisse, all of those to retire."

MV Magnier

LAURA GREEN

Wootton Bassett began his stallion career at Haras d'Etreham in France, where his fee fell as low as just €4,000 in his third and fourth seasons. While it was his big-money transfer to Coolmore that set in motion a rise to a career-high fee of €300,000, Magnier paid tribute to those who stood behind the horse in the days before it became clear he was something completely out of the ordinary.

"That's where Nicolas de Chambure [Etreham's executive director] deserves all the credit," he said. "He did an incredible job with the horse. We were very lucky to have the guys to get the deal done. They supported him with a lot of good mares, as did our clients. Thankfully a lot of our clients have three crops of Wootton Bassetts to come, with yearlings, foals and mares in foal. Listen, it's a shame for everyone, but sadly these things happen."

Asked if any of Wootton Bassett's Group 1-winning sons were likely to join the retirees added to the Coolmore roster for 2026 breeding season, Magnier said: "I'd say Camille Pissarro, Henri Matisse and [Dubawi's son] Delacroix will probably all retire. I'd say that's the plan at the moment."

He added: "It's an exciting time for us with the young horses. If you were to listen to Aidan O'Brien, if we'd had Albert Einstein running all year he could've done something exceptional. He really believes he's a very good horse."

There has been some conjecture that Justify (Scat Daddy), who resides at Coolmore's Ashford Stud in Kentucky, could relocate to Ireland to help fill the void left by Wootton Bassett's death.

The son of Scat Daddy (Johannesburg) certainly has the credentials to rate among Europe's elite stallions, having already sired a Derby (Gr 1, 1m 4f) hero in City Of Troy, 2,000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1m) winner in Ruling Court and St Leger (Gr 1, 1m 6.5f) scorer Scandinavia from just three crops of three-year-olds.

However, Magnier poured cold water on that suggestion, at least in the immediate future, saying: "Being realistic, Justify will stay in America. He's an incredible stallion, what he's doing worldwide – be it here, Australia or America, on grass or dirt – he's just doing it everywhere."

"America is the right place for him, I'd say he belongs in Kentucky; he's a US Triple Crown winner. I'm not saying we'd never bring him back, but I'd say it's unlikely."

BETTING FORECAST: 3 Windicator Family, 7-2 Cashiscash, 11-2 Young Horizon, 6 Panda Legend, 14 Fairy Horse, Team Happy, 16 Cosmo Navigator, Tsuen Wan Glory, 25 Lapras, The Way We Win, 33 bar.

VERDICT Panda Legend has run well either side of the break and looks well treated while Fairy Horse remains a longstanding maiden but continues to post solid efforts and is not easily ruled out. However, WINDICATOR FAMILY posted a pleasing effort on his return last month and, having held his form well since breaking his maiden, is taken to make a winning step forward.

VERDICT Aurora Patch looks ready to strike after a string of near-misses, including a solid runner-up effort on his seasonal return. Autumn Vibes didn't quite progress as hoped towards the end of last season but remains lightly raced and is dangerous to discount. That said, MASTER PHOENIX was a warm order when making his breakthrough last term and, with further improvement expected, he's fancied to make a successful return.

BETTING FORECAST: 100-30 Ragnarr, 5 Riding High, 6 You'remeverything, 8 Noble Deluxe, 9 Double Show, Lucky Blessing, 10 Modest Gentleman, 16 Ever Smart, 20 Glorious Expert, Super Charizzard, The Concentration, 25 Podium, 33 Concorde Star, He Was Me.

VERDICT Dropping down to Class 5 for the first time in his career, RIDING HIGH proved his wellbeing after a summer break with a pair of good trial race runs and should be capable of finally getting off the mark here on his initial outing for Dough Whyte. Ragnarr has a number of recent near-misses to his name and will surely go close again with Zac Purton now recruited to ride. You'remeverything was miles better than a Class 5 horse at this best and should be buoyed by a recent comeback success.

VERDICT The two to concentrate on here are DO YOUR PART and Groovy Feeling with preference for the former even though confidence is tempered a little by his wide draw. He has turned into a reliable performer at this level and this drop back from 7f should not inconvenience him. Groovy Feeling is also in a good groove at the moment, but may not have quite as much upside off his current handicap mark. Of the remainder, Rewarding Twinkle makes most appeal on the back of a recent trial race victory.

VERDICT Zac Purton has excellent form figures of 223131101311 when teaming up with ORIENTAL SMOKE and the partnership can land a seventh victory here. Other jockeys have been aboard in the four starts since the 'A Team' prevailed over this C&D in May, including over inadequate trips the last twice. Forever Folks had five of these behind him when scoring over this trip at Happy Valley recently but is far from guaranteed to confirm that form after a 5lb rise. Floof, who won first time out last season, is fresh again here and is put up as a sporting each-way alternative to Oriental Smoke.

VERDICT Several have possibilities in this competitive Class 4. Invincible Ibis and China Win both seem likely to strike soon but they occupy the two outside stalls today and preference is for VICTORY CHAMPION, who shaped very much as though today's longer trip will suit when finishing well to go close over 6f on his recent debut. Raging Rapids and Rainbow Seven also have appealing profiles.

BETTING FORECAST: 9-4 Wunderbar, 9-2 Beauty Waves, 5 Fast Network, 6 Magic Control, 7 Bottomuptogether, 8 Invincible Sage, 12 Raging Blizzard, 20 Baby Crystal.

VERDICT Last year's winner Beauty Waves has a daunting handicap mark on his repeat bid, while Wunderbar is one of a few of these who would appeal more over 6f (or even further). Perhaps this might be best left to last year's runner-up MAGIC CONTROL, a genuine 5f specialist who will find this much more suitable than his 6f assignment from out of the weights last month. Bottomuptogether should be okay back at 5f and is second choice.

VERDICT Hong Lok Golf was rampant during his first season and may not have reached his ceiling yet but this drop back to 7f may not be ideal on his first start for 112 days. Steps Ahead made an encouraging seasonal debut a fortnight ago and probably still has some potential but the suggestion is CHIU CHOW SPIRIT, who remains on a good mark after last month's C&D second.

VERDICT Akashvani came second over C&D on last month's seasonal debut and is arguably the one with least to prove in an uncompetitive race for the grade. However, he has a wide draw to contend with and preference is for SUGAR SUGAR , who made a quiet reappearance over 5f but returns to his optimum trip today and has become very well handicapped. One More is next on the list.

VERDICT Top Dragon probably still has more improvement to come this season and is respected but LUCKY MY WAY signed off with two emphatic 6f course wins in May/June and, with today's longer trip likely to suit he is selected to overcome a rise in grade. Shamus Storm and Max Que also make the shortlist.
