Team Williams triple-handed as they seek Northerly success

By Trevor Marshallsea

Three-year-old sensation King Of Light (Earthlight) might be the talk of the west but the Grant and Alana Williams stable are confident they'll go into the Northerly Stakes (Gr 1, 1800m) with two undeniably strong chances in Western Empire (Ifraaj) and Watch Me Rock (Awesome Rock).

Shooting to remain unbeaten at his sixth start, the Dan Morton-trained King Of Light is a dominant favourite for the Ascot feature at around $2.50 after his sizzling last-start win in the WA Guineas (Gr 2, 1600m).

WA racing byword Willie Pike was aboard that day, while he also rode Watch Me Rock to victory in the meeting's feature, the Railway Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m).

Pike has chosen to ride King Of Light at the 52 kilograms in the Northerly, which is perhaps unsurprising. For one thing, he can manage the weight comfortably. For another, while Watch Me Rock was impressive in winning the Railway, he carried only 54 kilograms under its handicap conditions, and will have 59 kilograms as he tackles weight-for-age for the first time this Saturday. Continued on page 2

Berkeley Square bidding for second Ballarat Cup

Locally trained six-year-old Berkeley Square (Territories) will bid to land back-to-back runnings of the Ballarat Cup (Listed, 2000m) when he lines up in the $200,000 contest on Saturday. The Dan O'Sullivan-trained gelding scored by 0.3 lengths over Lady In Pink (Pariah) in the 2024 renewal but is yet to win since that victory, with his best effort coming when third in the Geelong Cup (Gr 3, 2400m) two starts ago. The son of Territories (Invincible Spirit) will attempt to become the second locally trained horse in a decade to go back-to-back in the race, following on from the Archie Alexander-trained Kiwia (Reset) in 2018 and 2019. "I would never say that it was a goal winning the race, although you always like to win any good race," O'Sullivan said. Continued on page 5

Bookmakers have the five-year-old gelding at around $11 for Western Australia's last Group 1 of the season, while proven WFA performer Western Empire shares the second line of betting at $7 with Michael Grantham's Cosmic Crusader (Maurice), a comfortable last-start winner of Ascot's Carbine Club Stakes (Listed, 1400m).

Remarkable eight-year-old Western Empire - who ran a 0.75-length second in Watch Me Rock's Railway, came second in this race as a four-year-old in 2021, is a three-time winner at WFA, from 1400m-1600m, and has been placed at up to 2000 metres.

Watch Me Rock's longest trip has been the 1800 metres he'll encounter on Saturday, for a Class 1 third and a victory in Ascot's non-black type handicap, the GF Stakes last April, by 0.24 lengths in an eight-horse field.

Despite their contrasting WFA histories and the bookmakers' assessment, Alana Williams said she found it hard to split Watch Me Rock and Western Empire.

While conceding King Of Light looked highly exciting, she feels her stable's main pair both have strong claims in the $1.5 million event.

"We've got two really good chances. I can't really separate them," Williams told ANZ News.

"I'd possibly lean a little to Western Empire at the weights but I wouldn't put it beyond Watch Me Rock to elevate and show us he's still got more to give.

"Watch Me Rock has ticked over beautifully since winning the Railway. Obviously, he's got to come up another level to weight-for-age, but he's a horse who we've never really got to the bottom of yet, so we're looking forward to that challenge.

"I think he'll be fine. He won with plenty in the tank the other day, and every time we raise the bar he seems to respond really well."

While he'd previously won nine of 16 starts, Williams said Watch Me Rock had "gone to another level" since the addition of blinkers at the start of this campaign, in which he's also won the Asian Beau Stakes (Gr 3, 1400m).

"It took a long time for him to learn to get over the line first, but once he did he hasn't looked back," Williams said. "He was always playing and going so easily, but once we put the blinkers on him and he learnt how to be serious, we really learnt how good he was.

"He's won over 1800 metres, so we're happy he'll run out the trip fine. I'd say 1600 to 1800 [metres] is up his alley. We're very happy with where he's at."

Passed in at the Magic Millions Perth Yearling Sale of 2022, Watch Me Rock was retained by breeder Graham White of WA stud Ridgeport Farm, who races him with three co-owners.

The gelding has now won 11 of 19 starts, for nearly $1.6 million in earnings.

Team Williams has engaged Sydney-based Nash Rawiller for the ride. Billy Egan will ride Western Empire, having partnered him to victory in the WFA Gold Rush (Gr 3, 1400m) last December, and in his last-start Railway second.

The gelding will achieve a rare feat by simply competing in two editions of the Northerly four years apart.

In 2021, looking to extend his Perth-style picket fence to seven, the then exciting four-year-old did it tough in racing wide under Pike from barrier nine of ten, ultimately recording a brave 0.48-length second.

He was then switched to Victoria, under Danny O'Brien and then John Leek Jr, in a move that didn't work, with three fifths his best finishes among seven starts.

Returned to Team Williams, Western Empire was kept to shorter trips at last year's Perth carnival, including a ninth in the Winterbottom Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) and his win in the 1400-metre Gold Rush.

Since then, he's been back to his preferred distances, including victory at WFA in Pinjarra's Hyperion Stakes (Gr 3, 1600m), and his fighting Railway second when plotting an inside path in the straight.

Third-up from a spell, Alana Williams says he'll be peaking for the Northerly.

"We kept him to shorter distances last year," she said. "He was a bit fragile when we got him back, so we were feeling our way with him. We just kept him to sprint trips, which he's still adept over, but we worked out that at that Group 1 level, you need to be where his forte is, and that's around the mile.

"And now he's settled back in, so we're happier with him.

"He's eight years old but you wouldn't know it. He's an old marvel. It's not easy for them to race at that level but he just does it year in, year out.

"We don't give him too many runs, we look after him and he seems to do a good job."

Originally a homebred for WA mega-breeder Bob Peters, Western Empire has won 11 of his 33 starts, for $3.3 million.

He's now raced by a syndicate of three headed by Alana Williams, which comes after the stable branched away from being Peters' private trainers to go public in early 2022.

Watch Me Rock's Railway victory was the husband-and-wife operation's first elite success as public trainers. Williams said taking a second this Saturday would be "a dream".

"Obviously it'd be huge," she said. "Group 1s are what we're chasing. We want to race at this level. Winning our first one in the Railway meant a lot to us, and if we can pick off another one it'd be a huge bonus."

The Williams stable will also have a third Northerly runner in Hemlock Stone (Dalghar). The six-year-old, who'll be ridden by Austin Galati, is a $51 longshot en route to seeking back-to-back titles in the Perth Cup (Gr 2, 3200m) on January 1.

He also goes in off a first-up eighth and an 11th, both over 1400 metres, but Williams advised not to dismiss him entirely.

"He should still run a cheeky race," Williams said of the "quirky" gelding. "It might be a little bit beyond him to win but I've learnt with this horse to never say never, because he keeps on surprising us."

Berkeley Square bidding for second Ballarat Cup

Locally trained six-year-old Berkeley Square (Territories) will bid to land back-to-back runnings of the Ballarat Cup (Listed, 2000m) when he lines up in the $200,000 contest on Saturday. The Dan O'Sullivan-trained gelding scored by 0.3 lengths over Lady In Pink (Pariah) in the 2024 renewal but is yet to win since that victory, with his best effort coming when third in the Geelong Cup (Gr 3, 2400m) two starts ago. The son of Territories (Invincible Spirit) will attempt to become the second locally trained horse in a decade to go back-to-back in the race, following on from the Archie Alexander-trained Kiwia (Reset) in 2018 and 2019. "I would never say that it was a goal winning the race, although you always like to win any good race," O'Sullivan said. "We had Tuscan Fire nearly start favourite in it one year and then we just got beaten with Affair To Remember during the Covid year, so it really was a big buzz last year, and the horse deserved it. Then you throw Jaylah [Kennedy] in the mix. She got back on him, it was her 100th career win and her first Listed win on her favourite horse in her own backyard." Berkeley Square was a last-start fifth in the Queen Elizabeth Stakes (Gr 3, 2600m) on a Heavy 8 track at Flemington. "As much as he has been effective on a wet track, his last run it was pretty wet, so I thought I would rather keep him for Ballarat," O'Sullivan said. "Four weeks between runs, back to the 2000 [metres], he's freshened up nicely. He's nice and bright and we're trying to go back-to-back."

Just Party headed for Rosehill

Group 2 placegetter Just Party (Justify) will bid to land what would be just his second career success from 15 starts when he tackles a Benchmark 94 (1400m) at Rosehill on Saturday. The Gerald Ryan and Sterling Alexiou-trained son of Justify (Scat Daddy) broke his maiden at the second time of asking back in March, 2024 but has yet to score since. However, the four-year-old gelding has produced runner-up efforts in races such as the Tapp-Craig (1400m), Callander-Presnell (Gr 2, 1600m), and Hawkesbury Guineas (Gr 3, 1400m). "There are a few of these benchmark races coming up in the next month," Ryan said. "I think there's three he can run in, so he'll be aimed at them, and we'll just try to get some stake money." Just Party will be second-up for this preparation after closing late for fifth in a Benchmark 94 (1300m) at Newcastle earlier this month, a run that followed unplaced efforts in the Fred Best Classic (Gr 3, 1400m) and Gunsynd Classic (Gr 3, 1600m). "When the race meeting was called off at Eagle Farm and transferred to Doomben, Doomben wasn't his track and it was bad going," Ryan said. "Then he went to Eagle Farm, Nash [Rawiller] rode him, and he wouldn't stretch out at Eagle Farm like a lot of horses. But he has come back well. His two trials were good, and his run at Newcastle was good."

Rey Magnerio to step up in trip for Gold Rush

Last-start Winterbottom Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) third Rey Magnerio (Magnus) will remain in Perth and take on Saturday week's Gold Rush (Gr 3, 1400m) as the six-year-old gelding steps beyond 1200 metres for the first time in his career. Trained by Robbie Griffiths, the son of Magnus (Flying Spur) has produced three excellent runs so far this campaign, winning the Caulfield Sprint (Gr 2, 1000m) before thirds in both the Century Stakes (Listed, 1000m) and Winterbottom. "On race day, we thought we'd just take him home, but you never make decisions on race day," Griffiths told Racing.com. "Yesterday morning he went down to the beach and he just came back bright as a button and got straight into his tucker, his gums are good and he's pulled up fantastic. We thought, 'Well, we're there, let's try him at 1400 metres while he's got fresh legs and in form'. He's only had the three runs this time. If he runs 1400 metres well, it opens up avenues for him down the track and if he doesn't, we know we'll just program him as a sprinter going forward. But he could be better over this than the sprint distances, you never know until you try. He's never had the opportunity over 1400 metres, there's just always been a better sprint race for him ... it's the right time to have a go. I'm waiting to see whether Willie Pike wants to stay with him, a lot of that probably depends on whether Watch Me Rock runs in the Northerly this Saturday. We'll just see what his decision is, I suppose he was probably waiting to see how the horse pulled up and if we had any intentions of pressing on. We didn't have the Gold Rush idea on Saturday, so Willie and I didn't really discuss him going over 1400 metres, but he thought the Winterbottom run was fantastic."

RV set new scratching fees

Racing Victoria (RV) has confirmed that a new scratching fee structure - that is expected will ultimately strengthen field sizes and improve wagering - will be in place in Victoria from February 1 next year. An RV release on Monday morning placed the new standard scratching fee of $274.25 (excluding GST), mirroring the current riding fee that RV is required to pay to the declared rider on a scratched horse. The new fee structure applies for professional flat races (excluding Group and Listed races) and jumps races and brings Victoria into line with the model in other states where fees are structured around the declaration of a rider. The existing 50 per cent discount for scratchings lodged prior to 4pm on the day before a race meeting will finish on January 31 and be replaced by a discounted fee of $100 (excluding GST) for when a horse is scratched prior to the declaration of a rider. RV said the new scratching fee structure has been implemented following consultation with all stakeholder groups, including through the industry's Racing Forum.

Provence confirmed for Mufhasa Classic

Provence

RACE IMAGES

Stephen Marsh has his sights set on further feature-race success, with his proven performer Provence (Savabeel) confirmed for Saturday's Mufhasa Classic (Gr 1, 1600m) at Trentham. The Cambridge trainer took his black-type tally for the first four months of the season to seven when Ammirata (Savabeel) claimed Sunday's Wellington Stakes (Gr 3, 1600m) at Otaki. Marsh has confirmed that Provence, whose Thorndon Mile (Gr 1, 1600m) and New Zealand Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m) successes contributed two Group 1 wins to his collection last season, will be given the chance of a third elite win in Saturday's Mufhasa Classic. Provence will be third-up in the weight-for-age feature after being unplaced in her resuming race and then a late-finishing second behind Qali Al Farrasha (Almanzor) in the Auckland Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes (Gr 2, 1400m) at Pukekohe ten days ago. "She's coming up great and after what we saw last time, the step up to 1600 [metres] should be ideal," Marsh said. "We know how well she goes at Trentham and now that she's up there in the ratings [at 104], the weight-for-age conditions suit her." Marsh also reports that stable star El Vencedor (Shocking) remains on target for the Zabeel Classic (Gr 1, 2000m) at Ellerslie on Boxing Day despite his defeat as the $1.50 favourite in last Saturday's Great Northern Challenge Stakes (Gr 3, 1600m). "He's come through it fine, and to be fair he still ran well when you look at the way the race panned out," Marsh said in reference to El Vencedor being taken on in the lead and at one point headed by eventual last placegetter Major Major (Pins). "I don't expect my horse to be protected or anything, but I was very disappointed with the tactics on the other horse, it wasn't a good look for anyone."

Crocetti primed for summer sprints

A sparkling gallop between races at Ellerslie on Saturday has completed Crocetti's (Zacinto) preparation for another round of major summer sprints. The speedy five-year-old cruised through his 1000-metre exhibition to the satisfaction of trainers Danny Walker and Arron Tata and regular rider Warren Kennedy. "They timed him to run 58 seconds and change, which I find hard to believe, but the main thing is the way he did it," Walker said. "Warren was very happy with him. He's all set for the Concorde at Pukekohe on Saturday, and the plan then is to head to Trentham for the Telegraph." Crocetti hasn't raced since his luckless venture to Perth in late April for The Quokka (1200m), when he finished last after being galloped on. After a long break he returned with an easy trial win at Te Rapa in late September, however plans to resume in the Sweeney Stakes (Gr 3, 1215m) at Rotorua on October 12 were scrapped due to a continuation of wet spring weather. "With the likelihood of a wet track we just backed off him, but the beauty of this horse is that with one good gallop he's back up to speed," Walker said. "Under the set weight and penalty conditions he gets into the Concorde with 58 kilos, which is a kilo less than what he would carry at weight-for-age, so he's nicely in."

Kinnaird Karaka Millions-bound after debut win

The two-year-old race staged by the Levin Racing Club at Otaki every November has a proven record of unearthing top-level talent, and Te Akau Racing is hoping for more of the same with Sunday's Levin Jumpouts 2YO (1100m) winner Kinnaird (Home Affairs). A half-brother to the Australian Derby (Gr 1, 2400m) winner Jon Snow (Iffraaj), the Home Affairs (I Am Invincible) colt had shown promising signs at the trials and was sent out as a $2.40 favourite for Sunday's $40,000 event. Ridden by Craig Grylls, Kinnaird sat on the outside of the front-running Butler Cabin (Ardrossan) before quickening and taking command in the straight. He looked vulnerable as fellow first-starter Ka Ron (Hello Youmzain) launched a strong bid from near the back of the field, but rose to meet that challenge. At the end of a head-bobbing final 50 metres, Kinnaird clung on narrowly to win by 0.1 lengths. "It was a really good performance to stick his head out and win in a close finish and he showed plenty of grit and determination," said Mark Walker, who trains in partnership with Sam Bergerson. "He was left in front a little bit soon in the straight, and was a touch green at his first start, but he knuckled down strongly when the other horse arrived up alongside. He'll take a lot of improvement from the race and trip away, and I think that after a short freshen-up, he'll keep furnishing into an even better young horse. There is plenty of upside with him. The family has invariably left horses that win over much more distance and as older horses, but he has shown precocity and natural talent to be able to race and win as a two-year-old and there is a lot more scope to come. He's eligible for the Karaka Millions 2YO in January at Ellerslie, and that will be our aim."

Martins joins the company having worked for Arqana Racing Club, Ecurie des Monceaux and Arqana's communication and marketing department. She has also worked with the charity Au-Delà des Pistes on aftercare initiatives and provided communication services for several stud farms and industry publications.

30 for Intello

Chestnut Rocket (3 c ex Rocaille by Anabaa) became the 30th individual stakes winner for Haras de Beaumont's Intello (Galileo) when landing Sunday's Prix Max Sicard (Listed, 2400m) at Toulouse. Ridden by Ludovic Boisseau for trainer Alicja Karkosa, the three-year-old colt ran out a comfortable three and a half lengths winner over Sirjan (Zarak) with a further short-head back to Daring Prince (Zarak) in third. Out of the Listed-placed Anabaa (Danzig) mare Rocaille, Chestnut Rocket is a brother to winners Lestilia and Roche Limit and a half-brother to a further three winners. Intello stood the 2025 northern hemisphere breeding season for a fee of €7,000 (approx. AU$12,420).

64 for Not This Time

Taylor Made Farms flagship stallion Not This Time (Giant's Causeway) chalked up his 64th individual stakes winner on Sunday when the Leonard Powell-trained Unrivalled Time (2 c ex Margot Machance by Creachadoir) scored in the Cecil B DeMille Stakes (Gr 3, 8f) at Del Mar. Ridden by Diego Herrera, the juvenile colt defeated Iriseach (Ubettabelieveit) by three-quarters of a length with just a neck further back to Hey Nay Nay (No Nay Never) in third. Out of the winning mare Margot Machance (Creachadoir), Unrivalled Time is a half-brother to the Grade 2-placed winner Margot's Boy (Clubhouse Ride) and to two further winners. Not This Time will stand the 2026 northern hemisphere breeding season at a fee of US$250,000 (approx. AU$381,280).

Fate tempted

By Lloyd Jackson

It seemed like an innocent remark but it turned out to be true. The remark, almost tempting fate, was made by trainer Stephen Marsh prior to the running of Ellerslie's Great Northern Challenge Stakes (Gr 3, 1600m). "Races are not run on paper," he stated, regarding the hot favouritism of his charge, El Vencedor (Shocking) whose "Big EV" moniker signals the horse's wide popularity.

Co-leader past the 600m, El Vencedor rolled along at a moderate pace and it was not until deep into the straight that Wiremu Pinn asked him to go. At the 150 metres all was well and the hot pot looked in command but Craig Grylls had other ideas and set Mary Shan (Almanzor) alight with a perfectly timed run.

The winner's ordinary time of 1:37.10 created a sit-and-sprint finish which was El Vencedor's undoing. Marsh's prophecy was correct as Mary Shan cut EV down over the last 50 metres to score by a head. Under set weights and penalties, her 53kg vs EV's 59kg had a strong bearing on the result.

Now a five-year-old mare, by Cambridge Stud's Almanzor (Wootton Bassett), Mary Shan shares at least two similarities with Qali Al Farrasha (Almanzor), winner of the Auckland Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes (Gr 2, 1400m) the previous Saturday. The obvious one is their sire whose number of individual stakes winners is now 27 which includes 15 foaled in the southern hemisphere.

The second is their breakthrough as stakes winners. Both are now five and both have been rewarded after achieving a number of black-type placings, mostly as three-year-olds, which reminds the writer of a discussion with Trelawney Stud's Brent Taylor four years ago after Two Illicit (Jimmy Choux) took out the Captain Cook Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m), that year run at Te Rapa.

Two Illicit enjoyed a highly successful season at three but at four found the going a good deal tougher. Taylor observed that four-year-olds' transition from racing against their own age at three can be difficult the following season. Suddenly, the competition includes bigger and stronger types of all ages. With an additional year, they themselves are bigger and stronger and are able to cope with the required rise in strength.

Two years ago Mary Shan recorded two wins and two Group 2 seconds, in the Soliloquy Stakes (1400m) and the Eight Carat Classic (1600m), split with a solid fifth in the New Zealand 1,000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m). At four her win tally did not increase but she did manage two Listed placings including a valuable $170,000 when second to Orchestral (Savabeel) in the Aotearoa Classic (Listed, 1600m), restricted to four-year-olds.

This season a bigger and stronger Mary Shan has added three wins and Saturday's win took her earnings to $482,290, a healthy return on the $180,000 outlaid by her trainer Andrew Forsman who found the filly among Prima Park's Book 1 draft at the 2022 NZB Karaka Yearling Sale.

She is one of four winners from four to race from Shanzam (High Chaparral), a winning daughter of Wellington Stakes (Gr 3, 1600m) winner Shanzero

RACE IMAGES

(Danzero) who also finished second in the New Zealand Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m). Shanzero played her part by producing seven winners from all seven foals.

Wentwood Grange will offer Mary Shan's brother next month at the 100th National Yearling Sale at Karaka. Suddenly, Lot 114 in Book 1 has a most worthwhile update. Also in Book 1 is close relative Lot 198 whose dam is a half-sister to Shanzero.

Almanzor's top performer is Gezora, a dual top-flight winner who landed the Breeders' Cup Fillies & Mares Turf (Gr 1, 11f) as well as the Prix de Diane (Gr 1, 2100m) in a wonderful season. It might be a tad soon to be talking broodmare sires but investing in an Almanzor filly with a view to a stud career might not be the worst decision in the world.

"She's pretty good"

Those were the words of rider Warren Kennedy whose Pulsatilla (Redwood) showed explosive acceleration from the 300m when taking out the Trevor & Corralie Eagle Memorial 3YO (Listed, 1500m) at Ellerslie. Kennedy added: "It's scary to think what she might be."

Saturday's win was the filly's second in four starts, breaking her maiden easily at Avondale, early October. A wide barrier and caught wide throughout saw her run down the track at start three but Kennedy's wizardry was apparent in the Eagle Memorial as he found, firstly, a rails run after straightening then at the 200m a lane one off the fence. In a flash Pulsatilla flew between runners and had the race sewn up at the 100m only to run clear. It will be interesting to follow her progress as the acceleration she showed is not that common.

Pulsatilla's dam was 18 when she foaled the filly and has produced seven winners, Pulsatilla clearly her best. Mum, Edie (Rock Of Gibraltar), didn't do anything on the racetrack but her dam is Jezabeel (Zabeel), a Listed stakes winner at two over 1600m at Ellerslie where she also scored the 1998 Auckland Cup (Gr 1, 3200m).

Jezabeel's greatest performance however was later in 1998 when she landed the Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200), defeating her paternal half-sister Champagne (Zabeel). Jezabeel's produce record is not fabulous but another daughter, Eighth Wonder (Daneshill) produced Macau champion Wonder Mossman (Mossman) to land 19 races in Macau including nine Listed stakes. Edie has been retired from stud duties but in 2024 produced a brother to Pulsatilla.

Westbury double

Westbury Stud had two reasons to be pleased as Pulsatilla became stakes winner 15 for resident stallion Redwood (High Chaparral) and later in the day barnmate Tarzino (Tavistock) added stakes winner eight (three are Group 1 winners) when Tshiebwe saluted in the Wanganui Cup (Listed, 2040m). Their El Roca (Fastnet Rock) provided the runner-up, Enrico.

A big, raw-boned gelding, Tshiebwe is just coming into his own as a six-year-old, thus a representative of Tarzino's second crop. He didn't race until four breaking his maiden at start two, scoring again at start four in a six-race campaign.

At five he faced the starter seven times for a further two wins including a Benchmark 75 over 2040m at Wanganui back in January this year. Three starts this season have resulted in another Benchmark 75 and after just 16 starts is on a path to his best season, next month's Wellington Cup (Gr 3, 3200m) the next target.

Samantha Collett took all luck out of the running by positioning Tshiebwe just outside the leader to the end of the back straight then allowed the big boy to stride to the lead. Rounding into the home straight Collett shot him clear and the result was never in doubt, the margin three and a quarter lengths in a hands-and-heels finish.

His dam, Aint No Lollygagga (No Excuse Needed), a four-time winner, produced two foals and both are winners. Her half-sister, Romanov Girl (Easy Rocking), is the dam of Executed (Warhead) whose 19 wins included a Listed win in Brisbane. Tshiebwe's grandam is a half-sister to Underwood Stakes (Gr 1, 1800m) and Doomben Cup (Gr 1, 2200m) winner Perlin (Carnegie).

Two and more to follow

Tshiebwe

ECLIPSE THROUGHbred

Windsor Park Stud will certainly be hoping that is the case after Circus Dancer (Circus Maximus) racked up a second stakes winner for their young sire Circus Maximus (Galileo), both from his first crop. He also has a Group 1 placed performer, Green Storm, from his initial Northern Hemisphere crop.

Circus Dancer defied punters and started as the second least favoured in the O'Learys Fillies Stakes (Listed, 1340m) even though she arrived at Wanganui unbeaten, albeit in her only start but an easy win at New Plymouth in late October. A win against a small field and a heavy track may have put punters off at Wanganui where she sat a close second prior to straightening. She took over with 250m to run then held off the fast finish of favourite War Princess (U S Navy Flag) to remain unbeaten.

Circus Dancer was purchased via gavelhouse.com in July 2024 as a result of the passing of breeder Rick Orr and fetched just $3200, thus a very good buy for her new owners. She is one of five winners from five to race from the unraced O'Reilly (Last Tycoon) mare Folies Bergere, also the dam of Taranaki Oaks Prelude (Listed, 1800m) winner Khanshe (Mongolian Khan).

Their dam is doing a splendid job at stud. She has an unnamed juvenile colt by Noverre (Savabeel), foaled a filly by Ardrossan (Redoute's Choice) in 2024 and visited Ancient Spirit (Invincible Spirit) last season. Circus Dancer's grandam was the speedy Dashing Donna (Don Eduardo) whose preference for Ellerslie saw her land the Listed Newmarket Handicap (1200m) and finish second in the Railway Handicap (Gr 1, 1200m).

Wellington wobble

Racking up stakes winner number 154 for Savabeel (Zabeel), surely the stakes win by his son Ammirati must be the most unusual when with mere strides remaining in Sunday's Wellington Stakes (Gr 3, 1600m) second looked like his lot..

Savabeel

WAIKATO STUD

In a wild finish, the leader, Road To Paris (Circus Maximus), looked in control only to suddenly shy at the winning post and drop his rider. Mayhem followed. Jockey Masa Hashizume miraculously escaped injury and three runners were left to fight out the finish, separated by two noses as Ammirati was hampered but somehow clung on.

Ammirati's nose was in front and took his record to six starts and two wins, the first prize of $57,500 going some way towards his purchase price of $450,000 at the 2024 NZB Karaka Yearling Sale. He is the first winner from the winning Pins (Snippets) mare Happily, herself a half-sister to Listed 2YO winner Exuberant to which Ammirati is a three-quarter relation.

Waikato Stud will offer his brother, Lot 467, in Book 1 of NZB's Centenary Karaka Yearling Sale next month. Their great grandam is a half-sister to Scandinavia (Snippets), grandam of unbeaten Black Caviar (Bel Espirit).

Updates galore

All five winners (above) are first time stakes winners which means that catalogue updates are in full swing. Another stallion with a new stakes winner is Waikato Stud's Super Seth (Dundeel) whose Ruska Roma was successful in Saturday's Twilight Glow Stakes (Listed, 1400m), one of three New Zealand-sired stakes winners at Caulfield. Ruska Roma was foaled in Australia. The others were Zipping Classic (Gr 2, 2400m) winner She's A Hustler (Ace High) and Testa Rossa Stakes (Listed, 1400m) winner Here To Shock (Shocking), both sires resident at Rich Hill Stud.
