Pinatubo filly sets new record as Magic Millions Tasmanian Yearling Sale gets back on track

By Trevor Marshallsea

Magic Millions' Tasmanian Yearling Sale bounced back in resounding fashion from its flat 2025 edition, with a deeper range of quality yearlings bringing a vastly improved average and gross - and a new all-time record price.

Armidale Stud's half-sister to Melbourne stakes-winning filly Yum (Ghaiyyath) - by another young Darley shuttle stallion in Pinatubo (Shamardal) - sold to the Redgum Racing enterprise of Yum's trainer John McArdle for $170,000.

On a day when the top three lots - and five of the top six - were fillies, the price for the Pinatubo more than doubled last year's high and broke the sale's nine-year-old record of $160,000, for subsequent six-time winner and stakes-placed Queen La Diva (Snippetson).

Nine lots sold for more than last year's high mark of just $80,000, with five hitting six figures - all sold by renowned Tasmanian farm Armidale Stud.

On Monday evening, the average sat on $36,090 - up a huge 53.5 per cent on last year's results. The gross stood at $2,815,000 - a 44 per cent increase from 12 months ago, despite five fewer lots being sold (78). Cont. on page 3

WHAT'S ON:

- Race meetings: Kembla Grange (NSW), Scone (NSW), Horsham (VIC), Rockhampton (QLD)
- Barrier trials / Jump-outs: Hawkesbury (NSW), Pakenham (VIC), Bendigo (VIC), Gold Coast (QLD), Doomben (QLD), Gatton (QLD), Tauranga (NZ), Ashburton (NZ)
- Sales: Inglis February (Late) Online Sale

COME FULL CIRCLE WITH COOLMORE!

STORM BOY raised, grazed and sold by Coolmore for $460,000 and subsequently bought back for many multiples of that price 12 months later!

Continued from page 2 The clearance rate of 72 per cent was down slightly from 74 per cent in 2025, while the median was up 18 per cent at $21,000.

Overall, it was a sale that had Magic Millions managing director Barry Bowditch beaming, reasoning the Tasmanian ship had been righted through a drive to have fewer quality yearlings from the state sent to the mainland for sale, and a correlating push to attract more mainland buyers.

“It was a pleasing sale,” Bowditch told ANZ News. “We were coming off a low benchmark with last year, but it was pleasing to be back in line with 2024, or slightly better.”

The 2024 sale had an average of $29,984 and a median of $24,000, with only two six figure lots topped by one of $145,000.

“In most cases, there was a good appetite for the quality horses in the catalogue, which you see with five six-figure yearlings and a new record sale-topper,” Bowditch said.

“And the vibe, the energy in the room, was a helluva lot better than last year.

“The breeders have come with us on a journey. We had some particularly nice horses here, and they sold like nice horses. They were very well received.”

The sale appeared to have benefited from lessons learned from last year regarding the quality of horses kept in Tasmania for sale, and from strategies such as more engagement with the south of the state. At the head of that move was the decision to shift the Magic Millions 2YO Classic (1200m), run earlier this month, from Launceston to Hobart.

Lot 62: Paulele ex Ventura filly

Increased bonuses and incentives through Tasbred had also had a positive impact, Bowditch said, but more opportunities remained to parlay this year’s sale result into a still stronger edition in 2027.

“I still believe there’s an opportunity for more interstate buyers to come here and see what it’s about, because they are nice horses and when you look at results of sales so far this year, there’s still good value to be had here,”

Bowditch said.

“You’d also still like to see more local buyers get in and support the sale. We need a bit more vigour from our local market.

“That’s something I want to continue to speak to Tasracing about, to do our best to give owners and trainers and syndicators the best opportunity to work here in Tasmania.

“We want to continue to work with Tasmania to give local people more reason to play a part here, come and engage in the auction process, and take home some nice yearlings.”

He added: “Nearly all the best horses in the state have been bought out of this sale. So I hope the locals show a bit of faith, come here and put their hand up.

“Fundamentally, that’s where it begins, and if we’ve got a good catalogue next year - and there’s no reason why we can’t get the breeders to support it - I feel there’s also more impetus on getting more mainland buyers here.

“I think the quality of horses here this year gives the mainland buyers who did come the faith to come back again.”

Bowditch said the “proof is in the pudding” that quality horses would attract “the right buyers”, but work would continue to promote the sale.

“The bonuses Tasbred are putting out there are more than enough. It’s more about engaging and showcasing what it’s about down here and selling this sale as best we can,” he said.

“Us moving our race to Hobart this year, engaging with the south, is something we can continue to do more with. I think that worked really well, in terms of giving confidence to take part in the auction from the locals’ perspective.”

Star of the show on Monday was Lot 93, the daughter of Pinatubo out of Dream Food (Snitzel), a two-time winner and sibling to two stakes victors, and dam of four winners from four runners.

Tropicus Simply Too Darn Hot In Oakleigh Plate

Danel Sauer - Saturday February 21

With the betting suggesting the Anthony and Sam Freedman stable would win the $750,000 G1 MRC Oakleigh Plate (1100m) at Caulfield on Saturday, it was the outsider of their two runners in the race that produced the goods as Too Darn Hot 4yo Tropicus was simply too strong.

Tropicus
G1 Oakleigh Plate, G3 The Henley Homes
Heath & G3 Zeditave Stakes winner

Continued from page 3 All four were bred by Melbourne octogenarian Ken Breese, who handed Yum to McArdle after she was passed in at the Tasmania sale two years ago, and who'll be staying in the Pinatubo filly.

"I'm very pleased to get her," McArdle told ANZ News after his lone purchase at the sale.

"Obviously, I train her half-sister Yum, so this filly was one that was always on the radar and so to get down here and get her was a very good result.

"She's very similar to Yum but probably a little bit sharper. Being by Pinatubo, that's probably sharpened her up a little bit.

"She's strong like her sister, probably a bit more correct than Yum as a yearling, but she's very typical of the family, so once I saw her I was very keen to buy her."

McArdle has trained other relatives including dual Group winner I'll Have A Bit (Smart Missile) and the stakes-placed Eye Of The Eagle (Alpine Eagle).

"Ken's a very good breeder and we've had a lot of success together. I bought I'll Have A Bit off him, and he gave me Yum to train, so it's been a relationship that's been going a long time," said McArdle, impressed with the sale overall.

"Tassie breeders do a great job presenting their horses and Magic Millions get the right people down here, and they've had a pretty solid sale, so a good job done by all.

"I've been coming here for many years and I've had a fair bit of success out of Tassie."

The sale was a runaway success for Armidale Stud, which sold not only the top five lots but eight of the top nine.

Second-up was Lot 50, a filly by Capitalist (Written Tycoon) out of Tasmanian stakes-placed mare Speedonova (Tough Speed), bought for $120,000 by My Racehorse, trainer Stuart Gandy and Belmont Bloodstock.

The third highest priced yearling was Lot 62, a filly by Darley's first-season sire Paulele (Dawn Approach) out of placed mare Ventura (Lonhro), a sister to Group 1 winner and subsequent sire Denman. She was sold to Prime Thoroughbreds for $115,000.

Armidale was leading vendor by average, with the operation having sold 21 yearlings at an average of $68,238, while they recorded a gross of $1,433,000). Motree Thoroughbreds was second by gross at $461,000 and Grenville

Stud third with $364,000.

Trainer John Blacker was leading buyer, spending $346,500 on 12 lots, ahead of Star Thoroughbreds, parting with $295,000 for four.

Armidale stallion Needs Further (Encosta De Lago) was leading sire, with 11 lots yielding $503,000, ahead of Grenville's Stratosphere (Snitzel), who had 16 lots sold for $471,500.

Armidale sold its two three-quarter sisters to Tasmanian legend Mystic Journey (Needs Further). Lot 26 - by Needs Further out of Oh So Gold (Savoire Vivre) - was bought for $100,000 by Star Thoroughbreds and Randwick Bloodstock Agency, while Lot 112 - by Needs Further out of Gold Phoenix (Jayemzed), went to Victoria's Ralph Zito for $65,000.

Surround distance to suit Ole Dancer

Ole Dancer

SPORTPIX

Peter Moody isn't declaring Ole Dancer (Ole Kirk) to topple hot favourite Tempted (Street Boss) in Saturday's Surround Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m) at Randwick, but he believes one key factor gives his filly her chance. The Thousand Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) winner will chase a second elite success and Moody is confident she will be strong late at 1400 metres. "The good thing about my girl is she's going to be strong at the end of 1400 metres, isn't she?" said Moody, who trains in partnership with Katherine Coleman. "I just hope we draw a barrier, that's the main thing. The other day we had to go back from seven, you don't want to have to go back from ten or 12 and give [Tempted] a start. I'd rather be three in front of it on the turn than three behind it." Ole Dancer resumed with a closing second in the Desirable Stakes (Listed, 1400m) under 59.5 kilograms, charging home from last behind Sass Appeal (So You Think). Moody said the run provided the perfect launching pad. "Had she had a run under her belt we would have rolled forward and sat outside [Sass Appeal] and we would have beat it like we did with Apocalyptic," he said. "But because she hadn't had the run, you've got to be mindful of where you're going and she ran enormous." Moody said the filly handled a clockwise gallop at Pakenham well ahead of her first attempt racing Sydney way. With Luke Nolen suspended, Zac Lloyd takes the ride. Ole Dancer sits on the third line of betting at $8 behind Tempted ($1.50) and Apocalyptic (Extreme Choice) ($4.50).

Getta Good Feeling set for Inglis Sprint kickoff

Trainer Danny O'Brien will take an unconventional path with Getta Good Feeling (So You Think) when the filly resumes over 1200 metres in Saturday's $1 million Inglis Sprint (1200m) at Flemington. Getta Good Feeling started odds-on favourite in last spring's VRC Oaks (Gr 1, 2500m), but drops sharply in distance for her return, with O'Brien keen to utilise her eligibility for the Inglis Race Series. "There are not many options for her to kick off, but it's a nice starting point," O'Brien said. "She's obviously more effective at 1400 [metres] and a mile, but she's a preparation older now, she's sharper, and her work has been very good." Getta Good Feeling signalled her readiness with a close-up third in an 800-metre Flemington jump-out last Friday. A winner of the Edward Manifold Stakes (Gr 2, 1600m) and Wakeful Stakes (Gr 2, 2000m), and placed in the Thousand Guineas, she failed to see out the Oaks trip when sixth behind Strictly Business (Grunt). That effort prompted O'Brien to bypass the Australian Oaks (Gr 1, 2400m) and Vinery Stud Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) in Sydney, instead targeting the Australasian Oaks (Gr 1, 2000m) at Morphettville on April 25. "After Saturday, she'll go three weeks to the Alexandra Stakes over a mile," O'Brien said. "We'll just space her runs through to the Australasian Oaks." A possible Queensland Oaks (Gr 1, 2200m) tilt remains on the table, with O'Brien mindful the 2500 metres in the spring may have stretched her stamina.

Scenery change sparks fresh start for Ride The River

A change of scenery - and a short let-up - has four-year-old Ride The River (Headwater) primed to make an impression at Kembla Grange on Tuesday. The chestnut joined the Mitch Beer and George Carpenter stable in November after transferring from Bjorn Baker and has thrived since arriving on the South Coast. “Kembla Grange offers a great alternative for horses that aren’t quite firing in the city,” co-trainer Mitch Beer told Racing NSW. “Ride The River is working well and lovely to have around the stable. He’s a gentle giant.” The gelding impressed with a winning trial at home on February 2 and will resume in the Provincial Class 1 Handicap (1000m) with Grant Buckley aboard. “We had this race in mind to kick off his preparation because he can take advantage of the Provincial races now,” Beer said. “He’s drawn wide but it’s a small field and Kembla has a long, wide straight so we’re not concerned.” Last-start maiden winner Charlina (Flying Artie) heads betting at $2.60 after a slick 33.04 final 600 metres at the track earlier this month, with Ride The River at $5.50. Ride The River is one of two Darby Racing runners for the stable, with She’s A Dame (Royal Meeting) stepping up to 1500 metres in the Time To Reign @ Kingstar Farm Midway Maiden Handicap. “We’re getting some great support from Darby Racing,” Beer said. “We had Magical Moments win here last week – she’s another horse who has benefited from the sea change.”

Widdup eyes big week with Kembla trio

Hawkesbury trainer Brad Widdup will look to build momentum at Kembla Grange on Tuesday before what shapes as a lucrative week for the stable. Widdup was in Group 1 action at Caulfield on Saturday when Jedibeel (Savabeel) finished fourth in the Oakleigh Plate (Gr 1, 1100m) and he will chase further elite honours when Savvy Hallie (Hellbent) lines up in Saturday’s Surround Stakes at Randwick. Before that, the focus turns to three leading chances at Kembla Grange. Tulou (Tagaloa) kicks off the stable’s day in the Time To Reign @ Kingstar Farm Midway Maiden Handicap (1500m) with Andrew Adkins aboard. The filly

Paradoxium signals Slipper hopes with strong Rosehill trial

Last December’s impressive Wyong Magic Millions 2YO Classic (RL, 1200m) winner Paradoxium (Extreme Choice) showcased his Golden Slipper (Gr 1, 1200m) credentials with a strong trial win at Rosehill on Monday.

The Bjorn Baker-trained son of Extreme Choice (Not A Single Doubt) suffered a bout of travel sickness when sent to the Gold Coast last month, thwarting his chance of lining up as the favourite for the Magic Millions 2YO Classic (RL, 1200m).

The colt picked up where he left off under Jason Collett on Monday, powering clear to score by 4.4 lengths over Klocke (Zoustar) with the well-bred Central Europe (Frankel) another 0.7 lengths back in third. Paradoxium clocked 53.42s for the 900 metres.

Paradoxium, a $400,000 purchase for Baker, Clarke Bloodstock and Ridgmont at last year’s Gold Coast Yearling Sale, is the first foal out of Listed placegetter Pareto (Better Than Ready) and Silverdale Farm will offer her yearling filly by Zoustar (Northern Meteor) at next month’s Inglis Easter Yearling Sale as Lot 9.

Clocking a slightly slower time was Paradoxium’s stablemate Rachini (Zoustar) who made it two trial wins from two for Baker after a debut fifth in the Debutant Stakes (Listed, 1000m) last spring for Leon and Troy Corstens.

She defeated Snitzel (Redoute’s Choice) filly Leonessa by 4.1 lengths, with Shahaameh (All Too Hard) another half-length back in third. An initial $200,000 Magic Millions Gold Coast yearling, Rachini was sold by Baystone Farm after her debut at last year’s Inglis Ready2Race Sale for $500,000.

Agrarian Girl (Tassort) won the Lonhro Plate (Listed, 1000m) on debut on February 7 and the Gai Waterhouse and Adrian Bott-trained filly led all the way on Monday to score a 1.2-length win under Tim Clark, stopping the clock at 54.88s for 900 metres. Satin Serenade (Frankel) was second, with Hellfight (Hellbent) close behind in third.

The other juvenile heat was won by another Bjorn Baker-trained youngster, with Artaneous (Trapeze Artist) appearing for the first time since his debut sixth in the Breeders Plate (Gr 3, 1000m) and being ridden out to score by a half-length over Power Broker (Dundeel), who is out of Thousand Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) heroine Stay With Me (Street Cry), a daughter of the late star-crossed superstar mare Miss Finland (Redoute’s Choice).

Meanwhile, Too Darn Hot (Dubawi) colt Tornado Valley, who was second in the Magic Millions 2YO Classic (RL, 1200m) was given a quiet time and finished midfield.

resumed with a ninth at Warwick Farm behind the highly regarded gelding Journeyman (The Autumn Sun) after two trials. "She took on a handy field at Warwick Farm," Widdup told Racing NSW. "She's come through that run well and Tuesday's race looks more suitable." Sneaky Choice (Extreme Choice) contests the Class 1 Handicap (1500m) third-up with Tommy Berry to ride from barrier one. "She's had two runs back from a spell and has run well in each of them," Widdup said. "Tommy will give her every chance from the rails alley and she'll be in the finish." Berry also partners Ausbred Hed'N'Tail (Saxon Warrior) in the 1200-metre Class 1 Handicap after steering the colt to a front-running maiden win at Gosford earlier this month. "He raced on the speed and did the job well," Widdup said. "He's drawn awkwardly but he's a colt with plenty of potential and I'm confident he can run well again."

New Zealand

Oaks triumph clinches Filly of the Year title for Ohope Wins

A dominant victory in Saturday's $1 million New Zealand Oaks (Gr 1, 2400m) at Ellerslie sealed a spectacular 2025-26 NZB Filly of the Year Series triumph for Ohope Wins (Ocean Park). As recently as December 31, the daughter of Ocean Park (Thorn Park) was a three-start maiden who had not featured in the opening six legs of the series. But breathtaking come-from-behind wins in the Sir Patrick Hogan Stakes (Gr 2, 2000m) and David & Karyn Ellis Fillies' Classic (Gr 2, 2100m) launched her into contention, before she delivered again in the Oaks to finish on 28 points and claim the title. "When you get to ride a horse that good, nothing compares to how that feels," jockey Joe Doyle said. "She always feels like she has so much left. She's exceptional. I've never ridden a three-year-old like her." Prepared by Matamata trainers Lance O'Sullivan and Andrew Scott, Ohope Wins has always been regarded as a stayer in the making, and the step up beyond a mile proved decisive.

"She's a proper horse," O'Sullivan said. "She's just going to go from strength to strength. She wouldn't look out of place in Australia." Bred by Gartshore Bloodstock and later purchased by Yulong, Ohope Wins is out of a half-sister to five-time Group 1 winner Jimmy Choux (Thorn Park). She now boasts three wins and nearly $900,000 in stakes from six starts. Spring Series leaders Well Written (Written Tycoon) and Lollapalooza (El Roca) were left tied on 20 points behind Ohope Wins.

Oaks quinella caps landmark period for Waikato Stud

Waikato Stud principal Mark Chittick has described the past ten days as one of the most significant periods in the Matamata nursery's history, headlined by the sale of star stallion Super Seth (Dundeel) to Coolmore Stud and the confirmation that unbeaten Group 1 winner Return To Conquer (Snitzel) will join the roster this spring. Capping all that on Saturday were Ohope Wins and Autumn Glory, who delivered an Oaks quinella for their underrated sire Ocean Park. "When you put in the time and effort that we have for many years now, it's great to kick a goal of this size," Chittick said. "The Super Seth deal is a big one; I don't think there's ever been one like this down here." Both Ocean Park fillies were sold this summer by their respective breeders, Gartshore Bloodstock and Monovale Holdings, to Yulong. The post-Oaks focus now centres on the decision as to whether one or both will target the New Zealand Derby (Gr 1, 2400m) back at Ellerslie on Saturday week. "It was great to see Ocean Park come up with a result like that," Chittick said. "He's always been a good sire with a decent horse racing and that filly [Ohope Wins] looks special, she might even be the best he's left. We're so pleased for both fillies' breeders. Bill and Jim Gartshore have been with us for quite some time, and we've also had wonderful support over the years from the Smithies family."

Dirty Work filly continues hot summer for Highden

Summer Schemer

RACE IMAGES

Promising filly Summer Schemer (Dirty Work) capped a memorable run of results for Highden Park when she made a winning debut at Ellerslie on Saturday. Prepared by Shaune Ritchie and Colm Murray, the two-year-old continued a purple patch for Libby and Sam Bleakley's Manawatu-based sales preparation and agistment operation. "It's been a great month for us with the little racing team we've got, we've been spoiled," Libby Bleakley said, referencing recent success with Kids Got Gears (Magnus), Under Orders (War Decree) and Southern Mile Series qualifier The Diviner (Darci Brahma). Summer Schemer was purchased for AU$60,000 from Crossley Thoroughbred's draft at the Inglis Great Southern Sale. Originally earmarked for resale, she was passed in at Karaka, prompting Highden to race her in partnership with Singapore-based Constance Cheng and Julia Ho. "Chris Rutten really liked her, so when he spoke highly of her we were quite happy to hold on to her," Bleakley said. The filly had won both of her trials before her Ellerslie debut, where she showed determination to prevail despite tiring late. "Trials to races are quite different with two-year-olds, so you can never be too confident," Bleakley said. "Even though she was out on her feet, she didn't give it away." There is no rush with the youngster, with connections keen to further her education before targeting black-type options later in the season. "We've sold so many good horses over the years and never did we anticipate we may potentially have one ourselves," Bleakley said. "It's wonderfully exciting."

Captured By Love bounces back at Taupo

Last year's New Zealand 1,000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) winner Captured By Love (Written Tycoon) returned to form at Taupo on Sunday, boosting confidence ahead of a shot at the New Zealand Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m). The mare had been freshened after an unplaced run in December's J Swap Sprint (Gr 3, 1400m) and made the most of a five-horse field in Sunday's Rabobank Cup (1400m), scoring convincingly for trainers Mark Walker and Sam Bergerson. "She's been a bit up and down this season," Bergerson said. "It was good to see her win like that and hopefully she can get a bit of confidence now. We think the big, roomy track at Trentham will really suit her." Stablemate Crown Princess (Embellish) also made a triumphant return, winning the Fiber Fresh (1800m) following a near-fatal float accident last year. "It's a miracle she's even at the races," Bergerson said. "To see her win was really satisfying for the whole team." Attention is also turning to the $4 million NZB Kiwi (Listed, 1500m), where Belle Cheval (Savabeel) lines up off her recent Uncle Remus Stakes (Gr 3, 1400m) victory alongside La Dorada (Super Seth) and He Who Dares (Snitzel). While Well Written remains the dominant favourite, Bergerson is upbeat about his trio. "Two weeks is a long time in racing and plenty can happen," he said.

First for Yamakatsu Ace

Tagano Dude (5 h ex Tagano Mu Chan by Heart's Cry) became the first stakes winner for Arrow Stud stallion Yamakatsu Ace (King Kamehameha) when landing Sunday's Kokura Daishoten (Gr 3, 2000m) at Kokura. Ridden by Yoshihiro Furukawa for trainer Toru Miya, the five-year-old entire defeated Keiai Sena by a neck with a further length and a half back to Shonan Addeybb (Deep Impact) in third. Out of the Heart's Cry (Sunday Silence) mare Tagano

Mu Chan, Tagano Dude is a half-brother to winner Tagano Finale (Epipheneia). Yamakatsu Ace is standing for a fee of ¥300,000 (approx. AU$2,740).

HK: Moreira granted return until the end of the season

Joao Moreira

HKJC

Joao Moreira will make a high-profile return to the Hong Kong riding roster in April on a contract until the end of the season. The Hong Kong Jockey Club (HKJC) on Monday approved trainer Caspar Fownes' application to retain Moreira from April 7 to the close of the campaign on July 15. Known as 'Magic Man' by his legion of followers, Moreira, 42, is a four-time Hong Kong champion, having ridden more than 1,200 winners in the jurisdiction. He stunned Hong Kong racing in 2018 when, at the peak of his powers, he left to pursue a full-time career in Japan, but after failing to secure the licence he returned the following season. His second departure came in late 2022 when he handed in his licence due to a hip injury and personal problems to head home to Brazil, with retirement seemingly pending. Since then, though, he has enjoyed successful short-term stints as a visiting jockey in Japan, Australia and Hong Kong after undergoing platelet-rich plasma (PRP) therapy on his arthritic hip joints. His Hong Kong comeback, which is subject to a satisfactory retainership agreement and medical examination, is a major boost to the title-chasing Fownes, who leads the standings as he bids for a fifth success.

HK: Akashvani bids to make amends in Hong Kong Classic Cup

David Hayes expects to be pinning his hopes on Akashvani (Alpine Eagle) for the second leg of the Four-Year-Old Classic Series this Sunday at Sha Tin - the Hong Kong Classic Cup (1800m) - although he is hopeful he'll have another one or two put their hands up in time for the 149th Hong Kong Derby (2000m) on March 22. While Hayes has three entries in the Hong Kong Classic Cup, the 82-rated Akashvani is the only one likely to get a run with Fortune Boy (Contributer) and Shamus Storm (Shamus Award) set to miss out. Unsold at the 2023 Magic Millions Tasmanian Yearling Sale after not reaching his AU$20,000 reserve, Akashvani eventually found himself under the care of Ben, Will and JD Hayes in Victoria before joining the Hong Kong stable of their father David after being sold to Prem Fathechand Melwani. Victorious on Hong Kong debut over the Sha Tin 1200 metres in March last year, Akashvani raced consistently without winning through six starts until again saluting over six furlongs, this time at Happy Valley, in October. A win over 1400 metres last month saw Akashvani improve his record to three wins from 13 starts and he then ran eighth in the first leg of the Four-Year-Old Classic Series, the Hong Kong Classic Mile (1600m) on February 1. "He's got to be tested at the distance but he's by Alpine Eagle, which suggests he will get the trip," Hayes said. "He's in good shape and is going well. Whether he can win, I'm not sure. It's going to be hard to beat Little Paradise. The only hope is if he doesn't run these further distances."

HK: Sagacious Life ready for Hong Kong Classic Cup challenge

Pierre Ng believes Sagacious Life's (Put It Back) proven stamina will play a decisive role across the remaining legs of the three-race Four-Year-Old Classic Series, with Sunday's Hong Kong Classic Cup at Sha Tin preceding the Hong Kong Derby. Sagacious Life is a Group 1 winner over 2400 metres pre-import. He struck twice at Class 2 level in Hong Kong over 1600 metres before his difficult fourth-place finish in last month's Hong Kong Classic Mile behind Little Paradise (Toronado), who dashed quickly to secure success by an easy two lengths after overcoming trouble in the straight. "He's fit, healthy and ready. He's tracking in the right direction, especially as a stayer, and I think he'll be really good one day as he does go better over further," Ng said. "It was a very tough run from the wide draw [barrier 13] last start. Once he got cover, he was already travelling around the bend and then he had to roll out and pick up momentum again. Zac Purton rode perfectly, but he was too rushed and that was his first time being drawn outside. He still ran well, but I'm looking forward to the extra 200 metres." Sagacious Life hadn't faced a barrier worse than six in his initial three outings before his last start. The chestnut trialed in preparation over 1200 metres on Sha Tin's dirt last Friday in 1m 10.05s under leading rider Purton, who retains the mount. "He had a nice trial the other day. He doesn't seem too fresh, which is good as he extends in distance. Zac Purton is on and he was happy with his trial," Ng said. "But to participate in the Four-Year-Old Classic Series with the owner, we didn't think of it at first, but as we've gone along we have a chance and now we're really enjoying it."

‘One of the biggest stories in our lifetime’ – RV courts Constitution Hill for the Cup

Constitution Hill romps home on flat debut at Southwell

EDWARD WHITAKER (RACINGPOST.COM/PHOTOS)

By Trevor Marshallsea

Constitution Hill's (Blue Bresil) owner says he has Melbourne on his mind - and Melbourne says it would love to have him.

Racing Victoria's (RV) chief international recruiter has responded to Michael Buckley floating Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) ideas by saying the gelding's participation in the race that stops a nation would be "one of the biggest racing stories in our lifetime".

Much water has to flow under the bridge, but following Constitution Hill's nine-and-a-half length romp in his flat debut at Southwell on Friday, RV's head of racing and international recruitment Paul Bloodworth said he'd work hard to facilitate his Cup mission.

Asked if RV would be eager to see Constitution Hill line up in the $10 million showpiece on the first Tuesday of November, Bloodworth replied: "Absolutely".

"He's the most popular horse in the UK, and it'd just be a great story for the Melbourne Cup," Bloodworth told Racing Post.

"Willie Mullins has made a habit of bringing horses like Vauban, Absurde and Max Dynamite to Melbourne for the Cup, but none of those have a profile like Constitution Hill.

"It'd be fantastic. It'd be a great story - great for the Melbourne Cup, and great for our spring carnival as a whole to have a story like that running through it."

He added: "We probably have to temper expectations a little bit. It [Southwell] was an all-weather race for novice horses, but there were some horses in the race who you think could go on and be competitive in Group races, and he made them look second-rate.

"And he's already achieved high ratings with some of the ratings businesses in the UK. So, it's hugely exciting."

Contact already made

Bloodworth said he had already put out feelers to trainer Nicky Henderson to gauge interest in a Melbourne Cup raid, aiming to get on the front foot in explaining the processes required.

"I've already reached out via sources to Nicky to say that if this dream becomes a reality, we'll work with him to try to make it happen," Bloodworth said.

"At this point, I've reached out to say, 'Hey, if you want to have a chat now, here's my details'. But I don't want to hassle them too much.

"But it'd be one of the biggest stories in racing in our lifetimes if he did line up on the first Tuesday of November."

Bloodworth said if Constitution Hill's connections were "umming and aching" over attempting a Cup mission, RV and the Victoria Racing Club - which hosts the grand handicap at Australia's oldest continuous sporting venue, Flemington - would "work hard to get them over the line".

Henderson has made an attempt on the Cup before, with Forgotten Voice (Daneshill Dancer) in 2013, but the gelding failed to make the final capacity 24-horse field after running fifth in a key lead-up race, the Geelong Cup (Gr 3, 2400m).

That experience would at least have the trainer prepared for most aspects of the 10,000 mile adventure.

The challenge to reach Melbourne

The requirements for European horses to compete in the race have changed dramatically in the past five years, however, with strict veterinary checks now imposed at both ends of the journey following a spate of deaths in the race for foreign runners. Following those protocols, the arduous staying test has been fatality-free since 2021.

“Probably what we’d need to do is spell out what’s required for them to come to Melbourne - flights, quarantine, vet requirements - and let them decide whether that’s a challenge they’d want to take up,” Bloodworth said.

“That’s how we normally do things with trainers. Some accept the challenge and some don’t, so we’ll see how we get on.”

After Friday’s Southwell romp, Buckley said: “As far as I know, he doesn’t have anything that would prevent him from passing the vet checks, and Nicky will make sure to have a video of him and the way he trots, as he’s not much of a trotter. He seems okay when he’s galloping, though!”

Constitution Hill would also still have to make it past the first qualifying ballot for the great race, first held in 1861.

As impressive as that flat debut was for the ten-straight hurdle winner, a victory in a 1m4f novice on the all weather track won’t suffice.

To become qualified past the first ballot, he would need to win a Listed race of 2300 metres or further, place in a Group race of that minimum distance, or in the Ebor Handicap (1m 5.5f) at York on August 22.

The winner of the Ebor gains a guaranteed start in the Cup.

“I got the sense his connections were talking about the Ebor as an option,” Bloodworth said

“It would come down to the weight he gets allocated by our chief handicapper, but if he continues to perform like he did at Southwell on the flat, he’d meet the requirements reasonably easily.”

Nicky Henderson

Is he too old for the Cup dream?

Another consideration is age.

Constitution Hill is nine years old. The Cup has never been won by a horse of that age - much less a ten-year-old, which is how he’d be classed since the race takes place after southern hemisphere horses’ “birthday” of August 1.

Plus, only three eight-year-olds have won the Cup. One was in 1865, in Toryboy (Wollaton). The next came in 1938, with Catalogue (Lord Quex).

The third came far more recently, with Twilight Payment (Teofilo) in 2020, although being a northern raider for Joseph O’Brien, he was technically only seven at the time.

If Constitution Hill runs, a great many Australian punters would shy away from him on the score of his age alone.

In his favour, however, is the fact he’s extremely lightly raced for a nine-year-old, with only 14 starts.

“It’s very rare to have horses of that age competing in the Cup,” Bloodworth said. “But he hasn’t been overly taxed through his career, even though he’s an older horse.

“All you can say is if they decide to bring him, he will have gone on and shown good form on flat races on grass.

“So if he’s able to do that, and based on his run on Friday you’d think he’d be able to, then I don’t think the age should be a worry.

“But it would be unique for sure, having a horse of that age coming for the Cup. And if he comes in good form you’d have to think he’s got an undeniable chance.”

Coral have quoted Constitution Hill at 25-1 for the Cup, while William Hill made him 20-1 co-favourite. In Australia, the TAB has installed him as a 17-1 shot, with eight horses shorter than him.

Kiwi Chronicles

Scrambling

By Lloyd Jackson

Expect a flurry of announcements, this and next week, regarding the 2026 running of the $4 million NZB The Kiwi (Listed, 1500m). As of Monday, February 23, five slots had yet to fill. Slots 1, 2, 3, 9 and 13 remain vacant. Two days ago the slot belonging to Milan Park was filled by Group 3 Eulogy Stakes (1600m) winner War Princess (U S Navy Flag).

With a mere 11 days to go any potential contender's race record will be complete in order to decide its worthiness. Yes, there is at least one more Saturday (February 28) of racing to uncover another possibility but backing up seven days before such a high pressure event is most unlikely.

Highest rated is Well Written (Written Tycoon) with a rating of 92 who dominates every discussion. She is followed by Affirmative Action (Yes Yes Yes) with 82, the same rating as La Dorada (Super Seth). With 81 is Romanoff (Belardo), He Who Dares (Snitzel) has a rating of 80, Belle Cheval (Savabeel) and War Princess are rated at 79 and Lollapalooza (El Roca) sits at 78. The lowest rated runner at 75 is Asakura (Churchill).

So far, Asakura, trained by Mitch Freedman at Ballarat, is the only slot holder domiciled in Australia and it will not surprise if another is sourced from Australia which provided three runners for the inaugural event, 2025, won by Damask Rose (Savabeel). Three of the declared runners for 2026 were foaled in Australia.

Asakura was hugely impressive when bolting clear in a Geelong Benchmark 66 (1340m) in late January followed by a solid and fighting second to Sixties (Flying Artie) in CS Hayes Stakes (Gr 3, 1400m) at Flemington on February 14. Asakura qualified for a slot having been sold at the 2024 NZB Karaka Yearling Sale via Hallmark Stud's draft. The gelding will be making his third trip across the ditch and might qualify for frequent flyer points.

Slot holders without a runner are faced with two issues. First, they will instinctively know that they are probably playing for second place. Second, the top local challengers to hot favourite Well Written have slots already. Finding a runner with a rating of 75 or higher therefore presents a problem.

Not written yet

Saturday's Uncle Remus Stakes (Gr 3, 1400m) provided a last gasp of uncovering another contender but the race went to Belle Cheval who already holds slot eight for the Kiwi.

Much can happen in the space of three months of a young horse's development and Belle Cheval has come on appreciably since her third to Well Written in the New Zealand 1,000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) last November.

Belle Cheval arrived at Riccarton with a debut third and an Ellerslie maiden win to her name, to finish third, four lengths behind Well Written who was eased late. Belle Cheval never shirked her task from third last into the straight, maintaining a strong run to the line despite the margin.

Ellerslie and Karaka Millions night, January 24, saw Belle Cheval back in action and she impressed when landing the Almanzor Trophy (Gr 3, 1200m). Much handier than at Riccarton, she found room three lanes out at the 250m and found the line nicely, doing better than anything else in the race in a solid 1:10.8 for the 1200m.

Fast forward to last Saturday, the filly was faced with the outside barrier and sat three-wide the trip. Opie Bosson found cover and starting the run home they were poised to pounce which merely necessitated a few shakes from the rider. Belle Cheval took command at the 100m and responded when challenged for another win, her third in five starts.

On paper, Well Written is clearly the one to beat plus she has Belle Cheval's scalp from the Guineas but the race is not run on paper. At this point, Belle Cheval looks the biggest threat and her last two runs have shown she is in for the fight. Her connections will have more than a smidge of confidence leading into the big race with the possible added advantage of more recent race fitness.

The Savabeel (Zabeel) filly is one of eight winners from the wonderful producer, Keepa Cheval (Keeper), whose premier performer is the triple Group 1 winner The Bostonian (Jimmy Choux), the first of three stakes winners from the mare. A daughter, Vitesse (Makfi), foaled $4.3 million earner and Queensland Derby (Gr 1, 2400m) winner Kovalica (Ocean Park).

As good as The Bostonian was, he is not the most famous member of Belle Cheval's immediate family because Keepa Cheval is a half-sister to ten-time Group 1 champion and Hall of Famer Mufhasa (Pentire).

Second to Belle Cheval was Panther (Ace High) who may be first in line for the next slot. Panther had two behind him when they straightened and tracked Belle Cheval for a few strides before challenging. He looked ominous but the filly had his measure although he was taking ground off her late. The 1500 metres of the Kiwi looks ideal.

Panther is yet to finish worse than second in four starts including a 1200-metre win at Tauranga followed by an Ellerslie second over 1100 metres which was clearly too short. Saturday's Group 3 was a big step which he handled well. If allocated a slot, he is the improver leading up to March 7 while third-placed Confesara (Toronado) is not eligible.

War Princess, the newest slot holder, has won five of her ten starts and at her last outing was a nose behind fellow contender La Dorada when running fourth in the Karaka Millions 3YO Classic (RL, 1600m). Nine slots down, five to go.

Green and white equals gold

Powerhouse bloodstock entity Yulong Investments are in the process of taking a major position within New Zealand. Their green and white silks are to be seen aboard the country's best galloper, Well Written, the firm favourite for the $4 million NZB Kiwi set for March 7.

Ohope Wins

Since purchasing a majority shareholding of Well Written, Yulong has expanded their interests to two further three-year-old fillies, firstly Ohope Wins (Ocean Park), who became part of Yulong prior to the David & Karyn Ellis Fillies Classic (Gr 2, 2100m) earlier this month. Just last week, after a dominant win in the Waikato Guineas (Gr 2, 2000m) another by Ocean Park (Thorn Park), namely Autumn Glory, was added to the stable, the two forming the quinella in Saturday's New Zealand Oaks (Gr 1, 2400m), run at Ellerslie for the first time.

Ohope Wins has quickly become a fan favourite, her withering finishes establishing her as a most exciting performer, none more so than her winning effort in the Oaks. Her racing pattern is unlike Well Written's, who usually puts herself in the race from the outset, except that in the Karaka Millions 3YO Classic Well Written was back of midfield when turning in, not that it mattered.

Ohope Wins prefers to settle back, or in Saturday's case, well back. As cool as they come and probably with the knowledge of the motor he had under him, Joe Doyle exercised great patience on Ohope Wins who had two behind her at the 800m. Post race, co-trainer and former champion jockey Lance O'Sullivan commented that in the same situation he might have hovered his finger over the panic button at the 800m.

Although closer at the 600m, she was still third last but was solidly getting into her work. At the top of the straight she shared second last but was going through her gears while balancing up. Out in the middle of the track, at the 300m she had about six lengths to make up but at the 200m she was just two lengths in arrears. Inside the 100m she took over and her momentum was such that she waltzed clear by more than two lengths when the post arrived, her lead increasing past the post.

Ohope Wins is the fifth Group 1 winner for Waikato Stud's Ocean Park, himself a five-time Group 1 winner and sire of 26 stakes winners and a further 26 stakes performers. His winners/runners ratio stands at 62 per cent.

Ohope Wins is now the winner of three races (all stakes) from six starts and is bred on an almost identical pattern to another five-time Group 1 winner Jimmy Choux who is by Ocean Park's sire Thorn Park (Spinning World) from Ohope Wins' grandam Cierzo (Centaine).

What's next for Ohope Wins? The New Zealand Derby (Gr 1, 2400m) looks like an obvious choice but maybe Yulong will now look to Sydney for either the Australian Derby (Gr 1, 2400m) or the Australian Oaks (Gr 1, 2400m). Either race would look good against her record when it's time to go to stud. Australian Group 1 form is what every breeder desires.

Yulong's plan might be to set Autumn Glory for the New Zealand Derby? She has already proved she can match and beat the boys. Her win in the Waikato Guineas was clear cut and her second to Ohope Wins on Saturday was as good a lead up as could be expected especially considering she didn't get out of a tight spot on the rail until 250m out. She emerged from the ruck to co-lead at the 100m but was no match for the winner yet superior to the rest.

Nice addition

Every time a filly or mare owned by Cambridge Stud wins a stakes race, the writer smiles because it means that our diminishing ranks of quality race fillies and mares has been ever so slightly halted. Cambridge Stud is in the fortunate position of not having to sell to put food on the table so our industry should be pleased, even relieved as adding to the Stud's future broodmare band is Jaarffi (Iffraaj), an overdue winner at Group 1 level.

The Otaki Maori WFA Classic (Gr 1, 1600m) became win five for the honest mare whose record includes two Group 1 seconds, beaten a head in the 2025 New Zealand Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes (1600m) and going close in the recent Zabeel Classic (2000m).

Although she has five wins and over $950,000 to her name, her previous win was in October, 2024 but she has raced consistently well in top company with some bad luck along the way. Bad luck was certainly in play in her lead up race when she suffered cuts and abrasions to two legs after clipping the heels of another runner. She still ran on for a courageous seventh.

Trapped three-wide until the top of the straight, this time she had every reason not to win but her challenge from the 200m was strong and well-timed. Although at long odds, no one could deny her deserved breakthrough, her maiden stakes success just happening to be at the elite level.

Iffraaj (Zafonic) is still listed as an available stallion, at Darley's Dalham Hall Stud in Newmarket. He is 25 and Jaarffi is his 105th individual stakes winner as well as his 14th Group 1 winner. He left an indelible mark on the New Zealand bloodstock scene with his 13 trips to his southern base at Haunui Farm.

Jaarffi is the first stakes winner from Pride Of Tralee (Redoute's Choice), a half-sister to the dual Group 1 Oaks winner Serenade Rose (Stravinsky). Like Ohope Wins, Jaarffi is out of a Redoute's Choice (Danehill) mare.

Gai Waterhouse AO

@GaiWaterhouse1

A spectacular Sunday afternoon at Evergreen Stud for our annual Tulloch Lodge Yearling Parade 🌞🐎🌸
There is nothing quite like the feeling of seeing the newest additions to the Waterhouse/Bott team thriving in their early education 🌸🌟
It was a joy to welcome our wonderful owners to the farm, talk through the progress of our youngsters, and share our vision for the season ahead 🏆
The Class of 2026 is looking exceptionally bright and if you're interested in getting involved please get in touch today 📧

SALES ARE OFFICIALLY OVER 🐎
We produced some lovely results for our clients as well as our homebreds getting the best chance possible.
Grossing over $1 million dollars and 2 horses in the top 10 sale prices sold from us.
With only 2 passed in (Lot 152 and 208), our next draft is sure to reproduce our consistent results of over 10% stakes winners to runners. Special thanks to our staff at home Jules, Paige, Kristen and Ashley getting our next years crop happy and healthy. Along with our sales staff Kim, Alice and Elisha that presented the horses beautifully. As well as Bella, our full time employee finishing her first sales with us. Been a huge year, bring on the next 🐎
