Yarraman Park hellbent on achieving success with their emerging sire

By Paul Symes

With I Am Invincible (Invincible Spirit) in the twilight of his incredible career, Yarraman Park have been scouring the stallion markets to uncover their next champion but the Mitchell family might need to call off the search following the rapid rise of their flagbearer's son and fellow resident, Hellbent.

Victory in the Hong Kong Derby (Listed, 2000m) at Sha Tin on Sunday night saw Invincible Ibis become the 11th individual stakes winner for Hellbent, who is enjoying his best season to date with racetrack earnings north of $10 million positioning him eighth in the Australian Sires' Premiership.

Given that two of his peers above him in the list - current pacesetter Snitzel (Redoute's Choice) and seventh-placed Fastnet Rock (Daneshill) - are no longer around and Hellbent's best years are almost certainly ahead of him, it is not inconceivable that his current trajectory could eventually culminate in his ascension to the top rungs of the stallion ranks.

Belle Cheval set for Vinery test

Trainer Mark Walker is not conceding Saturday's $750,000 Vinery Stud Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) at Rosehill to boom filly Ohope Wins (Ocean Park), backing fellow New Zealander Belle Cheval (Savabeel) to measure up in her first test at the trip. The Te Akau Racing filly steps up from a narrow defeat in The Kiwi (Listed, 1500m) and will be having her first run at 2000 metres, while Ohope Wins drops back in distance after her New Zealand Oaks (Gr 1, 2400m) victory. "We know that horse really well from New Zealand and they are coming back from 2400 to 2000, I'd rather be probably going 1500 to 2000," Walker said.

Continued from page 2 While that assumption is, at least for now, purely speculative, what cannot be argued is that the 13-year-old's high fertility rate – 135 of the 155 mares he covered last season are now in foal – and the cool temperament he passes onto his stock represents a potent combination.

Another key weapon in Hellbent's armoury is his versatility, with Invincible Ibis' middle-distance feats at one end of the spectrum complemented by Group 1 success for his speedy daughters Benedetta and Magic Time over sprint trips.

According to Yarraman's co-director Harry Mitchell, Hellbent's rapid rise has come as no surprise to the team at the famed Scone farm, where he stands for a service fee of $38,500 (inc GST) which will in all likelihood be revised upwards later this year.

"Hellbent has been getting a lot of traction in Hong Kong with the winners he's had, and now to win their most prestigious race will only increase his profile further over there," Mitchell told ANZ News.

"The best thing about the stallion is that he's now producing very good colts and fillies, there was maybe a view that he was getting better fillies but he's now getting just as many good colts. He's also producing milers or even horses capable of getting over further, as we saw with Invincible Ibis.

"So his versatility is going to stand him in very good stead moving forward, because it's such a massive advantage as is the fact that his stock all seem to be so relaxed. He had such a good temperament and his stock seem to handle big crowds, they just take everything in their stride. He's also getting better mares, his last couple of books have been much stronger so he's well on his way now.

"And there's every reason to think his results will only improve in the coming years, his stock invariably improves with age. We've seen that with the likes of Vivv Air, who was maybe only a moderate performer last year but has gone to a new level this prep as a five-year-old. If you've got a stallion who is only capable of producing up-and-running two-year-olds, they're not going to last very long."

Another example of Hellbent's ability to produce enduring athletes is the emergence of Brad Widdup's stable star Savvy Hallie, who led from pillar to post in the Light Fingers Stakes (Gr 2, 1200m) before fighting Tempted (Street Boss) all the way to the line in the Surround Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m).

The filly's dam Rose Of Savannah is by Fastnet Rock and that match has consistently provided dynamite results, with Coolmore's late, great stallion also siring the mother of another of Hellbent's stakes winners in Sunrays.

"It's probably taken us a while to figure out what type of mares really suit Hellbent," said Mitchell.

"He's such a beautiful specimen but he's not an overly heavy horse, so we've had to be quite selective but we now think we've struck a chord with the type of mares that really suit him. His record with Fastnet Rock mares has been quite phenomenal, because he's been very good at injecting a bit of speed and quality into those types of mare.

"His fertility seems to get better every year, but we limit his book to around 150 mares so that we don't overtax him. We know how fortunate we are to find a horse like him who we think is capable of following I Am Invincible. We've obviously had such a great run with Vinnie but it had concerned us that he would be a very tough act to follow, so it's very exciting to see Hellbent step up to the plate and it's certainly our aim to make him a champion sire."

With three lots by Hellbent forming part of Yarraman's 15-strong draft at the upcoming Australian Easter Yearling Sale, the timing of Invincible Ibis' dominant win in Hong Kong's most coveted prize is particularly opportunistic.

Hellbent was not represented at Inglis' premium sale last year, so that alone tells the story of the higher esteem in which he is now held by the sales companies and further evidence of that shifting perspective is provided by his sales average this year, which for the first time exceeds $150,000.

A record price for a Hellbent yearling was set at the Gold Coast in January when Michael Freedman and bloodstock agent Andrew Williams combined to pay $600,000 for his filly out of the stakes-placed mare La Tigeresa (Street Cry); and although it may be a stretch to think that one of his three Easter offerings could scale even headier heights, Mitchell is predicting another successful sale for the entire who signed off his career with victory in the 2018 William Reid Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m).

"We're very excited about his three lots at the Easter Sale," he told ANZ News.

"His colt out of Pierro Moss (Lot 16) is a lovely horse. The mare has produced a couple of lovely horses already, including Invincible Shield who won four in a row for Tony Gollan and is now going very well over in Hong Kong. He's a very clean-balanced, uncomplicated horse and I think he'll get even better when he gets to three or even four years old.

"Then we have the filly (Lot 48) out of Rose Of Mulan, who has been a very good producer and this girl is no exception. All the foals out of that mare have been quite big, so again I don't think she'll be an early two-year-old but she's got a lovely temperament and I think she'll sell well."

The final offering by Hellbent is Lot 423, a filly out of Melisende, who is a daughter of Yarraman's star-crossed sire Hinchinbrook, a son of Fastnet Rock, meaning she is born on a very similar cross to the aforementioned Savvy Hallie and Sunrays.

Melisende is a half-sister to stakes-winning I Am Invincible pair I Am Immortal and Godfather.

Continued from page 3 Mitchell said: “And then the other Hellbent filly is a real cracker. Hellbent over Hinchinbrook mares throws unbelievable types, Zip Lock was out of a Hinchinbrook mare and this filly is another outstanding individual.”

Despite the significant strides he has taken recently, Hellbent still has enormous ground to make up on his famous father, who has been crowned the country’s champion sire on three occasions.

Given that I Am Invincible is approaching his 22nd birthday and his mare numbers have been reduced in a bid to preserve his longevity, it is not unreasonable to suggest that his very best days may now be behind him. However, even once the team at Yarraman have taken the decision to call time on one of the great careers, his legacy will live on through the feats of his sons now standing at stud.

They of course include Home Affairs, Coolmore’s sensation who is virtually already guaranteed the first-season sire crown thanks in no small part to Guest House’s Golden Slipper (Gr 1, 1200m) success.

That groundbreaking triumph has already assured Guest House’s future career at stud and is yet another feather in I Am Invincible’s cap.

“We’ve been terribly lucky to find a stallion as good as Vinnie and the whole family have really enjoyed the ride he’s taken us on,” said Mitchell, who runs Yarraman in conjunction with his brother Arthur.

“It’s almost more exciting now that he’s a proven sire of sires, because some of the great stallions of the past haven’t been. We have Hellbent and it’s great for Coolmore that Home Affairs has made such a promising start to his career. They put a lot of money into the industry so I’m delighted for them, and hopefully they can find another future stallion by I Am Invincible at the yearling sales.

“He’s still got great libido but we’re obviously keen to manage him given his age. He’s a happy, healthy horse but we know he can’t go on forever. People have asked if we are going to add another stallion to our roster but you never want to rush into these decisions, and we’re very committed to Hellbent and also to Brave Smash, who is starting to make a name for himself.”

Group 1 winner Benedetta to star at Inglis Chairman's Sale

By Mary-Jo Jackson

Group 1 winner Benedetta (Hellbent) is a high-class addition to this year's Inglis Chairman's Sale, with the Ciaron Maher-trained mare set to go to market as one of the most accomplished race fillies offered in the southern hemisphere in 2026.

A standout performer since her three-year-old season, Benedetta has built an elite resume defined by consistency at the highest level. She won six of her first eight starts, including the $750,000 Inglis Sprint (1200m) at Flemington, where she defeated a field featuring 11 individual stakes winners, and placed in her first nine career outings.

Her crowning moment came in the 2024 Goodwood (Gr 1, 1200m) at Morphettville, where she defeated a deep field including Amelia's Jewel (Siyouni), Skybird (Exosphere), Climbing Star (Zoustar) and I Am Me (I Am Invincible). She has since proven a model of durability and class, finishing top five in ten of her 16 starts at Group 1 level.

A four-time Group 1 placegetter - including dual placings in the Black Caviar Lightning (Gr 1, 1000m), as well as the William Reid Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) and Robert Sangster Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) - Benedetta is also a dual Group 3 winner and is rated competitively alongside the likes of Amelia's Jewel, Legarto (Proisir) and Learning To Fly (Justify).

Purchased by Laurence Eales for $75,000 from Mill Park's 2021 Inglis Premier Yearling Sale draft, the mare has won eight races and over $2.4 million in prize-money.

Still in peak form aged five, she has enhanced her record this further this preparation, particularly when looking an unlucky placegetter when third to Tentyris (Street Boss) in the Black Caviar Lightning last month.

Further targets may include the All Aged Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m), Robert Sangster Stakes and $5 million The Quokka (1200m) before her appearance in the sale ring, where she will be offered as a racing and breeding prospect through Widden Stud's draft.

Inglis Bloodstock CEO Sebastian Hutch was delighted to secure the mare for the Chairman's Sale and said Benedetta would be among the standout offerings at Riverside on May 7.

"I think I can comfortably say that she's the most accomplished mare confirmed as a sale entry at this stage," Hutch told ANZ News.

"We have a good relationship with Laurence - we've spoken regularly about her. He's obviously inclined to enjoy her racing career which is totally understandable, but always said should he get the chance to sell her, Inglis would be at the forefront of his thoughts because she's a Premier graduate. It's a great part of our narrative at Chairman's to bring these narratives full circle.

"We had a meeting with Laurence prior to the Classic Sale and discussed his provisional plan for the mare and it's worked out for her to end up in the Chairman's Sale in May.

"I'm delighted because she's just so talented. She's a filly that showed talent from the get-go, whose race record I don't think necessarily reflects her ability. She was desperately unlucky not to beat Tentyris in the Lightning Stakes. Those sorts of things are crucial to the profile of a horse. She has phenomenal talent, she's good looking, she's a nice pedigree - it's hard not to be really enthusiastic about her."

By emerging sire Hellbent, a son of I Am Invincible (Invincible Spirit), Benedetta boasts a pedigree profile expected to appeal to a wide range of leading Australian stallions.

"I Am Invincible is obviously a champion stallion, but he's becoming hugely significant as a broodmare sire," Hutch said.

"A few of his better-bred fillies haven't had the opportunity to produce racing stock yet but that's beginning to happen and the results have been eye-catching, to say the least. I think it's inevitable he'll end up a champion broodmare sire as well.

"And then you have Hellbent, who appears to be following an eerily similar trajectory to his own sire as a stallion. He started off as something of an unheralded young stallion. He had a Hong Kong Derby winner on Sunday, significant 2YOs, significant 3YOs, older horses who train on, in the end all from his starter books. His profile will only grow as better mares start to come on stream.

"And so this his best daughter on offer really does make significant appeal, especially when you consider she's out of a very capable Doomsday mare. Doomsday as a broodmare sire has produced the likes of Trapeze Artist - there's a lot to like. It's pretty exciting."

Widden Stud's Antony Thompson described Benedetta as "a rare opportunity."

"High-end Group 1-winning mares like Benedetta are seldom offered at public auction," Thompson said. "She has a progressive pedigree, an ideal physical type and all the attributes to become a significant broodmare."

Benedetta joins a strong Chairman's Sale line-up that includes triple Group 1 winner Provence (Savabeel), millionaire mares Arabian Summer (Too Darn Hot) and Generosity (Divine Prophet), and stakes-winning juvenile Kiki Express (Sepoy), among others.

Supplementary entries for the Chairman's Sale remain open until April 24. To enter, click here.

Belle Cheval set for Vinery test

Belle Cheval

RACE IMAGES

Trainer Mark Walker is not conceding Saturday's $750,000 Vinery Stud Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) at Rosehill to boom filly Ohope Wins (Ocean Park), backing fellow New Zealander Belle Cheval (Savabeel) to measure up in her first test at the trip. The Te Akau Racing filly steps up from a narrow defeat in The Kiwi (Listed, 1500m) and will be having her first run at 2000 metres, while Ohope Wins drops back in distance after her New Zealand Oaks (Gr 1, 2400m) victory. "We know that horse really well from New Zealand and they are coming back from 2400 to 2000, I'd rather be probably going 1500 to 2000," Walker said. "But she has got very good New Zealand form, that's for sure. You don't know until you go to Australia how the New Zealand form is going to measure up, but Belle Cheval's run in The NZB Kiwi was really good. She's at 2000 metres for the first time, but she's by Savabeel and most of them get that sort of distance." Belle Cheval has had just six starts, highlighted by a placing in the New Zealand 1,000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) at Riccarton and Group 3 wins over 1200 and 1400 metres. The Vinery will be her final run of the campaign before a spell ahead of a Melbourne spring. "She just has the one run then goes down to our Melbourne stable for three or four days and then we'll send her out for a spell," Walker said. The trainer has earmarked races such as the Sir Rupert Clarke Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m) and Toorak Handicap (Gr 1, 1600m) as potential spring targets.

Tom Kitten chases second 2000-metre Group 1

Dual All-Star Mile (Gr 1, 1600m) winner Tom Kitten (Harry Angel) will get another chance to prove himself at 2000 metres when he lines up in Saturday's $2 million Australian Cup (Gr 1, 2000m) at Flemington. The five-year-old is chasing his first win at the trip since claiming the Spring Champion Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) in 2023, having since placed in both the Queen Elizabeth Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) and Champions Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) behind Via Sistina (Fastest Rock). Co-trainer Sam Freedman, who trains in partnership with his father Anthony, believes the step up in distance will suit. "He's in good form and at 2000 metres he might be slightly more effective than the mile," Freedman said. "He bounced out of the [last] run really well, so he's going to be ready to go next week. "Three weeks between runs suits and his fitness is good." Tom Kitten heads into the race chasing a third consecutive win, having taken out the Kevin Heffernan Stakes (Gr 3, 1400m) before his victory in the All-Star Mile at Flemington earlier this month. The Godolphin homebred has won eight of 31 starts and earned more than $7.5 million in prize-money. He is one of 16 entries for the Australian Cup, with Pride Of Jenni (Pride Of Dubai), Birdman (Free Eagle) and defending champion Light Infantry Man (Fast Company) among the leading contenders.

Bourke makes move to Victorian ranks

Victorian racing has welcomed a new addition to its riding ranks, with promising Sydney apprentice Molly Bourke relocating south in a bid to gain further opportunities. Bourke completed much of her apprenticeship in Wagga before moving to Sydney, where she finished runner-up in last season's apprentices' premiership. She has already claimed stakes success, winning the 2024 ATC Cup (Listed, 2000m) at Rosehill aboard Floating (Puissance De Lune). "I've come down here just to, while the carnival's on in Sydney, see if we can get a bit more of a go and try and knock off that claim a little bit more," Bourke told Racing.com. "I've got the two kilos still in town and my apprenticeship comes to an end in November. We thought we'd come down and see if we can get some momentum again and see how it goes." Previously apprenticed to John Sargent, Bourke is now on loan to Mick Kent, who will oversee her stint in Victoria. "Mick offered us the opportunity to come and be based under him," she said. "He's been great so far, allowing me to be a bit of a freelancer and ride as much outside work as possible." Bourke currently rides at a minimum of 51.5kg, with the ability to get down to 50kg with notice.

Bargain buy Mayfair Street makes quick return with debut win

The value of online purchasing was on show again at Matamata on Sunday, where bargain buy Mayfair Street (Savile Row) made a winning debut in the Entain/NZB Insurance Pearl Series 2YO (1050m). Trained and owned by Peter and Jessica Brosnan, the gelding was sent out at double-figure odds despite winning one of his two lead-up trials. Jumping cleanly from an inside gate for Jasmine Fawcett, Mayfair Street led throughout and held on gamely to defeat Sir Richie (Thunder Down Under) by a short head, with favourite Miss Janet (Makfi) a further half-head away in third after charging home late. The victory's $10,360 prize pot more than repaid the $2,700 the Brosnans paid for the son of Savile Row (I Am Invincible) via the Gavelhouse online platform as a rising two-year-old. "He was already broken in and gelded, and even though he wasn't a big horse, there was nothing wrong with him," Brosnan said. Bred by Sarah and Andrew Scott of Wexford Stables, Mayfair Street was sold due to surplus stock. "Sarah and Andrew were quite up-front about why they were selling him, they just had too many horses," Brosnan said. "He galloped well on the course proper on Tuesday and when he got the draw [two] we were quite confident." Despite interest, the Brosnans are unlikely to sell. "Now that he's won a race there are some decent stakes to be racing for, not just this season but next year as well." The stable, better known for jumpers, has around ten in work as they look ahead to the winter season.

Rioja impresses with dominant Matamata maiden win

Rioja

RACE IMAGES

Promising filly Rioja (Almanzor) confirmed her ability with a dominant maiden victory at Matamata on Sunday, delighting trainers Simon and Katrina Alexander. The Almanzor (Wootton Bassett) filly had shown early promise with a placing on debut at Pukekohe and a runner-up effort fresh-up at Taupo, and justified $1.90 favouritism with a four-length romp in the Kaimai Vets 1200 (1200m) under Warren Kennedy. "It was nice to get the win under the filly's belt because she is certainly capable," Katrina Alexander said. "In her first run there was a little bit of greenness and Taupo was her first experience left-handed, so it was nice for her to repeat that and get the win." The Cambridge Breeders' Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) next month is a potential target, although the stable is in no rush. "Cambridge Stud have been brilliant...they've always said the Almanzors take time, so we'll stay patient," Alexander said. "We'll get another run into her and that will give a more realistic view of what she might head for."

Tuxedo tipped as future WFA force

Trainer Shaune Ritchie believes Tuxedo (Tivaci) can develop into a major weight-for-age contender next season after sending the improving gelding for a break. Ritchie, who trains in partnership with Colm Murray, opted against a potential Australian campaign following a busy four-year-old season. "We did toy with taking him to Australia, but he had eight runs as a four-year-old and that's enough," Ritchie said. "He's gone out on a high and he'll spend a good six to eight weeks in the paddock and will benefit a lot from that. He's a big-framed horse and he can probably race 50 kilos or so heavier next spring...then he'll really be a force to be reckoned with at weight-for-age." Tuxedo showed his progression this preparation, winning the Aotearoa Classic (Gr 3, 1600m) before finishing third in the New Zealand Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) behind Legarto (Proisir) and Waitak (Proisir). "We were delighted and that told us he can run 2000 metres out strongly and is right up with the best horses," Ritchie said. "He's gotten better and better as he's got stronger through the autumn and there will be more improvement again when he turns five." Tuxedo will target domestic Group 1 races in the spring, with a potential Australian campaign also under consideration. "As long as he's going really well, we could perhaps look at a hit and run on Melbourne or Sydney at the back end of the spring," Ritchie said.

Spark set for stakes return after maiden breakthrough

Trainer Guy Lowry is keen to give promising filly Spark (Time Test) another shot at black type following her maiden win at Tauherenikau on Sunday. Trained in partnership with Leah Zydenbos, Spark has always shown ability, finishing fourth on debut in last year's Canterbury Belle Stakes (Listed, 1200m) at Riccarton before two runner-up efforts. Liquorland Masterton & Matahiwi Vineyard (1000m) by 1.3 lengths. “We have always rated Spark quite highly,” Lowry said. “We took her down to Canterbury without a start and to run fourth in a Canterbury Belle was great. She’s just maturing into a nice filly.” Lowry has pencilled in the Cambridge Breeders’ Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) at Te Rapa on ANZAC Day as her main target. “We will give her one more start with the intention of having the Cambridge Breeders’ in our sights,” he said. Stablemate Bedtime Story (Per Incanto) will contest Saturday’s NZ Thoroughbred Breeders’ Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m) at Trentham following a first-up win at Wanganui. Meanwhile, in-form mare Sol De Otono (The Autumn Sun) is set for a stakes tilt in the Manawatu Breeders’ Stakes (Gr 3, 2000m) on April 6. “She is good and deserves a crack,” Lowry said.

HKJC raises Four-Year-Old Classic Series purse to HK$56 million

The Hong Kong Jockey Club (HKJC) has increased prize money for the Four-Year-Old Classic Series, with the total purse rising by HK$4 million to a record HK$56 million for next season. The move further strengthens incentives for owners competing in Hong Kong’s premier series for emerging talent, which has produced stars such as Golden Sixty (Medaglia D’Oro), Romantic Warrior (Acclamation) and Voyage Bubble (Deep Field). From 2027, both the Hong Kong Classic Mile (Listed, 1600m) and Hong Kong Classic Cup (Listed, 1800m) will be worth HK$14 million, up from HK$13 million, while the Hong Kong Derby (Listed, 2000m) will carry a record HK$28 million as it celebrates its 150th running. HKJC executive director of racing Andrew Harding said the increase reflects the importance of owner investment in maintaining the quality of Hong Kong racing. “The enhancement in stakes...further rewards owners who have made significant investments by purchasing young talents with a view to winning the BMW Hong Kong Derby,” Harding said. Only Rapper Dragon (Street Boss) (2017) and Golden Sixty (2020) have completed a clean sweep of the series. The prize money boost follows the introduction of a Premier Series bonus scheme, offering up to HK$4 million in additional earnings for eligible horses, complementing existing PP, PPG and ISG bonus structures.

Cool Archie to stand at his Newhaven Park birthplace

By Mary-Jo Jackson

Group 1-winning juvenile Cool Archie (Cool Aza Beel) has been secured for stud duties by Newhaven Park ahead of the 2026 breeding season.

The Boorowa operation's principal John Kelly confirmed the deal had been finalised in recent days, with the colt to return to his birthplace where he will be syndicated. Lifetime shares are set to be released in the lead-up to the Inglis Australian Easter Yearling Sale, where his brother will be offered by the farm as Lot 225.

A member of the first crop of Newhaven Park's resident sire Cool Aza Beel (Savabeel), Cool Archie emerged as one of the standout juveniles of the 2024/25 season, compiling a dominant sequence of five consecutive wins during the Queensland Winter Carnival.

Prepared by Chris and Corey Munce for owner Max Whitby, the colt opened his account in a 1200-metre maiden at Eagle Farm before progressing through the juvenile ranks with authority. His campaign featured victories in the Dalrello Stakes (Listed, 1000m), Champagne Classic (Gr 2, 1200m) and BRC Sires' Produce Stakes (Gr 2, 1400m), before culminating in a decisive win in the JJ Atkins Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m).

In completing the Sires' Produce-JJ Atkins double, Cool Archie mirrored the achievement of Broadsiding (Too Darn Hot) the previous season, underlining the significance of his performance profile as a stallion prospect.

His juvenile season also included a placing in the BJ McLachlan Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) prior to Christmas, highlighting both his precocity and progression through the campaign.

Cool Archie retired the winner of five of his nine starts, his career curtailed following a training setback sustained during a barrier trial at Ipswich in December.

Kelly said: "There have been very few

Cool Archie

two-year-olds capable of putting together five wins in succession, four of those being long-established Queensland stakes races, and for me that is one of his major selling points.

"His JJ Atkins win confirmed his credentials as a stallion prospect, and when it became clear his racing career had ended, we were very keen to bring him home to Newhaven."

Kelly also pointed to the strength of Cool Archie's form through subsequent results of beaten rivals.

"The manner of his winning streak was a highlight of the season, and the form is holding up strongly through horses like Grafterburners and Torque To Be Sure, who have both gone on to win feature races."

Cool Archie joins a notable list of JJ Atkins winners to retire to stud, including Broadsiding, The Autumn Sun (Redoute's Choice), Darci Brahma (Danehill) and Show A Heart (Brave Warrior), while the race also features prominently in Newhaven Park's own history through former stallions Zeditave (The Judge) and Luskin Star (Kaoru Star).

"Zeditave and Luskin Star both won the race in its earlier iterations and went on to become outstanding stallions for the farm," Kelly said.

"We're hopeful Cool Archie can write his own chapter in that history."

Further details regarding his service fee and syndication structure will be announced in due course.

Only place to be

By Lloyd Jackson

Sydney was definitely the place to be on Saturday. Anyone with even a remote connection to our fabulous industry couldn't help but notice that Rosehill and its five Group 1s was the centre of racing's universe. The upcoming Championships will be hard pressed to match the quality of racing that Saturday provided, or the quality of fields assembled.

Even the five-horse field of the Ranvet Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) rose to the occasion when Aeliana (Castelvecchio) and Lindermann (Lonhro) fought tooth and nail over the final 200 metres, proving that small fields, while poor for betting revenues, doesn't always translate into dull racing.

Lindermann looked spent at the 100 metres but gave everything he had to the line. The difference may have been James McDonald aboard Aeliana, the mare determined as ever to gain the upper hand in the last strides. What a way to start a Group 1 extravaganza.

Last year's Australian Derby (Gr 1, 2400m) was conceived in Australia but foaled in New Zealand and sold at the 2023 NZB Karaka Yearling Sale (Book 1) for $180,000 from the Rich Hill Stud draft. Since her Derby victory Aeliana had six starts which included three Group 1 seconds. She was due.

Australian HOTY panelists are in for a headscratcher when voting for Champion Three-Year-Old. Until Saturday, Observer (Ghaiyyath) would have headed most lists due to his top-level double in the Victoria Derby (Gr 1, 2500m) and the Australian Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m). However, Autumn Boy (The Autumn Sun) may have thrown a spanner in the works with his own double, adding the Rosehill Guineas (Gr 1, 2000m) to his Caulfield Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) victory last October.

Observer held the advantage rounding into the straight but Autumn Boy tracked him, ranged alongside at the 300 metres then with 200 metres remaining it was clear that Observer had no response before battling away for third. It might be unwise to write Observer off at this point as Rosehill was his first attempt clock-wise. Keep in mind he is proven at the Derby distance. Nevertheless, Autumn Boy oozes class and, with the Derby remaining, deserves to be ranked at least equal to Observer. Look for a rousing clash in the Australian Derby at Randwick on April 4.

Autumn Boy's breeder Richard Rutherford of Beltana Stud, Rangiora, has bred from this line for more than forty years including Caulfield Cup (Gr 1, 2400m) winner Affinity (Zamazaan). Autumn Boy's dam Rosegarden (Savabeel) possesses a doubling up of Sir Tristram (Sir Ivor) via Savabeel's paternal grandsire as well as via Rosegarden's granddam, a daughter of Sir Tristram's Grosvenor.

Autumn Boy was sold at the 2024 Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sales for $200,000 while Rosegarden was passed in at the 2018 NZB Karaka Yearling Sale. Her dam is the Group 3 and three-times Listed winner O'Reilly Rose (O'Reilly) who ranks as a three-quarter blood sister to Newmarket Handicap (Gr 1, 1200m) victor Shamexpress (O'Reilly), sire of the world's top rated racehorse Ka Ying Rising.

Arrowfield dominates

Arrowfield's The Autumn Sun (Redoute's Choice) enjoyed an outstanding day when his Autumn Glow brought up a Group 1 double, scorching a very good field in the George Ryder Stakes (Gr 1, 1500m). This win, her eleventh to remain unbeaten, was comprehensive. Fast becoming "The People's Horse", we should know this week what the stable decides regarding her next start. The Doncaster Mile (Gr 1, 1600m) is a possibility but the same connections may prefer to avoid the rush and bustle of a tough handicap and stick to weight-for-age, the Queen Elizabeth Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) the most obvious target.

However, consider that Autumn Glow's South African triple Group 1 sprinting dam Via Africa (Var) never won beyond 1200 metres. Via Africa's dam and granddam each won three times, all at 1000 metres. Countering that is The Autumn Sun himself who was successful in the 2000 metres Rosehill Guineas. Blood suggests a question mark.

Between Autumn Boy and Autumn Glow, they added a cool million to The Autumn Sun's sire earnings to make a dent in the lead held by former Arrowfield Champion Sire, Snitzel (Redoute's Choice). Two races later Snitzel hit back with $580,000 when Marhoona (Snitzel) returned to the scene of her 2025 Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) with an exciting win in The Galaxy (Gr 1, 1100m).

Aeliana's courageous finish in the Ranvet had the crowd on its toes but The Galaxy provided the best of the day when Marhoona thrust her head in front of a wall of five other runners, the first six separated by a neck and sending her sire Snitzel out to a lead of $3.9 million over The Autumn Sun. It will take a bold prediction and some super performances to bridge that gap at this stage of the season. Wins in the Australian Derby by Autumn Sun and in the Queen Elizabeth Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) will help enormously but will they be enough?

Springboard

Coolmore's Home Affairs (I Am Invincible) could not have made a better start to his stud career, siring a Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) winner with his initial crop. Studs dream of such a springboard.

Guest House arrived at Rosehill with

Guest House

a solitary win to his name, his debut at Cranbourne late December. Jamie Melham was aboard that day as well as at Caulfield for a second in the Blue Diamond Prelude (Gr 3, 1100m). Melham stuck with him in the Blue Diamond Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) when third but Zac Lloyd took the mount in the Slipper, Melham opting for Closer To Free (Street Boss) who had Guest House's measure when running second in the Blue Diamond.

Form from the Blue Diamond was key as Slipper runner up, Streisand (Magnus) was the victress at Caulfield, ridden by Jamie's husband Ben Melham while Jamie's mount beat one home.

The pace for the Slipper was hot which set up Guest House's strong finish. There was some serious jostling for a lane to the winning post at the 200 metres when Guest House dove towards the inner, taking the line of Fireball (Snitzel). The latter was severely impeded yet found his feet at the 100 metres and finished well for seventh. It will not be surprising to learn that Lloyd will be relieved of some of his fee and stood down for a few meetings.

Three stakes winners and a further four Group or Listed placed winners is the score so far for Home Affairs yet trainers have sent out 27 runners to date and just five are winners. No doubt that ratio will improve with time but they have been given every chance. Home Affairs grew another leg at three and it would not surprise if his stock improve and mature similarly to him. Coolmore will not be disappointed and it is London to a brick that his service fee will increase for 2026.

Co-trainer Mick Price found Guest House at the 2025 Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale for $270,000. He is one of six winners from his Group 2-placed dam Flamboyant Lass (Stratum), herself a sister to Queensland Sires' Produce Stakes (Gr 2, 1400m) winner Attention (Stratum). He is a descendant of USA-bred Palm Beach Deb (Akureyri), imported to Australia in 1988. The latter foaled dual Group 1 winner Tempest Morn (Thunder Gulch) while Guest House is the second Group 1 winner to represent the family which has produced ten stakes winners according to Arion Pedigrees.

Ellerslie to Caulfield

Who knew that the Railway Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m), run at Ellerslie on Karaka Millions night, would provide the winner of the William Reid Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) but that is exactly what took place at Caulfield on Saturday. Enjoying a six-race winning sequence, Jigsaw (Manhattan Rain) added his second Group 1 among a total of 15 wins with a gutsy front-running display. The seven-year-old has banked almost $3 million and is in the best form of his life.

Drawn widest for the William Reid he was sitting duck when they turned for home as there was bags or room for a challenge on his inner. He was headed at the 200 metres but reclaimed the lead soon after then defied his opponents to get past.

Jigsaw's dam Demandz was foaled in New Zealand but conceived in Australia, being by former champion sire Lonhro (Octagonal). She won in both countries while her dam, Loaded Command (Commands) was a Listed winner at Te Rapa, Demandz an only foal.

Here at home

Three stakes races were staged in New Zealand, two at Trentham and one at Riccarton. The Wellington Guineas (Gr 2, 1600m) saw an Australian-bred trifecta when Origin Of Love (Snitzel) won easily from Midnight Train (Yes Yes Yes) and Alottago (Tagaloa). Since her win in the War Decree Stakes (Gr 3, 1600m) last October, the filly has been ultra consistent and honest. She deserved another win, this her third in ten starts.

Craig Grylls had little choice to take over the pace at the 1000 metres when caught wide but he rated her beautifully to the 200 metres where she kicked clear to put the race beyond doubt. Clearly her best yet performance, Origin Of Love was a very good second to the outstanding Ohope Wins in Ellerslie's Sir Patrick Hogan Stakes (Gr 2, 2000m) so her connections can look forward to next season with some confidence.

At Riccarton was the South Island Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes (Gr 3, 1600m) and Wingatui visitor Inflamed (Ghibellines) showed up six days after scoring at her home track to add to her already good record in advance of her likely retirement to stud, landing win eight for earnings of $325,000. She settled just back of the leader to the top of the straight but took over a long way from home. Particularly vulnerable, she ground away and even increased her lead late for a very determined win.

The six-year-old landed the Stewards' Stakes (Listed, 1200m) last November, after a hail storm which had a dramatic effect on the track that day, resulting in a Heavy 9 surface. Co-trainer Shane Anderton believes that Inflamed performs best on firm conditions which were presented on Saturday. The mare's winning time was a solid 1:34.29, the last 600 metres in a smart 33.94.

She will be a welcome addition to White Robe Lodge's broodmare roster and the Group 3 win will only make her and her future foals all the more attractive. Her pedigree page will feature the fact that she ranks as a three-quarter blood sister to Group 1 winner and $2.5 million earner Smokin' Romans (Ghibellines). Her dam is the Listed winner Ortem Fire (Gallant Guru), a half-sister to dual Group 3 winner Inferno (Yaminan Vital), the latter the dam of Smokin' Romans.

Trentham's Lightning Handicap (Listed, 1200m) went to Platinum Attack (Santos) whose record includes a brace of very good close up performances without reward. A stakes winner of the Pegasus Stakes (Listed, 1000m) last November, Platinum Attack has been honest at the top level so the easing to Listed company played into his hands for win seven from 22 starts, banking $400,000.

Always out of trouble, from midfield he launched from the 600m, had one to beat at the 300m then took over before the 200 metres. To the line he was never in any danger, scoring in 1:08.02 the last 600m in 33.17, too fast for his opponents.

His trainer Lisa Latta found him as a weanling at the 2021 Magic Millions National Weanling Sale for $37,000. His dam Conchita (Uncle Mo) won four times including in Sydney and Melbourne and her dam is a half-sister to international Group winner Red Cardinal (Montjeu) and to French Group 2 winner Maria Royal (Montjeu). His sire Santos (I Am Invincible) is now resident at Highview Stud.
