Beast from the East set to create deep impact in southern hemisphere

In 2013, Galileo's (Sadler's Wells) dominance in Europe, both on the track and subsequently in the broodmare band, prompted Coolmore to look East to the rising sun of Japan to source an outcross stallion to send a handful of their high-class Galileo mares to, namely the all-conquering Japanese champion sire Deep Impact (Sunday Silence).

Snowfall's (Deep Impact) incredible 16-length victory in last Friday's Epsom Oaks (Gr 1, 1m 4f) was yet another example of the late Deep Impact's extraordinary influence when crossed with Galileo mares, as she became the second Classic winner bred on the cross, after Coolmore's 2018 2,000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1m) winner Saxon Warrior. While the cross features a further two Grade 2 winners in Japan and French Group 3 winner Harajuku, all from just 31 runners. Continued on page 2>>

Figtrees sells for $5.35 million to private investors

The Murray and Sue Murdoch-owned Figtrees has been sold for $5.35 million in a joint venture with Magic Millions and iThink Property, the real estate agency run by former Magic Millions auctioneer Clint Donovan.

The Hinterland property, which features 195 acres of land and three homes, has been developed over the last 13 years by the Murdochs and sold to private investors yesterday. Industry News page 15 >>

In Australia, likewise, in the years since 1990 when Arrowfield's John Messara first acquired Danehill (Danzig) to stand in the country, the gradual dominance of the stallion and his prevailing sire sons in the proceeding years saw Arrowfield, in 2019, to also look East to provide the sought-after outcross for their exceptionally-talented pool of dominant Danehill-line mares.

“HE'S (MAURICE) PROBABLY GOING TO SUIT A LOT OF THOSE (AUSTRALIAN) MARES, AND PHYSICALLY HE SUITS THEM AS WELL, HE'S A BIG STRONG HORSE, BUT YOU CAN MATCH HIM WITH A BIGGER MARE AND YOU GET AN ADMIRABLE RESULT. ON ALL COUNTS HE'S WORKING WITH A WIDE SPECTRUM OF MARES

- JON FREYER

Indeed, the prospect for success of the cross can trace back through his lineage, with Maurice descending back to Hail To Reason (Turn-To), whose son Sunday Silence crossed with Danehill mares at a 36 per cent strike rate of stakes winners to runners, and included Australian Oaks (Gr 1, 2400m) winner Sunday Joy and American Grade 2 winner Silent Name.

Yet, in their headline Japanese shuttler Maurice (Screen Hero), he is showing the potential of clicking far beyond that, and his two contenders for this weekend's J J Atkins Plate (Gr 1, 1600m) at Eagle Farm, out of a Tale Of The Cat (Storm Cat) and Invincible Spirit (Green Desert) mare respectively, are testament to that, as the Beast from the East seeks to claim a first success at the highest level.

“(The cross with Danehill-line mares) is exactly the reasoning behind it,” said Arrowfield's bloodstock manager Jon Freyer, on the operation's decision to shuttle Japanese stallions in 2019, and again in 2021 after a year hiatus induced by the outbreak of Covid-19.

“But it's not necessarily the Danehill lines. We thought the Danehill lines would suit him and be very popular with breeders and would suit a lot of our mares, but he's been successful across the board.

“The horse that's running in the J J Atkins, Port Louis, is out of a Tale Of The Cat mare and the other one is out of an Invincible Spirit mare, so there's some very good blood there.

“We're very positive about him and the market is positive about him and we've just been inundated with bookings for him for the coming season.”

Although both maidens, last-start BRC Sires' Produce (Gr 2, 1400m) runner up Port Louis and BRC Champagne Classic (Gr 2, 1400m) second Invincible Tears have the chance to claim Group 1 success tomorrow for Maurice, who scored his sixth individual winner on Wednesday when the Julius Sandhu-trained Sharp Response won a maiden at Sale.

He, again, is out of a diverse bloodline through Host (Hussonet) mare Marli Magic. While earlier in the spring, and flying the flag for the Danehill-line mare, is the Peter and Paul Snowden-trained Mazu, who won a maiden at Canterbury before running third in the Pago Pago Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) in a bid to qualify for the following week's Golden Slipper (Gr 1, 1200m).

"We thought he (Port Louis) was about the pick of all our Maurice's from that first crop," said Freyer. "Katsumi Yoshida bought him privately when the Easter live sale was cancelled. From day one Ciaran Maher was giving us very good reports about him and was very positive about him, and his judgement's been vindicated, here he is in a Group 1 and he was probably a shade unlucky in the Champagne Stakes.

"The good thing is, he's (Maurice) probably going to suit a lot of those (Australian) mares, and physically he suits them as well, he's a big strong horse, but you can match him with a bigger mare and you get an admirable result. On all counts he's working with a wide spectrum of mares.

"We've just finalised all our matings with our own mares and we'll be looking to send him around 44 mares this season, so we're really getting behind him.

"There'd be a good proportion of Danehill mares. When we balance up our portfolio, obviously with the likes of The Autumn Sun, Snitzel, Pariah and Showtime, we're not sending a lot of the Danehill-line mares to them, so they're going to the Japanese horses and the likes of Shalaa and Dundee, so, I'd say it would be about 75 per cent, being mares with Danehill blood."

This season, Arrowfield have bolstered their Japanese sire ranks with Admire Mars (Daiwa Major), a Group 1-winning juvenile, who went on to score at the elite level over a mile in Japan and Hong Kong.

"He's an exceptional racehorse, a very good two-year-old, and competed internationally in Hong Kong successfully," said Freyer. "He's got a nice pedigree, he's a very good looking horse. Daiwa Major we think will work very well with Danehill mares, he has in Japan, and I think he's very competitively priced.

"We've recognised for some time that Japanese form and Japanese bloodstock is of a particularly high calibre, and we wanted to use a certain amount of it through the stud, with our broodmare band and obviously with the stallions as well.

"We've seen all around the world, wherever Japanese horses have competed, they've been remarkably successful, and now we're seeing, with the likes of Snowfall and Saxon Warrior before them, that with Deep Impact they're of a Group 1 standard in Europe.

"It would be foolish not to have an element of that in the stud and, if the right opportunity comes along, we'd be happy to invest further, but we're very happy with what's gone on so far." Continued on page 6>>

Heinrich's Tears hope to prove Invisible

The only filly in Saturday's J J Atkins field is the Gillian Heinrich-trained Invisible Tears, who arrives into the race after a luckless ninth in the BRC Sires' Produce, and a second placing in the Champagne Classic, one of three times she's filled the runner-up spot in her five-start career.

For Heinrich, it would be a poignant success, with the Gold Coast trainer having beaten cancer twice since 2015, five years after she saddled Military Rose (General Nediym) to success in the Magic Millions 2YO Classic (RL, 1200m).

"It's been very exciting, and I'm actually looking forward to Saturday, because I think the mile will really suit the filly. She got a little bit held up last start, and although she was unplaced, it was a very good run. She couldn't get out when she needed to," said Heinrich to ANZ Bloodstock News.

"The Magic Millions win was my biggest win, but obviously the Group 1, for us as owners and for me as a trainer, would be really something, and right there on the top of my list."

Invisible Tears was purchased by her daughter, Tayla, for $220,000 at the Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale, and is the first foal out of unraced German mare Networking (Invincible Spirit), who Badgers Bloodstock purchased for £85,000 for Arrowfield Stud from the Godolphin draft out of the 2017 Tattersalls July Sale. Networking is a half-sister to Hong Kong sensation Pakistan Star (Shamardal).

Invisible Tears as a yearling

MAGIC MILLIONS

"She's just such a beautiful type. She's got a really good shoulder, good girth, good thigh, everything that we like in a horse," added Heinrich.

"She's put it together already as a two-year-old which is pretty good, and I'm very happy with her.

"She's looking for further a little bit down the line and I really think she'll be a better three-year-old, so whatever happens she'll be going out after today. I never really expected her to show up as a two-year-old, but she kept measuring up and we just kept going."

McDonald to ride Ayrton

James McDonald will take the ride on Ayrton (Iffraaj) in the Gunsynd Classic (Group 3, 1600m) at Eagle Farm tomorrow. The three-year-old, trained by Mick Price and Michael Kent jr, lost his unbeaten status when second over 1400 metres at the course two weeks ago, meaning a re-route to this race rather than the Stradbroke Handicap (Gr 1, 1400m). With usual partner Jamie Kah booked for Melbourne, McDonald is happy to get the nod. "I've watched him work, they've put up a bit of footage but no, I haven't seen him. Mick (Price) says he's pretty straightforward, so I hope he's right. I'm sure he'll be fine," McDonald said on the Moody On The Mic podcast. "The positive thing (is) he's had a run at Eagle Farm, it's been a tricky track so far, some go on it, some don't, so at least he's had a run." McDonald is hoping for the same fortune Kah had when she won the Black Caviar Lightning Stakes (Gr 1, 1000m) on his usual mount Nature Strip (Nicconi). "I'm hoping to do the same job ... you never know, I might try and keep this ride," he quipped. Ayrton will start from barrier one and was priced early as a $1.80 shot.

Melbourne race meetings to remain crowd free

Racing Victoria announced yesterday morning that metropolitan meetings will remain spectator-free until at least next Thursday. The decision comes despite the Victoria state government's easing of restrictions, which would allow up to 100 spectators on-course. Licensed premises also remain closed to all but essential individuals, but TABs and pub TABs will open from today. "Following discussions with the Melbourne Racing Club, racing spectator-free at their upcoming meetings is the most practical decision at this time, with the club's preference to welcome spectators back once larger numbers are approved," said RV chief executive Giles Thompson. Country racing clubs will be allowed to have up to 150 people in attendance, although the Swan Hill Jockey Club is only allowing owners with runners. "Following the further easing of restrictions in regional Victoria from Friday, we are pleased country clubs will have the opportunity to welcome back up to 150 spectators on course, however, this will be at the discretion of each club in consultation with Racing Victoria and Country Racing Victoria," Thompson continued.

Classique Legend to remain Down Under for life

Classique Legend (Not A Single Doubt) arrived home to Les Bridge's Sydney stable on Tuesday after quarantine in Hong Kong and New Zealand. Owner Bon Ho said he has no intention of moving him again but not did not rule out taking part in overseas races if the gelding returns to the peak form that saw him win The Everest (1200m) last spring. "I think Classique Legend will probably stay in Sydney for the rest of his life," Ho told Racing.com. "If the opportunity arises, and the horse matures a bit further, we never know, I might consider at that time sending him to Japan or Dubai for one race." Ho transferred the five-year-old to Caspar Fownes' Sha Tin stable in the hope of capitalising on a weak sprinting division there, but a rushed prep saw him finish 11th in the Hong Kong Sprint (Gr 1, 1200m) in December.

The grey then bled when preparing for a late-season return. "I wish I didn't do it because it's seven months gone," Ho said. "The decision at the time was made based on the horse (being able to) settle down in Hong Kong, like Southern Legend. Based in Hong Kong, the horse would be able to move to other places more readily and easily. We could never know at the time whether the horse would adapt to Hong Kong."

All About Eve to get breaks in Elvstroem Classic

All About Eve (Star Turn) flashed home for a head second behind Magic Max (Magnus) a fortnight ago and trainer Andrew Noblet is hoping for a similar performance in the $100,000 VOBIS Gold Elvstroem Classic (1300m) at Swan Hill today, but with a bit of luck to boot. "She was a touch unlucky. I was rapt with the way she closed off though," Noblet told Racing.com. "She just ended up in an ordinary spot, through no fault of Daniel's (Stackhouse), the run was there for a second and then it wasn't, when she was going sideways, they were going forwards. It was a little bit her fault, she got a bit distracted down in gate one and missed the kick a bit, which brought her undone and things didn't play out from there." That latest effort, which sees her listed as a $1.90 shot for this test, followed a victory on debut at Bendigo. The $110,000 Inglis Melbourne Premier Yearling Sale graduate could be in for a $76,000 pay day if successful this time. "She has come out of the run in very good order and should get every chance," Noblet added.

Savatoxl yet to be passed fit for Stradbroke

Savatoxl (Kuroshio) must pass a vet check this afternoon to ensure he makes the field for the Stradbroke Handicap at Eagle Farm tomorrow. The Tony and Calvin McEvoy-trained gelding failed to satisfy Queensland Racing Integrity Stewards following an examination yesterday. Savatoxl failed an initial examination prior to his last race, the Kingsford-Smith Cup (Gr 1, 1300m) two weeks ago, only to be passed fit.

Vorster set for Stradbroke on Savatoxl

Barend Vorster is looking to seal a Group 1 double aboard Savatoxl, should the gelding be passed fit for the Stradbroke Handicap tomorrow. The South African partnered Savatoxl to victory in The Goodwood (Gr 1, 1200m) at Morphettville last month before being undone by a wide draw when a close sixth in the Kingsford-Smith Cup last time. "He's done really well and obviously that Group 1 was a good win for him," Vorster told Racing.com. "Then we went up to Queensland and drew the outside car park and had to do a little bit of work across. I still felt he really finished his race off strong and I felt his best work was the last little bit, so I feel going into the Stradbroke, obviously 1400 metres, I'm not very worried about stepping up and that little bit of extra ground." Savatoxl has drawn 13 of 21 this time and Vorster is hoping he will be able to get across and find the fence. "He's got an inclination of leaning to the inside a bit, that's why he's really enjoyed, when I've won on him those two times, that he's got over, used his natural speed and got to the fence, he just really loves running that way," he added. The former Singapore champion is the stable rider for the McEvoy's, having moved to Adelaide two and a half years ago.

Orman out to redeem in Stradbroke

Jimmy Orman is leading the way in the Queensland jockey premiership and the young hoop will attempt to bag a first Group 1 win when he rides Niccanova (Nicconi) in the Stradbroke Handicap. "I think if you ask anyone who's lived in Queensland, what race they'd like to win in Queensland, they'd say the Stradbroke, because it's our iconic race. It would mean a lot to me if I could win it," Orman told Racing.com. Horse and rider finished a close third in last year's race behind Tyzone (Written Tycoon) under 53.5 kilograms and Orman hopes his weight of 54 kilograms this time will pay off, with the rider reporting his mount, successful in the Victory Stakes (Gr 2, 1200m) first-up this prep, to be in good heart after finishing less than two lengths tenth of 15 in the Kingsford-Smith Cup last time. "He's going pretty well, he's going pretty good," Orman continued. "Last time out, he drew a tricky (gate), got caught wide, had a bit of cover but he was wide, he just can't win, well he can, but not in a Group 1 race when he's caught wide, three or four wide for the trip, he's the sort of horse that needs a bit more of a suck run than that. He won the Group 2 race first-up, so I think he might be going a bit better, to be honest."

Berry Wild about Stradbroke ride

Tommy Berry is heading to Eagle Farm in search of his first Stradbroke success aboard second favourite Wild Planet (Animal Kingdom) for Team Hawkes. "Stradbroke day is the biggest day for Queensland racing and when you get offered one of the favourites in the race, it's a hard one to knock back," said Berry, who trails James McDonald in the Sydney premiership. "If I was a bit closer to James, maybe four or five behind him, I probably wouldn't have gone. But being ten behind at the moment, it's going to be quite hard to peg James back anyway. It would be more disappointing to miss out on a Stradbroke winner and not win the premiership as well, so I thought I'd try to win one and hope for the other." Wild Planet will tackle the Stradbroke second-up and off a four-week break, having posted a fast-finishing second to Eduardo (Host) in the Doomben 10,000 (Gr 1, 1200m). Despite a tough draw in barrier 15, Berry is confident he might have found the horse to break his Stradbroke drought. "When you look at the sprinters I've ridden in the past, whether it be Chautauqua, Pierata or Exceedance, horses like that that I've been aligned with, they've been good horses over the spring and the autumn so they haven't really got to a race like the Stradbroke," Berry added.

Neasham confident about Zaaki in Q22

All Annabel Neasham wants from Zaaki

(Leroidesanimaux) in The Q22 (Gr 2, 2200m) at Eagle Farm tomorrow is a repeat of his recent Doomben Cup (Gr 1, 2000m) performance. "If he turns up like he did for the Doomben Cup, I think something's going to have to really jump out of the box," the trainer told Racing.com. "We're going up in trip for the first time to that distance and it's on a different track, but having said that, he's certainly not gone backwards from that last run." The six-year-old has gone three weeks since his last start, having followed a pattern previously of two weeks between contests. "He's bouncing," she continued. "He galloped at Doomben on the course proper on Tuesday and he was having a buck and (he) tries to whip around, and that's when you know that he's feeling well, he's certainly more like a two-year-old than a six-year-old." Neasham confirmed the British import will go to the paddock for a spell after the weekend with a view to targeting the Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m) in the spring, for which he is the $4.20 favourite.

Mirage Dancer heads north

Mirage Dancer (Frankel) was an autumn carnival disappointment in Sydney, running unplaced in the Tancred Stakes (Gr 1, 2400m) and Chairman's Quality (Gr 2, 2600m), but co-trainers Trent Busuttin and Natalie Young are hoping tomorrow's Q22 will be the starting point for a better winter in Queensland for the British import. "He doesn't enjoy being out in the paddock spelling, so he's just been ticking over in work, had a couple of jump-outs, and it was either basically hang around for the next couple of months in Melbourne doing nothing with him, waiting for the spring, or get him up to (Brisbane) and give him a couple of runs, races like the Caloundra Cup and that may suit him," Busuttin told Racing.com. The handler believes Zaaki will take all the beating but expects Mirage Dancer, winner of the Metropolitan (Gr 1, 2400m) last October, to be in the mix if he produces his best. "I think he's just under that top notch of horses," Busuttin continued. "He came here off a high benchmark and ran third in a Caulfield Cup, so he's been right up there in the weights and a bit hard to place. He gave the owners a big thrill in the Caulfield Cup and a run in the Melbourne Cup and then won the Group 1, so we can't ask any more of the horse."

Spirit Ridge on the right track for success

Spirit Ridge

SPORTPIX

Mark Newnham is not running scared of boom horse Zaaki despite his odds. Newnham, who saddles Spirit Ridge (Nathaniel) in opposition, found out the hard way that not all horses handle Eagle Farm when Moreton Cup (Gr 2, 1200m) favourite Splintex (Snitzel) failed to cope with the circuit last Saturday. And if Zaaki does not reproduce his breathtaking Doomben Cup win, he has no doubt Spirit Ridge, winner of the Premier's Cup (Gr 3, 2400m) at the track last time, is the horse that can pounce. "The thing with Zaaki is, if he takes that Doomben Cup form to that race on Saturday, he should win it," Newnham said. "But quite often you see horses off big peak performances tend to be a little bit flat at their next start and he had a huge peak the other day, and he is going to a track that doesn't suit all horses. (Spirit Ridge) is a really genuine horse. The biggest tick he's got going into Saturday's race is he has performed at Eagle Farm and I think nearly all the others, including the favourite, have not." Newnham is happy to press onto the race after originally thinking the Premier's Cup might have been Spirit Ridge's final campaign run. "I had a ride on him last week when I was up there and he came through the race really well," he added.

Morrish has high hopes for Mobs Mettle

Chouxing The Mob (Jimmy Choux) will be aiming to bounce back from a second serious injury when he returns to the races over 1800 metres at Sandown tomorrow. The Simon Morrish-trained seven-year-old fractured a hind leg at trackwork in 2018 and returned, only to pick up a tendon injury when finishing third in last year's Adelaide Cup (Gr 2, 3200m). "We decided to give him the best chance, so we sent him down to Lee Evison, the tendon guru, where he spent nine months doing all the rehab work," Morrish told Racing.com. "It's a pretty arduous campaign he puts them through, so he had two months in the paddock after that, but he's been back in work with me for four months and now we're off to the races." The handler has given the seven-time winner plenty of work to test his mettle ahead of his comeback. "He's had three trials - two over 1000 metres where a horse like him can't even tack on and then we took him to St Arnaud last week and gave him a strong 1600-metre trial, which he won. At this stage, all the signs are very good." The trainer plans on a light winter for his charge, and, if he comes through, he will look at late spring targets, with the Sandown Cup (Listed, 3200m) in November an option.

Spell for Argentina

Argentina made a big impression when winning on debut at Flemington last Saturday and that means big plans are in the offing after a break for the well-bred filly, who is by the great Frankel (Galileo) out of four-time Group 1 heroine Princess Coup (Encosta De Lago). "I'm glad she won a metro race on debut and now we can really look to target races over further in the spring with prize-money in the bank," Sam Freedman, who co-trains with his father Anthony Freedman, told Racing.com. "She's gone out to Mitchell Park for not really a spell so to speak, just because the weather is so ordinary, so she will be boxed at night to keep her looking well and keep her active." He added that the spring plan would likely be the Atlantic Jewel (Listed, 1200m), Thousand Guineas Prelude (Gr 2, 1400m) and Thousand Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m), followed by the Empire Rose (Gr 1, 1600m) if all goes well. "It's all a long way away and that's aiming high but hopefully she can get there," he noted. The initial aim for Argentina had been the Blue Diamond Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) but sore shins put paid to that and the extra time was beneficial. "She's out of a mare that won four Group 1s and most of them were at 2000-metre plus and, by Frankel, we kept sort of pinching ourselves and thought, 'be patient'," he added.

Big things expected of Verne

Early this season Annabel Neasham had Verne (Snitzel) pegged as the most likely of her young team to front up in the Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr

1, 1200m) but the colt didn't make his debut until May 19, when an unlucky second to In The Congo (Snitzel) on the Kensington track. He followed that with a dominant Warwick Farm win two weeks later and will attempt to follow-up in the Fujitsu General Handicap (1200m) at Randwick tomorrow. "I've always had a really big opinion of him. I originally thought he was going to be my Slipper horse but he just had a setback and didn't make it," Neasham told Racing NSW. "He's come back stronger after a short break and I'm expecting him to run really well then we can put him away for a break and bring him back for the spring if we think he is up to it." Brodie Loy is set to ride the $4.40 chance who has been a bit toey pre-race previously, while Neasham is not worried about juice in the track. "The Snitzels tend to enjoy it and I'd be surprised if he doesn't handle it. He's always struck me as a horse that quite enjoys getting his toe in and that's the reason I left him here instead of going to Queensland."

Waterhouse could deny Bowman milestone Group 1 winner

Hugh Bowman will attempt to pocket his 100th Group 1 win in the J J Atkins (Gr 1, 1600m) at Eagle Farm tomorrow aboard $4.80 chance Port Louis (Maurice), but must contend with the Gai Waterhouse and Adrian Bott-trained market leader Converge (Frankel). Only the great George Moore, Damien Oliver and Jim Cassidy have achieved the Group 1 century but while Bott believes Bowman and Port Louis are the big threats to his stable's main hope, he is also exuding confidence. "I think Port Louis is probably our biggest danger but Hugh (Bowman) might have to wait another day for his next big win," Bott told Racing.com. Converge, an unlucky second behind Tiger Of Malay (Extreme Choice) in the BRC Sires' Produce (Gr 2, 1400m) last time, will break from barrier five under Tim Clarke. "He was a bit unlucky in the Sires' when he got further back than we expected and his options were limited," Bott added. "He got caught in an awkward position on the home turn but he did well to make up so much ground." The stable will also field Volcanic Rock (Hinchinbrook), who was impressive when winning the Phoenix Stakes (Listed, 1500m) at Eagle Farm last weekend.

Snowdens opt for three-pronged Dane Ripper attack

Jen Rules

Peter and Paul Snowden will saddle up three runners in the Dane Ripper Stakes (Gr 2, 1300m) at Eagle Farm with Jen Rules (Redoute' Choice) looking to bow out as a Group 2 winner. The five-year-old, who has won four of her 28 starts and placed in five black-type races, will line up alongside stablemates Dame Giselle (I Am Invincible) and Reelem In Ruby (Pierro) in tomorrow's race, which is likely to be her final racetrack appearance. "She will probably go to stud after this run so rather than run in a benchmark race, she'll have a go for glory. We will try to go out on a winning note if we can," Peter Snowden said. Jen Rules finished a close fourth to Love You Lucy (Love Conquers All) in the corresponding race 12 months ago and placed in the Hawkesbury Crown (Gr 3, 1600m) behind Dane Ripper favourite Sweet Deal (Casino Prince) two starts ago. The Tattersall's Tiara (Gr 1, 1400m)-bound Dame Giselle is the Snowdens' leading hope after being beaten less than two lengths by Vega One (Lope De Vega) in the Kingsford-Smith Cup. "She is probably the pick of those three. She's going really well, she's drawn the right gate, it was a really good run the other day and she has come on nicely from that," Snowden said. Reelem In Ruby will have to overcome the outside barrier in the field of 16.

Trainer to watch Mongolian Marshal from home

Adelaide-based Stuart Gower has sent Mongolian Marshal (High Chaparral) to Melbourne for the Ladbrokes Bet Ticker Handicap (1800m) at Sandown tomorrow. But the handler will not make the trip himself for fear he will be forced to undergo a 14-day quarantine when he returns home, even though restrictions between Victoria and South Australia are due to relax this weekend. The Mathew Ellerton and Simon Zahra stable will saddle the gelding, just as they did when he won the Kyneton Cup (2000m) last November. "I'd rather send him over this week and then hopefully we'll freshen him up and run him in the Winter Championship Final (at Flemington) in three weeks. Hopefully I can come over for that one, at least," he said. Mongolian Marshal scored a narrow last-start win under the re-booked Brett Prebble over 1600 metres at Flemington on May 22. The prospects of a heavy Sandown track don't hold any fears for Gower. "He's won three in the soft in New Zealand and you'd think their soft would nearly be our heavy," he continued. "I would have preferred another mile race, but there wasn't anything suitable. You either run in a 1400-metre next week at Flemington, but I think this suits better as he's then got three weeks to freshen up back to the mile of the Winter Championship Final."

Fitter Fituese to rebound at Randwick

A missed barrier trial proved to be more crucial than John Thompson had hoped when Fituese (Deep Field) over-raced from her outside draw and faded to fifth when first-up in the Ortensia Stakes (Listed, 1100m) last time, but he is confident his smart mare can atone in the Bob Charley AO Stakes (Listed, 1100m) at Randwick tomorrow. "I ran out of time to give her a second trial so she went into it off one trial," Thompson said. "I did want her ridden a bit quieter, but she just raced a bit fresh three-deep outside the leaders and she just got tired basically. So I didn't run her again, I trialled her. We rode her a bit quieter and she trialled super. She will be ridden a bit quieter on Saturday and I reckon you'll see a different horse." Rachel King has ridden Fituese in nine of her 12 starts and is the only jockey to have won on her but Brenton Avdulla will partner the mare for the first time. "It will be interesting to see how she goes for Brenton, he's her new rider because Rachel is in Queensland," Thompson continued. "She just needs a bit of luck from the draw on Saturday, she is going super."

Adelong aiming for first stakes success

Trainer Brad Widdup says Jay Ford 'nailed' his last steer on talented mare Adelong (Medaglia D'Oro) and is looking for a similar performance from both jockey and horse in the Bob Charley AO Stakes (Listed, 1100m) at Randwick tomorrow. Widdup would prefer a better barrier draw for another shot at a stakes win, following Listed placings at Hawkesbury and Rosehill. The five-year-old won the At Sea Handicap (1100m) two weeks ago at the same track and distance, holding off Wandabaa (Wandjina), who she meets on identical weight terms. "Things fell her way a bit there the other day," Widdup told Racing NSW. "He nailed the ride, it was a perfect ride, there was good speed in the race and she was able to freewheel up there on the speed and it suited her. I think she gained a lot of confidence out of it. It really suited her the other day and drawn out there a little bit and with good speed it really helps her."

Mimosas bids to remain unbeaten

Trainer Clayton Douglas says it was good to get in the good books of his future mother-in-law with the debut win of Mimosas (Squamosa) at Flemington. Mimosas is owned by Karen Kah, the mother of Douglas' fiancée and Melbourne's leading rider Jamie Kah. Kah will be aboard her mother's horse in the Clanbrooke Racing Handicap (1000m) at Sandown tomorrow. "Having won his first start it has taken the pressure off, so I'm happy with that," Douglas told RSN. "It's a good family story with Karen owing him, me training him, Jamie doing all the work on him, we broke him in ourselves and he won his first start at Flemington. So far, so good." Mimosas was a $20,000 yearling purchase in Tasmania having been selected by Douglas' uncle, Rod, a former trainer and racing manager for Jonathon Munz. Douglas said there had been some offers for Mimosas following his debut win, but he said Karen was happy to continue racing him. "He doesn't owe us anything. He's a nice horse to have around the stable and hopefully he can progress into a nice three-year-old," Douglas said. The trainer expects the wet conditions to favour Mimosas. "We've done a fair bit of work with him on wet and he seems to get through it nicely, so I'm not scared to run him on a heavy track on Saturday," he added.

She's God To You to bypass Belmont Guineas

Darren Taylor experienced his first feature race as a trainer last Saturday when She's God To You (Playing God) ran a credible third in the Raconteur Stakes (Listed, 1400m) but has elected against running the filly in next week's Belmont Guineas (Listed, 1600m). Taylor believes a softer assignment in the Dream Horse In Cinemas Handicap (1400m) at Belmont Park tomorrow is a better option for the three-year-old. "She is jumping out of her skin and I think backing up on the weekend gives us a better chance of winning than going into the Belmont Guineas," Taylor told The Races WA. "I think this is a more winnable race when you consider the quality of horses that will go into the Belmont Guineas. You would imagine Bob Peters and Adam Durrant will have runners in the race. And although I'm confident she can run out a strong mile, 1400 metres is also her forte. While she is going well I thought we may as well back up rather than wait a fortnight before the Guineas. This race looks a better option and she has jagged a good barrier."

Moody and Parnell defend Brisbane Cup

Peter Moody and Racing Queensland chief executive Brendan Parnell have leapt to the defence of the Brisbane Cup (Gr 2, 3200m) in the wake of Glenn Boss's suggestion that it should be scrapped if it is not beneficial to turnover or promotion. "We want to build and grow stayers in this country," Moody said on his Moody On The Mic podcast. "We've got about five feature two-mile races in Australia, I don't think that's too many. We've got about 145 feature 1000-metre to 1600-metre races in Australia, surely five two-mile races aren't too many." Boss's comments included his view that there are already enough two-mile races for the pool of horses available to complete, and came after the race attracted only seven runners for this year's reversion to the race's original 3200-metre distance for the first time since 2006. "We have a multi-year view of the Brisbane Cup," Parnell told RSN. "We will give it at least three years before we come to any thoughts about whether it's warranted maintaining it."

Vitek joins Ridgmont Farm hierarchy

Jakub Vitek

RIDGMONT FARM

Jakub Vitek has been appointed as Ridgmont Farm's yearling manager, the first major staffing acquisition made since the Andrew Dunemann-led partnership bought the rebranded Hunter Valley stud earlier this year. Vitek, the former assistant yearling manager at Arrowfield Stud, will assume the important role at the nearby Ridgmont Farm, which was previously known as Glastonbury Farms. Dunemann was delighted that Vitek, 29, had joined the team ahead of the 2022 yearling sale series. "When the article ran in ANZ saying that we were looking for a yearling manager, I got four phone calls from four people with no ties to each other who said, 'if you want to really make a difference you should try and get Jakub'," Dunemann said yesterday. "I was downtown (in Scone) one day and ran into a few of the Arrowfield people, I asked for his number, gave him a call and away we went. It's great for us as he's ready to step up to be the boss and that is probably what enticed him to come to us. We want to sell high-quality yearlings and I think Jakub coming on board really helps us do that."

King Magnus aiming for third first-up win

The task facing King Magnus (Magnus) in his bid to remain unbeaten in first-up appearances has not been lost on his co-trainers Robbie Griffiths and Mathew De Kock. King Magnus makes his return in the Ladbroke It Handicap (1300m) at Sandown tomorrow but has to overcome barrier 17. "He is two-from-two first-up but in lower-level so it's a bit different going to this race," Griffiths said. "But he's had a nice couple of trials and the videos of his gallops have been good. Mat's happy with him at home, but drawing barrier 17, that makes his task of winning three-from-three first-up a little tougher. He's got to return to racing and he's going well so I think he'll give us a pleasing run, but it's just going to be much tougher from that draw." The five-year-old scored on debut in a Moe maiden in January last year and at his only other first-up assignment scored in Class 1 company at Pakenham last November. Importantly, that win was on soft ground and the likely heavy conditions that the Sandown meeting will be run under should hold no fears. "It is his third campaign and being 77-rated, we want to see where he can get to this time around," Griffiths added. King Magnus will be ridden by Lewis German who will take two kilograms from the gelding's 56.5 kilogram impost.

Egan banned for striking horse in barriers

Stewards at Sale handed Billy Egan a two-week ban after the rider struck his mount Wine O'Clock (Roc De Cambes) several times while in the barrier during racing on Wednesday. Egan, who was unable to offer an explanation, struck the Patrick Payne-trained gelding once with his fist and four times with an open hand after he became restless before the start of the 1419-metre maiden. Stewards took into account his guilty plea and past record when sidelining him for 14 meetings, with his suspension commencing at midnight on Sunday.

Edmonds fined $2000

Racing NSW stewards have fined trainer Shane Edmonds $2000 for a Facebook post in which he threatened jockeys in general and made comments about the race ride of a claiming apprentice aboard a horse he trained at Muswellbrook last Sunday. Edmonds pleaded guilty to a charge under AR228(d) that he posted a video to the social media platform which contained offensive and/or threatening material towards the apprentice, licensed jockeys and Racing NSW staff responsible for training apprentice riders.

Inspection at Dubbo this morning

Racing NSW stewards will inspect the track at Dubbo at 6am this morning ahead of today's scheduled meeting. Yesterday's inspection rated the track a Heavy 10.

NEW ZEALAND

Kamaruddin takes apprentice challenge

Joe Kamaruddin was in red-hot form at New Plymouth on Thursday when taking out the apprentice jockeys challenge. He opened his account with a win aboard the Robbie Patterson-trained Swiss Kitty (Swiss Ace) in the 1200-metre maiden before going on to win aboard stablemate Dame Vera (Niagara) in the NZB Insurance Pearl Series Race (1400m). He closed his account with victory in the last race on the card aboard the Darrell Hollinshead-trained Lord Valentine (Rip Van Winkle), giving him a treble and the apprentice challenge title. Kamaruddin now sits on 28 wins for the season and he was pleased with his success on Thursday. "I have to thank all the trainers and owners who have supported me today," he said. "I was able to ride some nice horses and it was a lucky day today." It was also a special day for fellow apprentice jockey Jeetesh Mudhoo, who recorded his first win from his first raceday ride when victorious aboard Jane O' (Niagara) in the Dave Brophy Memorial Maiden (1600m).

ASIA

HK: Horses for HKJC International Sale paraded

The 22 horses catalogued for the Hong Kong International Sale later this month paraded at a media photo call at Sha Tin racecourse yesterday. The catalogue of unraced youngsters features a French-bred colt by Frankel (Galileo) out of the two-time winner Souvenir Deslondres (Siyouni), whose two previous named foals are winners. The horses to be offered were all purchased out of sales houses in Europe, Australasia and South Africa. They will be offered for sale to Hong Kong Jockey Club permit holders at the Sha Tin racecourse paddock on the morning of Sunday, June 27, following a light breeze-up at the track at 10am on June 19.

JPN: Deirdre in foal to Wootton Bassett

Trainer Mitsuru Hashida has revealed to media in Japan that his former stable star Deirdre (Harbinger) is in foal to Wootton Bassett (Iffraaj). The globe-trotting mare won the Shuka Sho (Gr 1, 2000m) in 2017 and added a second top-level win in the Nassau Stakes (Gr 1, 1m 2f) at Goodwood in 2019. Deirdre is a great-granddaughter of Sonic Lady (Nuerye), winner of the Irish 1,000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1m), Sussex Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m) and Prix du Moulin (Gr 1, 1600m).

INTERNATIONAL

206 for Dubawi

Dubawi (Dubai Millennium) sired his 206th individual stakes winner when his daughter Creative Flair (3 fex Hidden Gold by Shamardal) took the Abingdon Stakes (Listed, 1m 2f) at Newbury yesterday under William Buick. The Godolphin-raced runner made all, racing a touch keenly early in a first-time hood, and held off the determined challenge of second-placed Lilac Road (Mastercraftsman) by half a length, despite wandering slightly off a true line in the final furlong. Vesela (Frankel) was three and a quarter lengths behind in third as the Charlie Appleby-trained winner landed her third success at her fifth start. Creative Flair's dam Hidden Gold (Shamardal), who was a Listed winner over a mile and five furlongs and placed third in the Lonsdale Cup (Gr 2, 2m) at York, is a half-sister to Group 2 winner Masterstroke (Monsun) and the Group 3 winners Royal Line (Dubawi) and Moonlight Magic (Cape Cross). Creative Flair's second dam, Melikah (Lammtarra), placed second in the Irish Oaks (Gr 1, 1m 4f) and third in the Oaks (Gr 1, 1m 4f), and is out of the great broodmare Urban Sea (Miswaki), making her a half-sister to Galileo (Sadler's Wells), Sea The Stars (Cape Cross), Black Sam Bellamy (Sadler's Wells) and My Typhoon (Giant's Causeway). Dubawi stands at Darley's Dalham Hall Stud at a fee of £250,000 (approx. AU$456,675).

IRE: King Of Change available to cover on Southern Hemisphere time

Derrinstown Stud resident King Of Change (Farhh) will be available to cover mares on southern hemisphere time this year. Winner of the Queen Elizabeth Stakes (Gr 1, 1m) in 2019,

King Of Change is by Pivotal's (Polar Falcon) champion son Farhh and is a half-brother to the Celebration Mile victor (Gr 2, 1m) Century Dream. King Of Change covered a strong book of mares in his first season at Derrinstown, including Ambivalent (Authorized), whose first two runners have both performed at Group level, with Al Hilalee (Dubawi) winning the Prix Hocquart (Gr 2, 2400m) and Teona (Sea The Stars) running third to subsequent Oaks (Gr 1, 1m 4f) winner Snowfall (Deep Impact) in this year's Musidora Stakes (Gr 3, 1m 2½f). King Of Change is currently standing for a service fee of €7,000 (approx. AU$11,000).

US: Practical Joke filly tops opening session of OBS Sale

A daughter of triple Grade 1 winner Practical Joke (Into Mischief) topped the opening session of the Ocala June Sale of Two-Year-Olds and Horses of Racing Age. The filly, consigned by Top Line Sales LLC Agent, clocked the fastest quarter at Thursday's track session and sold to Gary Young Agent for $425,000 (approx. AU$548,611). Her dam Devious D'Oro (Medaglia D'Oro) is a half-sister to Grade 3 winner Devious Intent (Dixie Union). The session saw 176 horses sell for a total of $7,268,400 (approx. AU$9,382,414), compared with 163 selling for a total of $5,037,800 at last year's first session. The average was $41,298 (approx. AU$53,309), up 33.6 per cent compared with $30,907 a year ago, while the median price was $20,000 (approx. AU$25,817), up 53.9 per cent compared to $13,000 in 2020. The buyback percentage was 26.7 per cent compared to 25.2 per cent last year.

UK: Mossfun's daughter wins on debut at Haydock

Mossfun (Mossman), winner of the 2014 Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) for Emirates Park, produced her first winner when her two-year-old Frankel (Galileo) filly Sadmah won on debut at Haydock on Wednesday. The homebred youngster, racing in the silks of Emirates Park Pty Ltd for trainer Kevin Ryan, raced handily under Kevin Stott, rallied under pressure a furlong out, and kept on to lead close home for a three-quarter-length win over Madame Bonbon (Iffraaj), with Attagirl (Wootton Bassett) a further short-head behind in third. Emirates Park purchased Mossfun for $85,000 at Book 2 of the 2013 Inglis Easter Sale. The mare's first foal was the unraced Tumoooh (Fastnet Rock), after which she was sent to Europe and produced the maiden three-year-old Dajraan (Frankel) before Sadmah. She has since returned to Australia and is in foal to I Am Invincible (Invincible Spirit) having produced a filly to the same stallion last spring.

US: Breathnach named director of sales operations at Keeneland

Keeneland has named prominent bloodstock consultant Cormac Breathnach as its new director of sales operations. Breathnach brings a distinctive set of skills and more than 20 years of horse industry experience to Keeneland, combining bloodstock and pedigree knowledge, practical sales expertise and a doctorate in veterinary science from the Gluck Equine Research Center at the University of Kentucky. "We are excited to have Cormac join the Keeneland sales team as the director of sales operations," said Keeneland vice-president of sales Tony Lacy. "I have long admired his professionalism, knowledge and integrity, which is second to none, and have had the pleasure of watching him develop in the industry and gain the respect of a broad range of professionals. His skill set, personality and strong work ethic will help evolve Keeneland sales for the future. In addition, his background in research and animal welfare is a valuable asset as we continue to strive to set higher standards for the industry."

UK: Amo to the rescue as Goresbridge top lot deal falls through

There has been a dramatic twist in the tale of the record-breaking top lot at the Tattersalls Ireland Goresbridge Breeze-Up Sale, with the six-figure youngster having been returned by the purchaser and subsequently bought privately by Alex Elliott on behalf of Kia Joorabchian's Amo Racing. The colt, a son of Dark Angel (Acclamation) and the Listed-placed Venturous Spirit (Arch), was pinhooked by Jerry Horan's Paragon Bloodstock for just €6,000 before being reoffered through Dolmen Bloodstock in Newmarket. A hugely impressive breeze saw the youngster's value soar, and after a prolonged bidding duel it was Richard Brown of Blandford Bloodstock who went to an auction-record price of £410,000, leaving Elliott and Joorabchian to fill the role of underbidder. However, when the transaction fell through, an outcome permitted under the Tattersalls Ireland conditions of sale, Elliott was approached by the vendor and a private agreement was reached at an undisclosed sum. Elliott said: "We think he's a special colt and we tried to buy him for a lot of money in the ring. I know Richard Brown was gutted that he couldn't go through with the sale. We were happy to pick up the pieces at a reduced rate and with a bit of luck we'll be rewarded."

Figtrees sells for $5.35 million to private investors

BY ALEX WILTSHIRE | @ANZ_NEWS

The Murray and Sue Murdoch-owned Figtrees has been sold for $5.35 million in a joint venture with Magic Millions and iThink Property, the real estate agency run by former Magic Millions auctioneer Clint Donovan.

The Hinterland property, which features 195 acres of land and three homes, has been developed over the last 13 years by the Murdochs and sold to private investors yesterday.

"We've been friends with the Murdochs for 15 years and they chose us to do the marketing for the property and we were lucky enough to find a buyer today," said Donovan, principal of iThink Property Gold Coast.

"The price was $5.35 million, after some negotiations, and they chose us to market it because of our network of buyers.

"The buyer is a private investor from Brisbane, and wasn't actually in the thoroughbred industry, but will be for the next years, and they're going to run a commercial operation out of Figtrees. Their intention is to provide a subsidiary service of some kind, spelling horses, foaling down mares and the like.

"For the Murdochs, they're at an age where they don't need to work anymore. They've been wonderfully successful in the thoroughbred industry, but they're ready to hand over the reins.

"It's a beautiful thoroughbred facility, with three homes and significant improvements to the facilities."

Among the high-class horses to have been sold by the Murdoch's Fig Tree Thoroughbreds is Hong Kong Group 1 winner Ivictory (Mossman) as well as Listed winner and recent Kingsford-Smith Cup (Gr 1, 1300m) runner-up Jonker (Spirit Of Boom).

Richardson bringing equestrian flair to high-class thoroughbred juveniles

Captivant

JOAN FARAS

Throughout this month ANZ Bloodstock News' Jo McKinnon talks to some of the great horse men and women who are making a big difference behind the scenes to the development of some of the country's top racehorses. A number of high level equestrian riders are playing their part in bettering their education and subsequent on track performance. Our first subject in the series is Blair Richardson. Based at Scone, he has recently been working with the likes of Captivant and Profiteer during their winter breaks.

Cast your eyes over Group 1 winning two-year-old Captivant (Capitalist) at the moment and he could easily be mistaken for a high-level equestrian horse.

The valuable colt and future hope for the Newgate Farm stallion roster is currently doing some off-season training with top eventing rider Blair Richardson at his property at Scone and is relishing the experience.

"He is a beautiful horse to ride. I look at him and think he has a lot of scope. The first couple of days here he was above the bit but he is a very intelligent horse and now he's going like I could do a one-day event on him. He could do a dressage test, he's working very well on the flat," said Richardson.

Richardson broke in Captivant and is so enamoured with the big, elegant dark bay, who stands 16.2 hands high, that he openly admits it will be hard to hand him back over to the Snowden Racing team for his spring racing preparation.

"He certainly ticks all the boxes as an equestrian horse. He's probably a stable favourite, even with our staff. He's got a lovely temperament and personality to work with," Richardson said.

"He's a magnificent horse and I'm sure when he goes to stud he is going to be a stunning stallion."

With his wife Nikki, who was a member of the Australian eventing team at the 1996 Atlanta Olympics, New Zealand-born Richardson started his equestrian operation Vantage Hill in the heart of Australia's horse capital 12 years ago.

"We use our equestrian skills and do what we love doing which is riding horses and enjoy it," he said.

"It's great to be able to put something back into another sport and I think the racing industry can benefit a lot. There's a number of equestrian riders getting into the racehorses now."

Specialising in pre-training and breaking, Blair and Nikki's supreme horse skills have become highly sought after by some of the biggest racing and breeding operations in Australia, including Newgate Farm, Widden Stud and Attunga Stud.

Captivant is not the only high-profile horse that has passed through their stables of late. Inglis Millennium (RL, 1200m) winner Profiteer (Capitalist) has also paid a visit.

"Even though he's also by Capitalist, he's a different type of horse to Captivant," he said. "He was fun to work with, he is an athlete, an energetic horse and he's obviously just fast.

"He's lovely to ride but he was ready to go, he's that type of horse that's just an energetic athletic and smaller type."

At peak times Vantage Hill, which is set on 85 acres, has up to 70 racehorses in various forms of training to ultimately enhance their performance on the racetrack.

"A bit of flat work from trained equestrian riders is very beneficial to horses. When we ride them we are not bridged up in a pad and we can ride them around off our leg and ride them long and give them a kick and ride them forward, and trainers are seeing the benefits of this," said Richardson.

"It educates them and teaches them to use different muscles."

HE'S A MAGNIFICENT HORSE AND I'M SURE WHEN HE GOES TO STUD HE IS GOING TO BE A STUNNING STALLION

- BLAIR RICHARDSON

Richardson applies similar training principles to the yearlings placed into his care.

"All our breakers go to the equestrian arena on week two and ride circles and figure eights, and we educate them on the flat before we ride them on the track," he said.

"We have the Middlebrook Creek running through the property and the ducks fly off it and our young breakers have to ride through creeks and it's very challenging for them.

"It allows you to ride them at something natural. Our track is a fair distance from the stables so by time we ride back and up to the barn it does take a while, which is good for the breakers because you are on their backs for longer."

Another key aspect of their training is being put through a set of barriers Richardson has specially set up.

"There's an 800-metre sand flat track to pair the breakers up. We have barriers and panels and educate them and do ins and outs," he said.

"We pair them up and send them around so horses get used to having others move from one side to the other, which we try to do as much as possible before they head to the trainers."

It is a real family affair at Vantage Hill with Richardson's 15-year-old son Charlie, himself a talented three-star level eventing rider, helping out when he can between his school commitments.

"He broke in his first horse, a Lonhro filly during his last school holidays and he rides a lot of pre-trainers for us," Richardson said.

Although kept very busy working with all the young racing stock that is sent to him, 45-year-old Richardson manages to make the time to keep up his involvement in equestrian sport and regularly competes on weekends.

EVEN THOUGH HE'S ALSO BY CAPITALIST, HE'S A DIFFERENT TYPE OF HORSE TO CAPTIVANT, HE WAS FUN TO WORK WITH, HE IS AN ATHLETE, AN ENERGETIC HORSE AND HE'S OBVIOUSLY JUST FAST. HE'S LOVELY TO RIDE BUT HE WAS READY TO GO, HE'S THAT TYPE OF HORSE THAT'S JUST AN ENERGETIC ATHLETIC AND SMALLER TYPE

While the racehorse trainers are all looking for the next Group 1 winner, he's searching for his own "big" horse that might take him to the pinnacle of eventing.

"I am still young enough, I have got 20 years left in me so I'm still looking for the next horse and trying to produce them," he said. "I have a horse by Dawn Approach that has got up to one-star level. He's a five-year-old, a lovely mover and nice horse on the flat, so we will see where he goes."

Argentia

RACING PHOTOS

If you read Trevor Marshallsea's excellent pedigree column in yesterday's edition of ANZ Bloodstock News, you may already know a fair bit about our regally-bred Maiden of the Week, Argentia (2 f Frankel - Princess Coup by Encosta De Lago).

A daughter of four-time Group 1-winning mare Princess Coup (Encosta De Lago), Argentia impressively landed this high-profile two-year-old Flemington contest by one and three-quarter lengths from Viviane (Written Tycoon), who is out of the Group 1-placed mare Curtana (Exceed And Excel), with Invincible Caviar (I Am Invincible), the latest of Black Caviar's (Bel Esprit) progeny to grace the track, another half-length back in third.

Ridden patiently by Mark Zahra, the Anthony and Sam Freedman-trained Argentia settled towards the rear of the ten-runner field, between runners, before being eased into clear running at the 300-metre mark.

Argentia then showed an impressive turn of foot to claim the lead at the 100-metre mark and drew clear to score easily in the shape of a really promising filly.

A Thousand Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) campaign now looms for Argentia, who has earned herself a short break ahead of the spring.

"She's come through really well," co-trainer Sam Freedman told Racing.com at the weekend. "She's a filly that we've always had a lot of time for but we probably thought the 1100 (metres) could be a bit sharp for her down the straight the first time, but good horses can overcome that sort of thing."

"We'll put her away for a little bit. She won't have long off. We'll keep her boxed at night and looking well."

Bought for $670,000 at last year's Inglis Easter

Yearling Sale, Argentia is the eighth foal out of Princess Coup, who placed in eight elite-level contests to go with her four Group 1 successes.

Having finished her race career with a record of 12 wins from 33 starts, earning over $3.6 million in prize-money, Princess Coup was purchased by Evergreen Stud's Tony Bott for $3 million from the 2009 Magic Millions Gold Coast Winter Broodmares Sale.

The best of her progeny so far is her second foal Thewizardofoz (Redoute's Choice), a winner at Group 3 level in Hong Kong, although it would take a brave punter to bet against Argentia going on to achieve greater feats.

There is still plenty of excitement to come from Princess Coup's progeny, as she has a yearling colt by Sebring (More Than Ready), a weanling filly by I Am Invincible (Invincible Spirit) and is currently in foal to Dundee (High Chaparral).
