Easter Yearling Sale buyer bookings on track despite coronavirus threat

Inglis monitoring situation as Australian government considers European travel ban

Inglis is developing a contingency plan for next month's Australian Easter Yearling Sale in case the Covid-19 pandemic worsens and the federal government imposes stringent travel restrictions in a bid to halt the rapid spread of the potentially deadly coronavirus.

Auction house management yesterday held a meeting about the growing world health crisis and the possible effect on its flagship Easter sale, resolving to "proceed as scheduled" unless advised otherwise by government authorities.

"We have been monitoring the Covid-19 situation closely and will continue to do so in coming days and weeks," Inglis managing director Mark Webster said in a statement last night.

"The Australian government has been very proactive in managing this situation over the past month, which allowed us to deliver excellent results a week ago in Melbourne and we anticipate the appetite for quality yearlings will continue at Easter.

"That said, we are obviously well aware of the coronavirus situation and the potential complexities it may cause.

"We have developed contingency plans to help us conduct the sale with minimal disruptions, should the government put in place additional travel or event-based restrictions."

The meeting was staged as the enormity of the situation intensified when news broke that the United States had banned travel to and from Europe to America for 30 days. Continued on page 2>>

<< Continued from page 1 The Australian government was last night also reportedly considering similar measures that could see travellers banned from flying in from Europe. The UK is so far exempt from the US ban.

If travel restrictions were implemented by the Australian government, preventing international agents and owners from attending the Easter sale, it could have a severe impact on the depth of the buying bench.

But Webster last night said there had been no apparent pullback from buyers, with bookings from domestic and international investors who are planning on attending the Easter sale “tracking similarly if not better than previous years”.

“We will continue to communicate closely with our clients in coming days and weeks, but at this stage it is all systems go ahead of Easter and we look forward to hosting the world’s racing industry at Riverside Stables for the sale in a couple of weeks,” he said.

The two-day Easter sale, known to attract many of the world’s biggest thoroughbred investors and averaging an Australasian-high $353,511 in 2019, is scheduled for April 7 and 8.

Inspections at Riverside Stables are due to start a week earlier, on April 1, and this week many vendors have been holding on-farm viewings.

At last year’s Easter sale, 19.43 per cent of the market was made up of international purchases, led by New Zealand, Hong Kong and United Arab Emirates investors.

These figures do not include the likes of US-controlled

Spendthrift Australia, Hong Kong-based Sweetbriar Equine and the China Horse Club-Newgate Bloodstock partnership whose purchases were listed as Australian.

The coronavirus also has the potential to impact Inglis’ The Chairman’s Sale and Australian Broodmare and Weanling Sale in May, while implications for the Magic Millions Gold Coast National Sale in May and June are unknown.

The Magic Millions Gold Coast March QTIS Yearling Sale is set to be held on Monday and Tuesday with inspections getting underway yesterday without incident.

The Australian government has already enacted a travel ban from Italy and health minister Greg Hunt said yesterday that they were considering whether to expand that to other parts of Europe.

“We will continue to follow the medical advice,” the minister said.

In reaction to the latest moves from world leaders, the ASX All Ordinaries fell by a further seven per cent yesterday to close at 5304.6, continuing this week’s bloodletting by recording the biggest single-day loss since the Global Financial Crisis in 2008.

Juveniles vie for Slipper berth

Talented juvenile Philizzy (Snitzel) has recovered from a minor setback in time to have one last-ditch attempt to force her way into the $3.5 million Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) next weekend. The Anthony Cummings-trained filly will take her place in the Magic Night Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) at Rosehill tomorrow, her first start in over a month. "She had a bit of a bug and I had to go a bit slowly with her while it sorted itself out," Cummings said. "I'm happy with her and she's drawn a nice gate to give herself every opportunity but it is hard to line all the form up." Philizzy has drawn barrier six in the field of 15 which features the Peter and Paul Snowden-trained pair of Stellar Pauline (Not A Single Doubt) and Sancy (I Am Invincible), along with the Tulloch Lodge trio of impressive debut winner Kaakit Akit (Artie Schiller), speedy filly Dubai Star (Pride Of Dubai) and debutante Only Mine (Smart Missile). The Magic Night Stakes was won by subsequent Slipper winner Kiamichi (Sidestep) 12 months ago.

Sylvia's Mother on song for Coolmore

Group winners Sylvia's Mother (Snitzel) and Dawn Dawn (All Too Hard) will provide owners Rob and Pam Crosby with an enviable two-pronged assault on tomorrow's Coolmore Classic (Gr 1, 1500m) at Rosehill. Sylvia's Mother heads into the race aiming to complete a hat-trick and co-trainer Michael Hawkes believes she has every chance of achieving that feat. "She is a bulldog and her last start was a very good win," Hawkes said. "She had to bullock her way out but he (Dwayne Dunn) rode her well. He half waited and kept her balanced and that enabled her to hit the line as good as she did. She's a tough filly and she's done everything right." Tommy Berry partners Sylvia's Mother in the Coolmore, for which she was $4.40 equal-favourite yesterday, with Brenton Avdulla aboard $15 chance Dawn Dawn. Hawkes, though, cannot fathom how the pair are so far apart in betting. "She's a really good chance too," he said of the supposed stable second string. "It was a great effort last start. She came from the back and I think the ground is going to suit her, the distance will suit and she is just starting to hit form at the right time."

Oceanex faces tough test on return

Oceanex (Ocean Park) is set to be thrown in at the deep end when she makes her return to action in the Coolmore. "She's a Group 2 winner and I can't improve her by running her in moderate races," co-trainer Mick Price told Racing.com. "She's a mare so I want to run in good mares' races and it's a waste of time over 1200 or 1400 metres. We've done a fair bit of reverse way work with her and she is first-up in the race but if she can work home solidly and run in the first four or five, I'd be happy with that. Realistic expectations are that she just won't go up there and win. She'll settle in the back half of the field and work home solidly. If she was to win, it's birthday cake time."

Hawkes not scared of boom fillies

Hawkes Racing will leave it as late as possible before deciding if Spend (Snitzel) will make the trip to Sydney to contest tomorrow's Phar Lap Stakes (Gr 2, 1500m). The colt is set to take on Group 1 winners Probabeel (Savabeel) and Funstar (Adelaide) at Rosehill - but only if conditions suit. "Never be scared of anything," co-trainer Michael Hawkes said. "He's all about the track. For him, it's weather dependent." Rosehill was rated a Soft 7 yesterday with possible showers forecast on race day. If Spend does not make the trip, the Phar Lap field could be reduced to six runners with Brad Widdup indicating Akari (Snitzel) will be scratched in preference for today's Kembla Grange Classic (Gr 3, 1600m), while Funstar's trainer Chris Waller has up-and-coming fillies Subpoenaed (Rip Van Winkle) and Nudge (Fastnet Rock) in both races.

Spend

Berry keen on rising star Master Of Wine

Tommy Berry is looking forward to being reunited with Master Of Wine (Maxios) when the pair join forces in tomorrow's Sky High Stakes (Gr 3, 2000m) at Rosehill. Berry was on board the European import when he won his last start by three and a half lengths and, although the five-year-old steps up in grade tomorrow, the jockey believes he is ready for the test. "For any horse to win by a margin is always exciting, especially stayers, and he's won by a margin at his last three starts," Berry told Racing NSW. "Only being second-up with a few weeks between runs, he will be a touch on the fresh side. He can race keenly at times so providing he relaxes in the run, and hopefully there is a bit of speed on, it will assist him, I don't think it will affect him. He's heading in the right direction and being trained by the Hawkes' he has the right people on his side."

Cascadian put on notice

A spectacular scrimmage with another rival during the Liverpool City Cup (Gr 3, 1300m) has put added pressure on Cascadian (New Approach) to perform in tomorrow's Ajax Stakes (Gr 2, 1500m) at Rosehill. Cascadian was embroiled in a bumping duel with the Chris Waller-trained Imaging (Oasis Dream) last start when Glen Boss attempted to shoulder out on the Godolphin gelding, and after finishing fifth and dropping a crucial rating point, trainer James Cummings said the onus was now on the five-year-old to step up to earn his spot in next month's Doncaster Mile (Gr 1, 1600m). "It hasn't done his Doncaster prospects a lot of good, so there's a bit more significance attached to what he does here," said Cummings. "This will be a vital run for him to put his Doncaster credentials on the line." The first six placegetters in the Liverpool City Cup will contest the Ajax Stakes, as will Imaging.

Vandyke not feeling pressure

David Vandyke

SPORTPIX

Having landed a first elite-level win when taking out the Australian Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) and moving his tally on to 10 wins in 11 starts, trainer David Vandyke believes the pressure is off Alligator Blood (All Too Hard) when the gelding lines up as favourite in tomorrow's $5 million All-Star Mile (1600m) at Caulfield. "It was a first Group 1 for the owners and a first Group 1 for (jockey) Ryan Maloney, so the pressure is off and we're really enjoying this week," Vandyke said. "I think he's probably got to put in a career-best performance to win the race and I'll walk away happy if he runs top three." Punters though are clearly expecting another success, with Alligator Blood the $2.70 favourite. "I think it's a great honour to him that he is that price in a field of 10 Group 1 winners," Vandyke continued. "I hope he lives up to that price and wins the race, but as I said, I'd be happy with a top-three performance considering the long drawn out preparation and the achievements he's made."

Sadler sounds warning about Sartorial Splendor

John Sadler has had his problems with Sartorial Splendor (Brazen Beau) leading into tomorrow's Inglis Dash (1100m) and the trainer is now concerned as to how much rain might fall at Caulfield. The colt had a case of the thumps, an irregular spasming of the diaphragm, when last in the Rubiton Stakes (Gr 2, 1100m) at Caulfield on February 8, his first run back following a spring campaign where both Sadler, and punters, were expecting more, with Sartorial Splendor supported from $9.50 to $5.50. "I went into the race thinking he was a good winning chance but he was in a very distressed state after the race," the trainer said. "He got over it pretty quick, but usually when a horse gets the thumps, they don't run any good." Sadler decided against running Sartorial Splendor at Flemington last week due to a wet track and he is now facing the prospect of rain falling at Caulfield, as well as an inside draw to contend with. "Drawn one, who knows whether that will be any good for him," Sadler continued. "I'm sure that he is not as good on softer ground and you would think that if the ground was soft, the inside will not be the place to be. Probably overall it doesn't look good for him."

Mornington Cup on cards for Busuttin-Young pair

Trent Busuttin and Natalie Young will have no hesitation backing up their two Mornington Cup (Listed, 2400m) hopefuls if they run well in tomorrow's Mornington Cup Prelude (Listed, 2000m) at Caulfield. European import Inverloch (Fastnet Rock) and Wangaratta Cup (2000m) winner Salsamor (Tavistock) are set to line up tomorrow, a week ahead of the main event which gives the winner a ballot-free exemption into the Caulfield Cup (Gr 1, 2400m). "One hundred per cent we would back up," Busuttin said. "They're both geldings and they're there to be racehorses. It's a $150,000 race on Saturday, so it's good money to be racing for. Neither horse is a superstar, but they're genuine, honest horses." Regarding their chances, Busuttin said: "Inverloch should be in for a good winter campaign again but he went super second-up so I can't see why he wouldn't run well." The weather could however be the determining factor on Salsamor's participation tomorrow. Busuttin added: "If the rain doesn't arrive for him we might save him for a Benchmark 90 at Mornington, but if the rain arrives he'll go around and with 54 kilos on his back and the cut in the ground, he'll run well."

Game Of Thorns on Oaks path

Australian Bloodstock's Luke Murrell hopes he and business partner Jamie Lovett's judgment is rewarded in the Kembla Grange Classic today when their filly Game Of Thorns (Animal Kingdom) contests the $200,000 race. The Kris Lees-trained three-year-old, a $180,000 yearling, was stakes-placed last November and returned with a win at Newcastle on February 29. "Like a lot of them, we are not sure how far she will stay, but she will get 2000 metres on her ear, so depending on how she goes tomorrow, our ultimate aim is the Oaks in Sydney, rather than Brisbane," Murrell told ANZ Bloodstock News. "If at her next two she didn't quite measure up, we'd probably just back off her and head to Queensland, that level down, for the black type but we definitely think she is up to Sydney at this stage. I haven't been this excited about a horse for a long time." Tim Clark rides Game Of Thorns in the Kembla Grange Classic.

Hanseatic and Chenier win trials

Golden Slipper fancy Hanseatic (Street Boss) had his first look at Sydney yesterday with jockey Kerrin McEvoy putting the colt through his paces in a barrier trial. The Blue Diamond Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) runner-up settled midfield in the 1045-metre heat at Randwick, pulling his way up to join the leaders on the home turn. While he appeared to switch legs once or twice in the straight, the Anthony Freedman-trained youngster responded when McEvoy asked for a final effort, pulling clear to win the trial. Freedman also won the opening heat with the smart three-year-old Chenier (Medaglia D'Oro), who is heading towards the Rosehill Guineas (Gr 1, 2000m) next weekend.

Super Seth back on track

Super Seth

SPORTPIX

Super Seth (Dundeel) showed he was back on track for his autumn campaign when closing strongly to finish runner-up to Kementari (Lonhro) in a deep trial at Randwick yesterday. The Caulfield Guineas winner (Gr 1, 1600m) was scratched from the Randwick Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) with an elevated temperature and is scheduled to take on Te Akau Shark (Rip Van Winkle) in the George Ryder Stakes (Gr 1, 1500m) on Slipper day. Trainer James Cummings indicated Kementari, who has been gelded after proving sub-fertile at stud, could resume in The Galaxy (Gr 1, 1100m) at Rosehill next Saturday. Also being aimed at the sprint first-up is the Anthony Cummings-trained Mizzy (Zoustar), who finished sixth in Kementari's trial. "She just keeps stepping up week to week and she is on song for the Galaxy first-up," Cummings said.

Sunlight to have jump-out

Sunlight (Zoustar) will take the next step towards her comeback from injury when she takes part in an 800m jump-out at Flemington this morning. The four-year-old had surgery to remove a bone chip from the outside of a splint bone in a hind leg, an injury suffered in a paddock accident after her spring campaign last year. "She's very well," co-trainer Tony McEvoy said. "She's just going to have a cruise around in the morning. She won't be there to do much. I was going to give her a gallop but I just thought she would be more stimulated by having a jump-out from the gates. She has come through that surgery very well. We followed all the recommendations and she has come back without any problems. I want to run her on April 18 in the R N Irwin Stakes (Gr 3, 1100m) and that will lead her into the TAB Classic (Gr 1, 1200m)."

Apprentice Huxtable earns Boomnova ride

Trainer Chris Munce has shown his faith in stable apprentice Justin Huxtable by entrusting him with the ride on Boomnova (Spirit Of Boom) in tomorrow's $500,000 The Jewel 2YO (1200m) at the Gold Coast. Huxtable, who is one of the tallest jockeys in Australia, has been with Munce since last September after moving from South Australia. He has ridden 148 winners including 10 in Queensland. "My stable supports him but for some reason he struggles to get outside rides," Munce said. "He is a hard worker and still has a two-kilo claim in the metropolitan area. Justin won on my filly Buckets of Pride at Doomben recently and it was a very good effort. I have no hesitation in putting him on in a $500,000 race because he is level-headed and doesn't panic. Justin has done a lot of work with Boomnova and rode her when she won a trial."

Cahill picks up Malahide ride

Michael Cahill will attempt to land his first stakes winner since his comeback from injury when he takes the ride on Malahide (Shamus Award) in tomorrow's Goldmarket Handicap (Listed, 1300m) at the Gold Coast. Cahill returned last Saturday from four months on the sidelines after breaking his foot in a barrier accident in October. He had three rides and has increased that number to six this week. "I wanted to get my weight back down so I can ride comfortably at 54 kilos," he said. Cahill won two Group 1 races on The Bostonian (Jimmy Choux) last winter but missed the win when the New Zealand sprinter claimed the Canterbury Stakes (Gr 1, 1300m) under Nash Rawiller at Randwick last Saturday. "I wouldn't have been ready to ride him but I was thrilled for the connections," he added.

Goldmarket test for Grey Missile

Former country star Grey Missile (Red Element) will have to call on his renowned toughness to win the Goldmarket having drawn wide in a capacity field. The five-year-old transferred to Toby and Trent Edmonds late last year and won at the Sunshine Coast at his first start for the training partnership. He has had one run since, when he was stuck three-deep before being beaten a nose in an Open Handicap at Doomben. Trent Edmonds said it had been a tough run at Eagle Farm and Grey Missile was entitled to drop out. "He was super. I was genuinely upset because he was so tough," Edmonds said. "He will have to be tough again but he is at his best trip. Grey Missile has won ten races and five of them have been at 1300 metres. Here's hoping for a bit of luck."

RV could hold closed race meetings

Racing Victoria (RV) will keep a close eye on the state's coronavirus situation after the World Health Organisation officially declared it a pandemic on Thursday. Although there are no plans at present to abandon race meetings or stage them without any spectators, the latter is an option for RV. "We are keeping abreast of the changes and the current advice that is coming from federal and state governments and health authorities. They're the key driver of this, they're the key people with all the relevant information and we'll respond to that," RV chief executive Giles Thompson told RSN927. "At the moment, the advice is that it is OK for mass gatherings such as the ones we'll have this weekend and we're going ahead fully expecting them to be well attended. If that advice changes, then we will change how we race. My view at this point, and what we're planning for, is that if it gets to the point where mass gatherings are not allowed then we will continue to race behind closed doors without audiences."

Warrnambool with no fans possible

Warrnambool Racing Club will host its three-day May Racing Carnival crowd-free if forced to, chief executive Tom O'Connor said yesterday. "A lot of planning is going on for the May Carnival, it's still happening, but the concern is there," O'Connor told Racing.com. "We've got to be very mindful of it and we're in regular communication with the industry and making sure they're monitoring it. At the end of the day we'll be governed by our federal and state governments and health authorities."

Kent calls for MRC committee to be overthrown

Victorian trainer Mick Kent challenged Melbourne Racing Club (MRC) members to overthrow the Club's committee in a fiery interview on RSN927 yesterday morning. This came after City of Great Dandenong councillor Peter Brown told a local newspaper that planners representing the Club had put forward a development proposal for 7000 homes on the site of Sandown Racecourse. The MRC quickly denied that any decision on the future of Sandown had been determined, but for Kent, it was the last straw. "I hope it's true that the members have the last say," Kent told RSN927. "They should get rid of that committee and get another committee that enjoys racing and not put swimming pools at tracks and have a terrible surface at Caulfield. It's just disgraceful that a committee could do that. It just seems a greedy thing for the MRC to try and sell that. They're a racing club, that's their job. It's a not-for-profit organisation and there is just no need to sell that track."

Nikolic internal review knocked back

Former jockey Danny Nikolic has lost his latest bid for a riding licence in Queensland. Nikolic sought an internal review of the Queensland Racing Integrity Commission refusal of his application for a licence to ride at provincial meetings. The internal reviewer refused the application this week and Nikolic is now expected to lodge a further appeal at the Queensland Civil and Administrative Tribunal. It can take up to a year for QCAT cases to be heard and resolved. Internal review reasons are not published until after the result of any QCAT decision. In January, QRIC informed Nikolic his application had been declined but refused to give reasons or make any further comment. QRIC's licensing division had collected submissions on the application, which if successful would have allowed Nikolic to be based in North Queensland. Nikolic has not ridden since September, 2012.

Jockey Payne injured

Country jockey Paul Payne was taken to hospital yesterday after a trackwork fall at Kempsey racecourse on the NSW mid-north coast. Payne was taken to Kempsey Hospital complaining of back pain where he was found to have suffered a spasm around his shoulder blade. He has been cleared of any injuries but he has already forfeited his rides for Taree's race meeting today.

NEW ZEALAND

Three-pronged Oaks tilt for Autridge

Trainer Stephen Autridge will be vying for his first New Zealand Oaks (Gr 1, 2400m) when he sends out three fillies in the feature at Trentham tomorrow. Autridge will saddle Communique (Redwood) and Karalino (Zacinto) in Kevin and Jo Hickman's colours, which are yet to salute in the Oaks but were successful aboard a filly in the New Zealand Derby (Gr 1, 2400m) when Silent Achiever (O'Reilly) carried the gold silks against the boys. He will also contest the race with Nothing Compares (Jakkalberry), who is part-owned by respected Horowhenua horseman Chris Ruten. "Communique and Karalino have gone the right way and have ended up with good draws, so I am quite happy," Autridge said. "I know 2400m won't be a problem for Communique, but with Karalino I am not quite sure. But her work has been absolutely super, so we have got to have a go."

Jennifer Eccles could tie up filly of year title

A win in tomorrow's New Zealand Oaks (Gr 1, 2400m) could see Jennifer Eccles (Rip Van Winkle) stamp herself as the most dominant three-year-old filly in 15 years, wrapping up the NZB Filly of the Year title in the process. The points-based system has been in place for almost half a century. Wins in the Eight Carat Classic (Gr 2, 1600m), Sir Tristram Fillies' Classic (Gr 2, 2000m) and Lowland Stakes (Gr 2, 2100m) have put Jennifer Eccles firmly in the box seat to win the title, with her only danger being the New Zealand 1,000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) winner Loire (Redoute's Choice). For the latter to take the title, she would need to win the Oaks with Jennifer Eccles out of the placings. Victory to the Shaune Ritchie-trained filly would give her 44.5 points, making her the first filly to exceed 40 points since Justa Tad's (Istidaad) score of 42 in 2004-05.

Golden Sixty heads Hong Kong Derby selected runners

A field of 14 has been announced for the Hong Kong Derby (RL, 2000m), to be run at Sha Tin on March 22, with Golden Sixty (Medaglia D'Oro) the headline act on the path to the four-year-old feature. The Francis Lui-trained Golden Sixty will be aiming to become just the second horse to sweep the Four-Year-Old Classic Series in Hong Kong - which also features the Hong Kong Classic Mile (RL, 1600m) and the Hong Kong Classic Cup (RL, 1800m) - with the John Moore-prepared Rapper Dragon (Street Boss) the only previous winner of the treble in 2017. The race will also see the return of Brett Prebble to Hong Kong, with the Melbourne-based rider - who plied his trade in the city for 15 years - set to partner Private Secretary (Kingman) for Tony Cruz.

Kentucky Derby winner War Emblem dies

War Emblem (Our Emblem), the 2002 Kentucky Derby (Gr 1, 10f) and Preakness Stakes (Gr 1, 9.5f) winner, has died in Kentucky aged 21. He had been at Old Friends Farm, a thoroughbred retirement centre in Lexington, since 2015 after returning from stud in Japan. Officials say the cause of death is believed to be a paddock accident, but exact details are not known and a necropsy is pending. War Emblem was transferred to trainer Bob Baffert after he won the Illinois Derby (Gr 2, 9f); three weeks later, he won the Kentucky Derby and then the Preakness to set up a Triple Crown bid. He stumbled badly at the start of the Belmont Stakes (Gr 1, 12f) and ended up losing to outsider Sarava (Wild Again), who also lives at Old Friends. War Emblem retired with seven wins from 13 career starts and was sold for USD$17 million to Shadai Stallion Farm in Japan where he proved a difficult but talented stallion, siring fewer than 200 foals at stud.

Big Blue to become first Australian-trained Cheltenham runner

Trainers Ciaran Maher and David Eustace will create a little slice of history at the world's biggest jumps meeting, the Cheltenham Festival, today when they send out the first ever Australian-trained runner at the meeting. Big Blue (Galileo) began his career with Godolphin, initially starting with Andre Fabre in France before arriving in Australia in 2017. Joining Maher and Eustace in 2018, he has been a dual-purpose campaigner, winning three of his four starts over hurdles down under - including the 2019 Galleywood Hurdle (3200m) - as well as taking the second running of the reintroduced ATC St Leger (2600m). He has struggled in two runs back in Europe, being pulled up in the Christmas Hurdle (Gr 1, 2m) at Kempton before a lacklustre sixth of seven in the Limestone Lad Hurdle (Gr 3, 2m) at Naas last start. Big Blue will contest the Martin Pipe Conditional Jockeys' Handicap Hurdle (2m 4 1/2f), the final race of the four-day Cheltenham Festival, with teenage rider Luca Morgan to be legged aboard.

Share in Le Havre fetches mammoth price in online sale

The 1/50th share in leading French sire Le Havre (Noverre) offered online by Arqana on Wednesday went the way of a winning bid to the tune of €300,000. Having started at 11am, the sale generated a total of ten bids between five different bidders. Montfort et Préaux, acting as agent for an as-yet unknown client, had the final say at 6.17pm following 'extra-time'. At a very simple arithmetic level, a 1/50th share in a stallion that goes for €300,000 values him at €15 million. Standing at Montfort et Préaux, Le Havre has supplied 57 stakes performers since retiring to stud, including dual Classic winners La Cressonniere and Avenir Certain. The 14-year-old is standing at a fee of €50,000 this year, having stood his first season at stud in 2010 for €5,000.

Irish racing in the balance as government reveals coronavirus measures

Horseracing in Ireland looks set to be held under special measures or possibly cancelled in response to the coronavirus outbreak, it was announced yesterday. Irish prime minister Leo Varadkar revealed measures to combat coronavirus, which will take place from 6pm on Thursday to March 29, that will see schools, colleges and other public facilities close in Ireland.

He said indoor gatherings of more than 100 people and outdoor gatherings of more than 500 people should be cancelled, while people are being encouraged to work from home where possible. Horse Racing Ireland was scheduled to meet yesterday to discuss the impact of the coronavirus outbreak on racing. Officials at Down Royal racecourse yesterday announced their intention to run the St Patrick's Day race meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, behind closed doors. Emma Meehan, chief executive of Down Royal racecourse said: "We apologise for any inconvenience caused; however the health and safety of racegoers is our priority. Only runners, riders and trainers will be in attendance, with turnstiles closed to racegoers. Ticketholders will automatically receive a full refund within 14 working days."

Queensland homecoming for Love Conquers All

BY ANDREW HAWKINS | @ANZ_NEWS

Love Conquers All (Mossman) will return to Queensland for the upcoming breeding season, relocating from Sun Stud in Victoria to Clear Mountain Fairview on the Darling Downs in a coup for the sunshine state's breeding industry.

When first retired to stud in 2012, Love Conquers All was based in Queensland, standing at Eliza Park's property at Innisplain before it was rebranded as Sun Stud. He moved to Sun Stud's Victoria farm in 2018.

During his first stint in Queensland, he was named champion Australian first season sire (by winners), as well as the champion Queensland sire for his first, second and third season crops.

"This is a serious horse that has a proven breeding record," Clear Mountain Fairview Stud principal Bob Frappell said. "Love Conquers All is a Queenslander through and through and it is great to have him return to the sunshine state. He will be instantly recognised and a great choice for mare owners for the 2020 breeding season. We look forward to Love Conquers All arriving at the farm and cannot wait to start covering in the coming season."

Love Conquers All is a Queensland product, having been bred by Glenlogan Park. He was sold for $400,000 at the 2008 Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale to John Hawkes on behalf of prominent owner Nick Moraitis, with the bay going on to win $1.38 million, including five stakes victories among his haul of eight wins. He was three times a runner-up in Group 1 company.

Love Conquers All

Sun Stud's managing director Danielle Cheng said the deal to relocate Love Conquers All is beneficial to all stakeholders.

"We are very pleased with the outcome," Cheng said. "We have been able to negotiate with all parties involved and can confirm a reduced service fee for 2020 that will ensure Queensland breeders can afford to support this wonderful sire.

"It should be noted that Love Conquers All has 64 winners and 100 wins this season. The only Queensland-based sire with more winners is Spirit Of Boom (66 winners and 82 wins), and no stallion in the state has more progeny wins to their name than Love Conquers All in 2019-20."

He will stand for $5,500 (including GST), having been priced at $8,800 (including GST) at his last two seasons in Victoria.

Produce Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m) at Awapuni on 28 March could be the filly's next target after that dominant debut.

"It was a good win. She is a promising filly," Baker said. "She is nominated for the Manawatu Sires' so we will see how she comes through this and assess where we go next."

By Australia's

three-time champion sire Snitzel (Redoute's Choice), Safe Passage is out of the unraced Deep Impact (Sunday Silence) mare Travessia, who is herself a half-sister to Japanese champion stallion King Kamehameha (Kingmambo) and Santa Anita Derby (Gr 1, 9f) winner The Deputy (Petardia). With both Deep Impact and King Kamehameha prevalent in her pedigree, Travessia is one of Japan's hottest broodmare prospects. Both of Safe Passage's third and fourth dams, Pilot Bird (Blakeney) and The Dancer (Green Dancer), won the Listed Sir Charles Clore Memorial Stakes (Listed, 1m 2f), now the Newbury Fillies' Trial Stakes, while others in the family include 2010 UAE Derby (Gr 2, 1900m) winner Musir (Redoute's Choice).

Blueblood Safe Passage (Snitzel) is potentially on a Group 1 path as soon as the end of the month after she scored an emphatic win at her debut outing at Matamata for trainers Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman.

Racing in the colours of James Chapman's Jamieson Park, Safe Passage showed good early gate speed to sit outside the leader, her stablemate Oneroa (Shooting To Win). Shaken up upon straightening, she quickly put a margin on her rivals, holding almost four lengths at the line; the Emma-Lee and David Browne-trained Autobahn (Charm Spirit) closed off strongly late to grab second.

Baker suggested that the Manawatu Sires'

Easter Yearling Sale in Sydney, is the second of Travessia's foals to race. The first, Admire Form (Kurofune), was unplaced on the flat but has won two steeplechases at Fukushima.

She was bred by the Arrowfield Group and Jungle Pocket combination that has seen the mixing of high-class Australian and Japanese bloodlines. Some of their notable stars have included this season's Blue Diamond Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) winner Tagaloa (Lord Kanaloa), 2018 Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) heroine Estijaab (Snitzel) and dual Group 2 winner Showtime (Snitzel).

Safe Passage's brother will be offered as Lot 250 at next month's Inglis Australian Easter Yearling Sale. Travessia slipped to both Snitzel and Not A Single Doubt last season, while she visited new kid on the block The Autumn Sun in 2019.

ON THE WATCH

Farnan claims Golden Slipper Stakes favouritism with brilliant performance on the clock

BY KEN BOMAN | @ANZ_NEWS

The Gai Waterhouse and Adrian Bott-trained colt Farnan (Not A Single Doubt) now heads to the Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) tomorrow week as favourite after returning fast times in his brilliant win in Saturday's Todman Stakes (Gr 2, 1200m) at Randwick.

Now the winner of four of his five starts, Farnan came firmly into contention for next week's $3.5 million feature after his win in the Silver Slipper Stakes (Gr 2, 1100m) a fortnight earlier at Rosehill, with the colt advancing to an even higher level on Saturday.

Starting a well-supported $1.80 favourite, Farnan was quickly away and soon took the lead but was then pressured on occasions before drawing clear shortly after turning into the straight.

From that point on he was not threatened, winning comfortably by a length and three-quarters from the Blue Diamond Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) winner Tagaloo (Lord Kanaloa) in the slick time of 1:09.86 on the Soft 7 track.

Farnan's 200-metre sectional breakdown was impressive (from the 1000m): 10.96, 11.09 (400m in 22.05), 10.64 (600m in 32.69), 11.05 (800m in 43.74) and 12.04 for his final 200 metres, giving the colt a fast 55.78 for his last 1000 metres - especially smart on the affected track.

The TAB now has Farnan as their $5 favourite for the Golden Slipper, with Tagaloo at $6, Hanseatic (Street Boss) $7 and Saturday's impressive Flemington winner Minhaaj (Exceed And Excel) next at $9.00.

Farnan

SPORTPIX

Later on the Randwick programme, the high-class sprinter Nature Strip (Nicconi) returned to peak form at his second run back from a spell when taking out the weight-for-age Challenge Stakes (Gr 2, 1000m), returning outstanding sectionals in the process.

Nature Strip needed to work along the rails from his inside barrier to find the lead and he then travelled well at a quick tempo, clocking (from the 800m): 10.00, 10.25 (400m in 20.25), 11.00 (600m in a brilliant 31.25) and 12.19 to give him a very fast 43.44 for his last 800 metres.

The time for the 1000m journey, 56.87, was very quick on a Soft 6 track, but was still 1.14 seconds outside the track record of Redzel (Snitzel), who finished three lengths back as runner-up on Saturday.

Another to impress on the watch, while not in the same league as Nature Strip, was the Gerald Ryan-trained filly Villami (Foxwedge), who demonstrated her talent with an impressive first-up win in the Fireball Stakes (Listed, 1100m).

Having only her eighth start and her first since October, Villami was quickly away from her outside barrier (seven), went straight to the front after traveling nicely at a solid tempo, and then dashed clear at the 300 metres before going on to score quite comfortably by a length and a quarter.

Nature Strip

The time for the 1100 metres was a fast 1:02.26 (11.32 200m rate), equivalent to 1:07.92 for 1200 metres, extremely good times on a track rated as Soft 7.

In fact, Villami's time was only 0.59 seconds outside the track record.

Her 200-metre breakdown was very smart being (from the 1000m): 10.53, 10.71 (400m in 21.24), 10.53 (600m in 31.77) 10.84 (800m in 42.61) and 11.98 for her final 200 metres to give Villami an impressive 54.59 for her last 1000 metres.

Especially noteworthy was Villami recording four successive 200-metre sections of sub-11 seconds, which is rarely achieved, resulting in her clocking a brilliant 42.61 for that 800-metre mid-race section.

The runner-up was the Peter and Paul Snowden-trained colt Cosmic Force (Deep Field) and his performance was extremely good.

Having his first start since early November and conceding five kilograms to the winner, Cosmic Force settled back in fourth place and kept making ground under his top weight (59 kilograms) to finish second, beaten a length and a quarter.

Bivouac

SPORTPIX

Cosmic Force was timed to run his last 1000 metres in 54.61, last 800 metres in 43.81, last 600 metres in 33.09 with his final 400 metres in 22.53.

A winner of three with a further four placings from nine starts, Cosmic Force showed his talent with a seven and a quarter length victory in last year's Pago Pago Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m), prior to racing below his best when finishing eighth as favourite for the Golden Slipper a week later.

Saturday's Flemington meeting featured the Newmarket Handicap (Gr 1, 1200m) and, in a high-class renewal of the famous sprint, the Godolphin-raced colt Bivouac (Exceed And Excel) staged an outstanding performance in victory.

Always close to the pace, Glen Boss dashed the colt clear on passing the 200 metres before Bivouac went on to easily defeat the classy filly Loving Gaby (I Am Invincible) by two and a half lengths in a time of 1:09.21 on the Soft 5 track.

Bivouac's closing sectionals were very smart, with his last 1000 metres in 55.03, last 800 metres in 44.44, last 600 metres in 33.76, last 400 metres in 23.00 and his final 200 metres in 11.76.

Meanwhile, in the opening event at Flemington, the aforementioned Minhaaj, leapt to the fourth line of betting for Saturday week's Golden Slipper after her highly impressive victory in the Thoroughbred Breeders Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) for two-year-old fillies.

The Lindsay Park-trained and Shadwell-raced filly, who was advancing in class after her easy win on debut in a two-year-old maiden (1000m) at Bendigo on February 15, raced close to the speed before moving away to an easy four and a half length victory.

The win looked very good to the eye, and also on the clock, with Minhaaj's 200-metre breakdown being (from the 1000m): 10.39, 11.02 (400m in 21.41), 10.88 (600m in 32.29), 11.63 (800m in 11.63) and 12.41 to give her a quick last 1000 metre time of 56.33 on the Soft 6 track.
