Jonker crosses state lines on Newcastle's big day

The former Novocastrian, a winner of the Max Lees Classic and a runner in the inaugural $1 million The Hunter, steps out at Doomben

BY ANDREW HAWKINS | @ANZ_NEWS

Three years on from taking the inaugural Max Lees Classic (900m) at Newcastle, Jonker (Spirit Of Boom) will attempt to return to winning ways when he steps out in the Keith Noud Quality (Listed, 1200m) at Doomben this afternoon.

Jonker, a former Novocastrian previously trained by David Atkins, won his first two starts in the Max Lees Classic and the Wyong Magic Millions 2YO Classic (RL, 1100m) and was sent out hard in the market for the Magic Millions 2YO Classic (RL, 1200m) at the Gold Coast.

However, he suffered severe interference at the first turn and trailed the field home in the $2 million feature, more than 21 lengths from the winner Sunlight (Zoustar). He has not won in 17 starts since, including when tenth to Savatiano (Street Cry) in the inaugural $1 million The Hunter (1300m) last year, but he has placed five times at stakes level. Continued on page 2>>

Today, Jonker will attempt to return to the winners' circle once more for new trainer Tony Gollan, with Brisbane's leading handler also sending out Glasshouse Handicap (Listed, 1400m) heroine Krone (Eurozone) and the resuming Macewen (Rothesay).

"Jonker is in good order; the horse, he's come along quite well," Gollan said. "We haven't done anything too different with him at the moment. He's got a good fitness base under him and we've had him in work for quite a while.

"If anyone is worried about him and his level of fitness, they shouldn't be."

What may make the task of Jonker - or jockey Jim Byrne - more difficult is gate 15, although the pair will come into barrier 14 should first emergency Profit (Dundeel) fail to gain a start.

"He's drawn very tricky," Gollan admitted. "We will go forward on him. I think he's a colt that we want to get a bit interested with out of the barriers and put him up in a race. I can't see him any further back than the first three pairs, so it's about how much work he has to do and where he ends up in that spot.

"I can see there being a bit of pressure so he's going to need a little bit of luck. Jim is really effective on these types of horses and I think the horse and rider combination will be terrific.

Victory for Jonker, today or later on in his preparation, will give pedigree analyst Kristen Manning a second standout success this spring, following the success of Portland Sky (Deep Field) in the Red Anchor Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m).

Manning purchased Jonker's granddam Villa Igea (Papal Power) for clients at the 2001 Inglis Australian Broodmare Sale for $75,000, before planning a mating with Moonee Valley Vase (Gr 2, 2040m) winner Kempinsky (Danehill) that would produce Jonker's dam Hearts And Arrows.

Raced by Manning among others, Hearts And Arrows - trained by Mick Kent - won her first two starts at Cranbourne before being sent out as second favourite in the Auraria Stakes (Gr 3, 1800m) at Morphettville. She injured a tendon, though, and was retired to the breeding barn, having been purchased by Wicklow Lodge's Jeff Cullen.

"We had a very big opinion of Hearts And Arrows and still consider her to be our 'what if' horse," Manning told ANZ Bloodstock News yesterday. "So following the career of her son has been a terrific journey despite its many ups and downs. Jeff Cullen at Wicklow Lodge, who also bred Winning Rupert, has done a great job with her and it has been exciting to have been involved with stallion suggestions for her.

"Of course, I follow plenty of horses but I have a real soft and special spot for Hearts And Arrows' progeny."

However, it is Jonker that has proven her best performer so far, the $45,000 Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale purchase earning $562,660 to date - and with the promise of more to come.

Last night, Jonker was rated a $23 chance with TAB for his first outing for the Gollan yard.

Bullock seeks 'Special Reward' in Hunter

While Jonker will not be at Newcastle, his original rider Aaron Bullock - who was two from two on the gelding - will be at the Broadmeadow track with a strong book of rides.

Bullock will partner Baby Wong (Press Statement) as he searches for his second Max Lees Classic, while Special Reward (Demerit) should get every chance from gate four as he chases his biggest payday in The Hunter.

It will be just the second time Bullock rides Special Reward in a race, having partnered the subsequent Group 3 winner into second in a Benchmark 94 at Randwick in January.

However, he has ridden the former Perth sprinter most mornings since the gelding switched - in A-League parlance - his Glory for his Jets last year.

"He's not the easiest horse to ride and not many like riding him so I get stuck with him," Bullock said of the Kris Lees trainee. "I put up with him every morning. He's been playing up at home and that's when he races good. I'm hoping he can get back to his best.

"It would mean a lot. I know the original owners, who have still got a half-share, have really pushed for me to ride this horse. Opportunities like this don't come around often and just to make the most of it and get the job done would be great."

While Lees is well-represented with five runners in his home-track feature as he seeks to add to his Newcastle Cup (Gr 3, 2300m) victory with Mugatoo (Henrythenavigator), he does not have a runner in the race named for his late father, having finished second the last two years.

Favourite, at her first start, is Godolphin filly Sliders (Street Boss), a half-sister to Thousand Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) winner Flit (Medaglia d'Oro).

Sliders' third dam Blue Storm (Bluebird) produced her best performance at Group 1 level when she finished fourth in the Coolmore Classic (Gr 1, 1500m) in 1998. The winner? Shindig (Straight Strike), who scored in race record time for trainer Max Lees.

AUSTRALIA

Public submissions sought for mining fight

Public submissions are being sought as major Hunter Valley breeding operations Coolmore and Godolphin once again fight against a proposed Maxwell underground mine project which they believe will have a significant adverse effect on the agricultural land in the Upper Hunter region. Coolmore Australia principal Tom Magnier, board chairman Lindsay Maxsted and agricultural manager John Borg as well as Darley's Ross Cole all voiced their opposition to Malabar Coal's proposal at a NSW Independent Planning Commission hearing into the mining application on Wednesday. The commission is accepting written submissions until 5pm on Friday via email, post or via its online portal at www.ipcn.nsw.gov.au/have-your-say. "We are opposing this mine as we believe it will pose risks to the farm. It is a different mine to the Drayton South proposal with different potential adverse impacts for Coolmore," Magnier said. "Our experts tell us that this mine will lower the water table for 11 kilometres around it and the impacts and risk of this on surface water, groundwater and our soil has not been assessed by Malabar. The land over the underground will subside by over five metres. This will impact the Edderton Road, which will eventually be realigned in 2032. It also poses risks to the water supply of the Hunter River." An Anglo American application in 2015 for an open-cut mine near Godolphin and Coolmore's farms, referred to as Drayton South, was rejected in 2015.

Allibor to match Swift for Wilde

Symon Wilde has tasted success in a Sandown Guineas (Gr 2, 1600m) before and he's hoping he can add a second win in the race today with Allibor (All Too Hard). Training with his father Bill, Wilde claimed the 2011 Sandown Guineas with So Swift (Barely A Moment), who was having his fifth start, and Allibor is also lightly-raced having had only three starts. So Swift had only won a Hamilton maiden going into the race but he had finished fourth in the Gibson Carmichael Stakes (Listed, 1600m) as a two-year-old at Flemington. Allibor is a maiden but he also finished fourth in stakes grade at Flemington at his last run behind Shelby Cobra (Toronado). Prior to that he had finished second in maiden races at Donald and Bendigo. Wilde said he had not targeted the Sandown Guineas with Allibor, rather it presented itself as the right race at the right time. "He's all set to go but he's a maiden in a Group 2 race but he's a promising horse," Wilde said. "This isn't a deep race though, except for Aysar." Wilde was happy with Allibor's fourth at Flemington when he made up a lot of ground over the final 200 metres. "I thought he was good as he got detached from the field before the turn. He is a lackadaisical horse so it was a good job to run fourth," he said.

Guineas test for Furioso

Ballarat trainer Matt Cumani will line-up Furioso (Atlante) in the Sandown Guineas today and he admits he is having a throw at the stumps with the lightly-raced three-year-old. Furioso has had just the two career starts, breaking through for his maiden victory at Cranbourne last month, and Cumani believes he will put in a good showing today. "We put him in as a late nomination as the Sandown Guineas came up a bit light, except for Aysar, so we thought we'd have a crack," he said. "He's looking for more ground but he should run on well and beat the majority of the field home."

Cup within reach in Score's Future

Furioso's stablemate Future Score (Cape Cross) will head to Sandown to take his chance in today's Zipping Classic (Gr 2, 2400m) with Cumani already having an eye on next year's Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) for the European import. "Really there's only two ways he can get into a Melbourne Cup. That's by winning the Andrew Ramsden Stakes next year, or by getting his ratings up by winning a race like this," Cumani said. "If he can win the Zipping Classic then we won't have to worry about the Ramsden and if he doesn't, then he'll be set for it (Ramsden)." Regarding the gelding's chance today, Cumani continued: "It's a tough race and he's not that well off at weight-for-age on the ratings as he's carrying the same weight as horses rated ten points better than him. He keeps improving though, and if he's good enough he'll be able to cope."

San Huberto to relish two miles

Cumani will have another imported galloper in action at the track when San Huberto (Speightstown) takes his chance in the Sandown Cup (Listed, 3200m). The four-year-old finished well down the field on his Australian debut in last month's Geelong Cup (Gr 3, 2400m) but his trainer believes the step up in trip today could bring about significant improvement. "He's a dour stayer and it's really exciting for him to get over 3200 metres as he's crying out for it," Cumani said. "He's worked very well. I'd like him to run along in front which is his style."

Begg hopes for 'ugly' ride on Raider

Grahame Begg is going against conventional wisdom and hoping for an "ugly" ride on Galaxy Raider (Hard Spun) in today's Sandown Stakes (Gr 3, 1500m). The eight-year-old will drop back in trip with his trainer believing a fast tempo will suit the five-time winner who is due to jump from barrier four under Glen Boss. "He's a funny horse, he's a horse that has to be ridden a bit ugly, to be truthful," Begg told Racing.com. "He needs good speed in his races, ridden a bit quiet, a bit ugly, pretty neutral at the start and give him a chance to go through his gears. They'll run along with Kenya and Buffalo River. They won't take any prisoners. We think it's the right style of race for him the way it's going to profile, a fast speed. Hopefully the track has some give in it. Sometimes when it's too firm the leaders won't come back. He's in great order, so we are hoping he will run very well for us."

All Too easy for Huiying and Poy

Having completed his apprenticeship almost a year before it was due to end, Michael Poy is looking to add to his tally of big-race winners when he takes the mount on the Phillip Stokes-trained All Too Huiying (All Too Hard) in today's Eclipse Stakes (Gr 3, 1800m) at Sandown. The six-year-old will be out to complete a spring hat-trick under Poy with the pair having already taken out the Sale Cup (Listed, 1600m) following their success in the Seymour Cup (Listed, 1600m). "I think All Too Huiying is my best ride," Poy told Racing.com when assessing the chances of his seven Sandown rides. "He was super last start but it was on a wet track and we're not going to get that tomorrow. If he runs anything like he did that day at Sale he's going to be right in it. Phillip Stokes is so good and he keeps these horses racing so consistently and he places them in the right races."

Trumbull poised to take Hunter

Kim Waugh hopes to build on her wonderful record at Newcastle when Trumbull (Darci Brahma) takes his chance in today's $1 million The Hunter (1300m). The trainer has been in outstanding form at the provincial track, saddling up six winners and five placegetters from her past 13 starters at Newcastle. It is little surprise that Waugh is a fan of the course, which is regarded by many as one of the best surfaces in NSW. "It's a great surface and it copes with rain well. It is a great track to race on," Waugh said. Waugh will have two runners on today's stand-alone feature meeting, headed by Trumbull, who is equal favourite for The Hunter and Great News (Uncle Mo) in the Bass Floor Handicap (1400m). Trumbull has won seven of his 20 starts but that record could arguably read better. At the beginning of his last campaign he developed a penchant for being sluggish out of the gates, a trait that has hampered his winning chances several times. But there was no sign of those antics when he resumed with a classy win in the Sydney Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m), outsprinting his rivals despite tracking wide for most of the race. "It was a funny-run race and he was caught a bit wide but Tommy (Berry, jockey) just kept him nice and balanced and let him track into the straight. He knows how he lets down so well," Waugh said.

Dambulla qualifies for Jericho Cup

Ciaron Maher and David Eustace's hopes of registering back-to-back wins in the Jericho Cup (4600m) received a significant boost when Dambulla (Fastnet Rock) booked his place in the Warrnambool marathon courtesy of a victory at Moonee Valley last night. The five-year-old finished two lengths clear of his rivals in a Benchmark 78 contest over 3850 metres having been ridden positively by John Allen. Dambulla, who is now unbeaten in two starts beyond 3000 metres, had been slow to mature according to connections but has improved since racing over longer distances. "He didn't show a whole lot early so they (owners) had to be patient and they've allowed us to do that and they are reaping the rewards by getting him out to these trips which is great," Eustace told Racing.com. "What a great initiative this race (Jericho Cup) is - we're going to have a couple in the race now - and they're really exciting races to watch. It gives these genuine stayers a chance for a big prize." Twelve months ago Maher and Eustace took out the Jericho Cup, which will this year be staged on November 29, with the veteran Ablaze (Raise The Flag).

Vale Billy Smith

Hall of Fame jockey W A 'Billy' Smith, who partnered High Jinx (Pride Of Kildare) to a shock 50-1 win in the 1960 Melbourne Cup at odds of 50-1, has died at the age of 92. The well-travelled rider began his career as an apprentice in Melbourne in the 1940s before heading to Western Australia where he rode for close to five years. In the mid-1950s he took up an opportunity in New Zealand where he enjoyed great success, plundering several of the country's best races and winning five jockeys' premierships. He returned to Melbourne for the 1960 spring carnival and captured the Melbourne Cup on the Kiwi mare High Jinx. That success led Smith to re-establish himself in Melbourne where he based himself for the next decade, winning the 1960-61 jockeys' premiership and a host of major races. A natural lightweight, Smith retired during the 1982-83 season as the winner of more than 50 feature races, 18 at the highest level. He was inducted into the Australian Racing Hall of Fame in 2018. "On behalf of the Victorian racing industry, I would like to extend our heartfelt prayers and condolences to Billy's family and friends following the sad news of his passing," Racing Victoria chief executive Giles Thompson said. "Billy was an outstanding jockey who saw success all across Australian and international racetracks and his achievements in the saddle will long be remembered through his membership of the Australian Racing Hall of Fame."

Melbourne Cup wagering increases

Wagering on the Flemington carnival increased this year on the back of record turnover on the Melbourne Cup. Australians bet $221.6 million on the famous race, up more than 17 per cent on 2019 figures. A total of $667.3 million was invested over the four days of the Cup carnival, an increase of six per cent on last year despite the TAB system outage that impacted the final meeting. In spite of the TAB debacle, the Cup carnival was deemed a success, particularly in light of the coronavirus pandemic which prevented the usual throng of spectators from being on track at Flemington. Newly appointed Victoria Racing Club chief executive Steve Rosich said: "Against the backdrop of an incredibly challenging year for all, the VRC focused on providing an at-home experience that matched the excitement of being on course for our members and all racing fans, which has driven the growth in engagement, particularly across digital streams, and subsequent increase in wagering."

Covid teams for jockeys to be disbanded

Racing Victoria yesterday announced that the green and gold jockey teams which helped get racing through two waves of the Covid-19 pandemic are set to be disbanded following meetings with the Victorian Jockeys' Association. The decision comes less than 24 hours after Racing Victoria announced a limited amount of owners could return to metropolitan tracks, starting with today's meeting at Sandown. The jockey teams will end tomorrow night, however riders have been reminded that they will still need to maintain appropriate distancing and there will be room number limits within jockey facilities. The Covid-19 weight scale in races will continue until the end of December, with the hope of reverting to normal in the new year.

Quilty hoping for December return

Apprentice Kiran Quilty is hoping to be given the all clear to return to race riding next month, five months after she suffered head injuries in a fall following a race at Pakenham. An initial concussion was followed by a bout of post-concussion syndrome, which left doctors unable to provide a definitive timeline about how long Quilty's recovery would take. "I was severely concussed from the fall but afterwards I developed post-concussion syndrome which is basically a brain injury from the concussion," the rider told Racing.com. "There was nothing I could really do, it was just a case of waiting and it's something that can take months or even years to recover from. It's been pretty hard not knowing how long the recovery was going to take. Every time one of my friends rides a winner it makes me want to get back out there even more but at the end of the day, it's only five months and I'm just grateful I came home that day."

Gosford training facility rejuvenated

Racing NSW and Gosford Race Club yesterday announced a joint partnership to reinvigorate Gosford as a training precinct with a new synthetic training track and double-storey stables to be constructed. A development application has already been approved with Racing NSW to begin construction on the stables next year on land purchased from the club, with the facility to have a capacity of 200 horses. "Today is a monumental day for the Gosford racing industry, especially our existing trainers. Importantly however we will now be able to attract new trainers bringing more jobs to the area and boosting the local economy," said Daniel Lacey, Gosford Race Club chief executive. Current Gosford-based trainers include Adam Duggan, Angela Davies, Greg McFarlane, Kylie Gavenlock and Luke Hilton.

NEW ZEALAND

Dragon Storm seeks New Zealand Cup score

Chris Gibbs is hoping a meticulously planned campaign for Dragon Storm (Shocking) will reap dividends when the six-year-old gelding takes his chance in today's New Zealand Cup (Gr 3, 3200m) at Riccarton. The progressive stayer will line up off the back of a five-length last-start winner of the Road To The Jericho (3000m) on October 24 and is rated an $8 prospect for the $250,000 feature. "He's a horse that doesn't take a lot of racing, that's why we set our plan in place where he's fourth up, straight into the Cup," Gibbs said. "We were just hoping to get a result in that last run. I didn't really expect him to be quite so impressive. I knew we had him in good order, we just needed him to produce what we thought he had." Dragon Storm will be ridden by Craig Grylls, who was aboard last start, and will carry the 53 kilogram minimum, with Major Tom the 59 kilogram topweight. "He has improved this season," Gibbs continued. "I think people have always thought he was a little bit one paced, but I wanted to ride him quietly last start because I thought he had a turn of foot if we just rode him the right way once we got him over that distance. On his pedigree, the further he goes the better he is."

Wakari sidelined

Promising juvenile Wakiri (Vespa) was backed into $1.10 favouritism at Awapuni yesterday and won accordingly, but trainer Roydon Bergerson was disappointed to find post-race that the two-year-old had chipped his sesamoid. "Wakari is going to the vets tomorrow," Bergerson said. "It's a shame. He came around the corner and the bend was a little sharp and he struck himself and has taken a chip off his sesamoid. He will be operated on Monday and he will have six months in the paddock. He is a pretty professional horse, though. He is quite a well bred horse who has got a good future. I bought him out of the paddock at Wellfield. I used to train the mare (Denlee), she was Group placed. She had a lot of ability but was quite highly strung. He is a good-looking horse. He didn't look like a two-year-old type, but once he came into the stable he was so professional and did everything you asked him to do. He is just one of those horses that you like to train."

The Chosen One thrives at home

Connections of The Chosen One (Savabeel) are thrilled with the way he has returned to New Zealand after his fourth placing in the Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) last week. The Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman-trained runner had a pleasing spring, winning first-up at Flemington in September before running third in the Caulfield Cup (Gr 1, 2400m) last month. "He has been home for just over a week now," Forsman said. "It was great to get him home so quickly, he's letting down really well. He will probably only need to have another three or four weeks out and we will get him back in and prepare for the autumn."

Auckland Cup possible for Desert Mirage

Desert Mirage (Roc De Cambes) could be in for an exciting few months if she performs up to expectations in tomorrow's Steelform Roofing Group Waverley Cup 2200. The Clayton Chipperfield-trained four-year-old has won three of her four starts this preparation and Cup goals in Auckland next year could now be on the cards. "I have been very happy with the way she has been going this prep," Chipperfield said. "She was always going to be a nice mare, she went a very good race in the Oaks last season and just faded in the last little bit for a good seventh. I don't think the distance is going to be too much of an issue for her. The track is on the improve and if we do get a drizzle of rain before then it is going to be more on the sticky side than anything, which she did win on at New Plymouth, the jockeys were saying it was a bit sticky there. Going into Sunday we have got everything in order and the draw (2) isn't bad. I am glad it's not one but four or five would have been ideal. It's up to the jockey now to get her out when she needs to get out."

ASIA

HK: O'Sullivan, Callan Band together

Paul O'Sullivan and Neil Callan combined for a double at Happy Valley's latest midweek fixture and the pair link again with the admirable Band Of Brothers (Sakhee's Secret) in the Panasonic Cup (1400m), the Class 1 feature at Sha Tin today. The New Zealand-bred chestnut has been a model of consistency across his 16-start career with six wins and five other top-three efforts, with only one finish worse than sixth. "His form is good, he's running well and you would think now running third-up over his proper distance that he is going to have another chance," Callan said. "He's probably getting up to his pet distance now, he kind of surprised us with his first run over 1000 metres - he almost got there and then he backed it up with another good run." A four-time winner over the course and distance, the smart six-year-old was tried first-up over 1000 metres, his first attempt at the minimum trip, and returned a close-up third to Gold Chest (War Front). "The 1400 metres is probably his go, he has a little bit of a wide draw but he is down in the weights, he's always consistent and he trialled well the other day, so I expect him to race well," O'Sullivan said.

SGP: Top Knight confirmed for Gold Cup, on standby for Hong Kong

Michael Clements has ended all speculations about whether or not Top Knight (Zoustar) would be running in the Singapore Gold Cup (Listed, 2000m) by confirming that his stable star will indeed face the starter in next Saturday's showpiece. As well as topping the nominations list of the third and final leg of the Singapore Triple Crown series, Top Knight could also be on his travels with a tilt at the Hong Kong International Mile (Gr 1, 1600m) at Sha Tin on December 13 still a possibility. "I understand the Hong Kong Jockey Club is awaiting confirmation from horses rated ahead of him before finalising the list," Clements said. "At this stage we're 50/50 to run, we won't know until the list of runners is disseminated on November 25. Regardless, it was always the plan to run him in the Gold Cup. It's a $1 million race and he's been going good on a wet track. It'll be his first time over 2000 metres but there is no reason why he can't get the trip. The Gold Cup has always been his main goal, if he gets in the Hong Kong Mile as well, it's all well and good."

INTERNATIONAL

41 for Le Havre

Montfort et Preaux resident Le Havre (Noverre) notched his 41st individual stakes winner when his daughter Karlarina (3 f ex Karsabruni by Speedmaster) made it back-to-back wins by taking out yesterday's Prix Denisy (Listed, 3100m) at a soggy Saint-Cloud. Trained by Stephanie Nigge, the recent Clairefontaine winner beat Sheraz (Sea The Stars) by three lengths with a massive 20 lengths further back to the third-placed Pontille (Whipper) as the majority of the field struggled to cope with the testing conditions. Le Havre, the sire of five individual Group 1 winners, will stand for a fee of €40,000 (approx. AUD$65,235) next year.

FRA: Eyecatching stock on offer as Arqana's Autumn Sale begins

Arqana's Autumn Sale has a different feel to years gone by with the auction set to be held in different stages, and first up are the Flat-bred yearlings, who take centre stage at Deauville today. A total of 254 were catalogued to go under the hammer - there were 32 withdrawals as of yesterday afternoon. IRE: Acclamation to stand for €27,500

Rathbarry Stud stalwart Acclamation (Royal Applause) will stand for a reduced fee of €27,500 (approx. AUD$44,850) in 2021 after the County Cork operation revealed fees for their four stallions. Acclamation, a proven top-class source of talent having sired leading stallion Dark Angel, first-season sire sensation Mehmas and Banstead Manor Stud resident Expert Eye, has been trimmed from €35,000 to €27,500. The 21-year-old is responsible for 129 stakes performers - of which 24 are Group winners and five victorious at the highest level.

IRE: River Boyne recruited to Tara Stud for 2021

Grade 1 winner River Boyne (Dandy Man) will return to Ireland and join Tara Stud's stallion roster for 2021. The five-year-old, who ran three times for Gordon Elliott at two before switching to Jeff Mullins in the US, made his top-level breakthrough when leaning the Frank E Kilroe Mile Stakes (Gr 1, 1m) at Santa Anita in March, having previously won three times in Grade 2 and 3 company.

Matchmaker out to emulate star Canterbury filly

BY NZ RACING DESK |

Success for Matchmaker (Makfi) in today's New Zealand 1000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) at Riccarton would complete a remarkable double for North Canterbury trainer Nick Wigley.

Wigley and his wife Carol raced star filly Canterbury Belle (Beaufort Sea), who won the Classic for trainer Dave Kerr in 1984.

Now Matchmaker, who Wigley and his training partner Kayla Milnes produced to win the Canterbury Belle Stakes (Listed, 1200m) at Riccarton last month, has a gilt-edged chance of emulating one of Canterbury racing's great performers.

"Canterbury Belle was strong and powerful and she'd grind them into the dirt, whereas Matchmaker may have a better turn of foot but she's probably no Canterbury Belle," Wigley said.

"It was huge for us at the time owning a filly as good as Canterbury Belle. My father (Sandy) said at the time the problem with her is that we had a good horse too young and we'd spend the rest of our lives trying to find one as good, and he was probably right.

"It's always been on my bucket list to own and train a 1000 Guineas winner and while I don't own her, it's probably the next best thing training one for your son and daughter-in-law."

Wigley's son Gus and his wife Bianca bred and race Matchmaker, these days retaining a 50 per cent holding after Sydneysider Manoj Wanzare bought into her earlier this spring.

The Makfi (Dubawi) filly, who will join Sydney trainer Chris Waller after today's race, is a $19 chance with TAB after drawing barrier 12. Troy Harris is booked to ride.

"We'll have to ride for luck. Both her wins she's had cover then pulled out for clear air - and that will help her get the 1600 metres too," Wigley said.

Matchmaker RACING NEWS

"There's nothing to compare the South Island form to the Soliloquy Stakes form except through the TAB market, which is favouring the Soliloquy form. It's a pretty open race.

"She had a nice gallop between races on Saturday with Fashion Shoot. They didn't go overly hard but she did enough with the big crowd there.

"She galloped on the Rangiora track on her own on Tuesday and went to Woodend Beach on Thursday and again today (Friday). She did strong work yesterday over a mile and then walked in the surf.

"It's up to the luck of the race now. If she runs up to her best form and can unleash, we'd be disappointed if she doesn't run in the first four."

Wigley, 71, joked he's "aged a bit" since the Canterbury Belle days but that experience has helped mould him into the astute horseman he is now.

He recalls the offers to buy Canterbury Belle in the wake of her 1000 Guineas win which rose from $300,000 to $500,000 within hours of the race and soon afterwards led to a $1.5 million offer from American interests, which fell through.

"Carol was dead against selling. She didn't want us to be the young couple that everyone said had just come into some money," he said

The upshot was the Wigleys got to experience further top-level success in the Stradbroke Handicap (Gr 1, 1400m) at Eagle Farm. Canterbury Belle won ten of her 21 starts before the Wigleys retired her and bred from her as a broodmare.

Wigley and Milne will shoot for further stakes success at Riccarton with promising filly Mozzarella (Capitalist) tackling the Welcome Stakes (Listed, 1000m), while Blackbook (Sacred Falls) is a leading chance in the Vernon & Vazey Truck Parts Premier (1400m).

"Mozzarella was going to the start and got cannoned into and got away from Sam Wynne. She was cleared to start but gave the winner a five-length start. She was only five lengths away from him at the finish so we think she's a real show," Wigley said.

"Blackbook is probably our best winning chance. She's racing really well and she's got a good inside draw and Lisa Allpress on. She should be really competitive."

Competitive trade continues at Keeneland as three reach $300,000 mark

RON MITCHELL OF BLOODHORSE |

The fourth day of the Keeneland November Breeding Stock Sale saw three individuals sell for US$300,000 (approx. AUD$413,730) each in a session which saw 227 horses realise a total of $13,153,000 (approx. AUD$18.14 million), an average of $57,943 (approx. AUD$79,900), and a $42,000 (approx. AUD$57,925) median.

The three session toppers were Lot 1149, Quality Heat (Quality Road), a three-year-old filly purchased by Springbord Farm from Bluewater Sales, Lot 1183, Sex Symbol (Uncle Mo) a mare bought by Green Lantern Stables from Bluewater Sales; and Lot 1269, a Mendelssohn (Scat Daddy) weanling colt acquired by OXO Equine from Four Star Sales.

Sequel Bloodstock's Becky Thomas said of trade: "It's been tough. I thought we had enough money to buy what we wanted, but we didn't. It's very competitive for what we're trying to buy. We've bought four mares from $90,000 to $425,000. I'm trying to get something with upside. Young mares in foal to first-year stallions are what's very sought after."

Another buyer who found the going tough on Thursday was Kevin McKathan, who was buying weanlings to be resold.

Keeneland BLOODHORSE

"I've bought three and been outbid a lot," McKathan said. "The real nice physicals, you have to pay up for them. Your middle and lower-end horses are hard to move."

Cumulatively, 777 horses have grossed $120,262,000 (approx. AUD$165.85 million) for an average price of $154,777 (approx. AUD$214,453), a $90,000 (approx. AUD$124,120) median, and an RNA rate of 24.5 per cent. Through four sessions a year ago, Keeneland had sold 908 horses for $154,833,200, averaging $170,521 with a median price of $100,000.

VERDICT Even Keel hinted last time that he may be capable of breaking his Hong Kong maiden soon. Regency Gem looks worth shortlisting, while Golden General could also come into this. However, in an open-looking heat the suggestion is DAILY CHARM who gets the drop in grade he has looked in need of and could now be much more competitive now.

VERDICT Several can have cases made here in another open heat, with Glenealy Generals, United We Stand, All The Way and Comfort Life among them. However, newcomer LITTLE PLAYER has shown up well in barrier trials and gets the vote.

BETTING FORECAST: 5-2 Inno Legend, 7-2 Rhapsody, 4 Breeze Of Spring, 7 Super Red Dragon, 10 Qipao Boss, Vector, 12 Grand Power, 16 Victorious Leader, 20 Little Thunder, 66 bar.

VERDICT There should still be more to come from Rhapsody, who gained his breakthrough win over C&D this month and is reunited with Joao Moreira today. However, his wide draw tips the scales in favour of INNO LEGEND, who shaped as though his turn is near when a staying-on second here in October. Breeze Of Spring also has a significant role to play.

VERDICT Golden Four, Ultimate Glory, Mighty Power and So Awesome all arrive in good form but keep being nudged up in the weights without winning. It would be no surprise to see any of them go close but the suggestion is to side with SUN SUN FA FA, who looks interesting up in trip.

BETTING FORECAST: 7-2 Bulletproof, 4 Seaweed Fortune, 6 Decisive Action, 8 Ever Laugh, 10 Light My Day, Marvelous Fans, 12 Family Leader, 14 Apex Top, 16 Casimiro, 20 Bundle Of Delight, Jimmu, Speed Force, 25 All For St Paul's, California Legend.

VERDICT Several of these are considered but top of the list is four-time C&D winner EVER LAUGH, who drops in grade after a good effort at Happy Valley last month and is sure to be suited by the return to this track. Bulletproof, Decisive Action and Seaweed Fortune filled the first three places (in that order) in the same C&D event four weeks ago and are all respected but the biggest threat to the selection might be unexposed 4yo Marvelous Fans, who moves up in trip today.

VERDICT Sparkling Knight proved that his easy C&D win was no fluke on his latest start. He can again go well, along with Joyful Fortune, who enjoyed a similarly decisive success last time and now has to back that up from 14lb higher. However, both may struggle to cope with DIVINE REGULUS, who brings some smart form and has won both his Hong Kong trials.

VERDICT Craig's Star looked in excellent nick when scoring over C&D five weeks ago, while Noble Steed returned to form with a good effort on his latest outing and remains on a workable mark. However, the pick is THE CROWN, who won both his starts in New Zealand last year and made a very promising Hong Kong debut over 6f last month.

VERDICT Progressive 4yo BEAUTY ANGEL is upped in grade but he got the job done readily over C&D three weeks ago and is selected to complete a four-timer. Super Elegance may provide the main threat but solid cases can also be made for Vincy and Cinquante Cinq.
