Green light for live Inglis auctions at Riverside

NSW Health Minister's coronavirus amendments expected to allow July sales to proceed

BY TIM ROWE | @ANZ_NEWS

Inglis is confident it has NSW government approval to conduct live auctions in July and the company is hopeful of gaining the green light from Victoria in order to hold its scheduled Melbourne sales in the same month.

NSW Health Minister Brad Hazzard on Thursday made amendments to the Public Health Act and specifically the Covid-19 restrictions relating to gatherings and people movement which Inglis general manager of bloodstock sales and marketing Sebastian Hutch believes gives the company the go-ahead for its sales series.

Inglis has held a virtual Australian Easter Yearling Sale and Chairman's offering in the past six weeks due to the government-imposed bans forbidding large public gatherings as agencies attempt to slow the spread of the coronavirus.

But under the new state government protocols, Inglis's Australian Easter Yearling Sale Round 2 (July 5) and the Australian Weanling Sale (July 8) will be allowed to be held with buyers, vendors and horses in attendance at Riverside Stables.

A maximum of 100 people would be allowed inside the auditorium and an additional 500 people would be permitted outside on the grounds of the Warwick Farm complex.

"This is a recent notice and we are just digesting the information but that is our interpretation of it at this stage," Hutch told ANZ Bloodstock News yesterday.

"It is a fantastic outcome, should it be the case, for certainly breeders who intend on participating in our NSW-based auctions and it is vindication of the patience and the work done by a variety of people to enable this to happen.

"We're committing similar work for our sales schedule at Oaklands."

the Great Southern Sale, to be held on July 12 at Oaklands Junction, will precede the Melbourne Gold Yearling Sale after it was postponed from April.

Inglis management is liaising with Victorian stakeholders and government bodies in an attempt to achieve a similar outcome to that which Minister Hazzard has permitted.

Hutch said: "We're not in any way complacent about the work that needs to be done to make this happen but it's been at the forefront of our mind for some time.

"We've had constructive conversations with Thoroughbred Breeders Victoria and other industry participants in Victoria about what needs to be done to achieve a positive outcome and we feel like we're progressing in the right direction."

Inglis had a biosecurity plan drawn up for its April Easter sale with a 500-person limit before the government ordered the closure of a number of business sectors including pubs, clubs and auction houses to minimise people movement.

That template is likely to be called on for its Sydney and Melbourne auctions as will Inglis’ online bidding platform which has been used to great effect in recent weeks.

“We are in the fortunate position whereby our online technology has demonstrated to readily be able to facilitate people who can’t be on the complex,” Hutch said.

“The expectation is that there will be people who will inspect stock on the complex and then potentially bid from home over the internet or on the phone.

“We also have the capacity to conduct certain elements of the auction in a digital fashion.

“Pending on the interpretation of legislation and the mechanics of how that might work, it is something that we also have the option of doing and it is something that has been readily demonstrated over the past eight weeks.

“To put it in context, since the end of March where we haven’t had a live auction, we’ve still managed to sell north of 1170 horses for a gross of in excess of $112 million.”

Hutch also revealed that the Easter Round 2 catalogue, made up of yearlings withdrawn or passed in from the April auction, would be boosted by some “appealing” additional supplementary lots.

“It’s accepted by us that it’s a busy period for a lot of breeders and vendors, not only having to deal with the challenges of a dramatically rearranged Easter Yearling Sale but the subsequent demands placed by the reformatting of the broodmare sales series and the nature of the sales schedule across Australasia,” he said.

“It’s accepted that this is a hugely challenging time for these people and, as a consequence, we’ve been particularly patient in terms of trying to work with people to put drafts together and in making decisions. We understand that time is a precious commodity and they are trying to manage their time in what are very difficult circumstances.”

Inglis is expected to confirm the structure of its July sales schedule next week.

Meanwhile, entries closed yesterday for the Magic Millions Gold Coast National Sale for what the company plans to also be held as a live auction from July 20 to 24 and 28 to 30.

Cornerstone Stud reduces fees

Sir Prancealot

CORNERSTONE STUD

Leading South Australian farm Cornerstone Stud yesterday announced that their three-stallion roster would have their fees reduced by 25 per cent across the board as they work with local breeders through the Covid-19 pandemic. Sir Prancealot (Tamayuz) heads the roster at $9,900 (inc GST) as he returns from his first season at Rancho San Miguel Stud in California, with his first southern hemisphere two-year-olds set to step out in the coming months. Valentia (Fastnet Rock) will stand at $5,500 (inc GST), with his second crop of two-year-olds on the horizon, with Ambidexter (Commands) again looking value at $4,400 (inc GST).

World Of Trouble to stay in US

Also notable from the Cornerstone Stud announcement yesterday is that Grade 1-winning sprinter World Of Trouble (Kantharos) would not shuttle from the United States in 2020. World Of Trouble, who won the Carter Handicap (Gr 1, 7f) at Aqueduct and the Jaipur Invitational (Gr 1, 6f) at Belmont in 2019, stands at Hill 'N Dale Farms in Kentucky. It was announced earlier this year that he would be the latest shuttler to stand at Cornerstone, but the Covid-19 pandemic has put paid to those plans. "We as a farm had received some healthy South Australian and interstate support in early January, but frustratingly we have felt encumbered to postpone the arrival of World Of Trouble with the onset of Covid-19," said Cornerstone Stud's managing director Sam Hayes. "Although I've an unwavering belief in World Of Trouble's credentials, speed and sireline, I just felt that the South Australian industry was not in a position to throw its collective weight behind a $22,000 dual Grade 1-winning sprinter and consequently we will review our position in 2021."

18 for Nadeem

Little Avondale Stud's Nadeem (Redoute's Choice) registered his 18th individual stakes winner last night when Victory Eight (6 g ex Queen's Colours by Rainbow Quest) took out the Wayne Wilson Handicap (Listed, 1600m) at the Sunshine Coast in an upset result. The Trevor Miller-trained Victory Eight, sent out at 60/1, made it 10 wins from 44 starts with last night's victory. It was also his first stakes success, having not raced in black-type company since finishing fourth in the 2016 Queen Adelaide Stakes (Listed, 1050m) at Morphettville at his second start. Purchased for NZ$30,000 at the 2015 NZB Select Yearling Sale from the draft of Te Runga Stud, his earnings are now up over $315,000. Victory Eight is one of two Queensland stakes winners out of Queen's Colours (Rainbow Quest), with the late Cylinder Beach (Showcasing) a three-time black-type winner in the region. Nadeem will stand for NZ$4,000 (plus GST) at Little Avondale Stud this year.

Pennino lands plunge to take Chief De Beers

Backed off the map pre-race, Pennino (4 m Easy Rocking - Alpha Girl by Clang) justified the market support to take out the Chief De Beers Handicap (Listed, 1000m) at the Sunshine Coast last night. Winner of the Gold Coast Guineas (Gr 3, 1200m) last year, the Darryl Hansen-trained Pennino was first-up from a spell last night and was backed in from $15 into $4.80. Ridden by Matthew McGillivray, the mare settled midfield before coming with a strong run early in the straight, racing clear for a length and three-quarter success over Hold The Line (Your Song) with Sugar Boom (Spirit Of Boom) third, a further half-length away.

Dr Drill takes Scone Cup

South African jockey Keagan Latham scored a first Australian stakes victory yesterday when the Ciaran Maher and David Eustace-trained Dr Drill (5 g Dansili - Pongee by Barathea) took the Scone Cup (Listed, 1600m). Latham has won stakes races in South Africa, the UK and Ireland, including the Temple Stakes (Gr 2, 5f) on top sprinter Sole Power (Kyllachy) in 2011, but since relocating to Australia in late 2016, he has established a reputation as a well-travelled journeyman jockey. "It was a beautiful ride from Keagan," said stable representative Annabel Neasham. "I said to him, 'Just really cuddle him.' I think last start we just rode him a bit wrong and over 1400 metres it just had him at his top the whole way. We knew out to the mile he would travel much better and it was a great ride. He's got a really good turn of foot." Dr Drill held off the late surge of Phaistos (Helmet) by a short neck, with Sambro (Fastnet Rock) a head away in third. It was Dr Drill's second stakes win, adding to his victory in the Cranbourne Cup (Listed, 2025m) last year.

Jungle Edge, Cartwright chase Group 1 breakthrough

Veteran sprinter Jungle Edge (Dubawi) has provided apprentice Georgina Cartwright with a number of milestones in her fledgling career to date, but both horse and rider are chasing their biggest prize yet when they tackle The Goodwood (Gr 1, 1200m) at Morphettville today. Jungle Edge provided Cartwright with her first Melbourne metropolitan victory in December, 2017, her first and only ride in Sydney and her first Group-level win in South Australia, and she is excited to potentially land a Group 1 win on the nine-year-old. "I can't wait and I'm very thankful for the opportunity from Mick Bell and the ownership group," Cartwright said. "I gave him a nice gallop on Tuesday on the grass and he felt really good. He seems to have come through that win really well and is bouncing out of his skin."

Harbour Views takes first dive into stakes company

The R A Lee Stakes (Gr 3, 1600m) is often used as a launching pad to the spring and that will again be the case today. Harbour Views (Le Havre) makes his first foray into black-type grade as favourite for the R A Lee Stakes, with the Matthew Williams galloper one of the most exciting horses in training. Williams has suggested previously that Harbour Views could develop into a Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m) horse and victory today will go a long way to helping him towards that goal. "He probably needs to get a win on the board in a race like this just to get his rating up," Williams said. "There's a lot of ticks for him and I couldn't be happier with how he has tightened up since he has had that run at Sandown. He's sound and he galloped as good as he ever has for us on Tuesday morning. I'm expecting him to go there and run really well."

Bellx to step up in SA Fillies Classic

Lindsay Park has high hopes that promising staying filly Bellx (Rock Hero) can break through at stakes level when she tackles today's SA Fillies Classic (Gr 3, 2500m). Bellx has raced three times at Listed level for third in the Tasmanian Oaks (Listed, 2100m), second in the Galilee Series Final (Listed, 2400m) and fourth in the VRC St Leger (Listed, 2800m). "She was very unlucky last start," co-trainer Ben Hayes said. "She presented to win but the hard run in transit told and she just knocked up late. She's been back to the farm and done really well since and if she gets a nice run, she'll be right in it."

Godolphin sends stars to Queensland for winter

The blue army is ready to attack the Queensland winter carnival in numbers, with a large shipment of Godolphin horses arriving in the state over the past week. Their first runners came at the Sunshine Coast last night, with Badajoz (Commands) seventh in the Chief De Beers Handicap (Listed, 1000m) and Gaulois (Street Cry) beaten a short head in the Wayne Wilson Handicap (Listed, 1600m). At the Gold Coast today, Exhilarates (Snitzel) steps out in the Gold Coast Guineas (Gr 3, 1200m). "She returns to the scene of her biggest win on a track where she's won two races, which all has to count for something," trainer James Cummings said. "Both her runs were good last time in and there was certainly nothing negative to take away from finishing third here in the Guineas in January." Multaja (Medaglia d'Oro) and Resin (Exceed And Excel) also run today in the Silk Stocking (Listed, 1200m).

Waller youngsters set for Queensland debut

Trainer Chris Waller's leading J J Atkins (Gr 1, 1400m) hopes will step out in the Ken Russell Memorial (Listed, 1200m) at the Gold Coast today, with Saffiano (More Than Ready) and Spokesman (Press Statement) having arrived in Queensland on Monday. "They have worked on course proper and should be cherry-ripe," Waller's Queensland manager Paul Shailer said. "Saffiano's last win was at 1400m which is the JJ Atkins distance and he will be strong at the finish. Spokesman has had a good trial since the Warwick Farm win to keep him ticking over."

Eagle Farm track ready for winter racing

Brisbane's leading track, Eagle Farm, has been given a tick of approval by officials, trainers and jockeys, with the main lead-up meeting to next month's Group 1 events in Queensland set to go ahead as scheduled next Saturday. Eagle Farm has had a number of issues in recent years and was given an eight-week hiatus from March 25 to help the surface recover from summer racing. Three horses worked on the course proper on Friday morning without any problems. "There were no complaints from the jockeys and the times were good," a Brisbane Racing Club spokesman said.

Preusker's grand plans for Flemington runners

Horsham trainer Paul Preusker came agonisingly close to securing a Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) berth with Surprise Baby (Shocking) last year in the Andrew Ramsden Stakes (Listed, 2800m) and he hopes to go one better in the Ramsden this year with Dark Alley (Lucas Cranach). "Last year was tricky with Surprise Baby finishing second," Preusker told RSN927. "It just pushed the prep out longer and longer, but it would be nice to seal the deal with Dark Alley, rest him up and prepare for it. I couldn't fault him, he's ticked every box for me. He'll front up there nice and relaxed and hopefully earn a spot." Preusker also hopes to qualify Rupture (Street Boss), favourite for the Lexus Trophy (2000m), for the Caulfield Cup (Gr 1, 2400m).

Flemington return for King Of Hastings

Anthony Freedman's three-year-old King Of Hastings (Ilovethiscity) resumes today in the Furphy Dash (1000m), taking on the older horses after a promising Flemington jump-out last Friday alongside The Goodwood (Gr 1, 1200m) runners Trekking (Street Cry), Santa Ana Lane (Lope De Vega) and Zoutori (Zoustar). "We gave him a jump-out last week and it was a really good hit-out behind Trekking," assistant trainer Sam Freedman said. "He pulled up really well in the wind so it seems his fitness levels are good enough just off that one trial. He's a winner down the straight already so this seemed like a nice race for him. He will probably improve when he gets out to 1200 metres but it's a nice kick-off point. We probably felt he was just below those good three-year-olds. He has run well against a lot of them, like Alligator Blood and Super Seth, but he's just not up to them so we thought if we got him in for this winter campaign there's probably some really nice races for him through this period."

Prezado on song for repeat win

Standing in King Of Hastings' way is Flemington straight-track specialist Prezado (Denman), a three-time winner over the Flemington 1000 metres. The Mathew Ellerton and Simon Zahra-trained Prezado defeated Goodwood contender The Inevitable (Dundeel) at the track and trip last start. "He went to the farm after his win and he arrived back into the stable last Thursday," Zahra told Racing.com. "He galloped on the grass on Tuesday and worked super, we can't have him any better. He's drawn ideal again, there does appear to be enough speed for him in a similar sort of race and he looks okay at the weights."

Sikorsky a case of patience for Hayes

Co-trainer Ben Hayes hopes that comeback galloper Sikorsky (Pierro) can return to the winners' circle third-up at Flemington today. The 2018 Victoria Derby (Gr 1, 2500m) fourth has had two runs back from a lengthy absence and steps up to 1600 metres in the Kennedy Mile, with Hayes suggesting that the wait for a drier track may pay off. "We've been a bit unlucky because we've run into a couple of heavy tracks over the last two Saturdays," Hayes told Racing.com. "He's a horse coming back from a tendon injury so we're just trying to get the best surface for him. We've been patient and I think it's going to pay off on Saturday. He's drawn a gate with Ollie (Damien Oliver) on and he should get a nice, clean run and a big, open track like Flemington should suit him. If he gets a nice, clean run I'd say he'd be our best chance for the day and hard to beat."

Gamble on Toronado youngsters pays off

Owner Graeme Ireland and his son Todd were so taken by two sons of young gun Toronado (High Chaparral) that they saw at the 2018 Inglis Melbourne Premier Yearling Sale, they were determined to bid on both youngsters. One was Masked Crusader, who was out of his price range at $340,000, while the other was Beehunter, who he picked up for $155,000. "Their conformation, their looks, everything about the Toronado stock suggested they were quality horses," the older Ireland said. "We were taking a punt because he was a first-season sire, but the two we liked were Masked Crusader, he was our top pick, and Beehunter." The John Sadler-trained Beehunter is favourite for today's TAB Trophy (1400m) at Flemington.

Dawn Passage sets sail for another Guineas

Dawn Passage

SPORTPIX

The Gai Waterhouse and Adrian Bott-trained Dawn Passage (Dawn Approach) will attempt to add another Guineas to his resume at Rosehill today when he tackles the Inglis 3YO Guineas (RL, 1400m). Dawn Passage is rated by the market as the only danger to favourite Masked Crusader (Toronado) in the Guineas, with Bott confident that the last-start Hawkesbury Guineas (Gr 3, 1400m) winner can go on with it today. "You only have to look at the races he has contested throughout his career to get a gauge on the calibre of horse we thought he was," Bott said. "He's just now starting to fulfil what he's always shown us." Bott said that the Stradbroke Handicap (Gr 1, 1400m) could be on the agenda should he perform well today.

Wide draw won't stop Teleplay at Rosehill

Melbourne mare Teleplay will run in today's Dark Jewel Classic (Gr 3, 1400m) despite a wide barrier. Teleplay, a Group 3 winner on Melbourne Cup day, will aim to add to her black-type record, but she is coming off a poor effort in the Robert Sangster Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) when beating only one home last start. "We're going to run as that's what the owners want, so we'll ride her cold and let her get home," co-trainer Mick Price said. "I would have preferred her to draw a gate and sneak our way through them but you never know how the track will be racing by then." With regards to her last start, Price added: "She did pop a foot abscess out the next day so it might have been an excuse and that's all clean and clear now."

Hawkes duo both capable in Ortensia Stakes

Co-trainer Michael Hawkes believes that both God Of Thunder (More Than Ready) and Dirty Work (Written Tycoon) are capable of taking out today's Ortensia Stakes (Listed, 1100m). The Group 2-placed God Of Thunder is enigmatic, but showed last start with a closing third that another win may be around the corner. "His runs don't reflect on the ability he's got," Hawkes said. "He's been a bit up and down. Bad barriers and just things haven't gone his way for whatever reason this prep. But he could run outstanding, this horse. He's not without a chance and he deserves his spot." Dirty Work, who held favouritism last night, is coming off two wins down in grade. "He can be a bit hot and cold but he's just started to put it all together by dropping him a couple of grades and giving him some confidence," Hawkes said. "Hopefully he can keep going forward and notch another one on his belt."

Waugh rues another wide gate for Trumbull

Trumbull (Darci Brahma) has once again been handed a wide draw in his quest for a first black-type win in the Lusk Star Stakes (Listed, 1300m) at Rosehill. The gelding has drawn outside barriers in all four runs this preparation and will race out of barrier nine of 11 on Saturday. "It has been unbelievable," trainer Kim Waugh said. "And it has actually been so costly for him every time. He just ends up further back than what he needs to be but still running great races." Connections have entered him for the Stradbroke Handicap (Gr 1, 1400m) in Queensland but Waugh says it is more a case of keeping their options open, rather than a serious plan at this stage. She believes Trumbull has a genuine "top-three" chance in the Lusk Star for which the Kris Lees-trained Graff is an early favourite.

The Bopper takes out Inglis Challenge for Moore

Bloodstock agent Kieran Moore has been trying to win the Inglis 2YO Challenge (1100m) since its inception in 2000, buying one horse at the Scone Yearling Sale each year with the race in mind. Moore finally achieved that goal yesterday after The Bopper (Nicconi), purchased with his son Tom, took the feature. "We were sitting at home in Scone the day of the sale and we were having lunch and I said to Tom, 'Let's go down and see if we can find one,'" Moore recalled. "We had a look at a few walking around out the back at White Park and we spotted this horse from Widden going back into his box that we both thought he walked alright so we followed him down, got him back out of his box for a parade and said, 'He's the one.' I've been trying to win this race since it started. I've had plenty get beat, some that have gone on to win stakes races but to finally win it is great."

Lees impressed by unbeaten Nicconi juvenile

The Bopper broke the Tamworth 1000-metre track record on debut before taking yesterday's feature by four lengths, having shown blistering early speed. "You've got to put it in perspective, it's a restricted race but he is an impressive horse," trainer Kris Lees told Sky Thoroughbred Central. "I didn't think he would show that gate speed. He has been slow away in both trials and his only race start but Sammy (Clenton) summed it up, she was on the best horse and took that initiative straight away. It looked pretty comfortable to watch."

Duggan taken to hospital after fall

Jockey Jenny Duggan has been taken to hospital after a fall marred one of the biggest days on the NSW country racing calendar. Duggan was riding in the last of eight races at the Scone Cup meeting when her mount Steamboat Sally (Snitzel) clipped heels. Steamboat Sally and veteran rider Robert Thompson's horse Tombolo (Hinchinbrook) fell in the home straight. Duggan, a successful rider on the NSW bush racing scene, has been taken to John Hunter Hospital in Newcastle. "Jenny is suffering from pain to her shoulder and ankle," Racing NSW said. "Robert appears to be uninjured and has walked back unaided." Both horses were uninjured.

O'Brien to open Geelong stable

Melbourne Cup-winning trainer Danny O'Brien will open a third base in Victoria, with his new Geelong stable to complement his existing operations at Flemington and Barwon Heads. "Geelong has excellent options for training and enhances our ability to provide the best training opportunities for any horse trained in Australia," O'Brien told Racing.com. "Our private facility and use of Thirteenth Beach complements our Flemington, and now Geelong, on-track facilities very well and will only further spur our terrific recent results."

Racing Queensland revises regions

Racing Queensland yesterday announced that it will make further revisions to its designated regions as part of its Covid-19 protocols. The Metropolitan Region, which encompasses the former Metro North and Metro South West regions, will be combined with the South East Regional area to form a new Greater South-East Queensland (SEQ) Region. The present Central Coast and North Coast regions will be combined into one, while the Greater Western Region will remain untouched. Horses and jockeys from each of the former regions will remain largely segregated on raceday in protocols that have been signed off by Queensland's Chief Health Officer, Dr Jeannette Young.

Apprentice Graham cops two-month ban

Western Australian apprentice Chris Graham has been sidelined for two months by RWWA stewards after his ride on Pushin' Shapes (Viscount) at Ascot last Saturday. Graham was found guilty of not taking all reasonable and permissible measures to ensure that the Daniel and Ben Pearce-trained Pushin' Shapes had every opportunity to win or obtain the best possible placing. Stewards determined that Graham's claim that his saddle had shifted, that the horse was laying inwards or that other runners were moving ground outwards in front of him could not be supported. Graham's penalty was backdated to after last Saturday's Ascot meeting and will expire at midnight on Wednesday, July 8.

Kiwi jockey Collett back in action

Singapore-based rider Alysha Collett will have her first rides since April 3 when she is legged aboard two Clare Cunningham trainees at Queanbeyan tomorrow. Collett was grounded when Singapore racing went into lockdown and decided to follow Michael Rodd, Patrick Moloney and Daniel Moor in riding in Australia until Kranji kicked off again. "When we went into isolation for the month, the numbers weren't that high daily but it came to two weeks of isolation and they were getting about a 1,000 cases daily," Collett said after completing her mandatory two weeks of isolation in Sydney earlier this week. "So they decided to put another month on isolation, maybe two. We are really unsure of when racing will start over there again so it is great that some of us jockeys could jump on a plane, do the two weeks isolation and commence riding in another country. It is all unknown but the licence has been put on hold, with the other jockeys as well, so it has left the door open for us so we can go back if we want."

Hokko Tarumae produces first winner

Japanese dirt superstar Hokko Tarumae (King Kamehameha) sired his first winner yesterday when Mega Million (2 c ex Vanilla Macaron by Kurofune) took a 900-metre newcomers event at the National Association of Racing (NAR) track of Kawasaki yesterday. Hokko Tarumae was a three-time Group 1 winner in Japan, including the Tokyo Daishoten (Gr 1, 2000m) twice, while also taking a further seven races designated as local Grade 1 events on NAR tracks; he won three of his four starts at Kawasaki. Hokko Tarumae stands at East Stud in Hokkaido.

Almond Eye draws 12 for Victoria Mile

Champion Japanese mare Almond Eye (Lord Kanaloa) will make her belated seasonal return when she steps out in tomorrow's Victoria Mile (Gr 1, 1600m) for the fillies and mares at Tokyo. Almond Eye, who travelled to Meydan to defend her Dubai Turf (Gr 1, 1800m) title in March before the World Cup meeting was cancelled, faces 17 rivals as she looks to add a seventh Group 1 win to her resume and will jump from gate 12. She is one of four Group 1 winners in the race, along with defending champion Normcore (Harbinger), last year's Japanese Oaks (Gr 1, 2400m) winner Loves Only You (Deep Impact) and former top two-year-old Danon Fantasy (Deep Impact). Also in the field is Primo Scene (Deep Impact), out of top Australian mare Mosheen (Fastnet Rock); Damian Lane takes the mount, continuing the Australian connection.

Uncle Steve to relish step up in trip at Sha Tin

Uncle Steve (Dabirsim) is aiming to put a season-slowng injury setback behind him when he steps up to 1800m for the first time in his Hong Kong career in tomorrow's Class 2 Hoi Ha Handicap at Sha Tin. Uncle Steve won first-up this campaign for trainer Douglas Whyte after transferring from the John Moore stable, but a next-day examination revealed damage to his off-fore hoof and he has since struggled to find his groove. "He lost a bit of form during the mid-part of the season through a quarter crack and he's had to get his confidence back and get over that but slowly and surely he has and the writing was on the wall last time," Whyte said. The gelding arrived in Hong Kong as a one-time winner at Beverley over a mile after racing four times in Britain for David Simcock.

Skyward fourth in Prix Bedel as Monsieur Croco wins

The colours of John Messara and Arrowfield Stud featured at Lyon Parilly last night as favourite Skyward (Camelot) finished fourth behind Monsieur Croco (5 g Croco Rouge - Nana Desir by Dananayev) in the Prix Bedel (Listed, 2400m). The Fabrice Chappet-trained Skyward, purchased by Messara with the Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) in mind, was unbeaten in three starts last year. However, a slowly-run race and a wet track seemingly brought him undone as Monsieur Croco added another Listed win to his record. Another Australian-owned galloper, San Huberto (Speightstown), finished fifth.

Dariyan produces first winner

Regally-bred stallion Dariyan (Shamardal) produced his first winner yesterday when Princesse De Saba (2 f ex Aniyas by Dalakhani) won on debut at Lyon Parilly. Dariyan, who won the Prix Ganay (Gr 1, 2100m) and was twice placed at the highest level, was the first foal to race out of Daryakana (Selkirk), who won the 2009 Hong Kong Vase (Gr 1, 2400m). Dariyan has now had three runners for a winner and a placegetter. He stood at the Aga Khan's Haras de Bonneval this year for €8,000 (AUD$13,500).

Ireland gets go-ahead to return June 8

Horse Racing Ireland's (HRI) proposal to the government for racing to resume earlier than June 29 has been successful, with June 8 the new resumption date. Racing had been scheduled to return in phase three of the government's roadmap, which outlines the staggered reopening of businesses and social activities, but HRI has been refining its submissions in an effort to bring that date forward. A decision was made at a cabinet meeting on Friday for racing to return in phase two of that roadmap after HRI's proposals were approved by the National Public Health Emergency Team (NPHE) on Thursday. While nothing has yet been confirmed officially about a June 8 resumption at the time of writing, a number of prominent politicians were happy to go public with the news.

Summerhill Stud to conduct online dispersal sale

One of South Africa's most successful farms, Summerhill Stud, is conducting an online dispersal sale being touted as the "deepest online sale of thoroughbreds" in the country. The KwaZulu Natal farm, formerly owned by renowned studmaster Mick Goss, has been transitioning to a warmblood operation under the Capital Stud banner. On offer are 64 broodmares, including mares by stallions such as Galileo (Sadler's Wells), Kingmambo (Mr Prospector), Giant's Causeway (Storm Cat), Pivotal (Polar Falcon), Fusaichi Pegasus (Mr Prospector) and Mastercraftsman (Daneshill Dancer), as well as 61 yearlings and 66 weanlings. Bidding is conducted through a web form or via email, with offers to close on May 24. For more click here.

Ten tracks chopped from New Zealand schedule

Ten New Zealand thoroughbred racecourses have been axed for next season as the rationalisation of the sport begins in haste due to the perilous financial state of the country's industry.

It had already been reported that Avondale, Auckland's second venue alongside Ellerslie, would no longer host race meetings and New Zealand Thoroughbred Racing (NZTR) yesterday confirmed that the course had not been allocated meetings.

Te Teko, Waipa (Te Awamutu), Gisborne, Wairoa, Waipukurau, Blenheim (Waterlea), Motukarara, Waikouaiti and Omakau have also been cast aside as the governing body slashes costs.

The ten tracks is well down from the 28 recommended in the Messara Report which was first tabled to the New Zealand government in mid-2018.

"Every thoroughbred racing club in New Zealand has a history and a part to play," NZTR chief executive Bernard Saundry said.

"NZTR has done significant work over the past 18 months on a venue plan which will future proof the racing industry.

"We recognise that the calendar for 2020-21 looks very different to previous seasons with fewer meetings at fewer venues. The industry cannot survive, let alone move ahead, if we try and fit 2020's racing into a mould which was created last century."

Part of the reasoning for the slashing of thoroughbred venues is the cost incurred by the Racing Industry Transition Authority (RITA) to service a large number of venues.

"NZTR's venue plan took into account a number of factors and, among them, was the introduction of all-weather tracks," Saundry said.

"With the Cambridge all-weather track on schedule for use next season, the commitment from government of up $20 million to build additional all weather surfaces at Awapuni and Riccarton will also impact on future racing dates."

There are 273 meetings proposed for next season, down 17 per cent on the number staged in 2009.

"Our dwindling foal crop, which has dropped 28 percent since 2005, has resulted in a smaller pool of horses and even before Covid-19 the reduction in races was not keeping pace with the number of horses available to race," the NZTR chief executive said.

Nationally the average field size has fallen from 11.12 to 10.49 in 2019 and will have declined further by the end of 2020.

"These figures are the stark reality of New Zealand's available thoroughbred racing crop," he said.

"We understand that there will be some who find it difficult to accept that racing may no longer continue at their local venue. We also understand that an argument could be made for the survival of each individual venue, but where would that get us?

"At this time it is important everyone takes an industry-wide view and not consider venues in isolation."

A consultation period, closing on June 15, is under way following yesterday's announcement but Saundry reinforced the need for the industry to adapt in order to survive.

"The New Zealand racing industry has been described as being at a crossroads for many years and it is apparent we cannot sustain the number of venues we currently have the draft calendar simply reflects this economic reality," he said.

"Tough decisions have to be made and this was signaled by the Racing Minister in his delivery of racing's emergency rescue package earlier this week.

"We owe it to the industry, all those employed in it, those stakeholders who rely on it for their income and the owners and punters who support it, to make these decisions.

"While most in the industry know we have too many venues a parochial outlook has crippled any serious action being taken to reduce them.

Te Teko

"Covid-19 has forced what countless Royal Commissions, and Ministerial Reviews, including the Messara review, have recommended."

The clubs whose tracks have been closed are expected to host their meetings at other venues.

"Those clubs which may now find themselves racing at a different venue should take inspiration from Feilding and Beaumont. Both of these clubs have demonstrated that with relocation can come longevity and success at a host venue," he said.

"We now have an opportunity to reset and take the first steps in creating a more streamlined, efficient industry."

RITA executive chair Dean McKenzie said the racing calendar was a critical driver to enable the recovery of New Zealand racing and an essential part of the overall reform programme being led by RITA and the three racing codes.

"The Covid-19 pandemic has had a devastating impact on racing, and accelerated the need for significant change across all levels of the industry," McKenzie said.

"The leaders of New Zealand racing have repeatedly talked over decades about change but not been courageous enough to address the critical need for venue intensification.

"Repeated reports on the industry, including most recently by John Messara, as well as the industry-led future venue plan have identified that there were too many racing venues and this was a commercial drain on limited industry resources. Covid-19 leaves us with no other choice but to act."

Analysis: In a crowded finish, last October's Cranbourne Cup winner Dr Drill held off several late challengers for his seventh career victory, second stakes and fifth win since his importation more than a year ago. He found the rail in fourth early and kept in touch, saving ground past the 1000m. Inside the 600m he edged closer and turning for home was poised one out to challenge. He was presented with a split at the 300m which closed but without losing momentum moved out and grabbed the lead at the 100m and staved off several at the line by a short neck. Phaistos was midfield, one out at the 1000m, was pushed widest at the top of the straight then kept up a strong run to the line for second. From in behind the leading group Sambro went wide from the 500m and finished well (late) for a close up third from Chief Ironside who co-led at the 400m, led alone at the 100m but was swamped late for fourth. [LJ]

Analysis: Winner of the 2019 Gold Coast Guineas (Gr 3, 1200m) Pennino staged a very good effort in recording her second stakes success here.

The well-supported mare settled just behind the leading group in about seventh place, tracking a solid tempo before taking a split at the turn.

She then sprinted well, hit the front at the 100m and then well on to score comfortably. Hold The Line settled near the tail of the field and remained there until the turn. She got between runners at the 200m and then ran on really well for second. The three-year-old filly Sugar Boom showed very good early pace to take the lead and then set a quick pace. She held a clear advantage on straightening and was only overtaken at the 100m and then held on for third after running a bold race. [KB]

ANOTHER NZ BRED

MARKETING

Analysis: In a keenly contested finish, the outsider Victory Eight broke through for his first stakes success, his tenth win in 44 starts. He settled nicely in a midfield position, behind a good pace, after beginning well. He tracked up (wide with cover) from the 800m, commenced a good move on straightening and then finished too well to grab victory on the post. Gulois had a nice trip in eighth place on the rails from his inside barrier (1). He got through on the inner on turning for home, took the lead at the 200m only to be caught on the post for second, finding the winner (that he conceded 6.5kg) too good on the day. Baccarat Baby settled in fifth place, took a split on straightening, challenged at the 200m and then fought very well for a close-up third. [KB]
