Appleby: Blue Point a 'carbon copy of Shamardal'

Godolphin trainer lauds his best horse and believes he will be popular with Victorian breeders

Charlie Appleby and Blue Point

RACING POST

BY ANDREW HAWKINS | @ANZ_NEWS

Trainer Charlie Appleby believes that his champion sprinter Blue Point will be highly sought after by Australian breeders, labelling the bay as the potential second coming of his super sire Shamardal (Giant's Causeway) as the champion sprinter prepares to stand his first season at stud in Victoria later this year.

Four-time Group 1 winner Blue Point, who ended his career by emulating Choisir's (Danehill Dancer) historic sprinting double at Royal Ascot by taking the King's Stand Stakes (Gr 1, 5f) and the Diamond Jubilee Stakes (Gr 1, 6f) last year, will stand at Darley's Northwood Park farm in Seymour at a fee of $44,000 (inc GST). He has already served one book at the operation's Kildangan Stud in Ireland. Continued on page 2>>

"If you wanted to have a carbon copy of a Shamardal, he is the closest you're ever going to get to it at the moment," Appleby told ANZ Bloodstock News from his Newmarket base. "We've been very lucky to have a lot of Shamardals go through our system. Like any good stallion, he does stamp his stock.

"We were very lucky at the back end of last year, we got to see Shamardal and Blue Point both opposite one another in the stallion boxes at Kildangan and it certainly was a mini me or a younger Shamardal, basically. Obviously, on the passing of Shamardal, I don't think there's any better horse out there that can hopefully fill his boots."

Shamardal died last month at Kildangan Stud at the age of 18, having begun his stallion career in the Hunter Valley in 2005 after being retired mid-season in Europe. A winner of four Group 1 features, including the Prix du Jockey Club (Gr 1, 2100m), he served five seasons in Australia in addition to his 14 seasons at Kildangan.

Shamardal

To date, Shamardal has produced 146 individual stakes winners worldwide, including 25 Group 1 winners, with Able Friend, Captain Sonador, Delectation, Faint Perfume and Maybe Discreet his Australian-bred Group 1 winners. Others of note include Lope De Vega, the sire of Australian feature victors Santa Ana Lane, Gytrash and Vega Magic; Hong Kong enigma Pakistan Star, and Appleby's own hugely exciting prospect Pinatubo.

Blue Point is one of only two sons of Shamardal confirmed to be standing in Australia for the upcoming breeding season, with Swettenham Stud's Puissance De Lune the other. Yarradale Stud's Gingerbread Man and Crackerjack King for Wyndholm Park are others who are likely to be confirmed for the 2020 season.

Appleby is busily preparing for the return of British racing next month with a team that includes last season's champion two-year-old Pinatubo (Shamardal) and 2018 Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) winner Cross Counter (Teofilo), among a raft of potential stars. However, it is clear that

Personally, I think he's going to go down well because he's just a horse that has an abundance of natural pace.

- Charlie Appleby

Blue Point is a horse close to his heart, despite the fact it has been almost a year since the galloper walked out of his Newmarket stables.

"For me, his consistency was pretty much second-to-none," Appleby said. "Breaking his maiden on his first start and going on throughout that first season as a two-year-old and winning a Group 2 and being placed in two Group 1s subsequently. His hallmark is his consistency throughout his career, from two to five. Bar his maiden and his second start, a novice which he won by 11 lengths with James McDonald up that day, he's only ever campaigned at Group level."

A sign of that consistency is the fact that Blue Point only missed the top four twice in his career. He finished last of nine in the Chairman's Sprint Prize (Gr 1, 1200m) in Hong Kong in 2018, with circumstances firmly against him throughout, while later that year he finished midfield as favourite in the July Cup (Gr 1, 6f), with the colt appearing to travel too keenly over the undulating Newmarket July course.

In addition to his four Group 1 wins, he was placed at Group 1 level four times, while he also won two Group 2 events and three Group 3s. While he broke through at Group 1 level as a four-year-old, taking the King's Stand Stakes for the first time, it was his five-year-old season where he came of age. He won three races in Dubai, including the Al Quoz Sprint (Gr 1, 5f) on Dubai World Cup night, before he closed out his career with that famous Royal Ascot double.

mares in two seasons at Twin Hills: his name is staying in lights

"We were lucky enough with him that Harry Angel retired the year before and that allowed us to keep him in training that extra year," Appleby said. "As we all know, nowadays, we don't get to see these horses race up until their five-year-old year. He was one of the few that had come through the system that was still here at the age of five and therefore it allowed us to see him as the finished article."

"His final start for us was quite something, achieving the Group 1 double at Royal Ascot in the King's Stand and the Diamond Jubilee. I'm never going to be able to get away from that as the ultimate pinnacle of his career."

"In Australia, you can back horses up quicker and you see it quite regularly at the top level, horses backing up quite quickly. We wouldn't see it very often here. Our style of racing is different and our tracks can be quite testing. So for it to be achieved, especially at Group 1 level, I'm grateful we were able to witness that."

Appleby has become something of a revered figure in Australian racing in recent years due to his frequent raids of the features down under. The Brit has already walked away with many of the best staying contests in Melbourne and Sydney, in addition to some of the world's biggest races; it is sometimes hard to remember that he has only been one of Godolphin's two primary UK trainers since mid-2013.

The 44-year-old, though, is excited by the prospect of having influence in Australia in another way, by producing a potential top stallion that, on paper, looks well-suited to the Australian market.

"I felt a bit old there the other day walking around the yard because I had trained quite a few of the mares that now have their foals in training with us," he said. "And now, thankfully, we're playing a part in the stallion industry as well! It's what we strive to achieve as trainers: when you're on the level that we are hopefully competing at, the aim is to produce stallions and hopefully good race mares too, and then you hope to see their progeny go on and achieve it on the race track."

"It's exciting to produce a stallion but it's more exciting to hope that you've produced a good one. As we know, there are plenty of stallions out there but to have that horse that is going to potentially shape racing and keep it to a very high standard, it's what we hope Blue Point is going to achieve."

"Personally, I think he's going to go down well because he's just a horse that has an abundance of natural pace. He's a strong individual, short-coupled, a proper sprinter and I think he's going to tick a lot of boxes for the Australian market."

While Blue Point was by a Darley stallion in Shamardal, he was bred and raised by Oak Lodge and Springfield House Stud in Kildare. Offered at the 2014 Tattersalls December Foal Sale, he was purchased by Ebor Bloodstock for 110,000 gns (AUD$216,000). He was then pinhooked in Book 1 of the 2015 Tattersalls October Yearling Sale, purchased for 200,000 gns (AUD$392,000) by John Ferguson Bloodstock on behalf of Godolphin.

Appleby recalls: "He was one of the sharper yearlings when he came to us. I was fortunate enough to be off at the sales when he was purchased, as it happens. So I saw him go through the sales ring. He was a likeable individual and that's why we went ahead and purchased him."

"When he came into the yard, he was a very forward-going yearling and then obviously, when he turned two, he found everything naturally very easy to do. He was one of the first two-year-olds that William Buick would have jumped on at home and he liked him right from the get-go, he said that he had so much natural pace. He then started his career in the June of his two-year-old career and went on from there."

"He was a natural athlete, from the word go. Willie Ryan (former Derby winning jockey) used to ride him on a daily basis throughout his two-year-old and three-year-old career and he said that he's one of the quickest he's sat on; he rode so many good horses through the years as a jockey, mainly riding for Henry Cecil, so that means something."

Appleby has had plenty of success with headline horses like Hawkbill (Kitten's Joy), Wild Illusion (Dubawi), Masar (New Approach), Blair House (Pivotal) and Jungle Cat (Iffraaj) as well as current stable stars like Ghaiyyath (Dubawi), Old Persian (Dubawi), Barney Roy (Excelebration), Cross Counter and Pinatubo. However, he places Blue Point at the top of the pecking order.

"I've been asked that a few times now and I think he's probably number one," Appleby said. "We've been very lucky in the horses we've had on hand in my career as a trainer, but I think he is that top horse. He was one of those horses that excited you in the mornings; you're excited to watch him work, you're excited to see him as an individual and watch him gallop. He was always such an impressive galloper, very honest and genuine and always wanted to please."

"The thing about him is that he did it in the afternoons as well. We've all been around horses long enough to have seen plenty of good horses in the mornings but they just don't seem to bring it to the table in the afternoons. He did it AM and PM, he was out there to please you."

Nine for Spill The Beans

Late Aquis Farm stallion Spill The Beans (Snitzel) extended his lead at the top of the first season sires by winners list when Isis Brumby (2g ex Overdel by Bel Esprit) defeated the older horses at Bundaberg yesterday. Sent out as an odds-on favourite, Isis Brumby pulled clear for a three and three-quarter length success over Miss Taylor (Drumbeats) with Marcheeky Boy (Tycoon Ruler) third, almost five lengths away. Bred and raced by Leo Ricciardi's Isis Park Thoroughbreds, Isis Brumby has now had two starts for a win and a second.

Perth Winter Thoroughbred Sale forced online

Entries have opened for the 2020 Perth Winter Thoroughbred Sale, which will be conducted online via the new Magic Millions Online sales portal. Bidding will be conducted from June 24 until June 26, with the sale open to all thoroughbreds - weanlings, yearlings, racehorses and breeding stock will all be accepted. "We have made the decision to conduct this annual sale online this year to offer both vendors and buyers certainty," Magic Millions WA Manager David Houston reported. "This is the most effective way of trading horses here in Western Australia before the start of the breeding season, taking into account the current restrictions." To facilitate vendors being able to promote their lots to a large online audience, the entry fee of $440 (inc GST) for the auction will include provision for a photo and video to be professionally produced by a Magic Millions-appointed photographer and videographer.

Champagne Cuddles added to Magic Millions National Sale

The Magic Millions National Broodmare Sale has received another star entry with Champagne Cuddles (Not A Single Doubt) set to go through the sales ring. Four-time Group 1 placegetter Champagne Cuddles was retired after suffering a career-ending injury in the Magic Millions Sprint (1200m) at the Gold Coast in January. The Bjorn Baker-trained mare won four of her 26 starts, including the Breeders' Classic (Gr 2, 1200m) and Gold Coast Guineas (Gr 3, 1200m), and earned $1.46 million in prize-money. Champagne Cuddles joins Group 1 winners Viddora (I Am Invincible) and Unforgotten (Fastnet Rock) as headline lots for the National Sale in late July.

Victorem set for Stradbroke

Jenny Graham is targeting the Stradbroke Handicap (Gr 1, 1400m) with Kosciusko (1200m) runner-up Victorem (I Am Invincible) after he passed a mandatory barrier trial test yesterday. The dual stakes winner bucked shortly after leaving the stalls in the BRC Sprint (Gr 3, 1200m), finishing at the tail of the field of ten. The five-year-old will now press on to the Victory Stakes (Gr 2, 1200m) on Saturday before a tilt at the Stradbroke for which he has been allocated 52.5 kilograms. "All being well that is the way we will go," Graham said. "It looks like we should get a Stradbroke start even if a couple win exempt races in the next fortnight. Victorem is going well and it was just unfortunate what happened in the BRC Sprint."

Two for Moody with Matamata

Peter Moody recorded his second winner since his comeback to the training ranks when Matamata (Savabeel) scored at Moe. The trainer of Black Caviar (Bel Esprit) restarted his training career earlier this month in on-course stables at Pakenham after spending four years away from training. Moody's first runner back, Shepard (Sea The Moon), won at Ballarat on May 10 while Matamata was just his third runner since his return. Like Shepard, Matamata was ridden by Luke Nolen in the Nextra Moe Maiden Plate (1600m). The pair were best remembered for their association with Black Caviar, who was unbeaten in 25 starts with Nolen in the saddle for 22 of those occasions. Moody stepped away from training in 2016 after he was suspended for six months as a result of Lidari (Acclamation) returning a cobalt reading above the permitted level, following his second place in the 2014 Turnbull Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m).

Melham to plead not guilty

Jockey Ben Melham will plead not guilty to betting charges against him and his partner Karlie Dales following a directions hearing at the Victorian Racing Tribunal. Melham was issued with seven charges by Racing Victoria last month into alleged betting activities over a six-month period, which included giving false or misleading evidence during an interview. Many of Melham's bets were allegedly made through the account of Dales, a registered owner, who was also charged with giving false or misleading information to stewards. The VRT heard yesterday that Melham and Dales would submit an outline of evidence by June 30. A second directions will then be held on July 14 with a date for the full hearing expected to be finalised that day. It is expected eight witnesses will give evidence, with the hearing likely to be held in the County Court and last up to three days. Melham continues to ride and currently sits fifth on the Melbourne jockeys' premiership with 38 winners this season.

ATC to honour Caryl Williamson

Glen Boss

SPORTPIX

Three-time Melbourne Cup-winning jockey Glen Boss says it will be an honour if he can win the Vale Caryl Williamson Handicap (1400m) at Randwick aboard Jazette. The Australian Turf Club is honouring Australian Associated Press turf editor Caryl Williamson, who died last week, by naming a race after her today. Williamson, originally from New Zealand, was the first female racing editor for a major Australian media organisation, spending 24 years at the helm. "I was saying something to the lads that we knew Caryl at the races but didn't know much about her personal life and a lot of people were like that," Boss said. "She was very quiet, humble and always pleasant." Boss remembers walking from a recent Randwick meeting with Williamson, discussing the day's racing. "We were having a good little chat and she was as smart as a whip as always," Boss said. "She knew her stuff. We could give her a comment and knew it would be taken the right way or knew what we were talking about."

Jockeys in demand for Stradbroke

Trainers are scrambling to secure jockeys for the Stradbroke Handicap (Gr 1, 1400m) because of coronavirus restrictions on travel. The weights for the Stradbroke were released on Monday, with only five horses allotted a weight of more than 54 kilograms, the usual minimum in Queensland. The minimum for the Stradbroke, however, is 49.5 kilograms, meaning the vast majority of the runners will be competing off weights from 51 kilograms to 53 kilograms. Due to restrictions, it is likely that only jockeys based in southern Queensland will be able to ride in the Stradbroke. The issue is that there are only a limited number of jockeys and apprentices who can ride under 54 kilograms. A Racing Queensland spokesman says the current State Border Directions mean that a person who arrives in Queensland from another state or territory of Australia will not be allowed to enter Queensland, unless they receive a special exemption. If successful, they would need to undertake a mandatory 14-day self-isolation period.

Rodd looking forward to being back in the saddle

Jockey Michael Rodd is eager to get back in the saddle for his racing return at Flemington. The 2007 Melbourne Cup-winning jockey exited quarantine on Sunday following two weeks in isolation after returning from Singapore. Rodd spent five years in Singapore but with racing there in shutdown due to the coronavirus pandemic, he joined fellow jockeys Daniel Moor and Patrick Moloney in returning to Melbourne. After two Covid-19 tests Rodd has been cleared by Racing Victoria to resume racing at Flemington on Saturday and the jockey had his first sit on a horse in trackwork in over six weeks yesterday morning. "It was awesome to get back out there," Rodd said. "I was a little bit wobbly but I settled into it after a few and I'm sure I'm going to be a little bit sore tomorrow. But I did a lot of work in the hotel room and it really has shown and I'm happy where I am at."

Kinane settling well in Brisbane

The highly promising Kinane (Reliable Man) takes centre stage this week when making his Brisbane debut in the Gunsynd Classic (Gr 3, 1800m) at Eagle Farm. Trainer Chris Waller decided to bypass the South Australian Derby (Gr 1, 2500m) to instead concentrate on two runs in Queensland this winter. Waller said on Twitter that Kinane, who was subject to multi-million dollar offers from Hong Kong after his latest win in the Frank Packer Plate (Gr 3, 2000m) at Randwick, had taken to his new surroundings in Brisbane. Stable representative Paul Shailer reported the gelding was 'jumping out of his skin' after his work at the Gold Coast yesterday.

Thornton reflects on successful SA stint

Toffee Tongue

SPORTPIX

Damen Thornton is embracing the positives to come out of his current 14-day quarantine period on his return to Melbourne after a successful campaign at the Adelaide carnival where he scored his first Group 1 win. The jockey is able to wind down and reflect on his first elite level win aboard Toffee Tongue (Tavistock) in the Schweppes Oaks (Gr 1, 2000m) and his growing relationships with some leading stables. "I've had a bit of Uber Eats and had a couple of beers, which I am allowed to now, but I won't be silly about it and getting up to 58 (kilograms) or 59 or anything like that," Thornton told Racing.com. "It'll be like being normal and having breakfast and dinner every day. It's a nice change. I won't worry about my weight for a week and then work on it a bit in the second week. I can sit back now and enjoy things for a couple of weeks."

Moroney eyeing up Everest for Tofane

Michael Moroney may aim All Aged Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m) winner Tofane (Ocean Park) towards a tilt at The Everest (1200m), the world's richest turf race, in the spring. "We are just waiting for them to confirm prize-money for The Everest," Moroney told Racing.com. "We might attack that, which does change a lot what you do in the spring. On the fresh side, she would be competitive in an Everest and from then on she probably wants to go up to a mile. We were even contemplating that if there wasn't an Everest, then we could give her a prep in the lead-up to the Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m)." Tofane has won five of her 14 starts, including the Northwood Plume Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m), Begonia Belle Stakes (Gr 3, 1100m) and the All Aged Stakes. "For her to do what she did (in the All Aged Stakes) puts her in the top drawer. She could end up as good a mare as I have trained I think," said Moroney.

Holder driven by near misses

Triple Group 1-winning jockey Jason Holder is driven by his narrow defeats in both the South Australian Derby (Gr 1, 2500m) and The Goodwood (Gr 1, 1200m) during the South Australian carnival, which saw him ride seven Group or Listed winners across the carnival. "Before the carnival, if I had six rides in normal races in Adelaide or one in a Group race in Melbourne, I'd stay in Adelaide and ride for my usual trainers and connections - I won't be doing that anymore," Holder told Racing.com. "You can't ride forever, you need to make the most of opportunities when they come your way and I'm going to start putting my name in the ring for every Group 1 opportunity I believe I can get." Holder's most recent Group 1 win came in 1997, taking the South Australian Derby on Markham (Salieri), and although the pain of two narrow defeats was hard to stomach, Holder soon moved on: "I watched the replays over and over but realised there was no point as the results won't change."

Racing Australia appoint National Equine Welfare and Traceability Executive

Racing Australia has appointed Karen Day as the organisation's first National Equine Welfare and Traceability Executive as the organisation continues to enhance its commitment to Thoroughbred welfare and traceability. Day's previous role was as Equine Welfare Manager for Racing NSW, a role which she held from 2016 to early 2019. A statement by Racing Australia said: "Karen will bring over 25 years of thoroughbred experience and more than 20 years working in Media, Publishing and Marketing where she has developed a multi-disciplined skill set covering business leadership, marketing, consumer and customer data management, sales and operations." Racing Australia's Operations Chief Executive Officer Myles Foreman added: "The appointment of Karen as the first National Equine Welfare & Traceability Executive for Racing Australia is an important step in the ongoing commitment to the welfare and traceability of the thoroughbred."

NEW ZEALAND

Melbourne Cup a possibility for Roger That

Tauranga horseman Antony Fuller has Auckland Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) winner Roger That (Shinko King) back ticking over but he isn't getting ahead of himself as he looks to place his stable star this spring. The farmer turned horse trainer prepares the rising eight-year-old from his Bay Of Plenty property. "We're just working him quietly and not doing anything too serious until we know where we are going. He is ticking over and he seems fine," Fuller said. "The draft calendar for next season is still being worked through, so until we know the type of races and distances we can't plan too far ahead." In a unique year, where the magnitude of international competition is difficult to forecast, Fuller said a tilt at the Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) could be possible for the veteran stayer: "We are definitely giving it serious consideration, but it is the travel restrictions for us that are the question mark at the moment, and we want to assess that the horse is going well enough here first too."

White Robe Lodge announce 2020 fees

Otago-based White Robe Lodge has announced their 2020 service fees, with Raise The Flag (Sadler's Wells) leading the roster at NZ$6,000 (plus GST), unchanged from 2019, despite a standout season which included a breakthrough Group 1 win for Etah James in the Sydney Cup (Gr 1, 3200m). Standing alongside will be Ghibellines (Shamardal) at a fee of NZ$5,000 (plus GST) and Gallant Guru (Montjeu), available at NZ$2,000 (plus GST). "We acknowledge that given the current climate times certainly aren't easy for breeders and feel that our service fees reflect this," stud manager Wayne Stewart said. The stud are also offering a 10 per cent discount to breeders booking two or more mares to one stallion.

ASIA

Oaks fancy out to honour late Certain

Des Ailes (Deep Impact), the early second favourite for the Yushun Himba (Gr 1, 2400m), the Japanese Oaks, will be seeking to represent her late dam, dual French Classic winner Avenir Certain (Le Havre), when she steps out in Sunday's feature. Avenir Certain died last April in Japan, but her death was only reported this week through the Japanese Studbook. She was unbeaten in her first six starts for Jean-Claude Rouget, including the Poule d'Essai des Poulaches (Gr 1, 1600m), the French 1,000 Guineas, and the Prix de Diane (Gr 1, 2100m), the French Oaks. She was exported to Japan in 2016, producing two foals, both by Deep Impact. Des Ailes will be ridden by Australian jockey Damian Lane.

Almond Eye decision pending

A decision is looming about Almond Eye's (Lord Kanaloa) next start after she blitzed her rivals at her seasonal return in the Victoria Mile (Gr 1, 1600m) last weekend. Trainer Sakae Kunieda is eyeing off the Yasuda Kinen (Gr 1, 1600m) over the same course and distance as the Victoria Mile, except against the males; it was a race in which she finished third last year. Last year's winner Indy Champ (Stay Gold) is likely to line up once again, along with recent Sydney visitor Danon Premium (Deep Impact), who finished second to Addeybb (Pivotal) in the Queen Elizabeth Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) at Randwick at his most recent start. The race may also feature last year's Queen Elizabeth Stakes runner-up Kluger (King Kamehameha).

Ting's Star shoots for Amazing five at the Valley

Happy Valley specialist Amazing Star (Darci Brahma) is shooting for his fifth win at the city circuit this season when he faces off against talented rivals in the Class 2 Ho Chung River Handicap (1200m) tonight. The Jimmy Ting trainee has relished racing around the Valley's tight turns and has enjoyed a rapid rise, with four wins from five starts this season having taken his rating to a career-high mark of 100. A win tonight would put the New Zealand-bred gelding in line for a tilt at Group races next term but three-time champion jockey Zac Purton is taking it one step at a time. "I think he's starting to reach his ceiling but he's got a liking for Happy Valley and if he can break cleanly to have himself right up there, then hopefully he can continue on with what he's been doing," the Australian said.

Forty Niner

JBIS

Four-time Grade 1 winner and prominent international sire Forty Niner (Mr Prospector) died from old age on Monday, the Japan Bloodhorse Breeders Association (JBBA) announced on Twitter. Forty Niner had turned 35 a week earlier. Forty Niner won the Futurity Stakes (Gr 1, 7f) and the Champagne Stakes (Gr 1, 8f) among five wins at two in 1987, before adding the Haskell Invitational (Gr 1, 9f) and the Travers Stakes (Gr 1, 10f) at three. He was also among the favourites for the 1988 Kentucky Derby, finishing second by a neck to the filly Winning Colors (Caro). At stud, first at Kentucky's Claiborne Farm and then at Shizunai Stallion Station in Japan, he produced 56 stakes winners, including six Grade 1 winners. His sons have succeeded at stud as well, most notably Distorted Humor. "We are truly saddened to lose him and are grateful for all the support from his fans over the years," said JBBA stallion affairs manager Shigeki Yusa.

Godolphin Flying Start cohort announced

Ireland-based Australian Angus Robertson and Sydney-based duo, Irishman Donncha McCarthy and Frenchwoman Marine Moussa, were among 12 trainees announced last night for the Godolphin Flying Start program, beginning later this year. The prestigious two-year Thoroughbred Industry Management and Leadership Programme facilitates trainees to learn and experience management operations and leadership in the global thoroughbred industry with phases in Ireland, the UK, the USA, Australia and Dubai. Joining Robertson, McCarthy and Moussa are George Broughton and Thomas Lyon-Smith from the UK, Samantha Bussanich, Devon Dougherty and Erin McLaughlin from the US, Solène Hudbert, also from France, and three other Irish trainees - Brigitte Murphy, Tom Murphy and David Skelly.

O'Brien still determining Classic team

Aidan O'Brien has admitted to plans at Ballydoyle being up in the air with regards to the Classics, but revealed Wichita (No Nay Never) and Arizona (No Nay Never) remain the most likely colts to take on last season's outstanding juvenile Pinatubo (Shamardal) in the 2,000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1m) at Newmarket on June 6. The most successful trainer in the race's history, O'Brien has won the 2,000 Guineas ten times, including four of the past five runnings, but the close proximity of Royal Ascot to the first Classic of the season will have a huge bearing on what the master trainer runs in the race this year. "The two main horses who were going to Newmarket originally were Wichita and Arizona, that was the original plan," O'Brien said. "We thought it would be possible to do all three races with them - the Guineas at Newmarket, the Irish Guineas and then the St James's Palace, but that's obviously not the case now. I'd imagine the horses will go either of two ways between the Irish and English Guineas with the view that some of the Newmarket horses would have a chance of running at Royal Ascot. That's it in a nutshell really."

Australian Stud and Stable Staff Awards finalists announced

The finalists for the 2020 Australian Stud and Stable Staff Awards, celebrating the unsung heroes who dedicate their lives to Australia's racing and breeding industries, were announced last night.

Two finalists were named for each of the seven categories - Leadership, Horsemanship, the Australian Turf Club Dedication to Racing, the Magic Millions Dedication to Breeding, the Melbourne Racing Club Foundation Administration and Ancillary, Newcomer and Thoroughbred Care and Welfare.

The named finalists occupy positions that encompass everything from mucking out stables, to administration, to education, riding, delivering foals, rehoming and retraining ex-racehorses and every other facet of two of the biggest and most diverse industries in the country.

The Australian Stud and Stable Staff Awards, which will be announced during a virtual awards ceremony on June 17, could arguably not be better-timed. It is a time in which the entire workforce in both the breeding and racing industries deserves recognition for being able to operate despite the devastating Covid-19 pandemic.

Among the nominees are people like Mandy Radecker, whose success as a jockey has been followed by a career curing problemated racehorses of their bad habits and passing on her knowledge.

Radecker's nomination in the Horsemanship category is backed by the simple endorsement from her boss, Queensland trainer Michael Lakey: "Mandy has dedicated her life to the thoroughbred horse."

Two of this year's finalists, Kelly Colledge in the Newcomer category, and Sarah Moran in the Administration and Ancillary category, both demonstrated great resourcefulness in difficult circumstances.

The relatively inexperienced Colledge took over the running of Grafton trainer Brenden Mackay's stable when he was diagnosed with a brain tumour.

As Mackay said: "Kelly saved my stable and is keeping my dream alive. She has a 'next-level' work ethic."

Similarly, Moran, who worked in the office of Melbourne trainer Robbie Griffiths, stepped up when her boss was battling a brain aneurysm during 2019.

"I don't know how we would have coped if Sarah hadn't taken on a variety of extra roles. She was instrumental in keeping our business afloat," Griffiths said.

Others, like Godolphin's Simon Johnson, the Assistant Stud Manager at Woodlands Stud and a finalist in the Leadership Award, is commended as "exactly the person these awards were created for".

Johnson, a highly accomplished horseman and dedicated educator, sees his role as a broad one.

"We have a duty to give everyone who comes into the industry and who shows a willingness to learn the opportunity to advance themselves," Johnson said.

"These Awards recognise not so much the people like me, but all of those who give so much to ensure their farms and the industry are successful."

In the Dedication to Racing category, Brett "Lofty" Killion has worked for some of Australia's finest trainers over the past 25 years and is now the Brisbane foreman for Chris Waller.

Renowned as one of the few in the game who would arrive at Randwick before his first boss, Gai Waterhouse, Killion is described by his nominator as "honest, hard-working and ever-loyal".

"Lofty has learned from people like Gai and her father's legendary foreman 'Spider' Barker. He's been influenced by a man with the outstanding horsemanship skills and eye of John Thompson and by the methodical search for perfection of Chris Waller," his nominator, Reg Fleming said. "He's taken something from all of them."

The Stud and Stable Staff Awards are supported by Godolphin worldwide and in Australia are staged by Thoroughbred Breeders Australia and Racing Australia with sponsorship from the Melbourne Racing Club Foundation, the Australian Turf Club and Magic Millions.

TBA Chief Executive Tom Reilly said the 2020 Awards are made against a testing background that has demonstrated more clearly than ever the value of those who keep the thoroughbred racing and breeding industry at their world-leading level.

"Australia was one of the few racing jurisdictions in the world where racing continued throughout the Covid-19 pandemic, and one of the reasons for that was the dedication and discipline of the entire workforce,” Reilly said. “The Stud and Stable Staff Awards again highlights the quality of those who work behind the front line in the most vital roles.”

MRC Foundation chief operating officer Warren Horton said his organisation was proud to again sponsor the Administration and Ancillary Award.

“The work these individuals perform behind the scenes is truly remarkable and they are the true unsung heroes of our industry. Good luck to all the nominees,” Horton said.

The winner in each category, other than the Newcomer, receives $10,000 and a trophy with a further $3,000 to share among workplace colleagues. The winner in the Newcomer category receives $5,000.

A further $5,000 and a trophy is awarded for Thoroughbred Excellence to the category winner (except Newcomer and Care and Welfare) judged to have made an exceptional and significant contribution throughout the year.

Blue hen Scandinavia dies at 25

BY ANDREW HAWKINS | @ANZ_NEWS

One of Australia's most prolific broodmares, Scandinavia (Snippets), has died at the age of 25, it was announced yesterday.

Scandinavia's owner, breeder Rob Crabtree, announced her death through Aushorse, with the matriarch leaving behind a family that has come to sit at the forefront of the Australian racing and breeding industries.

"You never forget your first. I had a couple of good horses before Scandinavia and a few since, but in my opinion she's changed the landscape of Australian breeding: a 'blue hen' by any definition," Crabtree told Aushorse. "She's a Group winner in her own right, she produced Group winners, her daughters have produced Group winners and her granddaughters are now producing Group winners."

Crabtree purchased Scandinavia's dam, Song Of Norway (Vain), from David Hains in 1994 for $40,000, in foal to Snippets. Song Of Norway was unraced and hardly had a pedigree page littered with black type: her third foal Russian Tea Room (Raise A Cup) had won the Rancher Stakes (Listed, 1000m) at Caulfield in 1992 and her half-sister Song Of Kingston (Bletchingly) had produced dual Group 1 placegetter Muirfield Village (Exit Five B), but it was still hardly an inspiring pedigree on paper.

However, Crabtree saw something in Song Of Norway and decided to invest, with her Snippets filly arriving in November, 1994.

"She (Song of Norway) had just the three foals for me, but I put her in foal to Western Symphony after Scandinavia was born and she produced the Sydney stakes winner, Midnight Sun," Crabtree said.

"I decided to race Scandinavia in partnership with John Sadler and he trained her to win a Blue Diamond Prelude at two and the Group 2 QTC Cup, but she was also Group 1-placed four times in the Salinger, Goodwood, Lightning and Newmarket.

"Scandinavia was an even better racehorse than her record suggests – she was beaten a whisker in the Salinger behind 12-time stakes winner, Flavour, and was less than a head away when third to an absolute flying machine, General Nediym, in the Newmarket."

While she was a terrific racehorse, she was an even better broodmare. She produced 13 foals, with 10 making it to the racetrack. Eight of them were winners; the two that didn't win have created black type families of their own.

Her first foal Danavia (Danehill) was city-placed from four starts. She produced five foals; among them was stakes winner Iconic (Bel Esprit), as well as classy filly Sistonic (Bel Esprit), who produced the four-time winner Seatonic (Sebring). Another of her daughters, Hypatia (Distant Music), has produced two five-time winners in Bold Kingston (Your Song) and Believing (Bel Esprit).

It was Scandinavia's second foal, though, that would really cement her legacy. Helsing (Desert Sun) was unraced and was sold at the 2005 Inglis Broodmare Sale for $115,000.

Helsing produced eight foals, but none could match her first: the almighty Black Caviar (Bel Esprit), who won all 25 of her starts - including 15 Group 1 wins - before retiring to the breeding barn herself, where she has produced two winners in Oscietra (Exceed And Excel) and Prince Of Caviar (Sebring).

Helsing's second foal, the colt Moshe (Bel Esprit), was a winner of three of his five starts, also producing a stakes winner in Moshki. He now stands at stud in Indonesia.

The third foal for Helsing was another colt right out of the box. All Too Hard (Casino Prince) was a four-time Group 1 winner, including in the Caulfield Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m), before retiring to Vinery Stud. He has produced 16 stakes winners, most notably Australian Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) conqueror Alligator Blood.

Among Helsing's other foals is Naturale (Bel Esprit), who produced this season's Champagne Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m) placegetter Ole Kirk (Written Tycoon).

Having produced Danavia and Helsing, Scandinavia was finally able to produce a Group 1 winner to avenge her narrow defeats on the racetrack with her next foal being Group 1 winner Magnus (Flying Spur). Magnus raced in the Crabtree red and white checks and performed admirably on the world stage, hitting the placings in Group 1 races in Singapore and the UK as well as on home soil. His crowning moment came in The Galaxy (Gr 1, 1100m) at Randwick in 2007.

"I'd come so close to winning a Group 1 on too many occasions and Magnus had finished second to Miss Andretti - in track record time - in the Lightning Stakes, then he ran third in the Oakleigh Plate," Crabtree said. "Winning a Group 1 was proving to be fairly elusive, but then Magnus came out and won the Galaxy in Sydney for Peter Moody and Damien Oliver.

"I stood Magnus at Eliza Park (now Sun Stud), which ironically, is the farm I owned in the 90s, and from there he's gone on to produce four Group 1 winners, including this year's Futurity winner, Streets of Avalon, and 40 other stakes horses who between them have won $46 million."

Also among Scandinavia's progeny is Baltics (Fusaichi Pegasus), the granddam of this season's Blue Diamond Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) runner-up Hanseatic (Street Boss); nine-time winner Ibsen (Bel Esprit); Group 2 winners Wilander (Exceed And Excel) and Scandiva (Fastnet Rock); Listed winner Arctic Flight (Flying Spur); and Group 2 runner-up Lionhearted (Fastnet Rock).

Scandinavia only has one of her foals still racing - a three-year-old named Metro Warrior (Fastnet Rock), currently in training with John Moore in Hong Kong. As Viking Warrior, he was a two-time winner in Victoria. He was her last foal before she was retired from stud duties in 2018.

"What a phenomenal career and truly a legend in her own lifetime," Crabtree adds. "For my wife, Sylvie, and I, Scandinavia is like one of the family, just as she's been for her carer, Fiona Melling, who has looked after her from the start.

"Fittingly, Scandinavia is buried in the way of champions: standing up and facing the morning sun."

Whether Metro Warrior lives up to his pedigree or not, Scandinavia has already made her mark - and will continue to do so in the years to come.

For my wife, Sylvie, and I, Scandinavia is like one of the family, just as she's been for her carer, Fiona Melling, who has looked after her from the start - Rob Crabtree
