New Zealand Bloodstock savours 'remarkable' Ready to Run Sale

$700,000 Savabeel two-year-old takes sale day honours late on final day at Karaka

Lot 298 Savabeel - Miss Opulence colt

NZB

BY TIM ROWE AND LLOYD JACKSON

The undoubted success of this week's New Zealand Bloodstock Ready to Run Sale, which was capped with a record late-session $700,000 Savabeel (Zabeel) colt and five other lots breaking the $300,000 mark yesterday, has given the company immense confidence heading into 2021.

Andrew Seabrook, NZB's managing director, last night was elated with the outcome of the two-day juvenile sale in which overseas buyers and a tight-knit community of local agents helped the auction house achieve "remarkable" results.

After ten horses were traded for $200,000 or more on day one, headlined by a $525,000 Sacred Falls (O'Reilly) colt, the bidding competition remained strong on day two in which a son of Exceed And Excel (Danehill) ($525,000) and a Tavistock (Montjeu) colt ($450,000) both made big sums.

The surge in sales yesterday, which continued on from a strong start on Wednesday, led to 185 horses changing hands at an average of $95,349, up on the same sale last year, at a clearance rate of 77 per cent. The median of $60,000 was the same as 2019.

"It's been an amazing success and I can't quite believe it, actually," Seabrook told ANZ Bloodstock News.

"Up until last week we were apprehensive, but we started to get cautiously optimistic when we started to get all the registrations to bid online. We were still very nervous about how it was all going to unfold, so it exceeded all expectations. Continued on page 2 >>

"We had people bidding online and if they weren't bidding online, they were bidding through their counterparts here. It was quite remarkable."

Australian auction houses Inglis and Magic Millions had ramped up their digital presence significantly and encouraged greater use of online bidding at their respective yearling, breeding stock and two-year-old sales.

While the backend platform was already available, NZB elected to build its own bespoke online bidding service and the investment paid off at the two-year-old sale and Seabrook believes its effectiveness will boost buyer and vendor confidence at company's Karaka Yearling Sale in January.

The NZB Sale, it could be argued, faced greater uncertainty than its Australian counterparts with the international border closure and its weaker domestic market but was able to achieve the highest-priced lot of the three recent auctions, the second-highest average and the highest clearance rate.

"It proved that you don't actually have to be here on the ground to buy and you don't need to take the horses to the buyers," he said.

"The bidding platform, combined with all the transparency and information now that the buyer is being blessed with from the vendors, I think it is only going to get better going forward.

"Even I was bidding on horses because some of our agents were so busy. I normally flick one onto them but they were so busy I ended up bidding on horses, which I haven't done for ages.

"Sometimes there were four bidders online and another four in the ring. It was quite amazing."

The NZB sale, according to Seabrook, sold horses to buyers who had never bought a horse out of New Zealand before.

"I think that there is no doubt that is going to be the way of the future. I still don't think you can beat being on the grounds here, but I think people are going to be more akin to and happier to bid remotely when they have to," he said.

"These results definitely give us confidence at a time when the industry definitely needed it but there's a bit of positivity around the moment.

"There's light at the end of the tunnel and the sale just adds to the news of Avondale, Ellerslie and Counties racing clubs (merging into a super centre) during the week and the betting turnover is flying.

"The pinhookers are also going to walk away after the past couple of days with a bit of confidence, which is good heading into the yearling sales."

Savabeel colt sells for $700,000

When the highest-priced lot of the sale was sold in the Karaka twilight, sale supremo David Ellis was not in his customary seat, but he was still calling the shots from the car via Te Akau's trainer Jamie Richards who fended off a number of parties to land the Riversley Park-consigned $700,000 colt, the most expensive horse sold at a NZB Ready to Run Sale.

"We thought he was the colt of the sale," Richards said.

"He was a Savabeel that is medium-sized, very athletic, moved really well and I couldn't fault his attitude every time that we looked at him up here (Karaka).

"He has been bought to hopefully develop into a stallion. He has got the pedigree behind him that we think he is able to do so."

Richards, so often in the shadow of Ellis at the Karaka sales ring, was left in charge with the Te Akau principal having left the complex prior to the horse going through the ring.

"He had to get down to Te Rapa for Karyn's (Fenton Ellis) last AGM as chairman of the Waikato Racing Club, so I had him on the phone," Richards said.

"We were getting towards the end of it, so it was great to get him for $700,000 and hopefully we can develop him into a stallion that the New Zealand industry can be proud of."

Dean Hawthorne, Andrew Seabrook and Kane Jones, acting for clients over the phone, were all bidding on the horse, as was Cambridge trainer Roger James, the eventual under bidder.

Riversley Park team

TRISH DUNELL

"I honestly don't know if we would have gone again," Richards said.

"Dave was pretty clear on the phone that that was the last bid."

Catalogued as Lot 298, the colt was to be offered through the Henley Park draft at the Inglis Australian Easter Yearling Sale earlier this year but, like most of the New Zealand-consigned lots, were withdrawn after being unable to fly into Australia for the Sydney auction.

The colt was bred by the Smithies family's Monovale Farm in Cambridge.

"We knew from the interest leading into the sale that we had a pretty good horse on our hands, how good we weren't sure," an overwhelmed Joe Smithies said.

"We were keen to get him on the market relatively early and it turns out that was a good move.

"It was great to see two New Zealand guys going at him, and there was plenty of interest from bidders online.

"It's a huge result for the mare, Savabeel, Riversley and Monovale and everyone at NZB as well.

"We are just over the moon. You are always optimistic but half the time when you are optimistic you probably get caught out a little bit. We went into it hoping it would go well but $700,000 is beyond optimistic.

"It is a family we have had a long time now and one that has been very good to us.

"Miss Opulence is a six-year-old mare and is carrying her fourth Savabeel. She has a yearling filly, a filly foal and is back in foal to Savabeel. She is a very exciting broodmare for us going forward."

Darci Brahma colt to take up residence in sire's former box

Ellis also has a special place for Group 1 winner Darci Brahma (Danehill), a horse his syndicate raced before he was retired to stud, and yesterday the Te Akau Racing principal was determined to buy a colt by the underrated stallion.

He paid $1.1 million for Darci Brahma as a yearling in 2004 out of the Karaka sales ring but did not have to go that high when purchasing a talented son for $350,000 on the second and final day of the ready to run auction.

"I bought Darci Brahma, his sire, here at the sales and he was a champion two-year-old, champion three-year-old, and champion four-year-old, and he has been a fantastic success at stud," Ellis said.

"I have been waiting to buy what I thought was a really top Darci Brahma yearling and I had to go to the Ready to run sale.

"I was here three days ago and I thought 'that's the best Darci Brahma I have ever seen and I am going to buy him'.

"It is pretty exciting to have him. I am going to give him Darci Brahma's box which he had when he was a racehorse."

Not offered at public auction as a weanling or a yearling, the Darci Brahma colt, who is by the same sire as the Clayton Chipperfield-trained Catalyst, caught the eye with a 10.94-second breeze-up at Te Rapa last month.

"I paid a bit more than I thought I would have to but to buy these top horses you have got to pay a bit more," Ellis said.

"I don't take too much notice of the breeze-ups, but he did breeze-up very well and he impressed everybody that has been involved with the horse," Ellis said.

"It is the individual, their attitude, and type, which are more important to me."

"It's an excellent result given that the interest and hits were average and not exceptional, so I had him on the market at $100,000. I knew he would sell, though, so the final price was a pleasant surprise." Kilgravin Lodge's Eion Kemp said.

foal out of the winning mare Granadilla (Encosta De Lago) who is a half-sister to the Group 3 winner Lilikoi (Charm Spirit).

"We are just over the moon about the result. The look on breeder Rob Tunncliffe's face was priceless," said Lilywhites Lodge's Derek Nolan who was acting as a vendor for just the second time.

"We are so excited for him and also that he has gone to Te Akau. We could not be happier.

"We have had terrific support and guidance from Mark Chitty of Haunui Farm so we are lucky indeed to be going forward with them as clients. Seeing the fruits so early in our business is very gratifying."

Ellis bought nine two-year-olds for a combined spend of $1.52 million to again claim the leading buyer title at Karaka.

Kelt back with a bang at Karaka

Seven lots after the sale-topping Savabeel colt was sold, there was also hot competition for a Tavistock colt offered by Curraghmore which signalled the return of former highflying New Zealand owner and breeder Sam Kelt.

Kelt, who outlaid $450,000 for Lot 305 under the guidance of agent Bruce Perry, was blunt when asked about his notable absence from New Zealand racetracks.

"We have come back and we are kicking some goals on the racing side, but we're not going to get involved in breeding again and we came specifically to the sale to try and buy a Derby winner who could go on and stay in Australia," Kelt said.

"We had the huge South Canterbury Finance fraud brought against us. It didn't cost us much money, just $42 million, so it has taken us a little bit of time to recover from that and one of the things we did was get out of horses but we're back."

The colt, who breezed up in 11.92 seconds and was bred by Sir Owen Glenn's Go Bloodstock, will be trained by Lance O'Sullivan and Andrew Scott.

"I thought he was a lovely horse, he was very well balanced and had a lot of presence about him," Perry said.

"He just looked like a ripper. For me, he was the pick of the colts in the sale and he has been bought as a middle-distance Derby horse."

The colt is the fifth foal out of the European stakes-placed mare Mourasana (Shirocco), who is already the dam of Brisbane winner The Golden Bear (Pierro), and is a half-sister to Group 2 winner Mouramara (Kahyasi).

Sydney Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) winner Mourayan (Alhaarth) and UK Listed winner and Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) placegetter Mourilyan (Desert Prince) are both out of Mouramara.

Curraghmore's Gordon Cunningham revealed the popular son of Tavistock was on the market from $100,000.

"He is full of quality and he completed an excellent breeze up, so combine that with his huge pedigree page, it matched his profile," he said.

"I really hope that he will fulfil his new owners' dream of winning a Derby, which is their fervent hope."

Kelt and Perry also bought a Dundee (High Chaparral) colt yesterday for $200,000 from the Lyndhurst Farm draft. He is out of Redoute's Choice (Danehill) mare Ladore Falls and was offered as Lot 274.

"He was a lovely horse too. Not a big horse but in that Dundee mold," Perry said.

"He had a huge amount of presence and a great head."

Exceed And Excel colt a stunning result for Lyndhurst Farm

An Exceed And Excel (Danehill) colt shared the honours for the most expensive horse of the sale for the majority of day two after being sold for $525,000.

New Zealand trainer John Bell signed for the colt on behalf of an overseas client.

Bidding with conviction, Bell outlasted agent Bevan Smith to land the high-priced colt who breezed up in 10.74 seconds.

"There's a touch of Julius to him and another very good horse Mosse. That type of horse is what we go for," Bell said.

"He was the horse that we just had to have and I would have got him for $75,000 cheaper if it wasn't for Steve Davis. He is a hell of an auctioneer."

The horse's future lays in Hong Kong, but first he will continue his education at Bell's Cambridge base with the colt likely to barrier trial before boarding a flight.

"I have bought him for a friend in Hong Kong who has raced a number of good horses, including Fellowship, who was a very good horse up there by O'Reilly," he said.

"I am not quite sure who the trainer will be up there yet but he will be well prepared when he goes."

Under bidder Smith said: "I really loved him and really wanted him. Obviously, I am disappointed but also pleased for the Treweeks who are such great people. I had $450,000 for him but John Bell had no limit, it would appear.

"We went one more but it didn't work. I did my best but that's an auction."

By the same sire as star Godolphin sprinter Bivouac, who won the Darley Sprint Classic (Gr 1, 1200m) at Flemington on the last day of the carnival, he was purchased at the 2019 Inglis Australian Weanling Sale for $100,000 and was withdrawn from the Easter sale in April when Covid-19 hit.

He is the sixth foal out of Chateau D'Yquem (Pins), herself a three-quarter sister to champion New Zealand filly Katie Lee and a half-sister to Gee I Jane (Jahafil), and a brother to the Melbourne city-placed two-year-old Sauternes. He was catalogued as Lot 169.

"John Bell visited us a bunch of times over the last couple of days, so we had a good idea that he would sell very well. The interest has been enormous," Lyndhurst Farm's Mark Treweek said.

"On the way up I thought we might get $200,000 or more and that was going to be my reserve. The interest combined with the way the sale went on day one convinced me that we could up the ante, so he was on the market at $300,000."

Treweek said it was harder to judge the market in the lead-up to the sale given the number of buyers who were operating online.

"On other years, you come to the sale thinking you have a $400,000 to $450,000 colt all day, but under these conditions it's hard to gauge being quiet on parades but he's been popular with all the top buyers," he said.

"He's just all quality. From the day we broke him in, we've had a very high opinion of him. He's one of those horses who when you first ride him he just gets you. He's a next-level type of horse and I am just rapt that he found his value."

HE WAS THE HORSE THAT WE JUST HAD TO HAVE AND I WOULD HAVE GOT HIM FOR $75,000 CHEAPER IF IT WASN'T FOR STEVE DAVIS. HE IS A HELL OF AN AUCTIONEER.

- JOHN BELL

Treweek and his wife Shelley are regular buyers at the Australian weanling sales and the son of Exceed And Excel is the latest example of Lyndhurst Farm's ongoing pinhooking success.

"He was a bit weak and was a lightly framed colt, but he had a great walk on him then and had a lovely figure about him which is what we look for," he said.

"Also, being an Exceed And Excel, we've done out of them over the years and we had Mr Stunning a few years ago who was a champion in Hong Kong.

"We know a little bit about the sire, so when you can get one for that we were absolutely ecstatic."

Bell praised the comradery of the New Zealand industry who have banded together to assist the international buyers to participate in the auction.

"The Asian market has a lot of confidence in the relationships with the agents they have got over here," Bell said.

"There are so many guys who know each other well and they trust each other.

"The content that has been put out promoting the horses with videos, photos, and run-ups, it's just incredible.

"They don't have to come down with all the information that is supplied and with them trusting their agents down here.

"You can cross your Ts and dot your Is probably more so than previous years."

Laming looks to Karaka for next stable star

Melbourne trainer Richard Laming will train a gelding by Bobby's Kitten (Kitten's Joy) after being purchased for $320,000 midway through day two of the Ready to Run Sale yesterday.

Agent John White handled the bidding for Laming, who has in the past enjoyed success out of the NZB two-year-old sale when paying $300,000 for Master Montaro (Toronado) in 2018.

After winning a maiden earlier this year, Laming on-sold the gelding to a client of David Hayes for about $1.5 million.

By Twin Hills Stud's one-year shuttler Bobby's Kitten, the gelding breezed up in 10.81 seconds at Te Rapa.

Offered by Jim Collett's JC Thoroughbreds as Lot 247, he was a $55,000 purchase at the Magic Millions Adelaide Yearling Sale from the Glastonbury Farms draft. He is the third foal out of seven-time winner Just A Girl (Not A Single Doubt), whose second foal Nantucket (Rubick) won at Bendigo recently.

"The breeze-up did it for me. According to Trudy Thornton he could have gone quicker. She was swinging on him. He did it on his ear," White said.

"I believe he came from the Adelaide Yearling Sale and was purchased specifically for this sale. He will go to Richard Laming in Melbourne.

"His half-brother is in Melbourne and set a track record at Bendigo recently."

Collett said: "He's a smart gelding. I've had him for four or five months after he was purchased for $55,000 out of the Adelaide sale and I have been impressed.

"I have ridden him and I am looking forward to seeing what he can do in the future."

A Siyouni (Pivotal) colt, from the Ohukia Lodge draft, also sold well yesterday, bought by a Hong Kong owner for $350,000 after breezing up in 10.42 seconds. Out of European-bred mare Hidden Gem (Shamardal), a three-quarter sister to dual Victorian Listed winner Haripour, he was catalogued as Lot 230.

MORNING BRIEFING

AUSTRALIA

Brown booked for Kay Cee

WESTERN RACE PIX

Jockey Jason Brown will take his first ride on Kingston Town Classic (Gr 1, 1800m) winner Kay Cee (Playing God) in the Railway Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m), with Steven Parnham - who has ridden the mare, trained by his father Neville, at each of her 12 starts - on the injured list. Parnham fell from Powerful (Nicconi) at Ascot on Wednesday and was diagnosed with three rib fractures and small thoracic spine fractures after the incident. Parnham will be out for at least a month, missing most of Perth's Masters including the Railway Stakes, the Winterbottom Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) and the Kingston Town Classic. Brown's rides in the Railway Stakes have been few and far between in recent years, but he has finished second twice on Old Comrade (Old Spice) and Famous Roman (Danetime), while he was third on Blinded (Marwina).

Raymond aims for Cup with Pacodali

Maddie Raymond is hoping Pacodali (Paco Boy) can provide her with a Ballarat Cup (Listed, 2000m) winner in her first year of training. Raymond gained her licence in February and has so far had 32 runners for four country winners. Before she gained her training licence, she had spent over a decade working in stables, firstly with Lindsay Park and also with Willie Mullins in Ireland. She then came back to Australia and joined Darren Weir's Warrnambool stables where she worked for seven years and graduated to stable foreman. When Weir was disqualified, Raymond took on the same position for Lindsey Smith but decided to branch out on her own at the start of the year. Raymond said Pacodali was ready to run a big race after his unlucky run when attempting to defend his Eclipse Stakes (Gr 3, 1800m) crown at Sandown on Saturday. "He got held up in the straight and he's not the horse to accelerate through gaps," she said. It's a strong race. If he can finish top-five I'd be thrilled. Just to have a horse good enough to run in a $500,000 race is pretty exciting."

Sargent heads south for Clockwise Classic

John Sargent will have his first runner in the Magic Millions Clockwise Classic (1000m) courtesy of Readily Availabull (Bull Point), who won his trial over 900 metres at Rosehill last week. The race can prove confusing for juveniles, but Sargent believes Readily Availabull can cope with the clockwise run. "He seems well seasoned that way (clockwise)," he told Racing.com. "He trialed well the other day and I asked Brenton Avdulla to go to the line with him so he knows what he's doing so he's ready for what's ahead of him. He travels down tonight and Micky Dee rides him on Friday to get a feel of him and he should be ready to go. Her run was very game in the Ottawa so if she can bring that to that way of going, she will be in it for a long way. I'm expecting she can turn it around."

Blinkers on Butter Blonde

Ottawa Stakes (Gr 3, 1000m) third Butter Blonde (Choisir) will wear blinkers in the Magic Millions Clockwise Classic at Ballarat after struggling in her first serious gallop in the reverse direction. The filly competed in a right-handed jump out earlier this week, which is part of the qualification criteria for Saturday's race, and co-trainer Adrian Bott admits she was all at sea. "We did send her out to Ballarat during the week for a jump out and it was her first experience that way of going," Bott said. "She did get very lost that way. She gets the blinkers for the first time and she's a ready-made runner, which is what we've seen at her first couple of runs."

Poignant Purple goes for Gong

Purple Sector (Pins) bids to deliver victory for John Thompson in the $1 million The Gong (1600m), eight days after he claimed the $1 million The Hunter (1300m) with Sweet Deal (Casino Prince). The five-year-old was gelded at the end of his autumn preparation and has since notched two wins and a narrow second in three spring runs, with victory in the Melbourne Cup Day Plate (Listed, 1800m) last time out the highlight. Thompson sent Purple Sector for a freshen up in the paddock after his Cup-day win and said the horse had continued to thrive since returning to Sydney. "He really freshened up nicely and when he came back to Randwick he was in tip-top order again," Thompson said. "His last win at Randwick was super. He won it very well and he ran good time doing it. In Melbourne, he was terrible. He just didn't get on the right leg there at any stage and never travelled but at least once he balanced up in the straight he was good enough to get himself out of trouble."

Gelded Big Parade back at Kembla

Big Parade (Deep Field) will return in a Benchmark 78 at Kembla Grange on Saturday after being gelded due to his misdemeanors. The Mark Newnham-trained four-year-old won by five and a half lengths at Canterbury on his last start, but had to be scratched from his next race after injuring himself while misbehaving in the float. "He is back with a major gear change," Newnham said. "His behaviour was awful. He threw himself around on the truck travelling out there and hit his head and had a bit of blood coming from his nose, that's why he ended up being scratched. He travelled back even worse. That's why we gelded him and we've just kept him ticking over in the stables. He's got every chance now to realise his potential without any other distractions"

Thompson aims to go one better with Reckless

Ben Thompson has been booked to ride Reckless Choice (Choisir) for Steven O'Dea and Matt Hoysted in the Mooloolaba Cup (1600m) at Sunshine Coast on Saturday. The six-year-old gelding is aiming to go one better on his performance in last year's renewal when he finished second to The Candy Man (Casino Prince). "He's going every bit as good as he was last year and it was encouraging to see him attack the line as strongly as he did last start," Hoysted said. "The step up from 1350 metres to the mile is only going to suit him better." Reckless Choice has drawn barrier 12 on Saturday, the same gate he jumped from in last year's race. "It's a bit of a shame about the barrier but the horse is going super and hopefully we can get a bit of luck and get in somewhere," Hoysted said. "He'll probably be back in the second half of the field from that gate but there should be a nice, genuine tempo."

SA trainers permitted to exercise horses

Trainers in South Australia were given good news yesterday as the SA Government approved the continued care and exercise of thoroughbreds within the state, allowing industry participants exemption to the six-day lockdown restrictions imposed on Wednesday. "This is obviously a great result and the right outcome for the welfare of our beloved horses," Richard Jolly, who is SA Trainers' Association president and trains in partnership with his daughter Chantelle, told Racing.com. "By the time we were advised this morning of the decision it was too late to do anything about opening the track today. Fellow trainers I spoke with had already put contingency plans in overnight including telling some staff not to turn up for work. Most would have treated it like a Sunday morning, which is generally the quiet day at a racing stable. With our walking machine, Chantelle and I were able to exercise our 40 horses, five at a time, in 20-minute intervals. Thankfully we won't have to continue down that path because some horses would just go stir crazy if that was all they could do."

Victoria to accept SA horses

Racing Victoria confirmed yesterday that South Australian horses will continue to be allowed to race in Victoria, despite the state closing its border to SA after their decision to impose a six-day lockdown. Trainers will have to follow RV protocols for horse transportation, which state horses have to travel by an approved float company and are placed with a Victorian trainer by 9am on the day before they are due to race. Participants from SA are not permitted to attend race meetings or licensed premises without first completing the required isolation period.

Hickmott scratches Sky Punch

South Australian trainer Michael Hickmott will not run Sky Punch (Alamosa) at Saturday's Ballarat Cup meeting. Victoria announced yesterday that horses from SA will be allowed to run in the state during SA's six-day lockdown, but despite this Hickmott believes it would be inappropriate to send his horse to Ballarat. "Regarding our social licenses, I'm not going to send him. I think it would be an inappropriate thing to do given the circumstances," Hickmott told Racing.com. "Everyone is working their best throughout South Australia and Victoria to get on top of this stuff. So I am just going to elect to find another race for him. We all have to work at this collectively. We are working through a difficult time, together, and it's not ideal for anyone but if racing gets shutdown then it's going to be worse for the entire horse, owner, trainer population. You have got to look at the bigger picture sometimes."

Sense of timing for Hardacre

South Australian trainer Peter Hardacre will have four runners in Victoria today, after sending them to the neighbouring state before SA imposed the six-day lockdown. Isa Secret (Outreach), Centenary Shot (Soldier's Tale) and emergencies Cosmo Rock (Valentia) and Quiet Class (Supreme Class) are all accepted for Terang on Friday. "The horses are already over there, and the one for Moonee Valley is in Victoria as well," Hardacre told Racing.com. "It's a little bit of luck. They were all in at Naracoorte as well. So I'm glad we pulled the right rein this time to go to Victoria. The Terang horses are staying at Warrnambool with Luke Williams, and the one going to Moonee Valley has gone to James Bull. He's got a runner there too, so he's taking it up for me." Hardacre has been sending his horses across to Victoria early due to Covid-19. "That's the only reason. We are right on the border," he said. "A lot of the Victorian trips are closer for us than going to Adelaide. Adelaide is five hours for us, where we can get right through to Geelong in four, Ballarat in four."

Callow ride under investigation

Noel Callow has been charged for not giving his horse full opportunity to win or obtain its best possible finish after his ride on the Nick Ryan-trained Grand Pope (More Than Ready) at Benalla in September. Following an inquiry, stewards allege that Callow failed to improve his position when approaching and passing the 300 metres for at least seven strides when there was sufficient room to do so, while also alleging Callow of failing to ride Grand Pope with purpose from 120 metres out. The charge will be heard before the Victorian Racing Tribunal on a date to be fixed.

Adkins eyes return

Andrew Adkins, who suffered a terrible fall aboard Hot 'N' Hazy (Snitzel) in July, is hoping to return to action at the beginning of 2021. Adkins had to have a rod put in his tibia and a plate in his clavicle, while also suffering eight broken ribs and a punctured lung following the incident at Rosehill, which resulted in Hugh Bowman receiving a lengthy ban for his involvement in the incident. Adkins will be able to give a clearer recovery timeline after seeing his specialist early next month. "I'm sure he will give me an update then. But he's only looking at x-rays, so it's really up to me and when I feel like it's 100 per cent or close to it," Adkins told Racing.com. "At the moment I am trying to look towards January and get back in the new year, which is five weeks away. Hopefully I can keep working towards that date. Whether it's a bit longer or a bit shorter, I don't know. I just have to keep doing the right thing to get to the stage where I can get back on a horse. My collarbone and ribs are all healed and I obviously had the punctured lung as well, which is pretty good. It's just my leg now, which is going good. There's still a bit of pain there. But it's going well, it just has a little bit to go. I've got to get that muscle back and it doesn't come back overnight."

NEW ZEALAND

Eccles ready to shine

New Zealand Oaks (Gr 1, 2400m) winner Jennifer Eccles (Rip Van Winkle) returns to fillies and mares company in tomorrow's Auckland Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes (Gr 2, 1400m) at Pukekohe, with co-trainer Shaune Ritchie confident she can bounce back from a disappointing effort at her latest outing in last month's Windsor Park Plate (Gr 1, 1600m). "I'm expecting a good performance from her," said Ritchie, who trains in partnership with Colm Murray. "I wouldn't be running a horse of her calibre if she wasn't close to being back to her best. She hasn't had a trial and hasn't raced for seven weeks but that last run was certainly a torrid run second-up. We've given her a couple of weeks in the paddock and freshened her right up. Her trackwork and appetite have been superb so I see no reason not to run. We will watch her performance very closely before we evaluate what to do for the rest of the season with her. The first-up race was excellent, she had a lovely run. Second-up, with The Mitigator setting that breakneck pace, it gave everyone a tough run two weeks after a hard enough first run. She looked like a kindergarten kid in a college race with the likes of Melody Belle and Advantage in there. They are battle-hardened horses that have been at this level for two or three years and are very good at what they do. To step out of three-year-old fillies and go against them is not easy to do."

Rock On Wood on target for Captain Cook

A second straight victory in the Country Cup (1400m) at Awapuni tomorrow would put Rock On Wood (Redwood) firmly in the picture for next month's Captain Cook Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m) at Trentham. Last year, Rock On Wood beat Wyndspelle (Iffraaj) by a long neck in the Country Cup, with Wyndspelle going on to take the Captain Cook Stakes at his next start. "I'd just love to win a Group race with him, and he deserves to. He's been unlucky in a few big ones. And he tries so hard," trainer Leanne Elliot said. "He's got the weight I expected. He's just got to run and be competitive. He'll go a good race. He just needs the run to have him spot on for the Captain Cook." Rock On Wood has won six of his 15 starts and has finished in the top four in Group races six times, including third in the Herbie Dyke Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) earlier this year.

Julius to make racecourse return

Fresh from purchasing the horse he termed "his pick" of the New Zealand Bloodstock Ready to Run Sale, trainer John Bell will send out stable star Julius (Swiss Ace) in the Counties Bowl (Listed, 1100m) at Pukekohe tomorrow. This year's Railway Handicap (Gr 1, 1200m) victor has only had one run this season, finishing seventh in the Foxbridge Plate (Gr 2, 1200m) and pulling up with heel issues. "His bumpers were red raw (after the Foxbridge) which upset us with all the issues he has had in the past," Bell said. "That particular day turned into a disaster, but his heels are good now and we are more than happy with him. I was happy with his exhibition gallop and I can say he is better now than what he was this time last year. He has drawn the outside gate (in the Counties Bowl), it won't worry us too much. That grey mare of Alex Oliveira's (Only In Jakarta) may head to the front," he said. "From that draw we will be camped outside the first three or four. We would love him to weigh in, but New Year's (the Railway) is our aim."

Strong hand for Patterson

New Plymouth trainer Robbie Patterson has a solid team of seven horses set to contest the Taranaki meeting today, headed by maiden Regal Ruby (Night Of Thunder) in a Pearl Series event. "She had a woman's problem that we fixed up after the last race, which was giving her aggravation so she had a caslick done," Patterson said. "The 1400 metres will suit her better as long as the rail is not too far out. We had a bit of rain last night and it's drying today but the rail could be out. She will be a big chance." Stablemate Bold Bette (The Bold One) also finished runner-up last start and Patterson said she will appreciate the drop back to 1400 metres: "I just wanted to run her over 1800 metres last time, but we have freshened her up and brought her back to 1400 metres. If she can position midfield from her draw I think she will be pretty hard to beat." Bold Bette will be met by stablemate Puntura (Vespa) who finished fifth on debut: "It was a good run, but he's a big dumb bugger, he will take a bit of time. But he will roll forward and put himself in the picture. I would be happy if he could place." Debut winner Klaasen (Niagara) and first-starters Sir Baldrick (Perfectly Ready) and Nun Hissing (Alamosa) will be joined by maiden Our Fair Trade (Nom Du Jeu).

ASIA

Gran Alegria, Salios clash in Mile Championship

The slew of top-level contests continues in Japan and the spotlight remains firmly on Hanshin racecourse on Sunday with the Mile Championship (Gr 1, 1600m). Normally held at Kyoto, this race has been moved and will take place at Hanshin for the first time in the race's 36-year history due to renovation of Kyoto racecourse. The change in venue represents a return to familiar ground for a number of Mile Championship hopefuls. Among the 17 runners are eight Group 1 winners, including four that have aced one of the three Hanshin mile Group 1s – 2019 Asahi Hai Futurity Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m) champion Salios (Heart's Cry) and his predecessor in the Asahi Hai Futurity, and the 2019 Hong Kong Mile (Gr 1, 1600m) winner, Admire Mars (Daiwa Major); Resistencia (Daiwa Major), first home in the 2019 Hanshin Juvenile Fillies (Gr 1, 1600m); and 2019 Oka Sho (Gr 1, 1600m) winner Gran Alegria (Deep Impact), who also pocketed the Yasuda Kinen (Gr 1, 1600m) at Tokyo, as well as the Sprinters Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) at Nakayama this year. Add to that the winner of the 2020 NHK Mile Cup (Gr 1, 1600m) – Lauda Sion (Real Impact) – and you have quite the formidable field. Gran Alegria is likely to start favourite after her breathtaking win last time out, but Salios shapes as a potential star despite finding Contrail (Deep Impact) too good in the Satsuki Sho (Gr 1, 2000m) and the Tokyo Yushun (Gr 1, 2400m).

INTERNATIONAL

12 for Vadamos

The Joseph O'Brien-trained Messidor (2 f ex Pyrenean Queen by Zoffany) took out a fillies' maiden over seven furlongs on Dundalk's all-weather surface on Wednesday evening, earning first season sire Vadamos (Monsun) his 12th individual winner. Messidor's first win came at the third time of asking but the filly had shown promise on her first two appearances, including a half-length defeat on debut. She was sent off an evens favourite under Declan McDonogh and comfortably landed the contest by two and a quarter lengths, with runner-up Golden Lyric (Lope De Vega) pulling well clear of Blue Bunny (Markaz) in third. Rich Hill shuttler Vadamos, a Group 1 winner in France, stands 2020 for NZ$15,000 + GST.

43 for Siyouni

Honey Cake (3 f ex Pink Anemone by Dansili) took out the Prix Ceres (Listed, 1400m) at Fontainebleau yesterday to bring up Siyouni's (Pivotal) 43rd individual stakes winner. Remarkably, Siyouni was the sire of the first four horses home, with Private Romance finishing one and three-quarter lengths behind Honey Cake in second. Femina was a neck behind in third, while Marly brought up the Siyouni quartet in fourth. Aga Khan Stud's Siyouni, the sire of this year's Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe (Gr 1, 2400m) winner Sottsass, has had his fee raised to €140,000 (approx. AUD$227,850), up from €100,000 (approx. AUD$162,750), for 2021.

30 for Kingman

Kinross (3 c ex Ceilidh House by Selkirk) became Kingman's (Invincible Spirit) 30th individual stakes winner when he landed the Hyde Stakes (Listed, 1m) on the all-weather at Kempton on Wednesday night. The Ralph Beckett-trained colt had not won since his eight-length maiden victory on debut at Newmarket over 12 months ago but ended his drought with a three-quarter-length win over favourite Khuzaam (Kitten's Joy). Via Serendipity (Invincible Spirit) finished a length behind the winner in third. Juddmonte announced last week that star stallion Kingman's stud fee will remain at £150,000 (approx. AUD$272,670) in 2021.

UK: Zoustar's Galileo half-brother debuts

Kondo Isami (Galileo), a half-brother to champion Australian stallion Zoustar (Northern Meteor), made a promising debut to his racing career with a runner-up effort on the all-weather at Newcastle overnight. The Mark Johnston-trained Kondo Isami was sent off a 20-1 chance but finished nine lengths behind the well-fancied 1-3 shot Teona (Sea The Stars), who finished a length behind Sea Empress (Sea The Stars) on his debut last month. Teona is out of Group 1 winner Ambivalent (Authorized), who finished 17th in the 2014 Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m). Kondo Isami, who finished three lengths clear of third-placed Silver Horn (Golden Horn), became the third foal of Redoute's Choice (Danehill) mare Zouzou to race in Europe, after At Last (Galileo), who was winless from four attempts, and Emperor Of The Sun (Galileo), who is under the care of Donnacha O'Brien and has won once from nine starts. Kondo Isami holds an entry for next year's Derby (Gr 1, 1m4f) at Epsom. Zoustar, crowned champion Australian first and second season sire, produced his 167th winner at Wyong on Wednesday when the Gai Waterhouse and Adrian Bott-trained Belieber won an 1100-metre maiden.

IRE: Australian Group 1 winner takes Irish claimer

Comin' Through (Fastnet Rock), who took out the 2018 Doomben Cup (Gr 1, 2000m) among other Australian stakes victories, won his first race in over two years in a Dundalk claiming race on Wednesday night. The seven-year-old gelding, who is now rated 83, won the contest by an emphatic seven lengths from Boitron (Le Havre) to end a 17-race losing streak. "I don't think the Australians will be too happy with me running a Group 1 horse in a claiming race," winning trainer Johnny Levins told Irishracing.com. "He was very stale when we got him and we just tried to sweeten him up. We've done very little work with him. He had a nice run up here and we felt a pair of blinkers would sharpen him back up. He's hosed up and won by seven lengths. He's obviously rekindled some of his old form. I'll be happy enough if I can get another couple of wins out of him if he's not claimed."

Together For Racing International launches

Together for Racing International (TfRI) – a global alliance to promote and progress education, community engagement, and career opportunities in the thoroughbred industry – has launched the website togetherforracinginternational.com. TfRI resulted from a 2019 education forum hosted by Godolphin in Newmarket. This event gathered thoroughbred breeding, racing, and education professionals from six countries who addressed challenges to inclusion, attracting newcomers, supporting education, and workforce enrichment. Forum attendees collaborated on a global vision and strategy to grow and sustain the thoroughbred industry. The outcome was Together for Racing International, which focuses on three pillars for development: education, community engagement, and workforce. TfRI is chaired by Chris Grant and developed through a network of global steering committee members from Australia, France, Great Britain, Ireland, Japan, and the United States. TfRI Australian committee representative, Thoroughbred Industry Careers chief Lindy Maurice, said: "This website attests to the positive impact that the racing industry is having on individuals and communities in Australia and in other major racing jurisdictions. TfRI reinforces we're a part of a global industry and we are looking forward to seeing what this alliance can achieve together."

US: Keeneland officials celebrate as ten-day sale concludes Keeneland's November Breeding Stock Sale ended on Wednesday after ten days of competitive trade for broodmares, broodmare and stallion prospects, weanlings and horses of racing age, including nine horses sold for US$1 million or more. "Keeneland ends this fall with a sense of gratitude for the hard work of everyone who participated in the success of the September Yearling and November Breeding Stock Sales, the fall race meet and Breeders' Cup," said Keeneland president and chief executive Bill Thomason, who will retire on December 31 after a decade of service to Keeneland. "Given the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic on the global horse industry, the fact that we were able to conduct our fall events on the dates originally scheduled is a major accomplishment that should be celebrated by all involved." For the entire auction from November 9-18, Keeneland recorded gross sales of US$151,019,300 (approx. AUD$207,742,300) for 2,198 horses, for an average of US$68,708 (approx. AUD$94,514) and a median of US$23,000 (approx. AUD$31,638). The 2019 November Sale, which spanned 12 sessions, had 2,570 horses sell in the ring for US$193,316,100, for an average of US$75,220 and a median of US$25,000.

UK: Government pledges £40m direct aid to racing in fight against Covid

The British government has announced that racing will receive £40 million (approx. AUD$72.8 million) in direct aid as part of wider financial support for major spectator sports in England. The emergency funding is composed mainly of low-interest government loans. "Sport is a key part of our national life, an important contributor to our economy and a key hub within many communities," said Steve Barclay, chief secretary to the Treasury. "Protecting that sporting heritage and supporting as many jobs within the sports sector as possible is an important step in ensuring that our economy can bounce back from the impacts of the Covid pandemic. Alongside this financial support, we now need to ensure that fans can return to sports events as soon as it is safe to do so." A British Horseracing Authority statement said: "We welcome the announcement by @DCMS that up to £40m of loans will be made available for British racing.

This recognises racing's position as the UK's second biggest spectator sport, the many livelihoods it supports and the financial peril faced across our industry."

Follow Your Dreams, who led after shifting out abruptly at the start. He raced up to challenge the pacesetter at the 400 metres and, unlike his first two starts, he raced clear for a facile two-length victory.

Follow Your Dreams finished second, with a further two and a quarter lengths back to Global Beauty (Highly Recommended) in third.

Bred by Little Avondale, the stud offered Avonallo for sale at this year's NZB National Yearling Sale. Purchased by Chris Rutten for NZ$30,000, Little Avondale remains in the ownership with a potential stallion prospect on their hands should he continue to improve.

In Avonallo, Haunui shuttler Belardo - who has shuttled from Darley's Kildangan Stud to the Karaka farm since 2017 - registered his first southern hemisphere winner, let alone his first New Zealand stakes scorer, with the victory of the Jamie Richards-trained Avonallo.

Belardo, who won the Dewhurst Stakes (Gr 1, 7f) as a two-year-old for trainer Roger Varian before adding to his Group 1 tally with a Lockinge Stakes (Gr 1, 1m) triumph at four, had already registered a total of 12 winners in the UK, Ireland, France and Kazakhstan before New Zealand joined the list on Saturday.

Among his best performers are Rockfel Stakes (Gr 2, 7f) heroine Isabella Giles, Group 3 winners Lullaby Moon and Elysium and French Listed victor Bellocchio.

Belardo

DARLEY

He stands this season at Haunui Farm for NZ$10,000 (plus GST).

But where Avonallo was a first for Belardo, she was a second winner for the week for dam Real Angel.

The O'Reilly (Last Tycoon) mare was unraced and has had three named foals for two winners, including Avonallo; her five-year-old daughter Angelica (Per Incanto) also broke her maiden last week, scoring a first victory at start 14 in a 1200-metre Te Aroha maiden.

Real Angel is a half-sister to the Group 2-placed Marquardt (Shamardal), who won both the Nivison Stakes (Listed, 1200m) and the Twilight Glow Stakes (Listed, 1400m).

Second dam Centrefold Angel (Centaine) is an unraced half-sister to 1996 Ballarat Cup (Listed, 2200m) winner McGuane (McGinty), while the family also includes Group 1 winners Ballroom Babe (Citidancer), Polanski (Rakti) and Dandy Andy (Three Legs).

The debut victory of Avonallo (2 c Belardo - Real Angel by O'Reilly) in last Saturday's Welcome Stakes (Listed, 1000m), the season's first New Zealand stakes race for the juveniles, represented a string of firsts for sire Belardo (Lope De Vega), but on his dam's side, Avonallo was the second maiden winner of the week for dam Real Angel (O'Reilly).

Making his third raceday appearance on Saturday, Avonallo was sent out as the $2.40 second favourite as he lined for his third clash with $2.10 favourite Follow Your Dreams (Contributer), who had won their first two match-ups.

Showing the benefit of his first two runs, the Opie Bosson-ridden Avonallo settled outside
