Per Incanto colt tops Book 2 session of NZB Karaka Yearling Sale

Constance Cheng-bred $160,000 colt bound for Hong Kong after Foote strikes

Lot 726 Per Incanto - Makkura colt

NZB

BY TIM ROWE | @ANZ_NEWS

Respected agent John Foote believes Per Incanto (Street Cry) remains an underrated stallion who has a growing reputation as a sire of quality horses, particularly in Hong Kong, which is where yesterday's top-priced lot from Book 2 of the New Zealand Bloodstock Karaka Yearling Sale is likely to end up.

Foote, who outbid buyers who were also angling for a horse to head to Asia, bought the colt for $160,000 about two hours into the session.

"Per Incanto has done well in Asia and Hong Kong, he is an underrated stallion," Foote said.

"I think Hong Kong were the underbidders. I bought him for a Hong Kong client. He will go across to Australia and go through the system there where he will trial, if he trials well he will go to Hong Kong."

MORNING BRIEFING

Vegadaze in Expressway mix

Vegadaze (Lope De Vega) will have his first start since August when he lines up in Saturday's Expressway Stakes (Gr 2, 1200m) after he was one of four horses added to the rearranged contest. A field of ten has been declared with Kolding (Ocean Park) the most significant late nomination but Vegadaze's trainer Anthony Cummings is not worried about the strength of the opposition the gelding will face on his return. "He has come back well and I think he is up to these horses," Cummings said. "He has always raced against this class and was going so well I decided to put him in this race when the field was originally small." Morning Briefing page 6 >>

Offered by Little Avondale Stud, where Per Incanto stands, the colt is the second foal out of the Singapore stakes-winning mare Makkura (Falkirk) whose family includes three-time Group 1-winning sprinter Westminster (Grosvenor). He was catalogued as Lot 726.

"He is one of the better colts here today, so we thought we would have to pay that," the Queensland-based agent said.

"The mother could run, they took her to Singapore and she did really well."

Little Avondale Stud's Sam Williams said the fact that Foote was the one to buy the horse backed up his own high opinion of the colt.

"(John) is a great judge and he's been a great client of ours. He returns every year to buy from us and clearly shows faith in the product we are producing," Williams said.

"He is a good judge and it's great that he's here and he has been a great supporter in New Zealand stock and NZB."

The yearling was bred by loyal Little Avondale client Constance Cheng.

"It's a tricky sale. Everyone is on the better horses and if any horses show up with x-ray blemishes, they are off it, but fortunately he was a nice, clean horse," Williams said.

"He's a gorgeous type and his mare raced up there in Singapore and Nigel Blackinson has got the (two-year-old) sister and he is rapt with her.

"Constance Cheng ... was tickled pink with the result. She races a lot of horses in Singapore and she was quite keen that if he didn't make his reserve she was going to race him in Singapore.

He is one of the better colts here today, so we thought we would have to pay that

JOHN FOOTE

"But he was pretty much on the market all the way so I was confident he was going to soar past his reserve."

The colt's sire Per Incanto has had 15 stakes winners headed by Group 1 trio Shadows Cast, Santa Monica and Dal Cielo while he has also had 13 individual horses who have tasted success in Hong Kong.

"The horse had five stakes performers last week and ten winners over an eight-day period," Williams said.

"You can't do much more than win on the track and hope that the results follow through into the sales ring.

"He is also going well in Hong Kong and he's getting a lot of winners up there. I think he is running on 73 per cent (winners to runners) and the average prize-money per runner is over NZ$400,000 per horse, so they are getting a pretty good return on their investments on the Per Incantos and they do love them up there."

Meanwhile, there are not many agents who attend more sales around the world each year than Foote and he maintains seeking value is one of the pillars of his business.

Later in the session he added Lot 770, a Proisir (Choisir) colt to his Book 2 haul for $85,000 who could also be destined for Hong Kong.

From the Book 1 sale, Foote bought 19 yearlings to a top price of $220,000 for an Iffraaj (Zafonic) filly from the Haunui Farm draft.

"We go to the South Island and go to all the sales and try to buy a bit of value, that is the key to it really," he said.

"We bought quite a few in Book 1 and I am happy with the prices. I think $220,000 was the dearest we paid and the rest were under that.

"It is pretty good really considering what the average was. We were under the average, so that was good."

Mulcaster takes shine to Contributor colt

Lot 775 Contributor - Parvati colt

NZB

Guy Mulcaster was another bloodstock agent to back his judgment on a yearling by a New Zealand-based sire yesterday, going to $130,000 for a son of Mapperley Stud's Contributor (High Chaparral).

The colt, consigned by Landsdowne Park as Lot 775, is the fourth foal out of the winning mare Parvati (Savabeel) who is a sister to the recent Group 2 winner Yearn.

Mulcaster is optimistic about the prospects of Godolphin's dual Group 1 winner Contributor, whose eldest progeny are juveniles, making the grade as a sire.

"We did buy a few last year, we are happy with them, they are going in the right direction," Mulcaster said.

"I just saw the horse this morning and I liked him, so I bought him for myself.

"We will just take him along and we might put a few people in to him and see how he goes.

"I liked the fact that he was out of a Savabeel mare and Yearn is quite a good horse."

Landsdowne Park's Dave Duley presented the six-figure yearling on behalf of Kieryn Tapper's Paramount Stud whose goal had been to breed a yearling who would break the $100,000 barrier.

"It's been an exciting day and for Guy Mulcaster to be the buyer and choose my colt is unbelievable. I'll be following the colt's progress very closely," Tapper said.

Mapperley Stud's Simms Davison was also pleased for Tapper.

"Kieryn and I have been mates for years. I am really happy for him. The colt will get an opportunity and I'm happy for the stallion, too," Davison said.

With a smaller first day Book 2 offering of 150 lots catalogued, compared to 202 last year, the average of $34,594 was down 13 per cent on the same session last year. The median of $27,500 also fell eight per cent with 90 horses changing hands at a clearance rate of 71 per cent.

Highview Stud was the leading vendor of the session, selling 11 horses for a total of $477,000.

The second leading vendor was Haunui Farm, who sold nine horses for an aggregate of $398,000.

The second day of Book 2 starts at 11am local time today.

Cummings impressed by Slipper winner

Following an impressive three-length trial victory on Tuesday, James Cummings has opted to run Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) winner Kiamichi (Sidestep) in the Expressway Stakes after nominations were re-opened. "We added her to the field after she trialled so well on Tuesday morning," Cummings said. "By keeping the entries open it allowed me to assess her trial and then to return to our original thought, which was to race her at weight-for-age. She showed as a two-year-old that she was something of an iron filly and we're looking forward to seeing her show that again."

Bons back for third Oakleigh Plate tilt

Ciaran Maher and David Eustace are hoping it will be third time lucky as Bons Away (Bon Hoffa) will again be aimed at the Oakleigh Plate (Gr 1, 1100m), a race he has finished fifth and fourth in respectively, in the last two years. The six-year-old will begin his quest for Group 1 glory on Saturday as he vies for back-to-back wins in the W.J Adams Stakes (Listed, 1000m) at Caulfield. "He's flying," Eustace said. "He's won that race before (W.J Adams Stakes) and 1000 metres at Caulfield first-up is his bread and butter. He's a horse we think will take a lot of beating in a race like that and the Oakleigh Plate is his plan second-up. He's probably not an out-and-out Group 1 horse but you sort of don't need to be in the Oakleigh Plate. You just need a bit of luck and the right weight. If ever a horse deserved to win a race like that, it's him." The dual-stakes winner and multiple Group 2 placegetter will carry a top weight of 60 kilograms in Saturday's $140,000 race.

Bons Away

Freedman: Groundswell could turn tables on Seth

The Anthony Freedman-trained stablemates Super Seth (Dundeel) and Groundswell (Fastnet Rock) will clash for the first time since the Caulfield Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) in Saturday's Manfred Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) with assistant trainer Sam Freedman backing the latter to turn the tables on the tables on the Group 1-winning son of Dundeel (High Chaparral). "His trials have been excellent," Freedman said of Groundswell. "You might find he's a bit sharper than Super Seth on Saturday and you might see him potentially turn the tables on Saturday but Super Seth has bigger fish to fry out to a mile and maybe more this campaign. We're taking a different tack with Groundswell this autumn. We've taken the blinkers off him and we are going to ride him cold from the gate and we are really looking to training him more of a sprinter this preparation."

Letzbeglam set for stakes test

Debut winner Letzbeglam (Snitzel) will get the chance to earn some valuable black type when connections step her up in grade for a tilt at Saturday's Chairman's Stakes (Gr 3, 1000m) at Caulfield. Trained by Trent Busuttin and Natalie Young, the filly raced to a comfortable two-length win in an 1100-metre maiden at Werribee on January 21 on her only start to date. "She probably hasn't beaten a fantastic field behind her but she did it well and she wasn't really cranked up so there was good improvement in her," Young said. "We just thought we'd roll the dice and see how she goes on Saturday. It's going to be a bit tougher against some of the boys. Ideas Man is going to be hard to beat but it's nice if she can get a bit of black type before we tip her out and give her a bit of a break. I think she'll run a really nice race."

TERMS AND CONDITIONS APPLY: The Real Purchaser Bonus Scheme will be paid to the person/persons who are the registered purchaser of the yearling/yearlings as per Inglis Classic Yearling Sale records as at 12 February 2020. The Yearling does not have to be purchased from the Aquis draft. The Real Breeder Bonus Scheme will be paid to the person/persons who are the registered breeder of the successful yearling/yearlings as registered with the Australian Stud Book as at 12 February 2020. Metropolitan Two-Year-Old winner is defined as a win at the major Saturday racing day in Sydney or Melbourne on each Saturday in the eligible period as determined by prizemoney (and any Group or Listed or Restricted Listed Two-Year-Old race run in Sydney or Melbourne on any day in the eligible period). Each individual horse is only eligible to win this bonus once but the bonus will be paid for any number of eligible horses. Dead heats will be paid as both winners. Breeders are only eligible for the Real Breeder Bonus Scheme if all terms of any Aquis Farm Operations P/L contracts/agreements and payment terms with the successful breeder or any connected party to that breeder are strictly complied with. Payment amount does not include GST and will only be paid for a genuine bona fide sale for proper value as determined by Aquis Farm Operations P/L. Bonus Scheme payments will be paid for wins up to and including the 2021 Inglis Millennium Race Day.

Nick Ryan on weather watch

Trainer Nick Ryan has two options for the returning Express Pass (Wandjina) but the weather looks like being the deciding factor in where the colt lines up. Ryan has accepted with the three-year-old in the Alinta Energy Handicap (1000m) at Moonee Valley on Friday night and the Manfred Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) at Caulfield on Saturday. The trainer prefers the Moonee Valley option but a predicted top temperature of 41 degrees on Friday worries him. "I've got a couple of days to think about it but I'm worried about the weather and whether The Valley goes ahead," Ryan said. "At this stage he'll be going to The Valley, but that could all change. He's come back in terrific order and I'm excited to get him back to the races. Friday night's the softer option, but if he has to run Saturday, I'll be going there confident he will run well."

Manaya chasing stakes success

Gold Coast mare Manaya (Hinchinbrook) will return from a spell in the Queensland Chinese Jockey Club Open Handicap (1200m) at Eagle Farm on Saturday with trainer Michael Costa already eyeing a step back up in grade for the Listed-winning filly. "Races like the Triscay Stakes (Group 3 at Randwick on February 15) would suit but there are plenty of other fillies and mares races in Sydney," he said. Costa has been in New Zealand for the Karaka Yearling Sales but has been kept up to date on the mare by his staff. "She trialled well twice before I left and the reports were she worked well on Tuesday morning," he added.

Williams impressed with Declare at Geelong

Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) winner Vow And Declare (Declaration Of War) impressed his jockey Craig Williams when shading his younger stablemate Russian Camelot (Camelot) in a gallop between races at Geelong yesterday. Cup-winning jockey Williams made a special trip to Geelong to ride Vow And Declare while Damien Oliver, partnered Russian Camelot. Williams was taken with the way his mount was able to adapt in leading out Russian Camelot in the gallop. "I just loved the way he was able to do things a lot better," he told Racing.com. "I was really happy with his maturity that he was able to lead up the gallop, he felt really good and most importantly when he pulled up he wouldn't blow a candle out. He's keeping to the norms of how I know him and his action felt nice and smooth."

Fastnet Rock filly tops Inglis Digital

The former Ciaran Maher and David Eustace-trained Liveinthefastlane (Fastnet Rock) has topped the first Inglis Digital Online sale of 2020, selling for $90,000 to Adam Mackrell of Bell View Park Stud. "For me she ticked all the boxes, by a champion sire in Fastnet Rock who is fast becoming a top broodmare sire, she's from a good family being a half to three stakes performers and there's possible upside there with relations still to race," Mackrell said. "The fact she's a Melbourne metropolitan winner is a plus and we made sure we did our homework by getting her inspected - and received positive reports on her physically. The plan is to pick out a suitable stallion next season and look to trade her in foal as an attractive package for someone." The 315-strong catalogue grossed over $1.97 million, the eighth sale in a row to reach the seven-figure mark and the second highest gross on record. Aquis offer Classic Sale bonus

Aquis Farm will again be offering a bonus payment scheme for buyers that secure yearlings at the 2020 Inglis Classic Yearling Sale by their first crop sires Divine Prophet (Choisir) and Kiss and Make Up (More Than Ready). Conducted at both the Magic Millions Yearling Sale and the New Zealand Bloodstock Yearling Sale already this year, the scheme rewards both the breeder and purchaser with the return of the sales price if successful in any Saturday metropolitan two-year-old race in Sydney and Melbourne up to and including the 2021 Inglis Millennium Race Day. A total of 15 yearlings by Divine Prophet and a further five by Kiss And Make Up feature in this year's Inglis Classic Sale which gets underway on February 9.

Dame Giselle

SPORTPIX

Golden Gift (1100m) winner Dame Giselle (I Am Invincible) is one of 42 of the 328 two-year-olds still in contention for the $3.5 million Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) from the stable of Peter and Paul Snowden. Ciaran Maher and David Eustace have 25 youngsters in the mix after Wednesday's second acceptance stage, headed by early favourite Cellsabeel (Hinchinbrook). The stables each have a runner in Saturday's Canonbury Stakes (Gr 3, 1100m) as the jostling for positions in the field for the race on March 21 heats up. The Snowdens will saddle dual winner Nitrous (Deep Field) in the Canonbury while Maher and Eustace have debut winner Prague (Redoute's Choice). Lindsay Park has 28 Slipper contenders left with Godolphin paying up for 23 James Cummings-trained juveniles and Hawkes Racing with 17.

90 in Blue Diamond mix

Blue Diamond Preview winners Hanseatic (Street Boss) and A Beautiful Night (Night Of Thunder) are among 90 juveniles paid up for at the latest acceptance stage for the Blue Diamond Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m). Third acceptances for Victoria's premier race for two-year-olds at Caulfield on February 22 closed on Tuesday, with Ciaran Maher and David Eustace having 17 juveniles still among the entries, while the Lindsay Park stable has 14. Among the Maher and Eustace list of acceptors is filly A Beautiful Night who won the Blue Diamond Preview (F) (Gr 3, 1000m) at Caulfield last Saturday, with the Anthony Freedman-trained colt Hanseatic an impressive winner of the Blue Diamond Preview (C&G) (Listed, 1000m). Maher and Eustace also have Ideas Man (Brazen Beau), Muntaseera (I Am Invincible) and Rathlin (Fastnet Rock) on Diamond paths.

Mighty incentive awaits injured Harrison

Injured jockey Tegan Harrison has an extra reason to get back to riding after Mighty Mittere (Smart Missile) scored a freakish win at the Gold Coast yesterday. Trained by Harrison's partner Ben Hull, Mighty Mittere came from about eight lengths off the leaders to win the Brian Forman Handicap (900m) by a neck. "He is a grade five wind roarer and has had an operation," Hull said. "He works like a top horse and on his day he is." The five-year-old is headed back to Saturday Brisbane racing and Hull would love Harrison, who has been out injured for three months following a fall at Doomben, to ride him, "Tegan is at the doctors today and she hopes to get the all clear to resume riding," he added.

81 accept for Caulfield

Saturday's Manfred Stakes meeting at Caulfield has attracted just 81 acceptors for the nine-race card with the feature race one of four contests which has fewer than eight runners. "It is not uncommon for this meeting to be light," Melbourne Racing Club's executive director of racing Jake Norton told Racing.com. "There are a few factors I think, the glut of racing at this time of year is a contributing factor but overall the top end is very strong and the racing should be as well." The Manfred Stakes meeting is the third Saturday meeting in a row at Caulfield.

Ex-politician trains winner

Former Victorian politician Terry Mulder's patience with Press Release (Publishing) was rewarded when his seven-year-old mare won her first race in two-and-a-half years at Hanging Rock on Monday. Mulder, who had a 16-year stint in Victorian Parliament, is the owner and trainer of Press Release, having purchased her for $4400 from an online auction in September 2018. "It was a long time coming," said Mulder after Press Release won her first race for the 67-year-old at the 27th time of asking "She's been a bit unlucky. She was beaten a nose the week before at Ararat and also a nose over the Swan Hill Carnival in June." Explaining his change in career, Mulder told Racing.com: "Before I entered politics I trained horses, had a few jumpers, but only ever had one horse at a time. It's pretty competitive and tough the training ranks but I just wanted to have another crack at it."

Kent calls for black type review

Leading trainer Mick Kent has called for an independent pattern committee to grade races as he believes there are too many "soft" black type races in Australia. Speaking on Tuesdays with Terry, Kent said: "I don't know the pattern committee, but it probably needs to be completely independent and grade races properly. "I can never forget just a few years ago when Moonee Valley had that two-day meeting, there used to be a Listed three-year-old fillies race (on Cox Plate day). It was basically a class one, but it was a Listed race, five or six runners every year and you could target for soft black type. There was a good fillies race, a Group 2 in the autumn that went into Adelaide called the Fillies Classic. And they just flipped them, one became a Group 2, one became a Listed race for no rhyme or reason."

Expressway Stakes meeting moved to Randwick

Saturday's Expressway Stakes meeting scheduled to take place at Rosehill has been transferred to Randwick amid forecasts of extreme heat in Sydney's west. Temperatures are predicted to reach 40 degrees in the western suburbs of Sydney on Saturday but are cooler at 33 degrees in the east. Randwick also has the benefit of sea breezes.

Werribee postponed to Monday

Due to the extreme heat forecast for tomorrow, Racing Victoria has postponed the meeting at Werribee until Monday. The scheduled night meeting at Moonee Valley is likely to go ahead as a cool change is expected in the evening. "Following advice from the Bureau of Meteorology (BOM) that temperatures are expected to reach 40 degrees on Friday afternoon, RV, in consultation with the Werribee Racing Club, the Australian Trainers Association and the Victorian Jockey Association, has decided to transfer the race meeting to Monday to ensure the safety of horses and participants," a statement from RV read. "With the potential for a change in temperature on Friday night, the meeting at The Valley remains unchanged at this time. However, RV will continue to monitor the forecast and liaise with the BOM over the next 48 hours."

QRIC declines Nikolic application

The Queensland Racing Integrity Commission has declined an application for former jockey Danny Nikolic to return to riding at provincial meetings. The QRIC said in a statement yesterday it had informed Nikolic his application had been declined. QRIC declined to give reasons or make any further comment. Nikolic has not ridden since September 2012 after being banned following a running battle with Victorian authorities, in particular threats against former chief steward Terry Bailey, who now holds that position in Singapore. He had a previous application to ride in Queensland refused in 2015.

Eden to front VCAT

Cranbourne trainer Shea Eden will face a Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal appeal today for allegedly stomach-tubing his mare Considering (So You Think) at Swan Hill in June 2018. After a stable inspection by the Compliance Assurance Team at the premises where Eden's horses were staying, RV stewards ordered the withdrawal of the mare from a Benchmark 64 fillies and mares handicap. Eden was handed a 15-month suspension by the Racing Appeals and Disciplinary Board in March last year but has still been allowed to train after winning a stay of proceedings.

Racing bushfire appeal funds on their way

South Coast communities in NSW will be the first beneficiaries of the Racing for the Bushfire Appeal with emergency hay drops the priority. The Australian Turf Club Foundation will immediately begin to distribute funds raised from last Saturday's fundraising day at Randwick for NSW communities and wildlife. More than $130,000 has already been raised from the day, with the ATC Foundation to begin releasing the funds this week. The distribution of funds from the Racing for the Bushfire Appeal comes in addition to the $500,000 being distributed by Racing NSW to thoroughbred racing participants and employees directly impacted by bushfires.

Invador on target for Auckland Cup

Platinum Invador (Redwood) will take a step closer to his Auckland Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) aspirations when he lines-up in the Taranaki Cup (Gr 3, 1800m) at New Plymouth on Saturday. The Central Districts stayer put in an eye-catching run to win the City of Auckland Cup (Gr 3, 2400m) by two and three-quarter lengths at Ellerslie on New Year's Day and trainer Lisa Latta has been pleased with his progress since. "When he ran second in the Manawatu Cup it was an off track, and he would have been better on a better track, but he still had a bit of improvement in him and showed that on New Year's Day," Latta said. "He has come through that run in Auckland really well, but the 1800 metres may be a touch short for him on Saturday. As long as he is finding the line well, we will be happy."

Group 1 goal for Play That Song

Exciting juvenile Play That Song (Showcasing) gave trainer Nigel Tiley the clear message that she is ready to tackle her next assignment when he went to see her in her paddock on Monday morning. The two-year-old filly gave it her all when finishing second to quality colt Cool Aza Beel (Savabeel) in Saturday's Karaka Million 2YO (RL, 1200m) with Tiley happy to give her a few days off after the massive effort she put into the race. "I went down to see her in her paddock at home and she saw me coming and put on a real act," he said. "She was bucking and squealing and playing the fool so I can safely say she has come through her run in pretty good order. She went a mighty race and we couldn't be happier with her." Tiley will now set his sights on the Sistema Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) at Ellerslie on March 1 as the immediate mission for his youngster.

Ida and Rocoso off to Te Rapa

John and Karen Parsons are hoping their North Island luck holds two-fold at the Te Rapa premier meeting on Saturday week. The couple have struck three times on end on their latest northern raid on features, with Kiwi Ida (Squamosa) winning the Manawatu Challenge Stakes (Gr 2, 1400m) at Awapuni on December 21 and the Westbury Classic (Gr 2, 1400m) at Ellerslie last Saturday and Camino Rocoso (Shocking) taking the Trentham Stakes (Gr 3, 2100m). Kiwi Ida has remained in the north, while Camino Rocoso, a former northerner, returned south after the Trentham effort. But Camino Rocoso will be heading back north late next week to join his stablemate at Te Rapa, with the pair chasing the two Group 1 events on the card. Kiwi Ida will contest the BCD Sprint (Gr 1, 1400m), while a late entry will be paid for Camino Rocoso to start in the Herbie Dyke Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m). "Our luck has got to run out up here some time, but I hope it holds for Te Rapa," Karen Parsons said.
