Viddora heads to Yulong as sixth million-dollar lot at Magic Millions' mares sale

Yulong goes to $2.55 million to secure dual Group 1-winning sprinter in foal to Lope De Vega

MAGIC MILLIONS

Viddora (I Am Invincible) will return to the state of her biggest success after the well-travelled dual Group 1-winning mare capped a record-breaking Magic Millions National Sale with a $2.55 million price tag, becoming one of the queens of Yulong's remarkably high-end broodmare band.

Chinese billionaire Yuesheng Zhang's Victoria-based Yulong Investments operation was a force at the top of this week's breeding stock sale with a $9.985 million spending spree headed by the acquisition of Viddora and $2.75 million mare Unforgotten (Fastnet Rock).

Stud's Lope De Vega (Shamardal), was the sixth and final million-dollar mare sold on the Gold Coast, the first live broodmare auction conducted in Australia since the onset of the Covid-19 pandemic.

Sunlight (Zoustar) set a new Magic Millions record at $4.2 million on Monday, and Unforgotten, Champagne Cuddles (Not A Single Doubt) ($2 million), Invincibella (I Am Invincible) ($1.3 million) and Right Chord (Lonhro) ($1.05 million) all broke the seven-figure barrier. Continued on page 2>>

Yesterday's session highlight opened with a $1 million bid accepted by auctioneer Steve Davis for Viddora and a number of parties signalled their intent to try and land the high-class racemare up to the $1.7 million mark when she was declared "on the market".

James Harron, who secured the sister to Pierro (Lonhro) in Right Chord on Tuesday, staged a spirited bidding duel with his online rival Zhang, but the Sydney-based agent pulled up at $2.5 million, allowing Yulong to take Viddora home.

Henry Field, whose Newgate Farm sourced and sold Viddora, is of the belief that the mare can leave a legacy with her progeny such is her physical attributes and race ability.

"I found it encouraging that there were five different people on her at $1.5 million," Field said. "She was the most spectacular mare you will ever see. She was a top-class sprinter and she's special."

"I really hope that Yulong hit it out of the park with her because she is 'out of the box' and they have bought the real deal. For what these elite mares are making, I thought she was reasonably priced. I had her clearly marked as the second-best mare in the sale (behind Sunlight) and she made in the middle of what I thought she'd make."

Catalogued as Lot 492 and sold in absentia, the Winterbottom Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) and A J Moir Stakes (Gr 1, 1000m) winner was purchased privately in Europe last year by Henry Field and S F Bloodstock and subsequently covered by former shuttler Lope De Vega to southern hemisphere time.

Viddora is one of four winners out of the Colombia (Zabeel) mare Snow Flight, who has a weanling sister to the former Lloyd Kennewell-trained mare and is due to foal to Hellbent (I Am Invincible) this year.

Yulong bloodstock manager Luke Wilkinson, who is on the Gold Coast with new recruit Marcus Corban, said: "Mr Zhang ... loves his horses and he's known Viddora from day dot. He had talked about her for the Everest slot that he has, so he knows the very mare very well, and he adores Lope De Vega, so ... hopefully she has a great foal soon."

Wilkinson added: "We probably valued her at $2 to $3 million and it was just dependent on who we were bidding against (as to how expensive she would prove to be). Mr Zhang is at home in China bidding online, but there were text messages asking who he was bidding against."

Viddora could be covered by Yulong's first season C F Orr Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m)-winning stallion Alabama Express (Redoute's Choice) this year.

"Mr Zhang has a massive commitment to his stallions and he's also got Tagaloa who will be standing with us sooner or later, maybe next season, so he's doing a great job and is building an empire in Victoria. The mare quality is unbelievable," he said.

Yulong's foundation stallion Grunt (O'Reilly) is under strong consideration for Mr Zhang's other high-priced purchase this week, Unforgotten.

Field hopes that Viddora can follow in the footsteps of previous Newgate Farm-consigned mare graduates Bonnie Mac (Thorn Park) and Response (Charge Forward).

"Last year we sold the mother of Exceedance (Bonnie Mac) and then he came out and won the Coolmore in the spring; a few years ago we sold the mother of Estijaab (Response) with her in her belly and she went on and won the Golden Slipper," he said.

"If there's a mare in this catalogue that goes on to throw a topline I really believe it will be Viddora."

Field also acknowledged the increasingly significant influence Yulong was having on the Australian breeding and racing industries.

He said: "They are investing in the best bloodstock and the best people and when you do that it takes you a long way."

At this week's live sale, Yulong has purchased 15 lots at an average of $665,667 to be crowned leading buyer while the leading vendor by aggregate was Widden Stud whose title was heavily influenced by selling Sunlight.

The broodmare sale, held two months later than normal because of the coronavirus and the associated travel and business restrictions, held up remarkably well with an average of $140,586 and a median of $65,000, which was down $10,000 year-on-year.

Magic Millions managing director Barry Bowditch was delighted to finish the broodmare sale on a high with the multimillion dollar auctioning of Viddora and he was also pleased for Newgate Farm and S F Bloodstock whose judgment was rewarded in the ring.

"It was great to get the people here so we can expose the sale all over the world and that is the Magic Millions mandate," Bowditch said after months of concern about whether a live national sale would be able to be conducted.

"That ensures that these elite mares get the attention they deserve and that was our primary motive going into the sale at that end of the market and I think that has been evident in the results.

"The vendors and the owners who have brought these horses were well paid, and it just goes to show that this is the only place to sell those types of horses."

As has been stated after virtual and live Inglis auctions as well as online sales in recent months, the willingness of industry stakeholders to put up their money despite market uncertainty remains remarkable.

"You've only got to look at who was participating on these mares from all over the world and, I guess, results like Bounding (being the dam of) Anthony Van Dyck and the success we've had at Royal Ascot for a long time now, only enhances the motivation for internationals to buy Australian product.

"It was very hard to predict where this sale would end up, but all in all we are pleased with the results and we are going to work hard to sell as many passed in lots over the next couple of days and give the vendors who have been realistic the opportunity to get an offer on these horses."

Bowditch continued: "To clear 73 per cent and to have an average of over $140,000 as well as six $1 million lots, I think is a sensational result and the team at Magic Millions should be very proud of themselves.

"We thank the vendors for sticking solid, being patient and waiting for the opportunity to have this sale."

Weanlings next on the agenda

The next "leg" of the National sale starts this afternoon with what Bowditch says is a quality catalogue of weanlings.

"I think the condensed catalogue is going to work in our favour. I believe there's a hell of a lot of nice weanlings out there and the reports coming back are that there's a lot of buyers who are doing their inspections (and they) are finding a lot of horses that they want to bid on," he said.

"There's a lot of quality horses earmarked for select sales next year as well as end users here to buy racehorses. The farms are showcasing the new first season horses and the drafts overall (have appeal).

"It's hard to predict where the market's going to be at but the product is good enough for the sale to be solid."

Hunter Valley farm Rothwell Park has been a big supporter of the Magic Millions weanling sale and principal Scott Irwin will again offer a well-credentialed draft of 27 lots this year.

They include colts by Dundee (High Chaparral), Capitalist (Written Tycoon), Pierro (Lonhro), Deep Field (Northern Meteor) and Zoustar (Northern Meteor).

"There is no doubt this is the best draft of weanlings we have presented both physically and on paper for years," Irwin said.

"It's a business model that myself and long-standing partners adopted about 16 years ago where we sell a percentage of weanlings each year and we saw no reason to change the model even though the sales have been delayed due to the coronavirus.

"I believe the astute buyers will take into account the enormous benefits attributed to the sale being delayed by nearly two and a half months which, from a cash flow perspective, leaves shorter time periods for insurance, agistment and rearing costs and, of course, less interest if they elect to use finance to purchase."

The first of two weanling sessions starts at 2pm today.

Meanwhile, in a blow to the likely buying bench being assembled for next week's National Yearling Sale, the Queensland premier Annastacia Palaszczuk yesterday announced that she would close the state's border to anyone from the Greater Sydney region in light of the number of coronavirus cases in the area.

Warwick Farm trainers were already unable to get to the auction due to being located in a hotspot, but now their peers from Rosehill, Randwick and Hawkesbury will also be unable to get to the Gold Coast unless they make the dash to Queensland before the closure.

The move will come into effect from 1am on Saturday and Magic Millions is endeavouring to get those potential buyers affected to either arrive on the Gold Coast before the deadline or provide adequate information regarding potential suitable yearlings to allow them to participate in the market.

MORNING BRIEFING

AUSTRALIA

Inglis Digital ends season on a high

The final Inglis Digital sale of the 2019-20 season closed last night, with the Inglis Digital July (Late) Online Sale grossing $2.1 million, taking the season's aggregate to over $40 million. It was the platform's 19th consecutive sale to total over $1 million. The sale-topper was rising six-year-old mare Rotterdam (Pierro), offered by Coolmore Stud in foal to Pride Of Dubai (Street Cry); she was purchased by William Johnson Bloodstock for $140,000. Just behind her were two-year-old colt Sharpshooter (Hinchinbrook) and stakes-placed mare Schilldora (Artie Schiller), both purchased for $135,000. The platform's next offering will be the August (Early) Online Sale, which will include more than 120 soon-to-be yearlings who were to be sent through the Oaklands sales ring as part of the Great Southern Sale.

Father and son partnership latest in Freedman dynasty

Sam Freedman will join his father Anthony in a training partnership as of Saturday, the stable announced yesterday. The younger Freedman has been his father's assistant since returning from an overseas stint with Roger Varian in 2017, managing the Pinecliff training establishment. "I feel like I've had a good grounding, growing up and being around the stable from a young age when Lee and Anthony were at Markdel," Sam Freedman said in a statement. "I spent two years working for Roger Varian in Newmarket as his Pupil Assistant. More recently I've served as assistant to Dad for the past three seasons and we've been lucky to have some extremely talented horses such as Shoals, Santa Ana Lane, Lyre, Super Seth and Warning achieve Group 1 wins in that time." Anthony Freedman added: "Sam has worked hard since coming home from Europe and deserves to be officially recognised in partnership. This was the next step for him. He can see things differently through his experiences overseas and is enthusiastic about the progress and promotion of the stable."

Newnham out to build on best season straight away

Trainer Mark Newnham hopes to carry his form from the 2019-20 season into the upcoming racing season when he sends out Black Magnum (Magnus) and Fulmina (Snitzel) at Randwick on Saturday, the first day of the 2020-21 term. This season, Newnham has trained 65 winners, eight of them at Group level, including Shadow Hero's (Pierro) two Group 1 wins in the Spring Champion Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) and the Randwick Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m). "We've finished our fourth season and we've had more winners this season, more Group winners, and won more prize money so I'm very happy," Newnham said. "We've improved each season so far and we'll just try to improve again. We've got two very good chances (on Saturday). Both will handle the wet conditions. I think Fulmina will appreciate coming back to fillies and mares grade and I think she's well-placed, and there's no doubt that Black Magnum should have won first-up."

Observational to make Brisbane debut

Group 3 winner Observational (Galileo) may be a ten-year-old when he steps out on the first day of the new racing season on Saturday, but returns having transferred from John Sadler to Wayne Nugent and trialled last week at Deagon, finishing second. He will step out in an open handicap over 1400 metres with some of Brisbane's staying races on his radar, having not raced since last year.

Smartedge to give Gollan another boost

Another horse now trained in Brisbane is Triple Crown Syndications' Smartedge (Smart Missile), who has joined Tony Gollan from the Peter and Paul Snowden yard. Smartedge, who has stepped out at the last three Magic Millions racedays at the Gold Coast and also has won at Eagle Farm in a previous hit-and-run visit, shifts to Brisbane after three unplaced runs in Sydney this preparation. He will make his debut for Gollan, who has won his seventh straight Brisbane metropolitan trainers' premiership, in a 1400-metre open handicap at Eagle Farm on Saturday. "Any horse you get from the Snowdens is always in top nick so he is ready to go," Gollan said. "The barrier (13) is no help but he has won on the track."

Adkins inquiry to continue today

Racing NSW will proceed with the inquiry into Andrew Adkins' fall from Hot 'N' Hazy (Snitzel) today, despite the rider not being available to give evidence. The inquiry was adjourned last Saturday and was set to reconvene once Adkins was released from hospital, but with the jockey unlikely to be released any time soon, stewards instead decided to resume the hearing as soon as possible. Jockeys Hugh Bowman and Glyn Schofield, who partnered Smart Image (Smart Missile) and Mr Colorful (Headwater) respectively, will give evidence at the inquiry.

McEvoy locked in for Legend

Kerrin McEvoy

SPORTPIX

Rider Kerrin McEvoy has won two of the three runnings of the world's richest turf race, The Everest (1200m), and he will be looking to add to his pair of wins on the now-retired Redzel (Snitzel) with Classique Legend (Not A Single Doubt). The Bon Ho-owned grey, who was set to head to Hong Kong this year before issues kept him in Australia, is one of only two horses who have secured a slot, with Ho purchasing the Australian Turf Club's slot earlier this year. Ho's racing manager Carmel Size confirmed yesterday that McEvoy had elected to stick with Classique Legend this year. "He's obviously an exciting horse and I'm keen to see where he can get to," McEvoy told Racing NSW. "He impressed us all, Les, myself and Carmel, when he won back in June and I feel that he's a horse whose best is still ahead of him. Hopefully that is the case because he has to step up to another level again and that's the level that Nature Strip holds at the moment. And who knows there might be another young three-year-old that comes along as well."

Sense Of Honour to miss spring

Promising filly Sense Of Honour (Pride Of Dubai) will miss the spring after she showed signs of immaturity following her last-start win at Flemington earlier this month. "She's quite a brilliant filly and she's definitely a coming Group-class filly," co-trainer Mick Price told Racing.com. "But I was very disappointed that she pulled up on the Sunday after she won at Flemington just jarry enough. We've X-rayed her knees and there is just enough immaturity for me to say not yet. She's a big, strong filly too, she's quite heavy and I think if her legs and knees catch up with her body she'll be a Group filly in the autumn. I'll give her a couple of months of the spring out and I'm sure that Phoenix Thoroughbreds will be rewarded for their patience."

Icon pleasing Corstens ahead of return

Trainer Kevin Corstens believes that his stable star Street Icon (Street Boss) can go to another level this spring with the Group 3 placegetter aiming to add a black-type victory in the coming months. Street Icon, who finished a luckless eighth in the Robert Sangster Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) two starts ago, is likely to stick to mares grade this spring, with her return set for August 15. "She's a bigger, better horse this time around. She's going enormous, I'm really happy with her," Corstens told Racing.com. "She will go to the jump-outs on Monday, there's a mares' 1100-metre race on the 15th and then on to the Cockram Stakes or something along those lines. Then maybe we will go to the How Now. They are a couple of races we have in mind for her. We will sort of wait until the thicker spring before we get to the Group 1 mares (races). I think she will be competitive in the Group 1 mares, so we will see if we can knock a couple over, freshen her up a little bit and then head to the Group 1s with her."

Princess Jenni to target 'good races'

David Brideoake is confident that Princess Jenni (High Chaparral) can return to form this spring, with the Memsie Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m) a likely starting point with a race like the Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m) a potential target. Princess Jenni is gearing up for her return at her Mornington base with a jump-out not far away. "I think Princess Jenni is in good shape. We go to a first jumpout and we will toodle along and see how she goes," Brideoake told Racing.com. "I'm sure she will go well. She'll have another one in a couple of weeks' time and then we will make a bit of an assessment of where she is. She has got the good races in front of her. We will probably kick her off over 1400m, I would say that we are probably on track later in August. The Memsie might be somewhere to kick her off. I thought she was very good first-up (in the autumn). I didn't think her other two runs were as good as I was expecting. I just wasn't quite happy with her, so she just went out a bit early, had a good break and I'm really pleased with her. But I believe she is going pretty well now."

Kelly dares to dream with Skelm

Trainer Terry Kelly is hoping that his consistent gelding Skelm (Animal Kingdom) may be able to find his best this spring, with a Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) berth the ultimate aim should he be able to go to another level. Skelm, who returns in a 1500-metre Benchmark 78 at Moonee Valley on Saturday, finished third in the Mornington Cup (Listed, 2400m) and fourth in the Andrew Ramsden Stakes (Listed, 2800m) earlier this year. "It's one of those years," Kelly said. "It could well turn out that we could be running against the same horses that we ran up against in the Andrew Ramsden and the Mornington Cup. If they don't let any horses come from interstate or internationally, you never know, and we will probably never get another opportunity like it. We'll just take it day by day, race by race. We'll get this race out of the way first and make sure we're on track - I'm pretty confident we are."

NEW ZEALAND

Baker-Forsman trio trial ahead of Australian campaigns

Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman began the Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) preparations of Australian Derby (Gr 1, 2400m) winner Quick Thinker (So You Think) and Sydney Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) runner-up The Chosen One (Savabeel) on Tuesday when the pair stepped out at the Te Rapa trials. Whether they, or their Group 1-winning stablemate, True Enough (Nom Du Jeu), can make the trip to Australia, though, remains up in the air. "The horses are coming up well, that is the main thing, and we have got some good options ahead of us. What path we take will be dictated by the Covid situation over in Australia over the next two or three weeks," Forsman said. "The thought is to get some staff members there, it is just working through the logistics of that. Once we have got that sorted we can make further plans."

Sultan Of Swing bound for Foxbridge

Group 1 placegetter Sultan Of Swing (Bachelor Duke) showed he still has the zest for racing when winning a 900-metre trial at Te Rapa on Tuesday. The Shaune Ritchie-trained Sultan Of Swing, a winner of 10 races, will be aimed at the Valachi Downs Foxbridge Plate (Gr 2, 1200m) back at Te Rapa on September 5 and could have a raceday outing before that. "He hasn't raced since he ran second to Melody Belle in the Tarzino last year," Ritchie said. "We thought he was flying before Covid, he had a couple of really cruisy trials and he certainly lost none of his willingness to be a racehorse. It was nice to see him win on the bridle yesterday and he'll go to the Foxbridge Plate but he may turn up here on Saturday week. He loves Te Rapa and provided he's not completely weighted out of it, we'll give that some thought depending on what the handicap looks like."

Another step for Jennifer Eccles

New Zealand Oaks (Gr 1, 2400m) winner Jennifer Eccles (Rip Van Winkle) departed Cambridge for Ruakaka yesterday morning and will spend a bit of time in the winterless north before trialling at the venue next Tuesday. Jennifer Eccles, who will be crowned NZB Filly of the Year with the highest accrued total in more than two decades, is likely to head down to Hastings for the Tarzino Trophy (Gr 1, 1400m) before crossing the Tasman. "She won't run in the Foxbridge Plate," trainer Shaune Ritchie said. "We'll probably give her an exhibition gallop or trial her again, then she'll go to Hastings fresh-up. If the borders open, then we'll look at going straight over to Australia after that."

Bambry continues hot run of form

Trainer Chrissy Bambry is making a habit of training multiple winners in a day and that trend continued at Hastings yesterday where she sent out a winning double. Bambry has long-held Aragon (Ocean Park) in high regard and her judgement was vindicated when he closed well to break through over 2100 metres. "He has always needed ground and his mother (Acquisto) was a good stayer and being by Ocean Park, that was always going to be his forte," Bambry said. "It is special to get a win with one that we have bred and Leah (Hemi, jockey) won on the mother as well. He was under offer before his first start and vetted cleanly but the prospective owner pulled out. I think he is going to make a lovely stayer and he is probably still six months away and I think he will be at his best next autumn." Bambry's other winner was another son of Ocean Park (Thorn Park) in Otis.

Danis returns to riding

Apprentice jockey Darren Danis will make a return to raceday riding at his home track of Matamata on Saturday. The two-kilogram claiming apprentice has been off the racing scene for some time after having surgery to remove screws from his back, inserted from a previous operation, in May. "I had my operation on May 19," Danis said. "I have been doing a lot of rehab with the physio and my back is feeling good. I don't have much irritation when riding trackwork." Danis returned to riding trackwork last month and was given the all-clear from his surgeon to return to raceday riding earlier this month. "I am really looking forward to getting back riding. It has been a while, especially after Covid. I am also excited to ride without my screws in," he said.

INTERNATIONAL

Three for Showcasing

Mohaather (4c ex Roodeye by Inchinor) became the third Group 1 winner for Whitsbury Manor Stud stallion Showcasing (Oasis Dream) when landing the Sussex Stakes (Gr 1, 1m) at Goodwood on Wednesday. Royal Ascot's

Queen Anne Stakes (Gr 1, 1m) winner Circus Maximus (Galileo) finished three-quarters of a length in second, with Siskin (First Defence) in third. Showcasing, who shuttled to Haunui Farm until 2017, stood the latest season at a £55,000 fee, and was bred by Gaie Johnson Houghton out of Roodeye (Inchinor), who is also the granddam of the 2018 Queen Anne Stakes scorer Accidental Agent (Delegator).

24 for Clodovil

Steel Bull (2c ex Macarthurs Park by Equiano) became the 24th stakes winner for Rathasker Stud stallion Clodovil (Danehill) when landing a blistering renewal of the Molecomb Stakes (Gr 3, 5f) at Goodwood on Wednesday. Ben Macdui (Kodiac) finished in second and Internationaldream (Acclamation) in third. The winner had won a Naas auction maiden (5f) seven days previously, having been purchased by his owner-trainer Michael O'Callaghan for £28,000 from Kilbrew Stables at the Goffs Arqana Breeze-Up Sale in Doncaster at the beginning of July. Clodovil stood the latest season - his 17th at Rathasker - at an €8,000 fee.

Four for Elzaam

Champers Elysees (3f ex La Cuvee by Mark Of Esteem) became the fourth stakes for his Australian-bred and Irish-based sire Elzaam (Redoute's Choice) when scoring a seven-length victory in the Corrib Fillies Stakes (Listed, 7f) at the Galway festival on Tuesday evening. Auxilia (Free Eagle) trailed in second, with A New Dawn (Zoffany) in third. Elzaam was bred by Kia Ora Stud to northern hemisphere time out of Mambo In Freeport (Kingmambo), making him a full-brother to the 2017 Sheraco Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) winner Ravi. Having finished second in the prestigious Coventry Stakes (Gr 2, 6f) at Royal Ascot at two, Elzaam was subsequently retired to Ballyhane Stud in County Carlow, where he has stood the past eight seasons.

BETTING FORECAST: 15-8 Yazaman, 100-30 Qaader, 5 Admiral Nelson, 6 Supremacy, 8 Gussy Mac, Lauuded, 25 Talbot.

VERDICT Some of these are on a bit of a retrieval mission after their latest runs, including Coventry Stakes second Qaader. Preference is for clearcut Windsor winner Supremacy and, in particular, for YAZAMAN who sets the standard on his improved clear second in the Group 2 July Stakes last time. William Haggas's colt has a big chance on that form. [Mel Cullinan]

BETTING FORECAST: 11-8 English King, 4 Al Aasy, Khalifa Sat, 9-2 Mogul, 9 Subjectivist, 12 Highland Chief.

VERDICT Three of the major players from this year's extraordinary Derby have another chance to show what they are worth. Khalifa Sat did best in that race but it developed into a tactical nightmare for his rivals, with English King and MOGUL finishing only just behind him. While English King arguably caught the eye most among the pursuers with his effort at the finish and could still have potential after only four starts, Mogul might just be able to turn to tables on this track and with that run under his belt. Al Aasy has looked increasingly exciting and is preferred among the other three. BETTING FORECAST: 5-2 Fancy Blue, 11-4 Nazeef, 4 Deirdre, Magic Wand, 11 Queen Power, 16 One Voice, 20 Lavender's Blue.

VERDICT A well up to scratch renewal with four Group 1 winners in the field. Nazeef is still progressing but her pedigree raises a doubt about 1m2f while Deirdre needs to conclusively prove she's as good as she was when winning this last year; if she is, she should have a live chance again. Preference though is for the very dependable MAGIC WAND, who has no end of good efforts in Group 1s to her name, including in the Eclipse last time, and can land a second top flight win to supplement last autumn's success in Australia. Prix de Diane winner Fancy Blue, who is evidently preferred by Ryan Moore to the selection, is next best. [Mel Cullinan]
