Service fees under review in wake of coronavirus crisis

Studs to delay stallion rosters and prices due to market uncertainty

BY TIM ROWE | @ANZ_NEWS

Stud masters are reviewing service fees and delaying the release of their 2020 rosters due to the uncertainty caused by COVID-19, but a number of breeders believe that a correction in the marketplace will be forced upon those standing stallions after a significant upward trend in recent years.

April for thoroughbred industry stakeholders normally signals the all-important Australian Easter Yearling Sale, while the Sydney autumn carnival reaches a crescendo and studs unveil their new stallions and what prices their respective rosters stand for.

But some of those announcements are likely to be put on hold as stallion owners assess the fallout from next week's Inglis Australian Easter Yearling Sale and garner the appetite from breeders to reinvest in mares and willingness to breed this year. Continued on page 2 >>

Walk like an Egyptian... or a Pharoah

"The 37-year wait is over; American Pharoah is finally the one!"

The breathless call of Larry Collmus will forever remain the soundtrack to one of racing's greatest moments of the modern era: when the Bob Baffert-trained American Pharoah (Pioneer of The Nile) strode clear for a dominant success in the Belmont Stakes (Gr 1, 12f), becoming the first horse in 37 years to win American racing's holy grail, the Triple Crown.

It was a moment made more special by the fact that so many horses since Affirmed (Exclusive Native) in 1978 had won both of the first two legs of the Triple Crown. Continued on page 9 >>

Darley Australia has in recent years been one of the first studs to announce their service fees but head of sales Alastair Pulford said the Sheikh Mohammed-owned operation had already started re-evaluating a release date for their diverse stallion roster.

"This needs to be properly thought through. We're not going to be going gung-ho into the marketplace, we're going to be seeing what evolves over the next few weeks, particularly with the Easter yearling sale and following that the broodmare sales," Pulford said.

"We're not going to be in a hurry, but equally, we are getting feedback from our clients that they still do want to prepare for the season coming ahead.

"If there is a positive at the moment, it is that we are planning matings that occur in September and those foals are going to be born from August 2021 (and sold as yearlings in 2023), so we're planning on the future, rather than the immediate."

He added: "Hopefully the market will have fully recovered by then (2023) and if the fees do drop a bit this year, then people will be in a great position to recoup some of the losses that are inevitable in the next three to six months."

The most recent economic downturn was the Global Financial Crisis (GFC) in late 2008 and 2009, which saw Australasian stud masters slash service fees across the board with few exceptions, and that could again be the case 11 years later as a result of COVID-19.

Champion stallion Encosta De Lago (Fairy King) had his fee slashed from $302,500 (inc GST) to $220,000, Redoute's Choice (Danehill) went from $330,000 to $198,000 while Flying Spur (Danehill) and Hussonet (Mr. Prospector) also took significant service fee hits, predominantly due to the prevailing economic downturn at the time.

Willow Park Stud's Glenn Burrows believes the number of mares bred in 2020 will fall, continuing a trend that has occurred in Australian breeding in the past few years, and that a correction of service fees will also be a necessity given the plunging economy.

He expects the number of stallions at stud will also drop to a figure that is 20 per cent less than six years ago.

"This polarisation is happening all over the world and the well-proven horses and commercial first season sires will still be very keenly sought after, but the fees of the second through fourth season sires, and the ones on the knife edge or worse with runners, will see their fees cut," Burrows said.

"Successful stallions like I Am Invincible and Exceed And Excel should be able to stand their ground at the same fees, whilst I suppose a stallion like Pierro is maybe one that can buck the trend and possibly go up.

"There are several other stallions that are on the cusp and as a consequence they could maintain their 2019 fees, but across the board the majority will need to reduce to entice breeders' support."

Burrows also suggested the number of individual breeders could also decline as a result of the coronavirus impact on the economy and "this latest hiccup won't help in maintaining or increasing the number".

"Every cloud has a silver lining, however, and I believe there are terrific opportunities for buyers of the Easter yearlings as well as for the breeders down the track," he said.

"We have such a resilient industry due to our terrific domestic prize-money together with the global success of our product on the track. I really believe we will bounce back from the coronavirus very quickly as we certainly have with setbacks in the past.

"History says by that time we will be well and truly back to normal, so now's the time to buy top-end yearlings and broodmares at a discounted rate that we may not see repeated again for some time."

Pulford, too, is not as pessimistic as some about the immediate future of the industry even though he predicted mare numbers may decline slightly this year.

"I suppose everyone has their own personal circumstances and maybe that will be the case, but equally, having empty broodmares is not a very worthwhile proposition," he said.

"The country needs racehorses and numbers have dropped over the last few years.

"While that is starting to turn the corner and starting to rise again, and that it might take a little hit this year, I still believe it will be pretty solid."

Not unlike rival Darley, Coolmore traditionally uses the lead-up to the Easter sale to launch their new stallions - The Everest (1200m) winner Yes Yes Yes (Rubick) being the farm's high-profile retiree this year - before confirming fees for the remainder of their roster soon after.

But it is believed that the international operation will delay its announcements until after the Easter sale is conducted and the resulting ramifications of a weakened market are understood.

Widden Stud's Trapeze Artist (Snitzel) stood for $88,000 (all inc GST) last year while The Autumn Sun's (Redoute's Choice) introductory fee was $77,000 when retiring to Arrowfield Stud.

Along with Yes Yes Yes, Group 1-winning sprinter Exceedance (Exceed And Excel) could retire to Vinery Stud while ATC Sires' Produce Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m) winner Microphone (Exceed And Excel) could also head to the breeding shed in 2020.

Group 1-winning sprinter Pierata (Pierro) will also be retired to Aquis Farm while Castelvechio (Dundeel) is slated to retire to Arrowfield Stud after his racing career is over, but it is yet to be confirmed whether that will be this year or next.

One prominent industry figure said service fees would have to be reduced this year as a result of the crisis while they also predicted that the number of mares being bred would also fall.

Other significant investors such as China Horse Club's Michael Wallace, whose organisation holds shareholdings in a number of high-profile commercial stallions including Zoustar (Northern Meteor), Vancouver (Medaglia d'Oro) and Russian Revolution (Snitzel), also flagged the issue of service fees being too high at last year's Magic Millions Gold Coast National Broodmare Sale.

"To me, there is a little worry about the cost of service fees. I think we need to be mindful of that going forward as it has an impact on people buying mares and we have seen that through the middle part of the market," Wallace told ANZ Bloodstock News at the time.

INGLIS AUSTRALIAN EASTER YEARLING SALE

Waller aims for seventh Doncaster

Chris Waller is convinced a return to Sydney racing will help Kolding (Ocean Park) when the gelding heads a strong team trying to give the champion trainer a record-equalling seventh Doncaster Mile (Gr 1, 1600m) at Randwick. Waller expects to have at least six runners in Saturday's Doncaster on the first day of The Championships. The four-year-old was fifth in the Futurity Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m) at Caulfield before finishing midfield in the $5 million All-Star Mile (1600m) at the same track on March 14. Hugh Bowman is booked to ride Kolding with Waller likely to also have Mister Sea Wolf (Amadeus Wolf) (James McDonald), Kings Will Dream (Casamento) (Josh Parr), Yulong Prince (Gimmethgreenlight) (Brenton Avdulla), Imaging (Oasis Dream) (Kerrin McEvoy) and exciting import Shared Ambition (Born To Sea) (Jay Ford). "Kolding has got his share of weight (56.5kg) but he's going to be back racing right-handed again which I think is a big plus, and I'll take the blinkers off him again because I don't think they worked last start," Waller said.

Eel confirmed for Derby

Brisbane three-year-old Eric The Eel (Olympic Glory) has been given the green light to head to Sydney for the Australian Derby (Gr 1, 2400m) under revised coronavirus protocols for transporting horses. The Stuart Kendrick-trained Eric The Eel won at Doomben over 2200 metres on Saturday, reigniting the desire to get to Sydney, especially with the news the Queensland winter carnival has been scrapped. "I plan to have him on the float Monday night so he should be in Sydney early on Tuesday to settle in," Kendrick said. "I am hoping he can stay in my name but if he remains in Sydney we might need to switch him across to Bjorn's (Baker) name."

Castelvecchio to run over 2400 metres

Castelvecchio

SPORTPIX

Rosehill Guineas (Gr 1, 2000m) winner Castelvecchio (Dundeel) is also set to contest the Australian Derby with a view to backing up in the Queen Elizabeth Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) at Randwick a week later. Now part-owned by Arrowfield Stud, where he will retire, the Richard Litt-trained three-year-old colt won his second Group 1 race last start. Meanwhile, James McDonald has been booked to ride Japanese import Danon Premium (Deep Impact) in the Queen Elizabeth Stakes on April 11.

Hyeronimus picks up Sires ride

Adam Hyeronimus, who rode his maiden Group 1 winner on Saturday when Shout The Bar (Not A Single Doubt) took out the Vinery Stud Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m), will attempt to double his tally in the Inglis Sires (registered as ATC Sires' Produce Stakes) (Gr 1, 1400m). The Sydney jockey has picked up the mount on the Robbie Griffiths-trained Glenfiddich (Fastnet Rock), a last-start winner of the Mornington Sires (1500m). The juvenile colt, who was bred and sold by Edinburgh Park, has had seven starts and earned $137,550 in prize-money so far.

Irwin first-up for Sunlight

Comeback Group 1-winning mare Sunlight (Zoustar), whose 2020 campaign was delayed after a paddock accident, is set to resume in the RN Irwin Stakes (Gr 3, 1100m) at Morphettville on April 18. The Tony and Calvin McEvoy-trained mare won a Strathalbyn barrier trial last week but she is set to have another public hit-out before her resumption. "She just slipped at the start, but she pulled up well and has been doing really well since," Calvin McEvoy told Racing.com. "She will trial again on April 9 before heading to the Irwin Stakes on April 18." Stablemate and Sunlight's sibling, Sisstar (Zoustar), will be spelled after three unplaced runs this preparation.

Group 1 tilt next for Positive Peace

In-form mare Positive Peace (Stratum) is likely to tackle the Coolmore Legacy Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m) at Randwick next start after making it five wins in succession and, more importantly, landing a breakthrough stakes win in the Emancipation Stakes (Gr 2, 1500m) at Rosehill on Saturday. The mare's dramatic improvement is not a complete surprise to trainer Bjorn Baker. "I always thought she had talent although she ran last at her first two starts and near enough to last at her third run," Baker said. "She just wasn't strong enough to finish off her races so I knew when she matured a little more she would come right. She is just doing everything right now. She is eating well and is just in the zone."

Baker delighted with stable's fortunes

The improvement of Positive Peace also underlines the growing depth of Sydney trainer Bjorn Baker's stable, one the expatriate Kiwi thought might not have been there only a matter of months ago. "With Samadoubt out with injury and Champagne Cuddles being retired I did think we might be a bit light-on," he said. "Horses like Positive Peace, She's Ideel and Missybeel have all stepped up to boost us in the city which is very pleasing. We don't have the expensive yearlings and the like that some of our training rivals have so it is very satisfying to be able to compete with them." Baker is fourth on the NSW metropolitan trainers' premiership with 39 victories, trailing only Chris Waller, James Cummings and Gai Waterhouse and Adrian Bott.

Oaks on cards for Probabeel

Probabeel

SPORTPIX

The COVID-19 pandemic is likely to see New Zealand filly Probabeel (Savabeel) continue her Sydney campaign with a shot at the Australian Oaks (Gr 1, 2400m). The Jamie Richards-trained three-year-old was runner-up in Saturday's Vinery Stud Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m), which was won by Shout The Bar (Not A Single Doubt). "She was very brave on Saturday and went a terrific race on a track that was a little too wet for her liking," Richards said. "I thought Kerrin McEvoy rode her a treat and had her in the right places at the right time, but with that slower tempo early in the race she just couldn't quite get to the winner who had had it pretty soft in front. We had initially thought that Saturday would be her last run and we would bring her home and put her in the paddock as we look to the spring but the way things are at the moment, we have had to have a rethink on that front."

Doncaster for Melody Belle

Melody Belle

SPORTPIX

Jamie Richards also has Melody Belle (Commands) in Sydney after two third placings in Melbourne to start her summer-autumn Australian campaign. The star five-year-old will attempt to win her 11th Group 1 race when she tackles Saturday's Doncaster Mile (Gr 1, 1600m). "We have Melody Belle ready to go in the Doncaster at Randwick this weekend and she has done really well since moving to Sydney from Melbourne," he said. "I'm looking forward to getting her on that Randwick track as I think it suits her a little better. And as we are based there she has gotten into a nice rhythm, which won't be too different to what she will encounter on race day."

Campaign up in the air for Vow And Declare

Danny O'Brien is unsure what the future holds for Vow And Declare's (Declaration Of War) bid for consecutive Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) victories. O'Brien was planning to take Vow And Declare to Brisbane for a three-run campaign, part of a nine month build-up to this year's Cup at Flemington in November. But the multi-million dollar Queensland winter carnival has been abandoned because of the coronavirus pandemic with authorities to keep racing as long as possible under a reduced prize-money model. Vow And Declare had a gallop between races at Bendigo on Saturday under his Cup-winning jockey Craig Williams, part of the build-up towards the Queen Elizabeth Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) at Randwick on April 11. "Sydney looks a mile off at the moment and that's two weeks away," O'Brien told Racing.com. "So, we're not planning anything further than taking him home and putting a saddle on him (this) morning and hopefully we can get to Sydney. He's improved out of that first-up run. He's very well at the moment and fingers crossed we can get up there and that racing's still going and we can have a good crack at the Queen Elizabeth."

Swats That a Showdown contender

Swats That (Shamus Award) will be given her chance in the lucrative The Showdown (1200m) at Caulfield next month after her impressive debut win at Bendigo on Saturday. "She's pulled up really well, she ate all but a handful of feed and is very happy within herself," co-trainer Troy Corstens told Racing.com. "She's sound this morning and had a nice walk and swim to stretch out. I was going to tip her out after her trials, but there was no reason to, she was showing plenty at home and handled it all really well. With that being the case and the way she's come through yesterday's run, we'll now head to The Showdown at Caulfield and chase the $1 million on offer. Good fillies have a bit of crankiness and a bit of 'look at me', which is exactly how she is."

Adelaide Group 2 goal for Snogging

Saturday's Bendigo winner Snogging (I Am Invincible) will head to Adelaide in an attempt to land a stakes victory before retiring to stud. Trained by Trent Busuttin and Natalie Young, the five-year-old mare was runner-up in last year's Queen Of The South Stakes (Gr 2, 1600m) at Morphettville and will target the same race again after winning the Gold Bracelet (1400m) first-up at the weekend. "She went so close last year, and we know that she handled the travel and track so it's a logical option if we're still able to head there," Busuttin told Racing.com. "We'll start her in the Gold Distaff at Caulfield in three weeks and then South Australia will be her grand final."

Championships prize-money slashed

Prize-money for Sydney's signature autumn races has been halved in response to racing's reduced income stream during the coronavirus crisis. Racing is scheduled to go ahead subject to government regulations on April 4 and 11 with eight Group 1 races programmed for the two days of The Championships at Randwick. The Australian Turf Club and Racing NSW have agreed to reduce prize-money because of the challenges presented by a drop in wagering, which will be significantly reduced by the current lockdowns of pubs, clubs and TAB agencies. Other sources of funding for prize-money, on-course attendances and sponsorship, have also been severely impacted given the public is not allowed to attend race meetings. Racing NSW has a Future Fund to enable the NSW Racing Industry to continue in the face of such challenges, but says it is important to maintain those cash reserves for as long as possible given the uncertainty of the situation.

PRIZE-MONEY CUTS

Doncaster Mile: $3 million down to $1.5 million
TJ Smith: $2.5m to $1.25m
Australian Derby: $2m to $1m
Inglis Sires: $1m to $500,000
Country Championships Final: $500,000 to $400,000
Queen Elizabeth: $4m to $2m
Sydney Cup: $2m to $1m
Australian Oaks: $1m to $500,000
Coolmore Legacy: $1m to $500,000
Arrowfield Sprint: $1m to $500,000
Percy Sykes: $1m to $500,000
Provincial Championships: $500,000 to $400,000

Other Group and Listed races over the two days retain their advertised prize-money.

Racing Queensland also alters prize-money

Officials believe they have the correct balance in the prize-money schedule for the new zoned racing which starts in Queensland this week. The state has been divided into five regions while the south east, where most of the horses are trained, has been split into two divisions. The move is designed to limit the spread of the coronavirus as racing continues to operate under strict biosecurity conditions. As such, Racing Queensland has revised the prize-money for the different zones. The central region's Mackay will have the first meeting under the new regime tomorrow. RQ will allocate similar prize-money to Gold Coast and Toowoomba-trained horses as the Eagle Farm and Caloundra-trained runners. The Gold Coast meeting will have races worth $65,000, two at $50,000, two at $35,000 and two at $27,500, while QTIS bonuses will be paid on selected races. Eagle Farm will be the same, but with an additional $65,000 race programmed. Sunshine Coast has prize-money ranging from $21,000 to $30,000 as will the Toowoomba meeting.

Rawiller praises VJA

Brad Rawiller has heaped praise on the chief executive of the Victorian Jockeys' Association (VJA) Matthew Hyland for his tireless work during the coronavirus pandemic. Rawiller said without Hyland representing the 170-plus members of the VJA, there was a strong possibility racing may have ground to halt. "Matt Hyland has done an amazing job going through what he has in the last two weeks. He has stood up and coped with it all," Rawiller said. "He's been there for all jockeys. We've been under a lot of stress with what we're going to be doing in the next day or two days and Matty has looked after everyone. At the same time he has had to make some big calls quickly which has been to the benefit of the racing industry."

NEW ZEALAND

Breeder savours Elleegant's victory from the couch

Breeder Don Goodwin admits he is doing it tough at the moment but not in a way that most would think. Goodwin and his wife Christina are currently in lockdown along with the rest of the country, which means that they cannot travel to support their pride and joy Verry Elleegant (Zed) when she competes. The four-year-old mare, who is trained by Chris Waller, scored a dominant victory in the Tancred Stakes (Gr 1, 2400m) at Rosehill on Saturday. "We had been over for her first two runs in the Apollo and Chipping Norton and then we got cut short," Goodwin said. "We are in isolation like the rest of the country, just trying to stay in our bubble. I must admit I nearly bloody jumped out of my bubble watching her win yesterday (Saturday). Under the circumstances I'm just grateful we could get the race run and then to win like that was incredible."

Richards in lockdown

Te Akau Racing trainer Jamie Richards, like the rest of New Zealand's residents, is in lockdown due to the coronavirus outbreak and he admits to finding it difficult. "I'm at home here in Matamata in lockdown with Mum and my sister Libby and things are pretty different to what they are normally," he said. "We've got a couple of horses in the paddocks here which need feeding and the like but with the rest of the racing team out spelling there hasn't been a hell of a lot to do. I've been up and cleaned the gutters out and done a bit of water blasting around the place but the new routine is going to take a bit of getting used to."

Stanley excited about prospects of Master Montaro

New Zealand Bloodstock Ready to Run Sale graduate Master Montaro (Toronado) could not have made a more impressive debut when successful at Pakenham on Friday night for Cranbourne trainer Richard Laming. Ridden by Michael Walker, the son of Toronado (High Chaparral) came from last to amble past his rivals when winning the Kentucky Equine Research Maiden Plate (1000m) on debut and looks to have a bright future. The three-year-old gelding is part-owned by a group of Kiwis, which includes Woburn Farm principals Adrian Stanley and Hannah Kettlety, who retained a small share in the horse after selling him at the 2018 Ready to Run Sale for $300,000. "We kept a share in him because we thought he had a lot of ability. We didn't really want to sell him, but we had to," Stanley said. "They have taken their time with him and everyone has been happy with the patient approach which has helped him mentally and physically."

ASIA

17 for Speightstown

Mozu Superflare (5 m ex Christies Treasure by Belong to Me), who finished down the field in last year's renewal of the Takamatsunomiya Kinen (Gr 1, 1200m), gained redemption in the 2020 renewal of the Chukyo feature yesterday, but only following a dramatic protest after a blanket could have been thrown over the first four runners home. Mozu Superflare, a $41 chance, hit the line together with Kurino Gaudi (Screen Hero), but stewards immediately reviewed the finish and possible interference over the final 200 metres. Following deliberations, Mozu Superflare was declared the winner by a nose, with Kurino Gaudi demoted to fourth. Race-favourite Gran Algeria (Deep Impact) was promoted to second, with Diatonic (Lord Kanaloa) a further head back in third. In winning, the Hidetaka Otonashi-trained Mozu Superflare became the 17th elite-level victor for WinStar Farm resident Speightstown (Gone West), who is currently standing for a fee of US$70,000.

Arqana consider breeze-up switch to June due to coronavirus crisis

Arqana is considering rescheduling its Deauville breeze-up sale due to the ongoing coronavirus pandemic from its scheduled May 8-9 slot to June 2-3 or June 3-4 on the turf track at Deauville with the sale to take place the following day. Arqana CEO Eric Hoyer said: "In the midst of a crisis that is affecting us all, we are looking to adapt to the constraints and offer the best possible conditions for our vendors and buyers, therefore we have thought distancing the sale from the general lockdown and suspension of racing would provide a more favourable environment. The situation on the Covid-19 front is still rapidly evolving though, and we will wait until the end of the lockdown is officially announced to firm up this schedule."

Aqueduct turned into makeshift hospital

Aqueduct racecourse has been turned into a temporary hospital site to assist those affected by coronavirus in the New York City area. "Aqueduct Racetrack will serve as a safe haven for those recovering from this virus," New York Racing Association chief executive Dave O'Rourke said. "We recognise that we all must work together as a community to meet this challenge and emerge stronger for it." Aqueduct's winter racing had been scheduled to end yesterday and its next fixtures were to run from Thursday until April 19. The NYRA's next meeting is the 51-day schedule at Belmont Park from April 24. "NYRA is continuing to strategise the safest options for a return to racing at Belmont Park, while prioritising the health and welfare of our staff and the racing community," O'Rourke added. "A revised live racing schedule is an ongoing consideration, but secondary to our primary commitment to the health and well-being of the community."

Law lays it down in Florida Derby

Tiz The Law (3 c Constitution - Tizfizz by Tiznow) is now favourite for the rescheduled Kentucky Derby (Gr 1, 10f) after gaining a second Grade 1 victory in the Florida Derby (Gr 1, 9f) at Gulfstream on Saturday. Pulling away in the stretch, the Braclay Tagg-trained colt ran out a four and a quarter-length winner over Shivaree (Awesome Of Course), with Fountain of Youth Stakes (Gr 2, 8.5f) scorer Ete Indien (Summer Front) a further three-quarters of a length away in third. Tiz The Law has won four of his five starts to date, including the Champagne Stakes (Gr 1, 8f) in October.

East Coast campaign for Tiz The Law

With the Kentucky Derby put back from May until September 5 due to the global coronavirus pandemic, the Arkansas Derby (Gr 1, 9f) has been shifted to May 2, the day the Derby was supposed to run, but connections have said that Tiz The Law will remain on the East Coast. "We'll stay here on the East Coast and see what happens," Jack Knowlton, who runs the Sackatoga Stable partnership, told Bloodhorse. "I don't want to face Bob Baffert until I have to." Knowlton's partnership won the Kentucky Derby and Preakness Stakes (Gr 1, 9.5f) with Funny Cide (Distorted Humor) in 2003 and he added: "I'm a New Yorker and I'd love to run in New York again. The Kentucky Derby is the be-all and end-all but if they do the right thing and move the Travers and they can run the Preakness and Belmont before, it would give us a nice set up to the Travers and Kentucky Derby."

Paranoia scares rivals in Appleton

Social Paranoia (4 c Street Boss - Shutterbug by Deputy Minister), a last-start Listed winner at Kentucky Downs in September, made a successful return to action when taking out the Appleton Stakes (Gr 3, 8f) on the turf at Gulfstream on Saturday. Trained by Todd Pletcher, Social Paranoia ran second in the Belmont Derby (Gr 1, 10f) last July, beaten three quarters of a length by Henley's Joy (Kitten's Joy), and the four-year-old secured the third win of his career when fending off the challenge of Sombeyay (Into Mischief) by a length and a quarter at the weekend. Race-favourite March To The Arch (Arch) was beaten a further head into third.

69 for Into Mischief

Into Mischief

SPENDTHRIFT

Spendthrift Farm stallion Into Mischief (Harlan's Holiday) sired his 69th individual stakes winner on Saturday when Bemma's Boy (5 h ex Arcing by Arch) landed the Pan American Stakes (Gr 2, 12f) on the turf at Gulfstream. Making a deserved breakthrough in Graded company having been Grade 3-placed on his last outing in January, Bemma's Boy showed a good attitude under Florent Geroux, getting the better of Zulu Alpha (Street Cry) by a neck. Current (Curlin) was a further head away in third in what proved a dramatic finish to the staying contest. Into Mischief, who is currently standing for a career-high fee of US$175,000, is also the sire of dual Breeders' Cup winner Goldencents.

Three for Daredevil

Daredevil

JOCKEY CLUB OF TURKEY

Former WinStar Farm resident Daredevil (More Than Ready), who relocated to Turkey towards the end of 2019, sired his third individual stakes winner on Saturday when Swiss Skydiver (3 f ex Expo Gold by Johannesburg) ran out a dominant winner of the Gulfstream Park Oaks (Gr 2, 8.5f). Third in a Fair Grounds Grade 2 on February 15, the Ken McPeck-trained Swiss Skydiver continued on her upward curve by pulling three and a quarter-lengths clear of Lucrezia (Into Mischief) in second. Lake Avenue (Tapit) was a further nose adrift in third. Swiss Skydiver joins Shedarestheevil and Deviant as stakes winner for the sire, while she is a general 16/1 chance for the rearranged Kentucky Oaks (Gr 1, 9f), which is set to be run on September 5.

Second Grade 3 for Mary

Progressive mare Mean Mary (4 f ex Karlov Vary by Dynaformer) bolstered her already impressive career record by landing the Orchid Stakes (Gr 3, 11f) on the turf at Gulfstream on Saturday. Now the winner of four races from six starts having previously taken out the La Prevoyante Stakes (Gr 3, 12f) at the same track in January, Mean Mary came a length clear of Gentle Ruler (Colonel John) under Luis Saez. Elizabeth Way (Frankel) was a further three and three-quarter lengths further back in third. The Graham Motion-trained winner is one of 129 stakes winners for late Coolmore sire Scat Daddy (Johannesburg), himself the sire of Triple Crown hero Justify.

15 for Creative Cause

Creative Cause

AIRDRIE STUD

Airdrie Stud sire Creative Cause (Giant's Causeway) sired his 15th individual stakes winner on Saturday when Identifier (4 c ex Can't Catch Kate by Shakespeare) pulled one length clear of the Hal's Hope Stakes (Gr 3, 9f) field at Gulfstream. Trained by Oscar Gonzalez, Identifier ran on strongly to defeat runner-up Just Whistle (Pioneerof The Nile), while Bodexpress (Bodemeister) was a further half-length back in third. Creative Cause is best known as the sire of Grade 1 winner Pavel and he is currently standing for a fee of US$15,000.

Walk like an Egyptian...or a Pharoah

BY ANDREW HAWKINS

*"The 37-year wait is over;
American Pharoah is finally the one!"*

The breathless call of Larry Collmus will forever remain the soundtrack to one of racing's greatest moments of the modern era: when the Bob Baffert-trained American Pharoah (Pioneerof The Nile) strode clear for a dominant success in the Belmont Stakes (Gr 1, 12f), becoming the first horse in 37 years to win American racing's holy grail, the Triple Crown.

Larry Collmus

TWITTER

It was a moment made more special by the fact that so many horses since Affirmed (Exclusive Native) in 1978 had won both of the first two legs of the Triple Crown - the Kentucky Derby (Gr 1, 10f) and the Preakness Stakes (Gr 1, 9.5f) - but had come up short in New York.

Spectacular Bid (Bold Bidder), Pleasant Colony (His Majesty), Alysheba (Alydar), Sunday Silence (Halo), Silver Charm (Silver Buck), Real Quiet (Quiet American), Charismatic (Summer Squall), War Emblem (Our Emblem), Funny Cide (Distorted Humor), Smarty Jones (Elusive Quality), Big Brown (Boundary), and California Chrome (Lucky Pulpit) all broke from the Belmont gates with a Triple Crown bid on the line; all returned with their dreams shattered and the hearts of a nation broken; and all added to the narrative that a Triple Crown winner in the modern era would require the thoroughbred equivalent of Pegasus.

American Pharoah

"I'm 61 and I will never see another Triple Crown winner in my lifetime," fumed California Chrome's co-owner Steve Coburn in an infamous rant on national television after his horse was defeated in the 2014 Belmont Stakes.

He argued that horses that were fresh into the Belmont would always have the better of those that had travelled from Kentucky to Maryland to New York and contested all three legs of the Triple Crown over a gruelling five weeks, not to mention the prep races that were required to score points just to gain a start at Churchill Downs.

And then, just a year later, came American Pharoah.

"American Pharoah's Belmont Stakes win was an incredible moment and to have been the guy calling that moment was surreal," Collmus told ANZ Bloodstock News from his New Jersey home.

"I'd been calling races since I was 18 years old and it was exactly 30 years and a day since

I called that first race when I got to call that historical moment.

"The entire building was shaking. Even though I was eight levels up and glass enclosed, the sound was deafening when he reached the finish line. So many horses before him tried and failed and here was that magical moment we'd all been waiting for.

"The minutes after the race when it finally kicked in were wild. The roar went on and on as Victor Espinoza gave him a 'victory lap' in front of the grandstand. I saw the video of me banging on the window in excitement. I had no idea I was even doing it.

"I don't think there could ever be a race in America that could match the excitement of that one. The only one that came close was when Pharoah finished his career winning the Breeders' Cup Classic. It was a perfect way to end it and was very emotional for me.

For American racing fans, from the hot walker to the chief executive, it still remains the greatest moment they have experienced.

"I'd never before experienced anything like that race on that day and I doubt I ever will again," recalled Pat Cummings, executive director of Kentucky think tank, the Thoroughbred Idea Foundation (TIF).

"It was the closest thing to an out-of-body racing experience. The crowd normally cheers at the start of the Belmont and then everyone settles - that didn't happen, and with about a mile left to run and American Pharoah dictating the pace, the crowd just went full throttle and didn't stop.

"Once he passed the finish, the cheering just did not relent for minutes, the place lost its mind in the most wonderful way. It really was the release of decades of emotion, and if you go back and watch the replay of the race and the aftermath, I think that still translates and gets across. It gives me chills every time I watch it back."

While there was a 37-year wait for the 12th member to join the pantheon of Triple Crown greats, it has only been half as long - 18 years - since a Triple Crown winner had a yearling up for auction at the Inglis Australian Easter Yearling Sale.

In 2002, the tenth Triple Crown winner Seattle Slew (Bold Reasoning) had his final yearlings anywhere in the world go through the Inglis Easter sales ring, a month before his death in Kentucky. He had three consigned lots; two made it to the ring; only one sold. That yearling never raced.

It will be a different story in 2020 - and not just with American Pharoah. In fact, the 2015 Belmont is set to have a strong influence on this year's Inglis Easter auction, with that year's runner-up Frosted (Tapit) also represented for the first time at the sale.

It will also be different in that these yearlings, unlike the final two Seattle Slews, won't be going through a physical sales ring. Until last week, the mere difference was that the sale had shifted from the Newmarket complex at Randwick to Warwick Farm's Riverside site, but with Covid-19 wreaking havoc on the sales season, they will now be a part of a new era.

They will forever be members of the class of 2020, when Inglis Easter became the first major auction on the planet to be conducted on a digital platform.

At time of writing, Coolmore's American Pharoah had 21 lots up for grabs, with a Frosted half-brother to New Zealand Derby (Gr 1, 2400m) winner Crown Prosecutor (Medaglia d'Oro) also set for the virtual ring.

Monarch Of Egypt

RACING POST

While American Pharoah's oldest southern hemisphere crop are yearlings, he has already been represented on the track in the northern hemisphere with his oldest crop a couple of months into their three-year-old year. And what has caught US trainers off-guard is how adept his runners so far have been on turf, given the Triple Crown winner never left the dirt during his career.

So far, American Pharoah has had six stakes winners, four on grass. His best performer, according to Racing Post Ratings, is the Aidan O'Brien-trained Monarch Of Egypt, who ran second in the Phoenix Stakes (Gr 1, 6f) in August.

While the figures could be attributed to a number of his stock being in the hands of European trainers - O'Brien, Charlie Appleby and Andre Fabre all have stakes-performed American Pharoahs so far - or that his best sons have been with one of America's leading turf trainers in Wesley Ward, it is being noticed by some of the leading US trainers with a penchant for dirt as well.

Trainer Todd Pletcher, for instance, said of Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies' Turf (Gr 1, 1m) placegetter Sweet Melania: "She kind of fooled us a little bit, because I thought she'd be successful sprinting on the dirt. She didn't run badly either time, but she didn't run to our expectations and we got her up here and breezed her on the grass, and wow, she really seemed to take a move forward."

Ward, who had trans-Atlantic stakes success with sons of American Pharoah thanks to Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf Sprint (Gr 2, 5f) winner Four Wheel Drive and Prix du Bois (Gr 3, 5f) victor Maven, noted that many of the American Pharoahs in his barn have possessed the same calm temperament as their sire.

"From everything I saw with American Pharoah, his demeanour, he was a very docile horse. He was more like a stable pony than a stallion, he could go anywhere and he took everything in," Ward said. "The American Pharoahs I've had have been the same. Four Wheel Drive, nothing worries him and he's very calm."

"I had a conversation with Bob Baffert when the horse went to stud about what he thought about him being a grass sire. He said that's the one thing he said he wished he had done, that he wished he had run him on grass."

"For him to say that, you know, he knows what he's doing, and there was no reason for him to be selling me on the question I was asking, so I thought he gave me a truthful answer. And American Pharoah has really stepped it up on being a turf sire, that's for sure."

In 2022, there will be two Triple Crown winners represented in the Inglis sales ring for the first time ever when the first Justify (Scat Daddy) yearlings make their appearance. For now, though, Easter buyers will be swept up in the Pharoah fever that, to this day, still rings right around the American industry.

Fabulous five for Moreira makes it a 'Magic' 900

BY DAVID MORGAN | HKJC_RACING

Joao Moreira became only the fourth jockey in Hong Kong history to reach 900 wins and he did so in style with a five-timer at Sha Tin yesterday.

"I wasn't counting!" the Brazilian ace said after his fourth on the board, Picken (Duporth), had sealed the milestone win at the end of a tough duel for the Class 3 Nam Shan Handicap (1400m).

Only the retired greats Douglas Whyte and Tony Cruz, and Moreira's brilliant championship rival Zac Purton, have reached the 900 mark previously. Moreira achieved it at his 4,094th ride, at a win strike rate just shy of 22 per cent, in only his seventh Hong Kong season.

"It's a great mark to reach but I want to be looking back on it, leaving it behind," he said, mindful of his unrelenting battle to regain the jockeys' championship. He ended the day on 901.

Moreira used everything he had to seal the win on the John Size-trained Picken as Neil Callan's mount Toycoon (Turffontein) challenged with determined intent. The two horses responded to the power-packed driving of their respective pilots but it was the one they call 'Magic Man' who conjured enough to get his mount's nose past the post in the nick of time – the margin was a short-head.

Picken (red colours)

HKJC

"It's amazing how hard it was to win this race! Neil's horse didn't want to give up but fortunately I had the edge on him at the right time," Moreira said.

Joao Moreira

"We knew Picken was coming to form – he's at a quite nice place in the handicap and we knew he was there to win his race and I'm very lucky to be getting on him at the right time."

Juneau on the up

Moreira's five-timer took him back to the top of the jockeys' premiership with 94 wins to Purton's 92, although the Australian excelled with a double. The Brazilian's haul included a smart success on the upwardly mobile Juneau Park (Ocean Park) in section two of the Class 4 So Uk Handicap (1400m).

The Size-trained four-year-old made it two wins on the bounce at only his fifth start and his rider was suitably pleased with the effort under a 60 kilogram impost.

"My opinion is high, he's a nice horse," Moreira said. "Only good horses do what he has done – I know he had a suitable run but he had to improve to win today carrying top-weight.

"He hasn't been exposed, he hasn't raced too many times and he's only gone forward. This indicates to me that he's not a bad one."

The New Zealand-bred gelding raced fifth along the fence, shifted out at the top of the straight and wound up into a raking run that took him to the lead 250 metres out. The bay then kept on gamely to win by half a length.

"He's a bit big so he needs momentum and he had that today, it helped him to win," Moreira continued. "It's hard to predict where he'll get to ratings-wise but the improvement he's shown means he's pointing up."

Moreira kicked off his quintet with an easy six-length win aboard the John Moore-trained Above (Tavistock) in the Class 4 Tai Hang Tung Handicap (2000m), and then sealed the Class 3 Lai Kok Handicap (1200m) on the Danny Shum-trained Fantasy (Sizzling).

He capped the day with a sublime score aboard the Size-trained Shining Ace (Testa Rossa) in the finale, the Class 2 Chak On Handicap (1200m), stealing a march and holding the talented pair of Computer Patch (Exceed And Excel) and Transcendent (Dabirsim) in the minor placings.

"John (Size) and I had in the back of our minds that he won on a softer surface and we thought he would handle it, but he actually handled it better than we thought. It was an impressive win and the handicapper is probably going to hammer him but he deserves to win like that," Moreira said.

"John has done a great job with yet another horse, he's got him up in his rating and he's won impressively in Class 2."

Size's treble today was his first such score this term. His last three-timer came on May 25 last year, when Shining Ace was again one of his winners on the day. The 11-time champion trainer's haul took him to 33 overall this term, 12 behind premiership leader Ricky Yiu.

Purton again maintained tabs on his opponent though and struck a double in tandem with trainer Paul O'Sullivan.

Grade One (Manhattan Rain) made the most of a drop to Class 4 and burst to a half-length win in the Shek Kip Mei Handicap (1200m); and Purton ensured Band Of Brothers (Sakhee's Secret) got back on the winning trail with a sweetly-judged ride to take the Class 3 Pak Tin Handicap (1600m).

War Of Courage (Declaration Of War) held off Valiant Dream (Magnus) by a short-head in a driving finish to the Class 3 Cheung Sha Wan Handicap (1000m). Chad Schofield on the winner defied Blake Shinn's late effort with a last-gasp thrust that saw his mount dip his head as the pair flashed past the post.

Band Of Brothers

Victor Wong set the ideal tempo for a make-all win aboard the Manfred Man-trained Care Free Prince (Street Sense) in section one of the Class 4 So Uk Handicap (1400m).

Soccer Master (Iffraaj) took the opener, the Class 5 Un Chau Handicap (1400m), for trainer Chris So and jockey Matthew Poon.

Hong Kong racing continues at Sha Tin on Wednesday, April 1.
