Severino predicts Chinese to continue huge thoroughbred investment

Yulong trainer in hotel quarantine after initially riding out pandemic in Covid-19 epicentre

Rui Severino

BY TIM ROWE | @ANZ_NEWS

The world may be in a state of ongoing uncertainty and non-essential product and service sectors could bear the brunt of the economic downturn, but an expatriate is confident that demand for bloodstock from the key market of China will continue to grow.

Rui Severino, a trainer for Yulong in China who has also worked for another prominent owner in Lin Lang's Inner Mongolia Rider Horse group, believes the appetite from an increasing number of wealthy individuals from the world power wanting to buy and breed thoroughbreds is on the increase.

An East Timor-born Australian, who previously trained in Darwin before stints as an assistant to Lloyd Kennewell and Stephen Theodore in Adelaide and Victoria respectively, Severino believes the coronavirus pandemic and its implications "won't stop" China's growing interest in racing.

Australian-based Group 1-winning mare Rollout The Carpet (Holy Roman Emperor), in foal to The Autumn Sun (Redoute's Choice), is on offer in the unreserved dispersal sale live now on Gavelhouse Plus. "This year has been a big setback for all the big investors like Mr Wolf (Rider Horse) and Mr Zhang (Yulong) who have put in so much money into the sport in China, but there's also many, many others - small club owners and owners - that own racing stables, for example, inside the Yulong Jockey Club and some have quite big teams of 40 and 50 horses," said Severino, who is midway through his 14-day quarantine stint in a Sydney hotel as he awaits being reunited with his family in Melbourne.

In China, the number of tracks being built is still growing. As we speak, there's a new racetrack going in now and it is huge - Rui Severino

"They spent so much money on horses last year, but that hasn't stopped them looking forward and keeping on investing.

"At the moment many of them are racing horses here in Australia as they haven't been able to get them back to China."

Lin Lang, known as Mr Wolf, and Yuesheng Zhang are arguably the highest-profile Chinese owners who have significant international racing and breeding interests, primarily in New Zealand and Australia.

But compatriots Zhiqiang An, who races exciting juvenile Wisdom Of Water (Headwater), and Gu Tao's Breeze Up Bloodstock have also been significant buyers at Australasian sales in recent times.

"In China, the number of tracks being built is still growing. As we speak, there's a new racetrack going in now and it is huge," Severino said.

"It is in Shanxi Province (where Yulong Racecourse is also located) in a city called Xi'an. They make big trucks look like little cars and it is only half way through construction.

"The bigger owners, like Mr Zhang and Mr Wolf and the others, have long-term projects especially Mr Zhang who has invested immensely in his own Yulong operation.

"He is still growing his broodmare band whether it is in Australia, Ireland or China. He is breeding a lot of horses in China itself as well as Australia, as we know, and it's not something that's going to slow down. I have no doubt that (the Chinese market) will get bigger."

Severino was caught in the Covid-19 crisis in Wuhan where he was training a stable of horses for Mr Zhang before returning north to Yulong Racecourse in Shanxi Province where he also cared for his team under strict quarantine restrictions.

"I am in Sydney at the moment. They've placed me in a nice hotel, so I can't complain. You've got to be here for 14 days and I'm walking the box big time. I have got seven days to go," he said.

"I have done my fair bit of quarantine this year. Wuhan was quite a tough time, but I had it easy compared to a lot of people because I wasn't locked in an apartment. I was at our training centre, so we were able to work every day.

"We were just confined to our training centre. Nobody could get out, nobody could get in. I kept myself busy and the horses ticking over, so that was quite good.

"After Wuhan we went back to Yulong Jockey Club up north in the hope that racing would start soon, but it doesn't seem that it will resume this year."

Not only is the prominence of Chinese owners on the rise, Severino predicts the country's horse people would also come to the fore in the years to come.

He said: "About 20 years ago, one of the biggest racecourses they built in Asia was in Beijing, but they have since closed it. They had expats from all over the world training there, but that track has produced a lot of guys who have since become trainers.

"I was pitted against Chinese trainers who had been to Ireland, America and Australia before returning to train.

"They are very knowledgeable trainers, so it's really satisfying to see the younger generation coming through and that's where companies like Yulong and Rider Horse play a big role.

"Yulong, particularly, focuses on young kids by giving them a lot of support to come through ranks. Mr Zhang is always looking to the future."

Meanwhile, Severino is excited about being back in Australia which potentially could become a more permanent move with Chinese racing remaining grounded.

"It was the boss's idea to come back and see my family. I haven't seen my kids for a long time, so that is why I've made the move back as my kids are in Melbourne," he said.

"I'm still assessing a few different options and I will make a decision after the quarantine period."

MORNING BRIEFING

Colic claims Fighting Sun

Sun Stud stallion Fighting Sun (Northern Meteor) has died suddenly after a battle with colic. "From the first day he arrived on the farm as a two-year-old - after being robbed of his chance at winning a Golden Slipper - it was hard not to have a soft spot for the horse... he was just so good to handle," Sun Stud's operations manager David Grant said. "He was the 'go-to' stallion for the new and less experienced stallion staff, to help build their confidence. Fighting Sun had such a kind nature and was always easy to serve mares with. It's been 17 years since we lost a stallion on the property, so we are all in shock and are extremely saddened by his passing." Unbeaten in two race starts for Gai Waterhouse including taking out the Canonbury Stakes (Listed, 1100m) by three lengths before breaking down, Fighting Sun is the sire of 64 individual winners including Listed victor Chess Star. He covered 41 mares last year.

Vale Danzero

Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) winner and Group 1-producing stallion Danzero (Danehill) has died at the age of 28. The 1994 Slipper hero died peacefully in his paddock at Rosemont Stud in Victoria where he had been domiciled for almost a decade. Danzero was the first Group 1 winner for the all-conquering Danehill (Danzig), a sire lauded for reshaping the modern-day Australian thoroughbred industry. After winning four of his nine starts and more than $1.3 million in prize-money, Danzero was retired to stand at Arrowfield Stud for the 1995 breeding season. He achieved the rare feat of winning a Slipper and also siring the winner of the world's richest two-year-old race when Dance Hero won in 2004. Dance Hero was among six Group 1 winners for Danzero on a roll of honour which also included the likes of Niconero, Fairway, Danglissa, Danni Martine and Jymcarew. In total, he sired 669 individual winners from 1042 runners with 40 of his progeny successful at stakes level.

Rosemont pay tribute to founding stallion

Rosemont's flags were lowered to half-mast yesterday as plans were being made for a tribute to stand at the front of the office entrance to honour Danzero. A resident of Rosemont since his purchase from Arrowfield in 2011, Danzero covered three seasons before fertility issues saw him retired from duties. But Rosemont principal Anthony Mithen said the striking stallion will hold a special place in the hearts of those at the farm. "He was the first stallion to stand at Rosemont and was in fact the only stallion to stand at our original farm at Ceres," Mithen said. "He helped set in motion the stallion business for us and ultimately the purchase of Rosemont Gnarwarre from Tony Santic which is now home to our five-strong stallion roster."

Winter Championship trifecta to clash again

Grahame Begg is hoping Romancer (Redwood) can go one place better than last year when the six-year-old takes his chance in Saturday's Winter Championship Series Final (Listed, 1600m) at Flemington. The Begg-trained galloper split Reykjavik (Artie Schiller) and Holbien (Pierro) when finishing runner-up 12 months ago and the trio are in line to clash again on the weekend. Romancer will be having the fourth run of his campaign and Begg said the gelding's last start tenth behind another Winter Championship Series Final nomination,

Heptagon (Jimmy Choux), should be forgotten. "He didn't draw that well last time and he had a tough run so I'm hoping he can get a bit more of a cosier gate and be ridden with a bit of a cuddle," the trainer said. "The horse has trained on well since the other day, he looks fantastic, so I'm happy in that regard, and fourth-up he should be ready to go."

Harbour Views to undergo further testing

Harbour Views

SPORTPIX

Matthew Williams is hoping the results of a lung wash will shed some light on the disappointing performance of Harbour Views (Le Havre) at Caulfield on Saturday where the gelding could only manage a fourth place finish behind Mirimar (Kalanisi) having been sent out the $2.05 favourite. Racing Victoria stewards reported Harbour Views lame in the left fore-leg following the race, however Williams was not using that as an excuse. The trainer said Harbour Views was bright on Sunday morning with no associated heat in any of his joints. "He seems to be trotting up to me as he normally would so I'm not making any excuses from a soundness point of view," Williams said. "He's getting a lung wash done and I'm more suspicious in that area." The results of the test are expected to be known tomorrow.

Peters' pair to head east for Cox Plate

Leading Western Australia owner-breeder Bob Peters is hoping to gain further success in Victoria later this year with two runners being aimed at the Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m). All-Star Mile (1600m) winner Regal Power (Pierro) and Group 1 winner Arcadia Queen (Pierro) are both set to take their chance in traditional lead-up races to the $5 million contest. "Regal Power is coming along nicely and he enjoyed his spell after The All-Star Mile," Peters told Racing.com. "We'll aim to get him back around August and then he can head to the traditional lead-up races." Arcadia Queen will attempt to recapture the form which saw her win the Kingston Town Classic (Gr 1, 1800m) as a three-year-old and go on to be the favourite for the $7.5 million Golden Eagle (1500m) last year. "She's had a long time off now but I'm happy with how she's going," Peters added. "It'll be good to see how she goes in Victoria."

Mississippi Delta retired

Peters also announced that Mississippi Delta (High Chaparral), the winner of ten races including the Perth Cup (Gr 2, 2400m) has been retired following a disappointing performance in the Strickland Stakes (Gr 3, 2000m) at Belmont on Saturday. The six-year-old mare had failed to win in four starts since her Ascot triumph back in January, prompting connections to call time on her career. "She's been a fantastic mare for us and she'll go to the breeding barn now," Peters told Racing.com. "We always planned for her to have these three runs before retirement, it's just a shame she found wet tracks for all of them."

Injury ends Crack Me Up's career

The Bjorn Baker-trained Crack Me Up (Mossman) has been retired after re-injuring a fetlock when finishing unplaced in Saturday's Civic Stakes (Listed, 1350m) at

Crack Me Up

Rosehill. The gelding won the 2017 Villiers Stakes (Gr 2, 1600m) when trained by Liam Birchley, while the six-year-old also had stints with Toby and Trent Edmonds. He was a dual Group 3 winner after capturing the Sunshine Coast Guineas (Gr 3, 1600m) at three and the Liverpool City Cup (Gr 3, 1300m) at four, which was ultimately his final victory. Crack Me Up retires with more than $750,000 in prize-money earnings and will see out his life at Archer Park in Queensland.

'Tagaloa bigger and stronger'

Trent Busuttin and Natalie Young are thrilled with the progress reigning Blue Diamond Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) winner Tagaloa (Lord Kanaloa) has made during his time in the paddock over the winter, but the training duo aren't in any rush to lock in a spring program for him. "He had his first run up on Saturday and Michael Walker actually came up and galloped him on the course proper," Young told Racing.com. "He said he (Tagaloa) has come back a lot bigger and stronger and gave him a fantastic feel. We will probably kick him off in the McNeil (Stakes), the Group 3 at Caulfield. That or the Danehill a fortnight later.

Whether we go to the (Guineas) Prelude or the Golden Rose... we will just reassess as we get closer to the time."

Pat Hyland retires

After more than 60 years in racing as a jockey and a successful trainer, Pat Hyland has retired. Ill-health has forced Hyland to step away from a training partnership with his son Chris to spend time on his farm in rural Victoria. Inducted into the Australian Racing Hall of Fame in 2016, Hyland is one of only eight jockeys to have won Australian racing's grand slam - the Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m), Caulfield Cup (Gr 1, 2400m), Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m) and Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m). "He rode trackwork until he was 74 and then he slowed down a little bit in the last few years," Chris Hyland told RSN927. "He's had a few little health issues, but overall he's not too bad at the moment."

McDonald to appeal ban

James McDonald is set to appeal the three-week suspension he received for his ride on Threeood (Star Witness) earlier this month, which was deemed 'half-hearted' by Racing NSW stewards. McDonald was banned for the bulk of July when he was found guilty of a AR129(2) charge for 'Running and Handling' for his effort on Joe Pride's mare. The rule states: "A rider must take all reasonable and permissible measures throughout the race to ensure that the rider's horse is given full opportunity to win or to obtain the best possible place in the field". McDonald said yesterday he felt the ban was 'very harsh' and confirmed his intention to appeal as had been indicated at Friday's inquiry at Racing NSW headquarters.

NSW track rider injured

George Roberts, a trackwork rider for trainer Richard Litt, suffered a fall at Warwick Farm yesterday. He has a suspected abdominal injury after his mount reared over on top of him and was transported to Liverpool Hospital for further observation. Racing NSW's Dr. Duckworth reported that Roberts was rushed to surgery with a ruptured spleen. He may also have some fractured ribs and will be in hospital for the next few days recovering.

Australian-based Group 1-winning mare Rollout The Carpet (Holy Roman Emperor), in foal to The Autumn Sun (Redoute's Choice), is on offer in the unreserved dispersal sale live now on Gavelhouse Plus. The winner of the New Zealand 1000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m), Rollout The Carpet is offered alongside her weanling colt by Pierro (Lonhro) and her two winning half-sisters Vendella (Exceed and Excel) and Out Of Friendship (Tale Of The Cat) who is in foal to No Nay Never (Scat Daddy). Rollout The Carpet is part-owned by New Zealand's Bloodstock's international bloodstock manager John Cameron, who said: "She's a well-bred, highly-performed, quality mare. My partners Mr Fan, Mr Tung, the Orams and myself were very fortunate to have bred her and we enjoyed every moment of her racing career." Click here to view the sale, which will close at 7pm NZ time on Tuesday, July 7.

Feel The Rush heads to Australia

Kelvin Tyler's New Zealand Oaks (Gr 1, 2400m) placegetter Feel The Rush (Proisir) has joined Ciaran Maher and David Eustace's Sydney barn, however, Tyler's brother Allan and sister-in-law Marie have retained a half-share in the promising filly. "My brother actually owned her, so he has kept half a share, so it works out quite well," said Tyler, who trains in partnership with his daughter Aimee. "My brother already has a horse over with Ciaran at Ballarat, so we knew him a little bit and Allan was quite keen for her to go over to Ciaran's, so it fell into place quite nicely." The daughter of Proisir (Chosir) had produced three wins prior to her Oaks placing and Tyler believes she has the talent to be competitive across the Tasman.

High hopes for Lightning Jack

Meanwhile, Tyler has also fielded a few offers for Feel The Rush's dual stakes-winning stablemate Lightning Jack (Per Incanto). The gelding won the Gore Guineas (Listed, 1335m) and Southland Guineas (Listed, 1600m) before finishing third in the Wellington Guineas (Gr 2, 1400m) and his connections have rebuffed a couple of offers for the rising four-year-old. "He is quite exciting," Tyler said. "He is a good horse and could have easily gone over to Australia as well. My brother and sister-in-law own him as well and they are quite keen to have a horse racing in New Zealand." Tyler is looking forward to Lightning Jack returning to the stable in the coming weeks and is aiming him towards a return over the New Zealand Cup (Gr 3, 3200m) carnival in November.

Takarazuka Kinen winner favourite for Cox Plate

Chrono Genesis

MASAKAZU TAKAHASHI

Chrono Genesis (Bago) leapt to the head of the betting for the Cox Plate after the four-year-old mare gained an automatic start in the race by blitzing her rivals in Sunday's Takarazuka Kinen (Gr 1, 2200m) at Hanshin. Australian bookmakers elevated Chrono Genesis to the top line of Cox Plate betting as an $11 equal-favourite. Seven horses share that quote, including the Japanese pair Almond Eye (Lord Kanaloa) and Danon Premium (Deep Impact). Chrono Genesis is eligible for a $1 million bonus should she emulate Lys Gracieux (Heart's Cry) in completing the Takarazuka Kinen-Cox Plate double.

Russian Emperor spearheads O'Brien's Epsom challenge

Royal Ascot winner Russian Emperor (Galileo) is one of seven entries for Aidan O'Brien in Saturday's Epsom Derby (Gr 1, 1m 4f), as the champion trainer eyes his eighth victory in the British classic. The Hampton Court Stakes (Gr 3, 1m 2f) victor, who is out of four-time Group 1 winner Atlantic Jewel (Fastnet Rock), sits shortest in the betting of the O'Brien septet who feature among the 17 entries made for the race yesterday. The colt is as short as 13-2 with just Lingfield Derby Trial (Listed, 1m 3.5f) winner English King (Camelot) and Kameko (Kitten's Joy), winner of the 2,000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1m), ahead of him in the market.

Marquand keen on Derby ride

Tom Marquand may have lost the ride on favourite English King but the in-form rider has not given up hope of playing more than just a supporting role on Saturday, having picked up the ride on Khalifa Sat (Free Eagle). Marquand impressed on the Ahmad Al Shaikh-owned colt when landing the Cocked Hat Stakes (Listed, 1m 3f) at Goodwood and, with Frankie Dettori taking over on English King, trainer Andrew Balding has wasted no time in securing Marquand to renew his association with Khalifa Sat. "I think he holds attributes that are pretty strong factors in whether you run well or not at Epsom," said Marquand when assessing his partner's chance. "He showed at Goodwood he handles a tricky track, he's shown he's capable of winning, has a great attitude and he's pretty versatile with the ground. It's great to have a ride in the race and a decent ride at that."

Mishriff aimed at French Derby

The John Gosden-trained Mishriff (Make Believe) will bypass Epsom and instead be aimed at the following afternoon's Prix du Jockey-Club (Gr 1, 2100m) at Chantilly. The Newmarket Listed winner is among 27 colts entered for the race which includes four from Aidan O'Brien's stable and seven trained by his son Joseph. Andre Fabre's Victor Ludorum (Shamardal) will attempt to do the French Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) and Derby double while Fabre could also run the promising Ocean Atlantique (American Pharoah).

Classic-winning fillies set for Oaks clash

Stablemates Love (Galileo) and Peaceful (Galileo), winners of the 1,000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1m) on either side of the Irish Sea, remain on course to clash for the first time in Saturday's Epsom Oaks (Gr 1, 1m 4f). The duo, who are both trained by Aidan O'Brien, were among the 11 entries unveiled for the race yesterday. Also in the mix is the John Gosden-trained Frankly Darling (Frankel), an impressive winner of the Ribblesdale Stakes (Gr 2, 1m 4f) at Royal Ascot on her most recent outing.

Diane option for Alpine Star

Jessica Harrington's impressive Coronation Stakes (Gr 1, 1m) winner Alpine Star (Sea The Moon) is among 17 fillies entered for Sunday's Prix de Diane (Gr 1, 2100m). Donnacha O'Brien's Fancy Blue (Deep Impact) could make the trip along with his brother Joseph's New York Girl (New Approach), while their father Aidan has left in Irish Guineas winner Peaceful. # Allendorf eye's a Derby start for Beauty Wink

BY HARRY TROY | @RACINGMACAU

Geoff Allendorf has an anxious wait to see if his talented galloper Beauty Wink (Medaglia d'Oro) gains a berth in next month's Macau Derby (Listed, 1800m) to be run on July 19, following his impressive win in Sunday's Class 3 (1500m).

Fired out of the gates by Brazilian Fausto Henrique, Beauty Wink took command of the race from the outset and ran out an easy one and three quarter length winner over Fortune Generation (Pour Moi), with Autumn Cloud (New Approach) in third.

The win gave the good looking son of Medaglia d'Oro (El Prado) his third win from only six starts with one second placing and two luckless unplaced efforts.

Prior to the race, Allendorf was adamant that Beauty Wink was not fully wound up having only one run since January, but added that he thought he had done enough to take out Sunday's race.

"It's been a difficult time for him as he has had hoof issues and had to miss the Derby Trial and the Guineas but for the moment things are good with him," Allendorf said.

"I'd be expecting a penalty of eight points and upwards for this win so that will bring him up on the borderline for a Derby run. I don't really want to run him again before the Derby but I'll just wait and see."

Allendorf already has the ultra consistent

Beauty Wink

MJC

Oneofthegreats in the Derby field following his game third in the Macau Guineas (Listed, 1500m), and with Beauty Wink he has a horse whose potential is still untapped.

Beauty Wink was originally earmarked for Hong Kong following two impressive barrier trial wins at Cranbourne but was found to be blind in the offside eye. Macau being one of the few jurisdictions in the world that allows one eyed horses to compete was then the logical choice for owners Kwok Siu Ming and David Price.

Allendorf knows what it takes to win a Derby having won the blue riband event with Lucky And Wealthy (Strada) under German rider Andy Helfenbein in 2013, and again with Turquoise Power (More Than Ready) with Joao Moreira in the saddle in 2016.

The win by Beauty Wink gave Allendorf a double for the afternoon having won the first of the day, the Class 5 & 6 (1500m) with bolter Luen On Prodigy (Husson) ridden by Stephane Ladjadj.

The most impressive winner on Sunday was no doubt the Patrick Lee-trained Crispy

Biscuit (Written Tycoon) who overcame huge difficulties to win the Class 2 (1200m).

Ridden by Peter Ho, Crispy Biscuit was badly checked out of the gates and was a clear last on settling. In a typical Peter Ho ride, the talented hoop let the horse balance up and then began to work his way up to the tail of the field.

The gelding struck more trouble when he began to overace and got on the heels of a few stragglers at the eight hundred corner, before threading a path through the field. Once in the straight, the son of Written Tycoon (Iglesia) powered home over the top of his rivals to win by two lengths from the bolter Royal Good Friend (Golden Archer), with Destiny's Choice (Sepoy) in third.

Crispy Biscuit has now won three races from only five starts in Macau and is no doubt destined for Class 1 given his brilliant display on Sunday. Prior to being imported to Macau, the gelding raced in Queensland as Shaken Not Stirred and won two races at Ipswich over 1100 and 1200 metres when prepared by Matthew Park.

Lee later made it a double when his old timer Mission Gdragon (Jet Spur) took out the Class 3 & 4 (1200m) to also give Henrique a double for the afternoon.

Mission Gdragon, a rising eight-year-old has been a great money-spinner for owners Mr. and Mrs. Cheng Win Bor, having won nine races in the enclave and placed a further 21 times from his 75 starts, earning close to HK$3.2 million prize-money.

The son of Jet Spur (Flying Spur) was the very first winner from the original Online Magic Millions 2YO's in Training Sales from 2014. The sale for the very first time was streamed live to the MJC Members Lounge and was the forerunner to the successful concept that can continues to produce a steady stream of winners in the enclave. Mission Gdragon has proved a real steal for his owners being only a AU$32,000 purchase, and judging by Sunday's victory the old boy is not done with yet.

Golden Conqueror (Rothsay) made it seven wins from only eight runs when he again gave a dazzling display of speed to win Class 1 & 2 (1050m) on Friday night.

Ridden by regular jockey Roger Yu, Golden

Conqueror flew the gates to cross from barrier 12 to lead easily and stretched his lead to a four lengths margin on straightening. Second place getter Loxwood (Pierro) momentarily looked as though he was going to make a race of it when he went out after the three year old son of Rothsay (Fastnet Rock), but like a good horse Golden Conqueror pulled out plenty to score untroubled. Oriental Profit (Mastercraftsman) ran on well from the back from third.

Golden Conqueror has proved a great buy for his connections the Golden Pistols Racing Syndicate having been purchased for only AU$55,000 at the 2018 Inglis Ready 2 Race Sale, that was conducted at the Inglis Riverside Stables Complex at Warwick Farm.

Roger Yu enjoyed a big weekend booting home four winners in all.

As well as Golden Conqueror, Yu was successful on the very promising Akeli Sword (Dissident) for trainer Alan Tam in the Class 4 over (1050m).

Akeli Swords made it three wins from five starts all on the sand with an easy victory over Star Of Yiu Sun (Swiss Ace), with race favorite Diamond Moonlight (The Wow Signal) back in third.

Still So Cute (Thewayyouare) also from the Alan Tam yard gave Yu a treble on Friday night with an all the way win in the Class 3 (1510m), then the duo backed up again on Sunday with Die Casting Alloy (Dream Ahead) winning the Class 5 & 6 (1500m) to make it three for the weekend for Tam.
