The now Australian-based Johnson, who previously forged his career as an agent in the UK under the guidance of the respected Hubie de Burgh, was instrumental in the purchase of the Anthony and Sam Freedman-trained Warning as a yearling and wisely chose to keep a share in the gelding.

He rewarded Johnson's faith by winning last year's Victoria Derby (Gr 1, 2500m) at Flemington and raced four times at Group 1 level in Sydney and Adelaide during the autumn behind horses such as Shadow Hero (Pierro), Castelveccchio (Dundeel), Quick Thinker (So You Think) and Russian Camelot (Camelot).

Warning will again clash with his four-year-old peers Quick Thinker, Dalasan (Dalakhani) and Makybe Diva Stakes favourite Russian Camelot in the Flemington weight for age race on Saturday, but Johnson was not expecting him to be causing an upset.

Johnson said Warning had been given two grass gallops and jump-outs at Mornington to prepare him for his spring return.

"I was speaking to Sam Freedman earlier in the week and he said that he might be carrying a little bit more surplus (weight) than what you normally would going into a first-up run, which is probably a sign that he's developed and matured and maintained that good baseline through the spell," Johnson said yesterday.

"Although the first Tuesday in November is around the corner, he's got quite a few kilometres to get into his legs, so I am sure Anthony and Sam will know exactly how to program him so that he is coming into form around then."

Warning

Johnson is hopeful that Warning, who was handed 53 kilograms for both the Caulfield and Melbourne Cups when weights were released on Tuesday, can improve on his autumn form and loom as a genuine chance at Flemington in a race that is expected to be light on international horses.

"Coming to Sydney, his first three runs there, he was never far off them and he was hitting the line behind those horses with quite lofty reputations," he said.

"If you go back and watch the ride in the (Australian) Derby - and I don't want to be too unkind to the jockey (Tommy Berry) who has to make split-second decisions - the horse just had to do too much, too early and the race was over before it had begun.

"From there, he went to Adelaide and acquitted himself well but, probably off a few hard runs, by the time he got the (South Australian) Derby he might just have been running on tired legs (when third)."

Billy Egan will ride Warning, a $41 chance, from barrier nine in Saturday's Makybe Diva.

Johnson on market watch

Operating within the constraints of Covid-19, Johnson's bloodstock agency has still been active, brokering deals for Group 1-winning mares Amphitrite (Sebring) and Seabrook (Hinchinbrook) to be sent to Japan while also negotiating for horses to be bought and sold in Europe and the US.

"Everyone's had to adapt to the situation that's presented itself. One door closes on travelling internationally, another one opens domestically," he said.

"It's been a very fruitful sales season with Darby Racing securing 27 yearlings from the Classic (sale) up until recently and a handful of them are looking to be at the trials in the next couple of weeks which is exciting.

"(Covid-19) probably hasn't slowed down international transactions or purchases, either, and there's been a few broodmares that I've been able to purchase that are heading to Japan and to America.

"There's also been a few deals done in Europe through Hubie. It's more about utilising my contacts through my trips overseas to ensure business is done. With technology, photos and videos being up to scratch and a guy like Hubie being able to inspect a horse for me, the lines of business are still open."

While unlikely to feature on the buyers' sheet at Arqana in France or at Fasig-Tipton and Keeneland in the US in the coming days, the young agent will have more than a passing interest in the results.

"It's probably not normally my market, but I'm more interested in the depths of the sales," he said.

"Goffs Doncaster was a long way off the pace compared to previous years, so I am more interested to see how the market holds up in Europe and America.

"I am sure the top-end will, but the middle to bottom end is very important and hopefully for all consignors in those jurisdictions, the market holds up as resilient as we've seen that it can be in difficult times."

Childs picks up Dalasan ride

Dalasan

SPORTPIX

In-form jockey Jordan Childs will have the chance to add another Group 1 to his CV after picking up the ride on leading fancy Dalasan (Dalakhani) in Saturday's Makybe Diva Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m) at Flemington. The four-year-old is set to step back up into the highest grade for the first time since finishing second behind Russian Camelot (Camelot) in the South Australian Derby (Gr 1, 2500m) back in May and co-trainer Leon MacDonald is hoping his charge can make the crucial breakthrough on the weekend. "I'd love to win a Group 1 race with him. He deserves to and this race was always on our agenda," MacDonald said. "He's got Group 1 ability and he deserves to win one at that level. He'll run very well and I'm hoping it's a win, but it's a deep field." MacDonald and co-trainer Andrew Gluyas have set the Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m) as their main spring goal for Dalasan. "Ideally that's the race we'd like to get him to so he needs to be running well to justify that plan," MacDonald added.

Baker's cup hopes
settle in well

Australian Derby (Gr 1, 2400m) winner Quick

Thinker (So You Think) will kick off his Cup campaign in the Makybe Diva Stakes on a Flemington card where stablemate The Chosen One (Savabeel) will also be looking to put down his marker for the spring features. Mick Dee will ride both horses and Murray Baker, who trains the pair in partnership with Andrew Forsman, is pleased with the reports from travelling foreperson Aleisha Legg. "They've settled in pretty well and the fact they have been there before is a big help," Baker said. "They're in the same boxes as last year." Both horses have had two trials in New Zealand ahead of their Melbourne campaign but are expected to improve for their respective runs. "I am picking that both of them will need the run, but we are pleased where they are at," Baker said. "We will see how they go on Saturday and then make a plan, but there are plenty of options in Melbourne in the spring."

Jockey to make most of
Moor opportunities

With Jamie Kah suspended and Damien Thornton also on the sidelines through injury, Daniel Moor looks set to pick up plenty of rides for the in form Matthew Ellerton and Simon Zahra team "Daniel has been working extremely hard and he's as honest as they come," Zahra told Racing.com. "With Jamie and Damien out, he's stepped up and he's riding well for us." Moor won on the stable's well backed Crystal Chief (Written Tycoon) at Wangaratta on Monday and Zahra confirmed he'll wear the same silks aboard Forever Free (Exceed And Excel) in Saturday's Cap D'Antibes Stakes (Listed, 1100m) at Flemington. "He'll be getting more opportunities for us including Forever Free this Saturday," the co-trainer added.

Waterhouse stands by bold Farnan call

Farnan

SPORTPIX

Hall of Fame trainer Gai Waterhouse remains confident that Group 1 winner Farnan (Not A Single Doubt) will pick up where he left off last season by taking out Saturday's Run To The Rose (Gr 2, 1200m). Waterhouse tweeted last month "Farnan will not be beaten," a bold statement she stands by as post time for a red-hot running of the Rosehill Group 2 contest moves ever closer. "You don't make a strongly worded statement unless you feel the horse can back it up," Waterhouse told RacingNSW. "It's a privilege to be training an outstanding athlete and Farnan proved he was the superior colt in Australasia winning the Golden Slipper. It's a nice bunch of three-year-olds but they are all inferior to him. Well, they were as two-year-olds." Farnan won five of his six starts as a juvenile, culminating in his length and three-quarter success in the Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) at Rosehill in March. He lines up on Saturday off the back of two trial wins at Randwick last month, and Waterhouse, who trains in partnership with Adrian Bott continued: "He's matured, I just like his demeanour. Hugh (Bowman, jockey) is very excited by the colt, he said to me he couldn't believe how light he is on his feet. When he does go into battle, and we've only seen him in trials recently, he puts them away and he puts them away convincingly."

Begg's cautious approach with Nonconformist

Grahame Begg meanwhile is taking a much more conservative approach with his Caulfield Cup (Gr 1, 2400m) hope Nonconformist (Rebel Raider) after deciding against running the four-year-old at Flemington on Saturday. "His blood picture wasn't 100 per cent spot on, so I decided to wait," Begg told Racing.com. "He's going to run again in a couple of weeks. It's not a setback, it's just we weren't 100 per cent happy. He won't miss too much."

Vandyke anxious about Alligator's return

Alligator Blood

SPORTPIX

David Vandyke has admitted he is getting apprehensive ahead of his stable star Alligator Blood's (All Too Hard) eagerly anticipated return at Doomben on Saturday. The Group 1 winner has drawn barrier five where he is set to carry top-weight of 61 kilograms in the Open Quality Handicap (1110m). "This is a bit different to most Saturdays for me and I'm a little nervous," Vandyke told Racing.com. Alligator Blood is due to head for either The Golden Eagle (1500m) or The Everest (1200m) after the weekend and Vandyke continued: "We haven't got a slot yet for The Everest, but I wouldn't deny his owner the chance to run in the world's richest race on turf even though I'm not in love about heading that way. If he doesn't get a slot, he'll go for The Silver Eagle first before The Golden Eagle."

Jump-out for Behemoth

Memsie Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m) winner Behemoth (All Too Hard) is likely to have a jump-out at Murray Bridge this morning as his trainer David Jolly puts the finishing touches to the five-year-old's preparations ahead of his start in next week's Sir Rupert Clarke Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m) at Caulfield. "As he gears up for a return to Melbourne and Caulfield for a crack at another Group 1 in Saturday week's Sir Rupert Clarke Stakes, he will just probably need one more significant hit-out," Jolly told Racing.com. "He hasn't done a great deal since the Memsie win, just worked a bit of evens a couple of times. It has really just been maintenance work with him, ticking him over and keeping him happy and I'm pleased to report he is in great order."

Moore's having Crack at Theo Marks

Brothers John and Gary Moore will saddle up their first stakes runner as a training partnership when Crack On Crack On (Havana Gold) makes his Australian debut in Saturday's Theo Marks Stakes (Gr 2, 1300m) at Rosehill. The lightly-raced six-year-old has not raced since placing in the Hong Kong Derby (Listed, 2000m) in March last year and Gary is keen to see how he handles his local debut. "He is a classy animal. He ran third in the Hong Kong Derby so it's very exciting we've got him down here in Australia and having a stakes runner on Saturday is very special," Moore said. "He's going into Saturday's race off a very good trial at Rosehill last week. He hasn't run for a long time so whatever he does, he is going to improve immensely."

Aysar off to the Caulfield Guineas

A tilt at next month's Caulfield Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) is on the agenda for Aysar (Deep Field) after the colt returned with a win at Sandown yesterday. "He's a pretty exciting horse going forward," co-trainer Ben Hayes said after Aysar took out the Benchmark 64 for three-year-olds over 1300 metres. He did a good job. Luke (Nolen) rode him well. He was a bit fresh and hit the front too soon and then he stargazed as he hadn't run for 70 days. He will take a lot of benefit from this run."

Derby on agenda for Oceanography

Oceanography (Ocean Park) will head to the Victoria Derby Trial (1800m) at Flemington

in a fortnight after breaking maiden ranks at Sandown yesterday. The Ciaran Maher and David Eustace-trained colt took charge turning for home and ran away to win by three-quarters of a length. "We have been patient with him. He has been in work a while and we have just chipped away with him and gradually increased his workload," Eustace said. "The last six weeks he has really thrived with the weather changing. He got in a nice spot and stretched well. He is going to get a bit further and hopefully we can keep pushing on." Stablemate Let's Karaka Deel (Dundeel), a last-start Swan Hill maiden winner on August 24, is also considered as a Victoria Derby (Gr 1, 2500m) prospect for Oceanography's owners Flying Start Syndications.

Cup dream still alive for Glory Days

The Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) dream is still alive for Group 1-winning stayer Glory Days (Red Giant) with trainer Bill Thurlow taking the 'you have got to be in it to win it' mentality. "The dream's still alive, but only just," he said. "The owners were pretty keen to nominate her, so we did. You would be kicking yourself if she came up really well and you didn't have a nomination." Glory Days was heading towards the Melbourne Cup last year, however, those plans were curtailed through injury. She subsequently returned to the track in February, when she posted two unplaced results before finishing fourth in the New Zealand St Leger (Listed, 2600m). She was retired after that run but was subsequently brought back into work after her sale to overseas interests fell through.

Perth sprinter Fabergino heading to Moir

Western Australia sprint star Fabergino (Maschino) is on course to take her chance on the A.J. Moir Stakes (Gr 1, 1000m) at Moonee Valley on September 25 after setting off on her trip to Melbourne yesterday. The Tiarnna Robertson-trained speedster has won each of her last four starts, including the Northam Stakes (Gr 3, 1100m) back in May on her most recent outing.

Garrison tops Inglis Digital Sale

Wyong trainer Kim Waugh believes Garrison (I Am Invincible), yesterday's Inglis Digital September (Early) Online Auction sale-topper, will develop into an ideal Provincial Championships galloper. Waugh parted with $95,000 for lightly-raced four-year-old, a winner of two of his past three starts for former trainers Peter and Paul Snowden, whom Waugh sought advice from prior to purchasing the gelding. "I had a chat to Peter and Paul about him, they both really liked him as a horse and his form is really good, he's probably been a bit unlucky not to have won a couple more races actually so it's nice to be taking him home," Waugh said. The second top lot was the four-year-old mare The Spell (Rubick), offered unreserved by Paul Perry Horse Training in the broodmare category, who was purchased by Boomer Bloodstock on behalf of Daandine Stud. Craig Rounsefell went to $85,000 to secure the half-sister to Group 1 winner The Mission (Choisir) and the stakes-placed two-year-old Smart Amelia (Smart Missile).

Weir's lawyer calls for case to be thrown out

The defence acting on behalf of Melbourne Cup-winning trainer Darren Weir has told a committal hearing at the Ballarat Magistrates' Court that he'll press to have the case against his client thrown out. Weir, along with his former stable employees Jarrod McLean, William Hernan and Tyson Kermond, are contesting charges including animal cruelty and conspiring to defraud racing stewards. Weir's lawyer, Ian Hill QC, described the conspiracy charges as 'misconceived' and 'duplicitous' after accusing Victoria Police of withholding evidence that could see his client cleared of the charges. The Crown case relies on covert footage recorded on October 30, 2018 that allegedly shows electric shocks being administered to horses in Weir's care. However, the court heard that detectives had recorded hundreds of hours of additional footage at Weir's stables in which nothing untoward had happened.

Winks forced to call it quits

Group 1-winning jockey James Winks has been forced to call time on his career due to a medical condition. Winks has been diagnosed as suffering from Syncope, a medical term for fainting or passing out, due to a temporary drop in blood flow to the brain, which is often caused by physical stress, dehydration, heavy sweating and exhaustion. "The main recoveries for that are being hydrated, avoiding extreme heat exposure and that's quite the opposite to my profession of being a jockey," Winks told Racing.com. "So unfortunately, on medical advice it's been in the best interests to force my early retirement, the decision has been made for me to call time on my career in the saddle as a jockey and now I'm looking forward to the next chapter that lies ahead."

Dunn rules out spring return

Dwayne Dunn

SPORTPIX

Dwayne Dunn faces a minimum of six weeks on the sidelines as a result of the injuries he suffered in a barrier incident at Moonee Valley on the weekend. Dunn said yesterday that after seeing specialists for the two fractures to his C6 vertebra sustained when he struck his head on the barrier stalls, he has been fitted with a neck brace for an indefinite period. "It looks like six to eight weeks," Dunn told Racing.com. "I've got another x-ray on the 23rd of this month to see how it's healing, but that's the spring for me. It's right at the wrong time, but you always take your health."

NSW jockey Skerritt injured

Alena Skerritt was injured after her mount reared over on top of her while the pair were walking off the Gosford track yesterday morning. Skerritt, who suffered concussion in the incident, was taken to Royal North Shore Hospital for observation after complaining of pain across her body.

New racecourse manager at Ballarat

Ballarat Turf Club yesterday announced the appointment of Nick Stubbs as racecourse manager. Stubbs, who has worked at Ballarat for more than ten years and currently holds the assistant racecourse manager position, will replace the departing Dylan O'Neill.

NEW ZEALAND

Julius unlikely for Tarzino

Group 1 winner Julius (Swiss Ace) is unlikely to take his chance in Saturday week's Tarzino Trophy (Gr 1, 1400m). The nine-year-old gelding finished seventh in the Foxbridge Plate (Gr 2, 1200m) last weekend at Te Rapa but is under a fitness cloud. "He didn't come out of the Foxbridge Plate particularly well," trainer John Bell said. "All four fetlocks are red raw, the back ones especially are really quite bad. To go into a Group 1 race you need to be 100 per cent and to do that by Saturday week is not looking good."

El Roca filly impresses

The Lance O'Sullivan and Andrew Scott-trained Escudo (El Roca) created a good impression when shedding her maiden tag at Matamata yesterday. The filly was placed once as a two-year-old and she showed she had made good progression from two to three when winning the GCM Feeds Maiden (1200m). "It was pleasing how she settled well and quickened in what looked to be an even little field," Scott said. "The way she quickened, she looks like she will get over further, which is probably a necessity as a three-year-old going forward into the season. We always had high hopes for her, but the Covid lockdown and the extra time she got has been a massive aid to her and looking at her today in the ring, she has bloomed into a lovely big filly."

Trial winner for Belardo

Haunui Farm shuttle stallion Belardo (Lope De Vega) has made a splash in the northern hemisphere this year with his first crop and now his southern progeny are turning heads. Belardo's first southern hemisphere crop are starting to hit the track now, with a two-year-old colt winning his 700-metre trial by a length and three-quarters at Ellerslie on Tuesday for trainer Jamie Richards. "The Te Akau team have had a bit of an opinion of that horse and he looked really professional on Tuesday," Haunui Farm managing director Mark Chitty said. There has been plenty of interest in Belardo early in the breeding season, according to Chitty. "He is a well patronised horse because we have got some partners, like we had with Iffraaj, that have supported the horse. He is a multiple Group 1 winner and a two-year-old champion in Europe. He is a highly credentialed horse and I have been pleased with the support."

ASIA

HK travel bubble being considered

The prospects of Australian representation at December's International meeting at Sha Tin looked to increase yesterday when it was revealed that Hong Kong is considering a "travel bubble" with Australia and ten other countries. The region's commerce minister Edward Yau Tang-wah said anyone allowed to travel within the bubble would be required to undergo Covid-19 testing at both ends of their journey. "We need to ensure that a coronavirus test - that is mutually recognised - can be carried out before travelling, and another verification is needed after arrival," Mr Yah said during a press conference in Hong Kong today, according to the South China Morning Post. "Our health authorities would then proceed to further discussion with those countries." In addition to Australia, the other countries being considered as part of the Hong Kong bubble are New Zealand, Japan, Malaysia, Singapore, South Korea, Thailand, Vietnam, France, Germany and Switzerland. The Hong Kong International meeting, which features four Group 1 contests, is this year scheduled to take place on December 13.

INTERNATIONAL

20 for Foxwedge

Woodside Park resident Foxwedge (Fastnet Rock) sired his 20th individual stakes winner when Foxtrot Lady (5 m ex Strictly Dancing by Danehill Dancer) finished well up the stands' side rail under Frankie Dettori to land the Sceptre Stakes (Gr 3, 7f) at Doncaster yesterday. The Andrew Balding-trained five-year-old was winning for the fifth time in 28 starts when she defeated favourite Althia (Dark Angel) by a length and a quarter, with the winner's stablemate Bounce The Blues (Excelebration) running on well to be just another head away in third. Foxtrot Lady is the third foal out of Strictly Dancing (Danehill Dancer), who herself is a half-sister to the dam of the French Group 2 winner Norse King (Norse Dancer). Foxwedge stands at Woodside Park Stud in Victoria for a fee of $11,000 (inc. GST) in 2020.

35 for Bahamian Bounty

The late Bahamian Bounty (Cadeaux Genereux) sired his 35th individual stakes winner when Tarboosh (7 g ex Mullen by Oasis Dream) overcame a tardy start to take out the Scarborough Stakes (Listed, 5f) at Doncaster yesterday. The Paul Midgely-trained seven-year-old was winning for the 12th time in 44 starts when he beat Urban Beat (Red Jazz) by a length and a quarter, with favourite Dakota Gold (Equiano) another neck away in third. Dual Group 1 winner Bahamian Bounty died at the National Stud in Newmarket earlier this year at the age of 26.

Miss Amulet sold to powerhouse owners

Miss Amulet (Sir Prancealot), a cheap yearling purchase who has been transformed into a high-class two-year-old by trainer Ken Condon, has been sold to Coolmore's Michael Tabor and partners in a private deal. The Group 2-winning juvenile is set to remain under the care of the Classic-winning trainer and is being aimed at the Cheveley Park Stakes (Gr 1, 6f). Miss Amulet has changed hands for modest sums at public auction on two occasions, having been pinhooked by Rockview Stables for €1,000 as a foal before bloodstock agent Michael Donohoe of BBA Ireland secured the filly on behalf of owner Colm Griffin for the bargain sum of £7,500 at last year's Tattersalls Ascot Yearling Sale. Despite those lowly early price tags, Miss Amulet has gone on to prove herself one of the season's best two-year-old fillies, having won the Marwell Stakes (Listed, 5f) before taking the step up in class in her stride to land the Lowther Stakes (Gr 2, 6f) by a length on her latest outing.

Experienced Victorian vendor Nolen 'pressing ahead' to Magic Millions 2YOs In Training Sale

BY TIM ROWE | @ANZ_NEWS

Tal Nolen, who educated and sold Saturday's Singapore Derby (Listed, 1800m) winner Top Knight (Zoustar) and topped last year's Magic Millions 2YOs In Training Sale with a $525,000 No Nay Never (Scat Daddy) colt, will return to the Gold Coast in November with a select draft of horses for the breeze-up sale.

The Victorian trainer and respected two-year-old consignor, who has forged a reputation of well educated and talented horses at Australia's juvenile sales, has a draft of nine heading north for the November auction in Queensland.

Magic Millions last night released a 210-lot catalogue for the November 10 sale which features 144 horses who are BOBS eligible, 31 who are nominated for the sales company's rich race series, while four and three horses are entered for the Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) and Blue Diamond Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) respectively.

Despite the uncertainty surrounding the market, and the fact that international buyers will almost certainly be unable to attend the sale in person, Nolen is remaining positive ahead of the two-year-old sale series.

"I'm just pressing ahead as normal. We can't control the other end, we have just got to try and produce horses that they want, which I think we've got this year, so we're just hopeful like every other year, really," Nolen told ANZ Bloodstock News yesterday.

"We will be able to get the horses up there, but whether we can go with the mandatory 14 days of quarantine currently being in place, that will probably curtail us a bit, but we've got some staff teed up if we can't go.

"David Chester (from Magic Millions) seems pretty bullish about the market and he is generally pretty much on the money."

Among Nolen's draft of colts are two sons of champion sire Exceed And Excel (Danahill) and another by Newgate Farm's Deep Field (Northern Meteor). Under the Nolen Racing banner, he also has colts by Pride Of Dubai (Street Cry), Sebring (More Than Ready) and Foxwedge (Fastnet Rock).

The experienced Nolen expects his offering of horses to show up at the Seymour breeze-up session which is scheduled for October 9 given they are showing him that they have the mental aptitude to deal with the rigours of training and racing.

"Temperament is pretty important, I really do think that they have got to have that attitude to cope," he said.

"They are all a pretty professional lot this year, so I would expect them all to run down nicely."

He also has colts by first season shuttle sires Cable Bay (Invincible Spirit) and Shalaa (Invincible Spirit) as well as the Caulfield Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) winner Divine Prophet (Choisir).

"They both tend to go all right, the Shalaa and the Cable Bay that we've got. I think they look like they will make it as sires in the southern hemisphere, I'd say, on what we've seen of them," Nolen predicted.

"The Divine Prophet is also a really nice horse and I don't mind (his stock) as they are great eaters and they are looking like they are going to cop the work, so I'd say they're a chance as well."

Past Magic Millions sale graduates include this year's Stradbroke Handicap (Gr 1, 1400m) winner Tyzone (Written Tycoon), smart stakes-winning sprinter Victorem (I Am Invincible), the popular The Candy Man (Casino Prince) and talented mare Krone (Eurozone), a last-start winner of the Glasshouse Handicap (Listed, 1400m) on the Sunshine Coast in July.

"This is a two-year-old sale with proven stakes results for buyers," Magic Millions managing director Barry Bowditch said.

"The Gold Coast 2YOs in Training Sale produces more winners and has the best strike-rate of the three breeze-up style auctions in Australasia. The reason for this is the professionalism of our vendors who are among the most experienced and successful two-year-old sale vendors in the region."

Magic Millions, which has "opened the batting" in recent years for the two-year-old sales, pushed back its 2020 sale from October to November in the hope that Covid-19 restrictions may have eased, leaving rival Inglis' Ready2Race auction to go first, on October 20.

The New Zealand Bloodstock Karaka Sale of 2YOs will follow on soon after the Gold Coast, with November 18 and 19 set aside for the auction.

Nolen's son Shaun also has a draft of three colts heading to the Gold Coast under the JCS Thoroughbreds banner, while the pair will also offer eight two-year-olds at the Inglis Ready 2 Race Sale.

Other interesting contenders are Lilac Road, Ubuntu and Prado in a very informative May Hill. [Steve Boow]
