Aquis Farm to maintain stallions as full roster relocates to Queensland

Fung reassures industry that stud will remain major players

BY TIM ROWE | @ANZ_NEWS

Aquis Farm will consolidate its stallion operations in Queensland in the latest shake-up of the large-scale racing and breeding operation, bringing an end to its four-year interstate stud experiment, with high-profile Group 1 winner Pierata (Pierro) to spearhead a 15-strong line-up at Canungra.

Justin Fung, Aquis Farm's president, moved quickly to reassure breeders that he and his Hong Kong-based father Tony would remain major players in the Australian thoroughbred industry after months of speculation about their future.

"I am cognisant of the fact that people question what the future of Aquis is or what our motivations are, but I really hope that this is something we are doing to really address all that and I think it speaks volumes about the approach we are taking right now," Fung told ANZ Bloodstock News from the US yesterday.

When questioned further, Fung reiterated that the Aquis racing and breeding empire would not be disappearing from the Australian industry any time soon.

"Aquis is 100 per cent here to stay. If this doesn't quell some of the rumours, I am not really sure what else I can do to address them," he said.

"While there have been changes in the past, I really want to reassure people that this is the vision going forward and we are now on the path."

That vision will see Pierata, Invader (Snitzel), Brave Smash (Tosen Phantom), Divine Prophet (Choisir), Spieth (Thorn Park), Santos (I Am Invincible), Jukebox (Snitzel) and Bellevue Hill (Pierro) stand at Aquis' Gold Coast property after spending last season at Lincoln Farm in the Hunter Valley.

They will join the likes of Dubious (Not A Single Doubt), The Mission (Choisir), Kiss And Make Up (More Than Ready) and Performer (Exceed And Excel) on the 2021 Aquis stallion roster.

Aquis, which started in 2015 on the Gold Coast, had been leasing Emirates Park at Murrurundi since 2017 but was forced to shift its Hunter Valley operations to Lincoln Farm at Blandford after plans to stand the NSW roster at Gooree Park Stud were abandoned.

It also relinquished its lease on a property at Seymour in Victoria after two years, which has now been taken over by Leneva Park where resident stallions Lean Mean Machine (Zoustar) and Royal Meeting (Invincible Spirit) remain.

In December, ANZ Bloodstock News revealed that Aquis Farm had made three nominations team members and two marketing staff redundant as it overhauled its stud business.

A month later, management was considering offers from rival studs to take on its Hunter Valley-based stallions with a decision initially expected to be made in early February on the successful suitors, but it did not come to fruition.

Fung yesterday went some way in addressing the upheaval and dramatic change in strategy.

"Stallions are a long-term plan and things change year-to-year, but ultimately, you have to be in this for the long game," he said.

"We did take a few years to find our place and find our way and we've learned a lot. Now we think we have refined our model and our strategies and we're looking long-term with this process moving forward."

He added: "At the time (of starting Aquis Farm) we weren't sure

Justin and Tony Fung

AQUIS FARM

Queensland was ready and it took five years for us to learn and gain the confidence that this was in fact the case.

"The consolidation makes sense when we realised Queensland was ready and to bring everything back home."

Director of sales Jonathan Davies will oversee the stallion division in Queensland.

"I am incredibly excited. It is really a dream come true for myself and it's a massive shot in the arm for the Queensland breeding industry," Davies said yesterday.

"Queensland breeders have shown that they are a resilient bunch and they have supported us through the past few years and I think it is as much a reward for them as it is for us to get the horses here.

"All our shareholders and lifetime breeding rights holders have been notified today and we have been overwhelmed by the support and the reception we have received."

Now that Aquis has recommitted to standing stallions, Fung will liaise with Davies and the management team about other aspects of the business such as staffing.

"Jonathan Davies is our director of sales and whether we add staff or not, that is a discussion he is going to be having with me soon about what he needs to get his job done properly," Fung said.

"With the staff we do have in Queensland at the moment, I am 100 per cent confident in their ability to get the job done."

Aquis Farm, which sold high-class sprinting mare Houtzen (I Am Invincible) at the Keeneland November Breeding Stock Sale for US$1.5 million last year, still holds a high-quality broodmare portfolio which would be used to support the large stallion roster.

As for the stud selling bloodstock under its own banner or through other vendors, Fung revealed those

While there had been speculation over the future of the Aquis' stallion operation, Tony Fung sent a clear message to the market in January at the Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale about his commitment to the industry, when he bought 19 yearlings in partnership with Phoenix Thoroughbreds for $11.6 million.

Fung, who raced last year's Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) winner Farnan (Not A Single Doubt), also bought the record-priced $525,000 Fastnet Rock (Danehill) colt on day one of this week's Magic Millions Adelaide Yearling Sale.

"My father is extremely excited about pushing forward with the racing division," he said.

"We have been strong so far through 2021 and you are going to see that through the rest of the sales season going into (Inglis) Easter."

As part of Aquis' announcement, it also released the 2021 service fees for its roster which is headed by Pierata, who will remain at an unchanged fee of $44,000 (inc GST) after covering 168 mares, including 65 stakes performers, in his first season at stud last year.

Invader (Snitzel), whose first crop yearlings have sold up to $550,000 this year, will also remain at an unchanged fee of $22,000.

Cornerstone's time to shine as Hayes' Capitalist colt makes $425,000

BY TIM ROWE @ANZ_NEWS

A colt by boom sire Capitalist (Written Tycoon), who commanded competition from two significant international entities, has capped a record Magic Millions Adelaide Yearling Sale and provided famed local stud Cornerstone with the impetus to consider offering more of its best-credentialed horses to the market in South Australia.

Prominent Singapore outfit Aramco Racing, bidding online, won the $425,000 battle for the prized Cornerstone Stud-bred and consigned colt after being pushed by under-bidder, US-owned Spendthrift Australia.

Garry Cuddy, Spendthrift Australia's general manager, was at the Adelaide sale complex in the hope of landing the second-crop Capitalist yearling, who is by the same sire as leading Golden Slipper Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) contenders Profiteer and Kalashnikov.

The colt was the fourth to break the auction's previous highest-priced yearling sold by Magic Millions in Adelaide, which was set in 2006 at $340,000. On Tuesday, a $525,000 Fastnet Rock (Danehill) colt and fillies by Palentino (Teofilo) ($370,000) and Merchant Navy (Fastnet Rock) ($360,000) also surpassed the 15-year-old record.

Cornerstone Stud's Sam Hayes was almost lost for words in the minutes following the sale of the session-topping colt who he bred in partnership with former Adelaide Crows chairman Rob Chapman and John Frankhuisen.

"I am a bit overwhelmed actually. There was quite a big build-up. I was a bit nervous, so it was great that he sold like that," Hayes told ANZ Bloodstock News.

"That probably exceeded our expectations but the market is strong. It has been a great year for horse racing, the past 12 months, and we are just happy to be part of it.

"I think that's the best thing about it, it gets you thinking about what you can bring back

Lot 286 - Capitalist ex Okaylah colt

next year when they make that sort of money."

Catalogued as Lot 286, day two's star colt is the eighth foal out of the stakes-placed Okaylah (Flying Spur) who is already the dam of four winners including the Tony and Calvin McEvoy-trained Zoulah (Zoustar). He carries the same Capitalist-Flying Spur (Danehill) cross as Sunday's Black Opal Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) winner Kalashnikov.

Aramco Racing has already had success with the progeny of Capitalist through the early deeds of promising two-year-old colt Gleneagles, who was placed in the Magic Millions Wyong 2YO Classic (RL, 1100m) last December.

Hayes credited Cornerstone Stud's bloodstock manager Sam Pritchard-Gordon for pushing to offer the colt at their home-state sale, while he also praised new stud manager Ross Fuller for his work in preparing the farm's Adelaide draft.

"Sam Pritchard-Gordon said he was the best colt we had on the farm when he got back from (inspecting horses) the Hunter. He said, 'let's send him to Adelaide and try and top the sale,' he said.

"We didn't top the sale but in any other year we would have, so I have to give Sam credit there."

Armidale's impressive Impending filly fetches $250,000

David and Rhiannon Whishaw's decision to reject private offers for the Impending (Lonhro) half-sister to last month's Hobart Cup (Gr 3, 2400m) winner Double You Tee (Written Tycoon) and Mannerism Stakes (Gr 3, 1400m) placegetter Lunakorn (Puissance De Lune) paid off handsomely in Adelaide yesterday.

Bred by the Whishaws at Armidale Stud in Tasmania, the daughter of Darley's Victoria-based first season stallion Impending was bought by Cape Schanck owner Tony Ottobre for $250,000.

Swettenham Stud's Sam Matthews signed for the filly on behalf of Ottobre, holding off Tony and Calvin McEvoy who were the under bidders.

"We were offered $120,000 before coming to the sale but we felt that it was the wrong thing to do to sell her with her already being catalogued," David Whishaw revealed.

"We were very keen to bring her here and showcase her. She's a lovely filly with a great walk, so we were confident she'd bring $120,000 but to get beyond that, it's really blown us away."

She could have been Armidale Stud's pin-up lot at last month's Tasmanian Yearling Sale, but the November 14-born filly was instead reserved for Adelaide.

"We were very tempted to leave her in Tassie as we thought she'd top the sale, but we were concerned we wouldn't get the mainland buyers down that we needed (due to Covid-19) and it did look that way only a week out from the sale with border restrictions ... and Victoria is about 50 per cent of our buying bench, so we thought we'd really made the right call.

"That, coupled with the fact she's a November foal, every week would make a difference and we were also keen to bring some nice stock here to Adelaide.

"We've got a young stallion in Alpine Eagle ... but we didn't want to just bring Alpine Eagles, so if we brought a nice Impending filly like her she'd stand out and she certainly has."

Catalogued as Lot 224, she is the fifth living foal out of Kandy Korn (Flying Spur), herself a half-sister to Listed winner Baby Corn (Exceed And Excel).

The Whishaws have supported Impending in his first three years at Northwood Park having been impressed by his foals.

"We try and do a lot of work on our matings behind the scenes because we haven't got the money to go to the best stallions in the country or buy the best mares in the country," he said.

"My wife is very keen on it as well, so both of us over the winter months look at pedigrees and agonise over which stallions will suit the mares' pedigree wise and type wise as we're trying to breed commercial horses as well. It is a real juggle.

"Nowadays the market is often more worried about type and the fashionability of the stallion, so it was lovely to see people dig down and see that we've put a bit of work into the pedigree cross (with our $250,000 filly)."

Clarken snaps up 'best filly on type' for $180,000

Will Clarken also teamed up with fellow trainer David Jolly and agent Suman Hedge yesterday to buy a Sooboog (Snitzel) filly late in the Book 1 session for $180,000.

Offered by Edinburgh Park as Lot 323, the filly is a daughter of stakes-winning mare Regrowth (Unbridled's Song), the dam of Group 2 winner Colour (More Than Ready) and the stakes-placed Single Blonde (Not A Single Doubt).

"We have bought a lot of horses but the (Sooboog) filly was one of our target horses for the sale. She is just a beautiful athlete by a young stallion who is going along OK and she's out of a fantastic family," Clarken said.

"She has got residual value but she was also the best filly on type on the sales ground in Suman, David Jolly's and my opinion."

Clarken believes Kitchwin Hills stallion Sooboog can develop into a successful stallion based on his exposure to his progeny so far.

"I have got one, a colt, who goes along well and I think they are in the same mould as him, a back-end two-year-old, three-year-old type," he said.

"Sooboog is a son of Snitzel obviously and his sons are taking a bit more time but I am confident that he is going to make the grade."

Clarken, Jolly and Hedge also bought a Capitalist colt for $200,000 on day one. Overall, Clarken ended up with 12 yearlings from the Adelaide sale.

The Book 1 sale closed yesterday as the strongest South Australian auction in Magic Millions managing director Barry Bowditch's time with the company.

"In my time, it is far and above anything we've achieved here. To average well into the $50,000s, to clear 86 per cent of the Book 1 horses, the sale has grossed $15 million, it is a fantastic result for the state," Bowditch said.

"What I am very pleased about is the South Australian trainers, I can't remember the last time they spent $5 million here.

"From an interstate perspective, buyers love coming here. It's a fun sale and from a local perspective, what Racing SA is doing is fantastic. They are getting behind the industry.

"There is a spring in the step of the trainers here and that will reflect on the breeders and give us great momentum for the sale."

Bowditch also singled out Magic Millions South Australia bloodstock consultant Adrian Hancock for his work in the lead-up to the sale while he also praised leading vendor Cornerstone Stud.

"Cornerstone is one of the figurehead breeders in the state, one of the stallion stations here and they have kept an outstanding (Capitalist) colt back for the sale and have been rewarded," he said.

"I think, again, it will give Sam (Hayes) confidence that he can bring that sort of horse to the sale and get a great result, which is what we have been trying to get to for years and I am pleased that we've been able to achieve that in this market."

Meanwhile, the highest-priced lot in Book 2 was a daughter of Super One (I Am Invincible) who was bought by Rui Severino for $100,000 from A List Stud. The session aggregate was $1.042 million.

MORNING BRIEFING

AUSTRALIA

Three for Star Turn

Startantes (2 f ex Funtantes by Easy Rocking) won impressively at Eagle Farm to earn first season sire Star Turn (Star Witness) his third individual winner. The Robert Heathcote-trained filly finished second to the unbeaten Sequesay (Rothesay) on debut at Ipswich last month and went one better with ease over 1200 metres yesterday, defeating Mishani Untamed (Husson) by two lengths, with her stablemate Mishani Esprit (Bel Esprit) a further head behind in third. Bred by her trainer, Startantes is the second winner from as many foals to race out of Heathcote's Group 2-winning mare Funtantes (Easy Rocking). Startantes joins Pegasi and Miss Hipstar as winners for Star Turn, who is also the sire of Breeders' Plate (Gr 3, 1000m) third Astrologer. Star Turn stood at Vinery Stud last year for $16,500 (inc. GST).

Pale King remains unbeaten

French-bred import Pale King (Dabirsim) kept his unbeaten record intact with a battling victory in the Clanbrooke Racing Handicap (1600m) at Sandown yesterday. Trained by Team Hawkes, Pale King had one start in Britain 12 months ago, winning at Lingfield, before being bought by Australian interests and racing in the silks of Rupert Legh. He won on his Australian debut at Kembla Grange in October and followed that up with a long-neck win over Mrs Sippy (Americain) yesterday, with Our Chevalier (Redoute's Choice) another head back in third. Co-trainer Wayne Hawkes was pleased with the manner of Pale King's win. "Sometimes when you go super slow, it doesn't work well for you because they sprint up quick, but Craig (Williams) got it centimetre perfect," Hawkes said. "He won his first start at Lingfield and then Covid hit so they decided to sell him. We were lucky to get him because they were going to keep him and race him on for 12 more months. He's only a baby but I don't think you'll see him at Sandown too much more."

Najmaty stakes carnival claims with debut win

The Peter and Paul Snowden-trained Najmaty (I Am Invincible) scored an impressive debut win in yesterday's Charlotte Inglis Handicap (1000m) at Randwick. Najmaty justified her $2.25 favouritism to defeat Sonnet Star (Star Turn) by a length and a quarter, with Lovemetender (Testa Rossa) another head back in third. By I Am Invincible (Invincible Spirit) out of dual Group 3 scorer Najoom (Northern Meteor), a winner of five of her seven starts, connections are confident Najmaty can make her presence felt during the Sydney autumn carnival. "We've been a fan of her for quite a while and it was good to see her get to the races like that," Co-trainer Paul Snowden said. "We just wanted her to have a good day and a good experience. I think she'll make the grade." Her jockey James McDonald added: "She's a lovely filly. She's got a good action, a good mind. She's a very strongly-built thing and she'll be a player over the carnival."

Winning debut for Sixty half-brother

The Matt Dunn-trained Rainbow Connection (Choisir) made an eye-catching debut at Randwick yesterday, winning his 1150-metre maiden by a cosy two and a half lengths. The three-year-old half-brother to three-time Group 1 winner and Hong Kong sensation Golden Sixty (Medaglia D'Oro) was sent off a $10 chance yesterday. The three-year-old trialed well in the lead-up to his debut, and ran clear of Drummin (Rubick) with ease. Raoul (Kermadec) finished a head further back in third. Purchased for $150,000 at the 2019 Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale, Rainbow Connection is sixth winner from eight to race out of Gaudeamus (Distorted Humor), whose current Capitalist (Written Tycoon) yearling filly sold for $425,000 at this year's Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale.

Another first beckons for Cummings clan

Anthony, James and Edward Cummings are all set to saddle up runners in the Pago Pago Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) at Rosehill on Saturday and, if all run, it will be the first time the trio have had starters in the same race. They were set to clash once before in last year's Inglis Millennium (RL, 1100m) before Anthony Cummings scratched Fayerra (Valentia). "It was going to happen one time and one of us didn't turn up, so I'm pretty sure it's the first time in any race," Anthony Cummings said. The James Cummings-trained Ingratiating (Frosted), who was runner up in last month's Blue Diamond Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) will make his Sydney debut in the Pago Pago Stakes. Anthony will start Tristate (Headwater), while Edward will be represented by debutante Maven Spirit (Wandjina). Despite the historic moment, Cummings senior will put sentiment aside once the gates open. "As long as I win, I'm happy," Anthony Cummings said.

Thompson puts faith in Marquand to achieve Sweet result

Trainer John Thompson is hoping Nash Rawiller has made the wrong call in the Coolmore Classic (Gr 1, 1500m), as the jockey has opted to ride Forbidden Love (All Too Hard) over the Thompson-trained Sweet Deal (Casino Prince), who will instead be partnered by Tom Marquand. Six-year-old mare Sweet Deal, who won the $1m The Hunter (1300m) in November, resumed with a fifth to Coolmore rival Krone (Eurozone) in the Guy Walter Stakes (Gr 2, 1400m) when she led the field up before tiring over the final stages. "It (The Hunter) was obviously a good result but it just put us back for this prep and we've been a bit behind," said Thompson. "She would have run in the Triscay leading into the Guy Walter, which would have been perfect, but she missed that 1200-metre run and the way she races, 1400 first up was just a little bit too much."

Icebath omen bet in Coolmore Classic

Brad Widdup's winner at Wyong on Tuesday could prove to be a good omen ahead of the Coolmore Classic, where he will saddle Icebath (Sacred Falls). The Widdup-trained Maddison's Missile (The Factor) won at Wyong carrying the same colours as the Reg Kemister-raced Heavens Above (Street Cry), who landed the Coolmore in 2017. Widdup will be hoping the stars will align for Golden Eagle (Sacred Falls) runner-up Icebath, who finished third in the Guy Walter Stakes (Gr 2, 1400m) on her last start. "She is great," he told Racing NSW. "Everything has gone really well this campaign. In fairness to everyone, I don't want the track on Saturday to be a Heavy 10, but certainly cut out of the ground would be in Icebath's favour."

Doncaster a real thinker if history repeats

Kerry Parker is hoping Think It Over (So You Think) can announce himself as a genuine Doncaster Mile (Gr 1, 1600m) contender by backing-up his last-start win in the Liverpool City Cup (Gr 3, 1300m) in the Ajax Stakes (Gr 2, 1500m) on Saturday. Parker, who saddled So You Think to win the Liverpool City Cup at odds of $51 last month, is optimistic Think It Over can follow in the footsteps of Brilliant Light (Fantastic Light) in 2010, who won the Ajax before going on to run third in the Doncaster. "It's definitely on the radar, you don't get many chances at a Doncaster," Parker told Racing NSW. "I was unlucky one year with Brilliant Light running third in it, he was off the track the whole way and ran a terrific third behind Rangirangdoo. This fellow is a genuine, honest, horse. That's where he fits in."

Peters: Queen could be the best I've raced

Owner-breeder Bob Peters believes three-time Group 1 winner Arcadia Queen (Pierro) will become the best horse he has raced if she can win the All-Star Mile (1600m) at Moonee Valley on Saturday. "Even though the All-Star Mile isn't a Group 1, there are nine Group 1 winners in it and there were ten in it last year and there are not many big races around that have that many Group 1 winners in it," Peters told Racing.com. "It's (All-Star Mile) an equivalent at least of a really good Group 1. Everyone knows the level of it. I think Old Comrade is the best horse I've had. He won four Group 1s and if she can win on Saturday, she'll go past him."

Traffic concerns at Valley ahead of ASM

A field of 15 for the $5 million All-Star Mile is something a number of jockeys will not have encountered at the inner-city track before and Damien Oliver, the rider of Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m) winner Russian Camelot (Camelot), is interested to see how the race unfolds. "We don't get too many big fields at The Valley," Oliver said. "So, there's going to be some traffic concerns for some at some stage and our jobs as pilots are to negotiate that. They've got a good strip of track that hasn't been raced for some time which should provide a good surface and there's a little bit of rain on the weekend. Hopefully it will help my horse's chance."

Tough challenge for The Harrovian

Toby and Trent Edmonds are expecting The Harrovian (Fastnet Rock) to face a stiff task in the All-Star Mile. The seven-year-old gelding received over 7,500 votes after winning 11 consecutive races, but he could only finish fifth in the Shaftesbury Avenue (Gr 3, 1400m) in preparation for the All-Star Mile last month. "It looked a little plain on face value, but he didn't get much room in the straight," Toby Edmonds told Racing.com of his last-start performance. "He drew a good barrier (barrier three) and it always looked like he was going to get a good run. We didn't want to go back to the fence, but he ended up being there, stuck there and got a bit of pressure from his outside. All things being said he was sound without being brilliant. He'll bounce off that and improve a bit but needs to do so as well."

Forecast concern for Probabeel

Probabeel

SPORTPIX

Connections of Probabeel (Savabeel) are praying the rain stays away ahead of the All-Star Mile, with trainer Jamie Richards not entirely comfortable of running her on heavy ground. "The weather is the one thing you can't control," Richards told Racing.com. "I think she is ok on wet ground but it's probably less ideal in the 2000-metre races like we have seen in the Vinery and the Cox Plate. I am praying it stays away, if that Saturday rain could come on Sunday that would be ideal." Meanwhile, Probabeel's strapper Ashley Handley has empathy for the New Zealand connections of the All-Star Mile second favourite, who can't be at the races on Saturday. Handley has followed Probabeel across the Tasman for all her Australian runs. "It would be really nice if this Covid wasn't going on," Handley said. "I know the owners, Jamie and everyone would love to be over here. I only got her when she started travelling but she's pretty easy to deal with. I've been with her a while now and I've got to know her, develop a bond. It's been good to be over here. I enjoy it. I enjoy being with her."

All-Star tactic change for Avalon

An unfortunate barrier 14 draw for the Shane Nichols-trained Streets Of Avalon (Magnus) has opted connections to opt for a change of tactics with the All-Star Mile outsider. The winner of the CF Orr Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m) in September, Streets Of Avalon is set to be given a quiet ride by Zac Spain. "We've been wanting to ride him a bit quieter for quite a while," Nichols told Racing.com. "As he's got deeper into his prep and drawn a couple of bad gates, particularly at Caulfield, we've had to drive him to get him forward and get him rolling. So, we might take this opportunity to ride him with cover and slot in somewhere, whether we can or not I'll leave that up to the jockey. From bad gates I think you just have to remove all pressure off the rider and just tell them to ride the horse and the race as they find it."

McCoull's once in a lifetime ASM chance

Brendon McCoull is preparing for one of the biggest rides of his career on Saturday, with the 47-year-old set to partner Still A Star (Toronado) in the All-Star Mile. McCoull, who has won 14 Jockey Premiership titles in Tasmania, will fly over tomorrow to partner the Bill Ryan-trained mare. "I can't remember the last time I rode there, but I have ridden a winner at The Valley before," McCoull told Racing.com. "I have never ridden in anywhere near a $5 million race, so that will just be unreal and I have felt a groundswell of support from the people back home. It is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity that obviously Anthony Darmanin and Adam Trinder got to experience (with Mystic Journey in 2019) and I certainly never thought I would be there." Trained by Bill Ryan, Still A Star landed the Vamos Stakes (Gr 3, 1400m) last time out to remain unbeaten in her previous five starts, a win that McCoull was delighted with. "She really exceeded my expectations with how she went in the Vamos Stakes after 12 months off," he added. "She is a terrific and very adaptable horse but it's probably a little unfortunate we have probably hit the best addition of the All-Star Mile so far."

Star's turn to shine

Chris Waller's Melbourne foreperson, Jo Taylor, is hoping Star Of The Seas' (Ocean Park)

consistent form over a mile will benefit him on Saturday. The six-year-old gelding landed the Blamey Stakes (Gr 2, 1600m) on his last start and Taylor believes he has an edge over some of his All-Star Mile rivals that ran well in the Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m) - Sir Dragonet (Camelot), Russian Camelot, Mugatoo (Henrythenavigator) and Arcadia Queen. "You would imagine that those Cox Plate horses, they're true Group 1 performers and you can't knock them but 2000 metres at Moonee Valley is a different ball game to the mile and we know he's a milier," Taylor said. "So those Cox Plate horses almost have to freshen up a touch and come back from their optimum distance, whereas I think we're at ours. If he can be anywhere close to midfield off a strong tempo, I think you can expect him with the same sort of finish as that we saw two weeks ago."

Rosemont seeks Gold stakes success

Glitter 'N' Gold (Choisir), the final filly out of Rosemont Stud's Gold Lottey (Encosta De Lago), will bid to remain unbeaten in the Valley Pearl (Listed, 1200m) at Moonee Valley on Saturday. Gold Lottey, who is the dam of Listed winner Iconoclasm (Toorak Toff), died over 12 months ago and Rosemont are hoping Glitter 'N' Gold can follow up her impressive debut at Ballarat last month. "We're hopeful she can scale to stakes-level heights pretty quickly here," Rosemont Stud director Anthony Mithen told Racing.com. "Gold Lottey is the gift that keeps giving. We bought her many years ago to go to Toorak Toff first season and we bred Iconoclasm with that mating. She's gone to God now obviously, but she gave us a very nice horse and perhaps another one in this filly to finish with."

Gollan's each-way weather hope

Tony Gollan is confident that five-year-old mare Krone (Eurozone) has the ability to make her return to Group 1 level a winning one if plenty of rain falls in Sydney. Krone, who landed the Guy Walter Stakes (Gr 2, 1400m) last start, hasn't competed in a Group 1 since her eighth-placed finish in the 2018 Thousand Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) but Gollan is confident of a big run. "Really pleased that she's drawn a good gate in barrier one and now I just need the rain to come to give her a chance," Gollan told Racing.com. "If she can find a wet track at Rosehill on Saturday, then there's no reason she couldn't run her best race."

Libertini to gallop at Rosehill

Libertini

SPORTPIX

Libertini (I Am Invincible) will bypass her scheduled barrier trial today in favour of a raceday excursion as she prepares for her autumn return in The Galaxy (Gr 1, 1100m) on Saturday week. The four-year-old mare was given a quiet trial at Canterbury last month and was due to have another hit-out at the Randwick trial session today, but trainer Anthony Cummings said she would not be going around. "I won't trial her. She galloped yesterday (Tuesday), it was good work and she pulled up clean enough. I don't think she needs another one," Cummings said. "She will have a gallop around here (at Randwick) on Saturday morning and a final gallop next Tuesday. We will take her to Rosehill on Saturday because she gets a bit antsy sometimes at the track and she's never been to Rosehill before."

Valley close to ASM sell out

Moonee Valley is close to being sold out for Saturday's All-Star Mile meeting, with only 200 general admission tickets remaining as of yesterday. "The club is really looking forward to having what will be our biggest crowd trackside since the 2019 Cox Plate," MVRC general manager racing, media and communications, Alastair Dwyer told Racing.com. "The AFL kicks into gear next weekend and obviously we've got the Group 1 William Reid Stakes next Friday night, which will be a gripping conclusion to the Autumn Carnival, but it's really the last time horse racing will have the Saturday spotlight until the Spring Carnival."

VJA warn on whip rule breaches

Matt Hyland, the chief executive of the Victorian Jockeys Association, believes there could be breaches of the whip rules in Saturday's Country Mile Final (1600m) at Moonee Valley, with riders not allowed to use their whip more than five times during the race. "One sure thing that is confirmed (through the whip-limited series) is that regardless of what rules you have in place, there will be breaches," Hyland told Racing.com. "The penalties template that was introduced at the start of this racing season certainly improved the stats and amount of breaches but, regardless of the rules, there will be whip breaches due solely to the competitive nature of jockeys. To explain what a rider is thinking at that point when fighting out a finish with another rider in a race, they are doing their utmost to get the best out of their horse and to encourage the horse to get to the line first. That is the mindset of the jockey and mostly that is what we are seeing. The breaches are coming from riders fighting out the finish, not the ones that are running a distant third or fourth."

Scott making good progress

Mornington trainer Brett Scott is conscious and talking as he recovers from being kicked in the head by a horse last Wednesday. Scott's wife Kylie said he has no memory of the incident, but he has made positive progress easing out of an induced coma. "We went in and saw him last night, he's been moved into a ward," Kylie Scott told RSN927. "He is conscious and answering questions. I sat down and asked him if he knew what had happened and he said no, and I told him he'd been kicked in the head by a horse. All he wanted was a cup of tea. He got a little bit agitated and wanted to get out of the bed, but we settled him down. Just seeing him awake was amazing and knowing that he was conversing with me - even though it was gibberish - but he was still talking to me, it was an amazing feeling." Scott sustained a small bleed on the brain in addition to facial injuries which required surgery.

Vale Richard Treweeke

Richard Treweeke, the part-owner of all-time great racemare Winx (Street Cry), died aged 90 on Tuesday. Treweeke was responsible for naming Winx, who landed a world record 25 Group 1 wins in her 43-start career. She won 37 races in total, amassing more than $26 million in prize-money. A permanent statue of Winx was unveiled at Rosehill on Monday to celebrate the achievements of the wondermare.

NEW ZEALAND

Arjaybee impressive on debut

The Chris Bothwell-trained Arjaybee (Highly Recommended) made a winning debut at Otaki yesterday, coming from last under apprentice Taiki Yanagida to land the Aquashield Roofing 3YO Maiden (1200m). The victory was an emotional one for Bothwell, as Arjaybee is named after his late father and former training partner Dick (Richard John Bothwell). A $22,000 purchase at Karaka Book 3 from the Long Acres Stud draft, Arjaybee defeated Winnie Rose (Burgundy) by a head, with Vishakha (Power) a further long neck behind in third. "Not long before Dad passed away he came down to the stables when four horses came back from the sales and this is the girl that he really liked," Bothwell said. "The owners were very kind and named her after Dad. She hasn't done much wrong. She has shown an awful lot the whole way through."

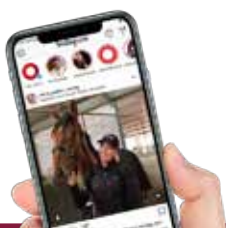

Benner-Wynyard pair on track for Guineas

Otaki trainers John Benner and Hollie Wynyard enjoyed a good day on their home track on Wednesday. The duo saddled impressive maiden winner Meg (Sebring), while they also took the opportunity to give their Wellington Guineas-bound pair, Bonham (Per Incanto) and Hold The Press (Press Statement), an exhibition gallop. "They worked over 1000 metres on a genuine slow track and it was good sharp work. Danielle Johnson rode Hold The Press and Lisa Allpress rode Bonham, and they were both pleased," Benner said. Benner and Wynyard have made the Wellington Guineas their own, winning three of the past six runnings, and they're expecting another strong edition this year. "The Wellington Guineas has become a really good race over the past few years since they have moved it on the calendar and it should be a strong race again this year," Benner added.

Group 1 opportunity for Bonny Lass

Graham Richardson was not planning to run Bonny Lass (Super Easy) in the Sistema Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) until he saw just four nominations for the contest on Tuesday. The Jamie Richards-trained stablemates On The Bubbles (Brazen Beau) and Sword of State (Snitzel) were originally joined by just Magneto (Showcasing) and Seven Twenty (Power). Richardson was planning to bypass the Sistema Stakes with Bonny Lass, winner of the Matamata Breeders' Stakes (Gr 2, 1200m) on February 27, and instead concentrate on the Manawatu Sires' Produce Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m) on April 3, but the lack of nominations changed his mind. "I was a little bit confused about why there were so few nominations. It's actually a little bit disappointing to be fair," said Richardson, who trains in partnership with Rogan Norvall. "But when I saw there were only four we decided to have a go. I jokingly said we would go as long as we draw barrier one, and we have."

Milford Sound set to cruise to maiden success

Andrew Carston is hoping suggestions that he might have one of the best-credentialed maiden gallopers in the South Island are short-lived. Riccarton trainer Carston will produce three-year-old gelding Milford Sound (Ocean Park) in today's Piccadilly Books Stocktake Sale Maiden (1600m) on his home track, hoping the last-start Southland Guineas (Listed, 1600m) runner-up can shed his maiden status. "He was a bit unlucky not to win the race," Carston said of Milford Sound's nose defeat at the hands of Chokito (Vespa) at Ascot Park last month. "He's a progressive horse I really like and he's come through the Southland Guineas in good order. He's got to be the horse to beat tomorrow."

USA: Drugs supplier sentenced to prison

Scott Robinson, the operator of racehorse doping websites that sold and distributed adulterated and misbranded drugs, was on Tuesday sentenced to 18 months in prison. From around 2011 through to March last year, Robinson conspired with others to manufacture, sell and ship millions of dollars' worth of drugs, including performance-enhancing drugs marketed to racehorse trainers and others in the industry, according to the indictment and court documents. The drugs were sold by Robinson through several websites, including horseprerace.com. Among the drugs sold were blood builders, used by racehorse trainers to increase red blood cell counts and the oxygenation of muscle tissue to improve a horse's endurance. Audrey Strauss, the United States attorney for the Southern district of New York, said: "Scott Robinson created and profited from a system designed to exploit racehorses in the pursuit of speed and prize-money, risking their safety and wellbeing. Robinson sold unsanitary, misbranded, and adulterated drugs, and misled and deceived regulators and law enforcement in the process." Robinson was also sentenced to three years of supervised release and ordered to forfeit US$3,832,318.90.

UK: Goffs February goes online

The rescheduled Part 2 of the Goffs February Sale will be hosted as a live online auction on Thursday, with a mixed catalogue of Flat and National Hunt weanlings set to come under the hammer from noon. Following a significant number of withdrawals, around 80 lots are left in the catalogue, with Acclamation (Royal Applause), Camacho (Danehill), Dandy Man (Mozart), Mehmas (Acclamation), Nathaniel (Galileo) and Ruler Of The World (Galileo) among the proven Flat sires with progeny on offer. In Her Time another hot addition to Chairman's Sale

Dual Group 1 winner In Her Time (Time Thief) is the latest high-profile addition to May's Inglis Chairman's Sale, a year after the mare topped the sale for $2 million when purchased by Newgate on behalf of Orbis Bloodstock.

This year, the now eight-year-old daughter of Time Thief (Redoute's Choice) is being offered in foal to I Am Invincible (Invincible Spirit), with Orbis having decided that breeding will not be a key focus of theirs. She will be offered within the Newgate Farm draft.

"In Her Time was one of the best sprinting mares we've seen in the past decade and she's from a very deep family," Newgate managing director Henry Field said.

"We purchased her on behalf of Orbis at last year's Inglis Chairman's Sale as they were dissolving a partnership.

"Orbis have opted to offer her for sale this year as the decision has been made that breeding will not be their key focus."

In Her Time, who broke through for her maiden Group 1 success when winning The Galaxy (Gr 1, 1100m) in March 2018 having won three times at Group 2 level and placed three times in Group 1 company, followed up with victory in the Lightning Stakes (Gr 1, 1000m) down the Flemington straight in February 2019 after being transferred to trainer Kris Lees.

In Her Time

ORBIS BLOODSTOCK

"It's a privilege to be consigning a mare of this quality," added Field.

"She's been a dream to have had residing on the farm, having gone in foal to I Am Invincible on an early September cover and I have no doubt she will be one of the most highly sought-after pregnant mares that gets offered at public auction anywhere in the world in 2021."

In Her Time is out of Zeditave (The Judge) mare Hell It's Hot, a half-sister to stakes winners Hot As Hell (County), Flaming Hot (County) and Craig's Dragon (Catbird), as well as Sin Sin Sin (Fantastic Light), the dam of Everest (1200m) winner Yes Yes Yes (Rubick) and the stakes-placed Dee Nine Elle (Duporth).

Inglis' NSW bloodstock manager, Chris Russell, said: "She has got everything you would want in a mare and she's carrying to I Am Invincible - packages like that come on the open market very, very rarely.

"We are obviously incredibly grateful for the opportunity that the owners have given to us and I think, in partnership with Newgate who are such great consignors, we can deliver a fantastic sale."

The Inglis Chairman's Sale will take place at Riverside Stables on Friday, May 7.

DAVID MORGAN | @ANZ_NEWS

Caspar Fownes enjoys the thrill of a gamble but Hong Kong's sporting three-time champion trainer will not be playing high stakes with Aethero (Sebring). The handler has revealed to Asia Bloodstock News that the horse, once deemed Hong Kong's great new hope, will not be adding much-needed star quality to the Chairman's Sprint Prize (Gr 1, 1200m) at Sha Tin on April 25.

"Aethero was going to run in April but we'll just wait," Fownes said, explaining that he and owner James Tien have shelved a plan to run the talented four-year-old in both the Sprint Cup (Gr 2, 1200m) and the big race three weeks later.

The trainer, however, lessened the blow of that news by confirming the gelding's half-brother, The Everest (1200m) hero Classique Legend (Not A Single Doubt), is on target to make the FWD Champions Day feature after cruising confidently through a barrier trial at Conghua last week.

"Classique Legend is going to trial again and the plan at this stage is to run him in the Sprint Cup in early April, and then into the big Group 1 at the end of April," Fownes added.

Aethero's own effort in an 800-metre barrier trial under Joao Moreira at Sha Tin two weeks ago had increased speculation of an approaching return to racing for the first time since the former John Moore-trained galloper bled from both nostrils in the 2020 Chairman's Sprint Prize.

"At the moment he's just too far off," Moreira said. "It's difficult to predict and I hope Caspar does a miracle and can turn Aethero's fitness around quickly, but if I was to guess, I'd say next season he might be able to come back to his best fitness."

Aethero's backstory has already garnered plenty of column inches: the $575,000 Inglis Easter Sale purchase lowered Sacred Kingdom's (Encosta De Lago) Sha Tin 1000-metre track record, proved his Group 1 worth at a tender age, and then went wrong on the big stage.

Within weeks of seeing his potential champion trail in a blood-spattered last, Tien transferred the horse from Moore – then on the cusp of compulsory retirement – to Fownes, a handler with a good record of getting the best out of fragile gallopers.

Those skills have been tested since September when the tall chestnut compounded his problems with an off-fore tendon injury, and this, along with the Hong Kong Jockey Club's policy of two bleeds triggering automatic retirement, means Fownes is not taking chances.

"Aethero is too good a horse, he's only four. The right thing to do is just give him some time.

He will come through and he might still run at the end of the season," he said, giving a nod to the Sha Tin Vase Handicap (Gr 3, 1200m) on May 23.

"He's in full work, he's swimming every day and he's cantering every day. He looks beautiful, he's put on 50 pounds, which is what we wanted him to do, and he's a lovely, imposing horse. He's taken a chill pill so his head is in a good space."

Despite a rise in numbers from 1200 horses to around 1400 – thanks to HKJC's Conghua facility – Hong Kong's elite pool across all distances has been losing depth in recent years; a reality now masked only thinly by the fantastic exploits of Golden Sixty (Medaglia D'Oro).

The quality drain has been especially apparent in the sprint ranks this season. The current crop is well below halcyon champions like Silent Witness (El Moxie) and Sacred Kingdom, and lacks the numbers of genuine Group 1 contenders seen in the days of Lucky Nine (Dubawi), Aerovelocitv (Pins) and Peniaphobia (Dandy Man).

Against this backdrop, Classique Legend's long-anticipated arrival at Sha Tin in November was viewed within HKJC's Happy Valley HQ as a blessed boon. Tellingly, senior management sanctioned the high-profile Bon Ho-owned gelding's importation despite having already reached the age of five. The Club's marketing machine went into overdrive, promoting the galloper's movements from the moment he touched down.

The new pin-up – a $400,000 yearling buy for Ho at the 2017 Inglis Classic Yearling Sale – even started second-favourite in the market behind Hot King Prawn (Denman) for the LONGINES Hong Kong Sprint (Gr 1, 1200m) but came home a tired 11th to that rival's flat seventh-placed finish.

"It takes time when you bring these horses into this environment, they have to learn to cope. There were issues at the Werribee quarantine and I wasn't there on the ground. When he came out of quarantine, he wasn't 100 per cent," Fownes said.

"We've given him a nice break, he's been in China for the last six or seven weeks and he's been in the spa, the aquatread, doing uphill gallops; he's had a nice, soft trial last week, so it's coming along. He's starting to use himself the right way."

With no Aethero, Hong Kong needs a peak Classique Legend when Champions Day rolls around. The World's Best Racehorse Rankings for the 2018 calendar year included ten Hong Kong sprinters and in 2019 the figure was nine; but the most recent number dropped to six – excluding Classique Legend whose 125 rating was achieved under Les Bridge's watch in Australia – and three of those six have since retired.

And, when Japan's Danon Smash led home the local longshots Jolly Banner (Lonhro), Rattan (Savabeel) and Wishful Thinker (I Am Invincible) in December's Hong Kong Sprint, Sha Tin's pinnacle sprint prize plunged out of the latest World's Top 100 Group 1 Races, despite rating as the world's best 1200-metre race the previous year.

"Quality is down, I must say. Even my fellow, Jolly Banner, a nine-year-old, can finish second in the Hong Kong Sprint," said Ricky Yiu, the man who prepped world champion

Caspar Fownes

HKJC

Sacred Kingdom and the straight-track bullet Amber Sky (Exceed And Excel).

Hot King Prawn has a rating second only to Classique Legend among current Hong Kong-based sprinters, with an international mark of 120, but the quality of opponents for his recent top-level breakthrough in January's Centenary Sprint Cup (Gr 1, 1200m) only emphasised the extent to which the sprint ranks have depleted this season.

In 2016, HKJC changed the race distance from 1000 metres to 1200 metres to ensure a higher calibre contest. Since then, the race has had an average race rating – based on Hong Kong local ratings pre-race – of between 116 (2016) and 121.2 (2020), until this year. The 2021 contest dipped markedly to a figure of 112.8; the average career peak rating of those horses was 114.4, dropping below 120 for the first time since the final 1000-metre version brought together sprinters with an average peak of 117.5; the 2020 field lined up with an average career peak rating of 125.4.

Moreira, who partnered Beat The Clock (Hinchinbrook) to two Hong Kong champion sprinter titles before that gelding's retirement last term, has ridden Hot King Prawn in each of the grey's last eight starts.

"If we put Hot King Prawn as the best sprinter in Hong Kong, well he's not an outstanding horse: he's very consistent but he has won only one Group 1 race and he took a long time to do that," Moreira said.

"You look back ten years and surely the sprinters would have been a higher calibre: not just one, there'd have been numbers of good horses running 1200 metres in Hong Kong."

Australian racing's rude health is accepted broadly as one factor in the Hong Kong quality dip. Australia's burgeoning prize-money, encouraging owners to think twice about selling, and the buoyancy at the top end of the Australian bloodstock market, despite the Covid-19 pandemic, mean unfavourable conditions for Hong Kong owners. While Australian buyers appear to have been largely uninhibited by the pandemic, most Hong Kong agents, owners and trainers have been hamstrung, forced by circumstance to remain in Hong Kong and miss sales such as the recent Inglis Premier Yearling Sale, where Yiu sourced Sacred Kingdom.

Fownes called it "nuts," that Australian owners are asking "two and a half or three million" dollars for ready-raced geldings like Shadow Hero (Pierro). He sees Privately Purchased Griffins (PPGs), unraced imports, as a way forward for Hong Kong. "The future is from the yearling sales or the breeze-ups or the nice trial horses because history tells you that the ones that start off a 52 rating, they come in and progress through their grades, they get tougher and stronger," he said. But, as Yiu noted, "It's not an easy thing to get right."

On Saturday, Hot King Prawn – a PPG – will shoulder top weight in a nine-runner Class 1 1200-metre handicap and Fownes will take him on with the emerging Sky Field (Deep Field) competing from nine points out of the handicap. The four-year-old is one of a trio of young PPG talents, along with Wellington (All Too Hard) and Winning Dreamer (Deep Field), aiming to take that next step to the top table.

Fownes believes that if he can get Classique Legend and, in time, Aethero, firing on all cylinders again, he has in his stable the kind of quality the sprint division so desperately needs.

"Overall, you've got Hot King Prawn that looks pretty good but he's the only one: besides a couple of young ones maybe coming through, the rest of them you wouldn't worry about. Potentially I've got two of the best sprinters in the world, no doubt about it," he said.

IT'S IN THE BLOOD

TREVOR MARSHALLSEA'S IN-DEPTH PEDIGREE ANALYSIS

TREVOR MARSHALLSEA | @ANZ_NEWS

The sheiks and the sultans will swing their super-sized chequebooks amidst the world's foremost sales to attain their horseflesh. Other players in this game have to run a little more in the shadows, or box a bit more clever to land their quarry.

This is a pedigree column, so be warned, today's subject doesn't really have one, or not one dripping with blue blood or blue hens. When you look up his page from his yearling sale, the top update crows that he has a half-sister who ran third in the time-honoured Supa IGA Maiden at Nhill, a dot in western Victoria.

But here's a case when a pedigree perhaps doesn't have to be good, just good enough.

Lion's Roar was bought not at Sydney Easter or the Magic Millions, but at the 2019 Karaka sale, and from Book 2 in fact. When many of the big guns had fallen silent, trainer John O'Shea and Champion Thoroughbreds' maven Jason Abrahams nabbed him for all of NZ$65,000.

On Saturday he carried Champion's red and white silks to a commanding victory in the Group 1 Randwick Guineas. It gave O'Shea his first Group 1 success on his long road back since returning to public training in 2017. And it took Lion's Roar's record from seven starts to four wins and two placings (one of those at Group 1 level too) - raising his earnings for the 20-odd owners banded together by Champion from across Australia to almost $850,000.

And there's major hope for much more to come. The three-year-old gelding's designed target this autumn is still coming up, in the 2000-metre Rosehill Guineas on Saturday week.

Lion's Roar's pedigree wasn't proven when he went under the hammer, but it wasn't exactly abject.

Lion's Roar

SPORTPIX

He was from the first crop of Contributor, the imported son of High Chaparral O'Shea trained at Godolphin to win two Group 1s amid his Apollo-Chipping Norton-Ranvet clean-sweep in the autumn of 2015.

On the dam's side there's a Group 1 winner in the recent past in granddam The Mighty Lions. The daughter of Grosvenor was a Flemington winner who took the Avondale Gold Cup of 2004. She also threw, as her third foal, Minnaleo (Black Minnaloushe), who had a win and two placings from three races in New Zealand before an early retirement.

Minnaleo's first foal was Minnamosa (Alamosa). Though best known for her third at Nhill that day in 2018, she's gone on to record three wins and 15 placings in the bush from her 33 starts to date. But what a pedigree boost she's had, breeding-wise, through the deeds of her younger half-brother, picked up for a snip at Karaka.

"It's interesting because you can go to Magic Millions and people will pay three or four hundred thousand dollars for a yearling and there are no Group 1 winners on the page," Abrahams tells It's In The Blood. "But Lion's Roar's grandmother won one, and one of our criteria is to try to find yearlings with a Group 1 winner in their pedigree, not too far back."

Still, it wasn't what lay on paper but what trod the earth which caught O'Shea and Abrahams' attention at that yearling sale.

They'd been keen to buy into the first crop of Contributor, but thought they had missed the boat. Mapperley Stud, which stands the sire, had offered a colt by him in Book 1. It fell to Godolphin for NZ$250,000 - outside of the price range of Champion's carefully tailored business model, designed to suit small to medium-sized owners.

But while looking around, the two old colleagues had their heads turned by one that walked past which ticked several of their personal boxes.

"We saw him walk past and we followed him back to his box and asked the farm what was he?" Abrahams says. "He was in Book 2, but John and I didn't even have a Book 2 catalogue, but they showed us his pedigree and we found out he was a Contributor. He was a big strapping yearling with a bit of character about him.

"John said he had a lot of features that reminded him of his dad. He's probably not as leggy as his dad; he's just a medium-sized horse but he's very strong, and John said he walked and held himself in a similar fashion."

This purchase was well within Champion's budget, which Abrahams put at around $100,000 for a Book 2 lot. (That $250k Contributor they'd missed out on? He's called Jeronimos, and an hour before Lion's Roar's Randwick Guineas triumph he ran second in a Hawkesbury Class 1).

The yearling Lion's Roar had matched up with Abrahams' charter, as a potential middle-distance horse in several ways, but an early step had to be taken.

"He was probably never going to be a stallion prospect, because he was a pretty burly fella and a playful colt. So we bought him and gelded him and syndicated him," Abrahams says.

"But he just looked like a tough, sound, colt who would handle work, and you really need that in Sydney.

"If you're going to knock around every two weeks in middle distance races, they need a fair bit of work to be pumped into them to be ready, particularly if you're going to get stuck into them as a late two-year-old and a three-year-old."

Furthermore, Abrahams and O'Shea saw in Lion's Roar the type of robust galloper suited to modern Australian trends.

"If you're buying a New Zealand horse to get over a bit of ground, unless you get a really exceptional horse, you're only window really is to win races at three, before the imported middle distance horses arrive here," Abrahams says.

"If you've got a horse who you can't put much work into or is not a good eater or is just going to take a whole heap of time, and who won't handle a good few hard track gallops, you're really not going to get there in the time you need to get there for that window, when you've got to make your hay."

Encouragingly, The Mighty Lions had also thrown Vaquera, a High Chaparral mare who was third in the 2013 Group 1 Queensland Oaks, and won three from 18 for Gai Waterhouse.

"The lack of depth to Lion's Roar's pedigree was fine because we weren't paying a lot of money anyway for him, and I knew Vaquera was actually a tough horse, who used to run around every second week," he says. "And she was by High Chaparral, so Lion's Roar was very similarly genetically made up in comparison to Vaquera."

Not one to ponder long over a broodmare sire – "when you look at good horses, the broodmare sire can come from anywhere" – Abrahams is more enthused over the High Chaparral sire line.

"We've struggled with it a bit in Australia but now High Chaparral has a bunch of young stallions coming through, like Dundee and his son Castelvechchio," Abrahams says.

"Contributer is getting a lot of runners now and they're starting to come out earlier than I expected. He had a Group 2-winning filly last week in New Zealand (Llanacord), and then by Saturday he had a Group 1 winner as well.

"What I really like about him now is he's getting fillies. That sire line is notorious for colts being better than fillies. So I feel that he might be a superior stallion, because he's doing it really well with fillies.

"Most of that sireline have struggled with fillies because they're not big eaters and they've all been a bit fizzy mentally, so they've struggled in the Australasian training environment. But the fact Contributor is getting these fillies is a really good leading indicator to him being a better than average stallion over time."

If Lion's Roar can continue to shine in his three-year-old window, and indeed beyond, his story will certainly be one in which the results will bear out a hunch about his sire that was in a way thrust upon O'Shea and Abrahams, two men who were certainly in the right place at the right time at that Karaka sale two years ago.

Travel Datuk salutes, ending 48-race losing streak for Richard Gibson and Matthew Poon

BY LEO SCHLINK | HKJC_RACING

Almost five years after debuting at Happy Valley, Irish import Travel Datuk (Holy Roman Empire) shed unwanted status as Hong Kong's most celebrated maiden by successfully snapping a 48-start losing streak to the bemusement and delight of Richard Gibson and Matthew Poon.

Feted as a cult horse – and Facebook hero – after 17 minor placings (11 seconds and six thirds) from his previous 48 outings in Hong Kong, Travel Datuk narrowly claimed the Class 4 Chatham Handicap (1000m) after a promising career opening in Ireland, where he raced as Rockaway Valley for Jessie Harrington.

Sold to Hong Kong after placing at Group 3 level and running fifth in the Phoenix Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) at The Curragh in 2015, Travel Datuk took his earnings to HK$4.27 million long after being decried as a non-winner.

Travel Datuk actually won a Maiden as a two-year-old in Ireland in 2015, but had proved eternally frustrating in his new surroundings – albeit with a growing profile.

“Actually, he became a very popular horse this season. Many fans contacted us on Facebook, he's a brave, very consistent horse, always tries his best – and for some reason, today was his day,” Gibson said of the eight-year-old.

“I do not know why he chose today, but congratulations to Matthew (Poon). He made the difference.

“He always tries his best, but he's not used to winning. He's been very consistent and sometimes that's how it goes in racing – it's a great credit to the horse, he kept himself in good shape and today was the day.”

Gibson indicated the eight-year-old's competitive limitations did not detract from the horse's generous nature and popularity. “I think I will remember him for his defeats and these are not things for a trainer that you are proud of – the defeats. You are more celebratory of the wins.

Travel Datuk

HKJC

“So, we'll take today. You never know. Now he's won once, who knows next time?”

“I didn't think he was going to make it (win), actually. It's not a record a trainer is very proud of but he's been very consistent this year and a lot of fun.

“It's funny – these horses, once they get their nose in front, they tend to do it another time.”

Following in a similar vein, the David Ferraris-trained Xiang Bai Qi (Azamour) saluted in the following event – the Class 3 Bulkeley Handicap (1800m) – to register his second win in 35 outings.

Partnered by Karis Teetan, the Azamour (Night Shift) gelding posted his first victory since 30 October, 2019.

Wind N Grass (Lawman) restored something approaching normality with his second win in a week for trainer John Size and Teetan in the second section of the Class 3 Baker Handicap (1200m) as the Lawman (Invincible Spirit) gelding posted his third Hong Kong success – all over 1200 metres.

Stock Legend (Sidestep) continued his excellent recent form with victory in the Class 4 Gillies Handicap (1200m) – his third win from five starts for Francis Lui.

Beautifully ridden by Joao Moreira, the Sidestep (Exceed And Excel) gelding has flourished after a trip to Conghua, according to Lui.

“It was a good run and he was more behaved and under control,” Lui said. “We teach him and we sent him to Conghua and get him to forget some of the bad habits.

“After the race, Joao said if he got a good gate, even (in) Class 3, he's got a good chance.”

Zac Purton continued a phenomenal week with victory on Fantastic Fabio (Hidden Dragon) in the Class 5 Wuhu Handicap (1200m) for Dennis Yip before Derek Leung combined with Manfred Man and Hero Star (Kaphero) to land the first section of the Class 4 Gillies Handicap (1200m).

Purton has ridden nine winners at the past three meetings and has figured in eight wins with Yip for the 2020/21 season, while Leung posted his eighth win from the past 11 meetings and his 25th winner for the term.

Blake Shinn praised Casper Fownes after Tangmere (Frankel) proved his class with a powerful win in the second section of the Class 4 Po Loi Handicap (1650m).

The Frankel (Galileo) gelding was given time to settle by the Melbourne Cup-winning jockey as Shinn tracked Moreira on race-favourite Shanghai Grace (Kyllachy) before edging into clear running approaching the straight.

“It was a strong win, he was the class runner of the race, but he was dropping back in class,” Shinn said.

“He got the job done nicely – it means a lot for me to ride a winner for Casper. He's just kept throwing me a decent ride here and there and he's been a solid supporter from day one. It's nice to get a winner for him and hopefully keep the ball rolling.”

Stay Chill (Invincible Spirit) claimed the first section of the Class 4 Po Loi Handicap (1650m), prevailing by a short head for Vincent Ho and Chris So over a much-improved Rainbow Light (Outstrip) and veteran Thunder Stomp (Fastnet Rock).

Matthew Poon completed a memorable night with a double by guiding Shouson (Star Witness) to a slender victory in the first section of the Class 3 Baker Handicap (1200m) for Tony Millard.

Hong Kong racing continues at Sha Tin on Saturday (13 March).
